First Federal open house is planned Saturday

JENSEN BEACH The people of Jensen Beach will have an opportunity to see the new ultra-modern First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County offices in Jensen Beach this Saturday when First Federal holds open house at the building

Brightening the corner of Commercial Street and Indian River Drive the 100 foot circular building will be opened at nine a.m. and visiting hours will be from nine to five p.m.

A simple opening ceremony is planned at nine

See special Construction Section B

when Harry Hoke chairman of the board of First Federal and mayor of the Town of Ocean Breeze Park will cut a ceremonial ribbon

A special promotion is planned for the opening day when visitors will register as they attend and have an opportunity to win a nineteen inch Zenith color television set now on display in the offices. The drawing will be held Saturday evening

Free pens and sewing kits will be given as favors to those attending the opening

Another part of the promotion of the new building is safe deposit boxes given to those who open or add to accounts in the amount of $1,000. There is no charge for the safe deposit box as long as the customer maintains his account in the association

Featured at the opening will be an art exhibit part of a continuous display of art that will be a regular feature of the building

Construction on the new building began in March when other buildings were cleared away and compaction of the earth to a depth of twenty feet was done. Nello Construction was the general contractor on the job. The building was attached by an elevated walkway to the newly remodeled Fredrich Sen Building now a part of the entire complex

A second floor was added to the older building and an elevator and winding stair way will lead visitors to the spacious community meeting room, seating 400 persons

The entire building plan was developed around off-street parking with 44 parking places located on the Indian River side of SR 707, and another 78 parking places behind the building. Entrance to the parking lot will be from Commercial Street and from Indian River Drive, with exits only on the drive

James A. Garvey president of First Federal of Martin County said recently that the new building was constructed due to the growth of the Jensen Beach area

"We had thought it would be ten years before we would be able to have a building such as this in Jensen Beach," Garvey said, "but our expectations were not taking into account the amazing growth of this area. The Jensen Beach offices have grown to be a major part of our business activities."

Chamber launches membership drive

JENSEN BEACH Seeking funding for a $7,500 annual budget the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce will launch a one-week membership drive Saturday morning.

Drive chairman, David Deel will kick off the drive with a coffee at the Chamber offices on Commercial Street at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, sending three teams out on the streets to seek members.

The teams are headed by Deel, Vice President John Hesburn and Past President Dick Longhurst.

Hoping to reach all present members and sign a group of new members, the 110 member Chamber of Commerce will have to record sixty three new members plus the signing of all 1971 members to make the goal.

We are the support of all merchants and private individuals in the area," Deel said. He pointed to the $10 individual membership fee that allows residents who are not in business to support the work of the Chamber and the newly defined duties of $15 a year for businesses as being a "reasonable method of financing."

A complicated formula that allowed membership to define their own dues on a fair share plan adopted last year was scrapped by the Chamber at the recommendation of the board of directors meeting when Treasurer Richard Sowles said that many members refused to return to the dues of the confusing fee schedule.

Now each member can fill in his dues and if he wants to give an amount [illegible] Department, [illegible] Arnold Hartman [illegible] participation in [illegible]

Pointing to the accomplishments of the Chamber in 1971, Deel said that the highlight of the year was the acquisition of three new doctors who are now in practice in Jensen Beach.

"This one accomplishment makes everyone in the community live better. We are in need of one more doctor as those who have moved to Jensen Beach are now averaging a complete practice and there are still many without regular family doctors," Deel added.

$35 million building sets new Martin record

STUART Building permits totaling more than $35 million moved the boom in Martin County into its second phase.

The biggest year on record more than surpassed the total figures of both 1969 and 1970.

Condominiums led the field in building permits almost all in the booming eastern part of the county.

In Jensen Beach where commercial office space is non-existant, the building figures were led by the large office building of First Federal Savings and Loan Association and Martin County's other commercial buildings met only the local needs of businesses seeking space and new warehousing on Jensen Avenue barely kept pace with the demand of specialty shops in service areas.

The highrise on Hutchinson Island with a permit totalling over one million dollars in construction is set to be started and clearing work for a new shopping center for commercial street due to be opened in the summer are projects included in the permits but not yet begun.

Sewall's Point permitted totalled over a million dollars, the largest being an office building planned for the A. A. Sewall's Point Road area.

Turnpike interchange approved

PORT ST. LUCIE A new interchange on St. Lucie Blvd. for Port St. Lucie on the Sunshine State Parkway has been approved by the Florida Department of Transportation it was learned at the close of the old year.

The new interchange Exit 11 will be operational in early days it was estimated. The interchange will cut many miles of difficult traffic leading to Exits 12 and 14 in Palm City and Ft. Pierce for residents of the northern part of Martin County and the southern part of St. Lucie County.

Negotiated between General Development Corporation and the turnpike authority the interchange will be located on 34 acres of land provided by GDC a mile and a half south of the Ft. Pierce turnpike plaza.

With the bridge across the turnpike already built the speed in opening the turnpike interchange will be accelerated. Two toll booths are planned for traffic entering and leaving the toll road.

In the master plan of the city GDC has set aside ten acres for a service business.

St. Lucie Blvd. loses to the giant community's development of 8,212 acres and the interchange will be eight miles south of the Ft. Pierce interchange and eight and a half miles north of the Stuart interchange.

This is one of the most important steps taken for the future of the City of Port St. Lucie, said Mayor Eugene Kavanaugh.

Legislative delegation plans Martin hearings

COCOA BEACH Martin County's legislative delegation will hold a public hearing in the courthouse in Stuart on January 14, it was announced Tuesday by Sen. Beth Johnson.

The meeting will start at 10 a.m. and all city, county school board and governmental agencies and the general public will be asked to appear.

Sen. Johnson asked that all who would plan to present legislation have the bills ready in writing, even though it be in rough draft adding that suggestions not in the form of bills could be made at the meeting.

Frank Wacha, chairman of the county commission, said he would welcome the meeting of the delegation in this county. The public hearing will be the only one before the upcoming regular session of the legislature.

Previous efforts to introduce bills after the public hearing was held has been frowned upon by the Martin delegation. Hence, all who would have their legislative efforts considered were urged to present them to the legislative delegation at the public hearing.

HAPPY 50TH Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weiss of Jensen Beach celebrated their 50th [illegible] anniversary last Thursday evening with an open house for friends and family at the Jensen Beach Women's Association club house. This little can will keep mosquitos out, decorate your car grill, protect you on the road, take you fishing and help roast your turkey.

Remember all those cans you've tossed away?

Well, electricity is giving them a new life. A life that begins at aluminum recycling centers all over the country. Like the three here in Florida.

For instance, with the help of Floridians who care about their environment, the Reynolds Aluminum Reclamation Center in Coral Gables, Florida, receives thousands of cans daily.

The cans enter the complex electric process of being sorted and shredded. Then made ready for melting and re-use. Like window screens, highway guard-rails, boat hulls and, of course, aluminum foil.

So, the next time you look at a clean, beautiful park, or picnic in a place that looks the way nature intended it to look, remember electricity.

It's not only part of the solution to cleaning up the environment, but is ingeniously giving old cans a new life.

FPL Electricity. Part of the solution.

Engine repair and care taught at Murray

Now that the heavy grass mowing is over for another season, are you ready to stow your mower? Do you know how to repair, care for, and store your mower so that it will be in good condition and ready to use next spring?

It is time to tune the motor mower, clean it, and make needed repairs.

Classes in small engine repair, trouble shooting, and the proper use and care of small two and four cycle engines are taught Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Murray Annex, Port Salerno.

Interested adults may register prior to class at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Murray Annex, St. Lucie Blvd., and Fifth Street, Port Salerno.

Registration fee for the course, sponsored by the Adult Education Department, Martin County Public Schools, is $2.00.

State taxes yield increases

TALLAHASSEE — Major taxes in Florida yielded $116.6 million in November, continuing a general increase in revenue collections for fiscal 1971-72, according to an announcement by Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson.

In Martin County, eight cent gasoline tax collections in November, $113,738.72 was collected on 1,431,708 gallons. In November, 1970, $80,563.94 was collected.

St. Lucie County figures for the same time amounted to $231,557.52 for 2,894,469 gallons.

Distribution of second and seventh cent special fuel tax collected during Nov. for the year was $1,333.01 in Martin County and $2,094.44 in St. Lucie County.

Florida has collected $515.9 million in tax revenues from July through November this year, with all receipts showing advances over the same fiscal period last year.

Sales tax receipts headed collections last month, yielding $68 million in revenue, a 25 per cent rise over the same month last year. Leading the proceeds percentage wise was the state use tax. Collections through Nov. totaled $3.4 million, some $1.5 million more than last year's receipts for the same period. On a percentage basis this increase figures to over 65 per cent.

Documentary stamp collections also showed a sharp rise, almost 36 per cent. Through November the collections totaled $21.6 million. Last year's figure was $14.5 million, two-thirds of this year's figure. Intangible tax collections once again registered substantial gains, almost 50 per cent. Comparatively the figures read $9.2 million for 1971-72 and $6.6 million for 1970-71.

Although up less on a percentage basis, gas tax revenue collections showed the second highest total figure, $112.2 million, up almost $26 million from last year.

Real estate law at MCHS

STUART — A course in Florida real estate law will be offered for adults at Martin County High School Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Basic principles of Florida Real Estate Law are discussed. Legal practices and procedures in Florida real estate transactions are explored. Liabilities of mortgagor and mortgagee and recording rights are among the many topics covered by the course.

Persons engaged in buying and selling their own property and individuals licensed as real estate salesmen or brokers will find special value in the course.

The course does not satisfy the requirement for the college-level course which is needed by individuals who intend to apply for licensing as real estate sales persons. It does provide an excellent review in preparation for the examination for licensing.

Interested adults may register for the course in room 45, Martin County High School, SR 76, at 7 p.m.

For additional information call 287-6400.

THE WORLD AROUND U.S.- The first of four "World Around Us" lectures will be presented January 6 at 8 p.m. at the Woman's Club of Stuart. The color film lecture sponsored by the Martin County Library Association will be given by Fran William Hall, famed world traveler, lecturer and photographer covering "Exploring India." Nearly everyone who goes to India photographs the Taj Mahal, taken in silhouette by Fran William Hall above. Other presentations planned by the group include: The Royal Kingdom of Thailand on Feb. 2; The South Pacific on Feb. 28 and Ecuador and Darwin's Galapagos scheduled for March 22. Season tickets are on sale at the library; individual tickets will be sold at the door.

First Federal shows faith in Jensen Beach

The opening of the new Jensen Beach office of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County brings a proud moment to those who have faith in our community.

If we were to single out two men who had the foresight and appreciation of what Jensen Beach is, they would be Harry Hoke, chairman of the board, and James Garvey, president, of First Federal.

Both men knew the viable market that is Jensen Beach, and they keyed the first expansion of the popular savings and loan institution to this market opening offices here in the Fredricksen Building in 1968. They were soon surprised by the business that was here, and immediately took steps to better serve the people.

We remember in the initial planning stages what Jim Garvey said. "The building we build should be an asset to the community, and should be designed to serve the needs there for some time to come."

That building will be opened this week, and with the opening, the emergency of Jensen Beach as its own definable market area will be highlighted.

No man has had more to do with the location of the building, and the foresight and faith it took to convince the board members of First Federal that such a building should be built here than Harry Hoke. The popular mayor and owner of Ocean Breeze Park is undeniably the one with the ideals of what Jensen Beach can be in the future, and what is necessary to make it a first class community.

Garvey agrees with the ideals and concepts of Hoke, and has in his own way followed those ideals in making the new building something of which everyone in the community can be proud.

We welcome this new building, and the officers and board of directors of First Federal deserve a special thank you for their faith in Jensen Beach.

We should listen

Arnold Ramos is a pro. He knows what he can do, and what he cannot do. He knows also, just how far he can go.

As a dedicated engineer who is first a professional, Ramos has as district engineer of the Florida Department of Transportation, kept his district free from the usual games of politics. He has done this over the years by avoiding, or ignoring, the political implications of moves that involve Florida highways.

A perfect example of this is Commercial Street in Jensen Beach.

Ramos was asked by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce to widen Warner Creek Bridge. He not only widened it, but also reconstructed it, making the curve there safer, marking it properly, and removing the more ultra-dangerous corner that encouraged more than one car of erring drivers to go into the creek.

The Chamber also asked Ramos to help solve the problems of the Sewall's Point Road-SR 707 intersection. He did so with traffic counts, color-designated intersection that is not the busiest, but possibly the only intersection that could shut down the danger of that corner.

He handled both chores with dispatch, without red tape, and with a dedication that most in Jensen Beach couldn't think possible for a little town.

Then he came to Commercial Street.

Merchants were up in arms. They called each other names. Some wanted one-way traffic, others wanted two-way traffic. Some wanted to keep the angle parking, while others wanted parallel parking, and a third group wanted no parking at all.

Some suggested four-laning the street, others wanted to make the local bank change its drive-in windows, and others wanted off-street parking, and yet others wanted storage lanes.

Ramos was called to a public hearing. He listened to everyone fight. Privately, after the meeting, Ramos said, "When all these people make up their minds what they want, we'll be glad to come up and get the job done."

He found no objection to storage lanes on SR 707, Indian River Drive, and soon after the meeting marked the road so that traffic heading north could turn into both Commercial Street and Ricou, without holding up other traffic.

But Ramos played the problem of Commercial Street with the same professional attitude that has made him as important as he is. He forgot about it until the people decide what they want.

The same could be true of I-95 through Martin and St. Lucie Counties. There is no united front for the project, and the objectors to this or that seem to think that they would rather not have an interstate highway than have it go where they do not feel it should go.

Without a unanimity of thought, the two-county area may lose the important highway.

Federal Highway men want to build the road, but they don't have to. Ramos would like to see the project completed in his district, but he doesn't have to get it done. He has many other areas, especially through southern Palm Beach County that are crying for the I-95 completion, and they aren't battling the route.

It Ramos says that all studies make it imperative that I-95 goes west of the Florida Turnpike, it should go there, and he should get the support of the people. Getting the road is very important, and we must not kill the project through our inability to agree on a route.

Eating our seed crop

A strange scheme for helping the poverty stricken is revealed in a press report describing how the federal government through the office of Economic Opportunity has granted $50,000 to a local community action organization for the purpose of establishing food co-ops for low income people. According to the press report, the scheme has been opposed by local retailers "who feel their tax dollars are being used to build up food co-ops they will have to compete with."

The retailers have a point. America has the most efficient mass retail distribution system in the world. Goods of all kinds move through this system expeditiously and at the lowest possible prices. The largest retail organizations, chain or independent, are ruled by the same master: competition. Every retailer is part of a distribution mechanism that is able to provide the smallest hamlet as well as the larger cities with the abundance produced by millions of U.S. farms and factories of all kinds. While politicians speak of pockets of poverty, the fact remains that mass production and mass distribution are the backbone of a national level of well-being without parallel. The industries involved in production and distribution also provide the base for the support of the manifold activities of government including all the social and economic programs to aid those with low incomes.

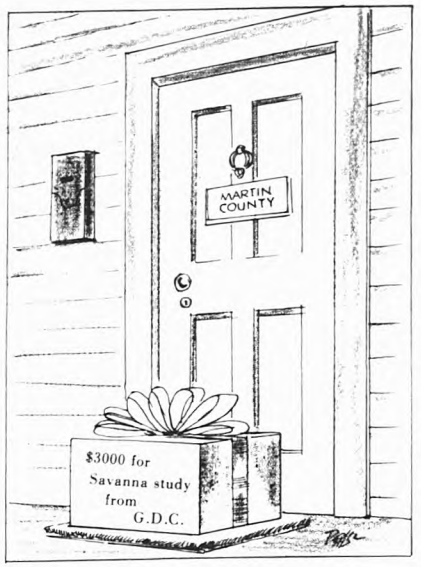
How in the world can a nation continue to pour billions upon billions of dollars into these programs if it adopts a policy of undercutting schemes that depend upon tax support and at the same time undermine the enterprises that pay the taxes? The answer is, it can't. Substituting handout projects for taxpaying, private enterprise without regard to the consequences is just like eating next year's seed crop.

An example to ponder

The country has now seen a sample of the consequences of letting emotion and political expediency take charge of decision making in the resolution of pollution problems. For months government action, at both the state and federal level, took on the proportions of a hysterical crusade against phosphates in laundry detergents.

Now it has been found that some substitutes for phosphates are extremely caustic and a health hazard to children. State and local governments that had passed antiphosphate laws are being asked to rescind them immediately.

Business Week reports, "... the government has finally made up its mind that all its previous decisions on the matter of detergents were either incorrect or based on false information. This sort of floundering not only suggests that the federal regulators are using fragmentary, inconclusive evidence to make their decisions. It raises the ugly suspicion that political pull as well as scientific research is involved. Government regulators owe the public some explanations."



Dick Campbell

Older? Me?

It is a little humiliating to stand there with a mustache growing, and have everybody either not notice it or giggle a little.

Some of the printable comments are following, but the mustache began with a bet on the golf course. Julian Flood kinda dared me to grow one, saying he would if I would. I began immediately.

The first day someone said, "You kinda missed shaving today, didn't you?"

The second day nobody noticed, but there was a marked increase in people who looked at my eyes, rather than my nose as they usually do.

The third day Osa found out about it and immediately pronounced her opposition to it.

The fourth day everyone laughed a little. No one commented that it was anything but a fad, and Osa said "Ouch."

The fifth day it began to take form, and that was the day that I saw Julian hadn't started his mustache yet. I complained, and he agreed to begin raising one immediately.

Of course there isn't anything immediate about raising a mustache, and when you have light blond whiskers like Julian it would take a month to see it.

I wanted mine to be like Robert Goulet's mustache. We were waiting for the rain at Alan Bland's house and Goulet was on television. I saw myself with a mustache like that. Imagine how I could sing if it would grow out.

Well, most of my mustache grew in, and I'd have to bite off the hairs and spit them out. It grew in clumps, some white, some brown, some black.

Some hairs grew up, some down and some straight out. It wasn't a very pleasant beginning.

But the last time I tried to grow one of the things I went nuts in the first week because it itched so much, so this time I was prepared. I started scratching it before it began itching. That way it didn't itch ever.

When I went to the barber shop, the barber even looked at it with a fish-eye. That was on the eighth day, breaking my previous record of seven days of growing a mustache.

Tonight is New Year's Eve. I said to him, "What can you do about this mustache." Can you trim it up to look more than like a mess of hair sticking out of my face."

He smiled, and said, nicely, "You'll have to let it grow out first. It's barely started."

He did cut around it, and added a little pencil to it to see that it looked all right. I looked in the mirror and could see the pencil, and didn't like that very much.

When I walked into the office, I saw Ruth, who immediately said, "You've got to cut off the long part down the sides, as it makes you look like you are frowning, and you smile a lot. You don't frown."

The long part down the sides was my Robert Goulet.

Joan came in the office and told me that a mustache was "very dangerous", saying that "once Rudy had a full beard and we were monkeying around and I got an abrasion on my eye."

With a sad heart, I pushed what resolve was left in me to the front, thought "after all, my brother Bob has a mustache," and walked out. Then came the final blow.

"It looks all right, but it certainly makes you look older," said Maxine Bessemer.

"Yes, it does that," said Bill Bessemer.

I cut it off that night.

Bill Britton

Munch, crunch, burp

Way back when in the dear dim days of used to be, when the evening wore on and the TV wore thin, your mind would suddenly lurch into life with Thoughts of Other Things.

Like, what-is-there-to-eat-because-I'm-hungry-huh?

So you would stagger to your feet, pause at the refrigerator for something cold and wet, and make yourself a sandwich out of the left-overs from dinner.

And thus having fortified the inner you, you would wend your way back to the living room, sit down in front of the idiot box, and let your mind go back to sleep.

Life was simple in the dear dim days of used to be because you were satisfied with what you had. And you were satisfied because, frankly, there wasn't much more to choose from, except for the dinner left-overs. (Did you ever try a spaghetti sandwich?)

Well, like in everything else, those days are gone forever.

Because nowadays the ardent snacker has much to choose from after he gets his something cold and wet from the fridge.

I've been looking at some of the new product reports in trade publications. They indicate the introduction of more and more non-dessert type snacks all designed to fill that inner void, and send Alka Seltzer sales soaring. Many of these are already available in local Florida stores. The rest soon will be. And the variety is really something else.

Armour and Company are introducing six varieties of a frozen toaster product called "Toaster Things." (Isn't that original?) The menu includes cheese and ham, sloppy joes, cheese and beef, sausage pizza, cheese and salami and cheese and hot dog chunks. You just throw these things in your toaster and in less time than it takes you to take two sips of your something cold and wet, your late night snack comes up in your face.

Isn't science wonderful? Ah, but there's much much more.

From the people at Hunt-Wesson comes something called "Pizzands." This contribution to your 11 o'clock news stomach ache is a refrigerated French roll with a pizza like topping. And if you're the type like me who enjoys a bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich, but you don't care to mess up the kitchen with the frying pan bit, they have something called "Reddi Bacon." It's a refrigerated, foil-wrapped bacon that cooks in your toaster.

So far you're doing great. That is, as long as your toaster holds out.

Of course the people at Jeno have long been known for their frozen type pizzas, but now they have something new. It's a little pizza snack (another one?) and comes in cheese and sausage varieties. (They all do.) But the new thrill about this product is the fact that the pizza can be broken so that one piece or all ten pieces can be baked. That's bound to appeal to those who would rather have heartburn alone, or share it with their friends.

Up until now, if you mentioned Ralston-Purina to me, childhood memories of hot bowls of oatmeal at breakfast would flash across my mind. "Eat it! It's GOOD for you." Yech! But now the cereal people have come up with something new designed to highlight the end of your day. It's called "Piecadilly Circles." This product consists of a frozen English muffin with a variety of toppings. You may choose from cheddar cheese and chicken, ham and Swiss cheese, tin creamy white or mushroom sauce, yet.

the usual pizza types in ing ground beef pizza sausage pizza. The com describes its product "the English muffin wit meal on top!"

I'd almost rather hav hot oatmeal.

And just in case you for other than your something cold and w wash all this stuff down people at Robinson La Ltd. have introduced not but three new wines designed to tempt your buds and make the idiot go out of focus. The Strawberry Duck fruit ored wine, Apple Da apple wine, and Cold Bird grape wine, and I don't I'm ready for any of th thank you. I think I'll stic my old familiar somet cold and wet with the fre pop-top.

Of course there are other new things on market for the late ardent snacker, and ones are being introduce the time. And at the we're going, it prob won't be long before McMahon comes on at by saying "... and h-e-r-e-s heartburn!" A nation of burps will ans Whatever happened potato chips?

Spinney traded a 'calamity' for a fire chief hat in Jensen

BY ALICE HICKEY

JENSEN BEACH-An ear ly retirement was a near calamity for Randolph Spin ney, 78 year old chief of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department.

The idea had stounded him. Tired of ice, snow and the hustle and bustle of his normal work week, Spinney, at the age of 51, decided on an early retirement, and set out to liquidate his business and property in Long Island.

Moving to Jensen Beach was just a step from buying a dog on a poke," said Spinney. Unlike most retirees in the area, Spinney came here to settle solely on the recommendation of a friend who had told him it was a nice place.

Coming here in 1945, the future looked bright. Besides purchasing a home, he also invested in a boat and the necessary fish gear, which seemed the natural thing to do to complete plans for a well rounded retirement.

Spinney was soon to find out all that glitters is not gold.

Becoming adjusted to the area in general was a real problem," Spinney said. He had moved to the country from a large, thickly populated town. Lifelong friends and working companions were now 1200 miles away. He had been an active person with a busy schedule and idleness did not agree with him. It was like the candy that wasn't sweet any longer.

I spent much time helping a friend water and care for his fruit trees just to have something to do," he said.

All too soon, time began to hang heavy, so heavy that he seriously considered returning to New York regardless of the snow and ice.

The incident which was to be the turning point in Spinney's retirement occurred on his first day in Martin County.

Arriving in Stuart, he hired a taxi to bring him to Jensen Beach to inspect the house he was to buy.

On our way over here," Spinney recollected, "the woods were all ablaze from the west side of U.S. 1 through to Jensen Beach. Not seeing any fire fighting equipment in sight, he asked the cab driver if he didn't think he should call the fire department.

We don't have a fire department. Mister," the driver answered. "We just let em burn."

The functions of a working fire department had always intrigued Spinney. The need for a local fire department, combined with the need for something to occupy his time, inspired Spinney with other interested citizens of the area, to take the request for fire fighting equipment to the county.

We were successful in that venture," said Spinney. We were given an old Mayflower fire truck with a tank welded on it. She was a real junker.

That was both the beginning of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, and a more active retirement for Randolph Spinney.

For the past nine years, Spinney has held the office of Chief.

The responsibility of heading the fire department is a big one. Aside from being on call 24 hours a day, Spinney admits to spending as many as 65 to 70 hours a week at the fire station.

I enjoy my work here," Spinney commented. "Besides that I still have spare time on my hands, so what would I do with all the extra if I were not busy at the station?"

Twice each week Spinney sees to it that all the trucks are checked out, gassed up if necessary, and kept in top running order.

All the radio equipment is tested at the station every Monday morning.

We have 12 plectrons out with 12 men at all times. A plectron is a portable radio unit used for receiving emergency calls from the Martin County Civil Defense Headquarters.

Excluding emergency calls, Spinney's duties require him to spend a minimum of three evenings a month at the station. One is for the monthly business meeting of the department.

Fire drills are held two evenings a month. Spinney puts much emphasis on these drills.

Their main purpose is to keep the men familiar with the equipment," Spinney said. "It is never good to stay away from anything mechanical for too long a period of time."

Randolph Spinney takes his job seriously. He works closely with The Florida State Fire College as well as with the State Forestry Division and the Pollution Control. He attends and encourages the men of the fire department to attend as many of these demonstrations as is possible.

The information and techniques obtained from these demonstrations are invaluable to the department. Spinney contends. "A perfect example of this fact was displayed last summer when our department was able to extinguish the tank truck fire on the Jensen cut-off road. That could have been a big one in view of the fact the truck at the time was loaded with over 2700 gallons of liquid petroleum gas. Two of our men on that call, Gene Oliver and Gene Poux, had just returned from one of the demonstrations pertaining to the control of gas fires.

At least once a year Spinney has arranged with the Florida State Fire College in Ocala to hold their demonstrations here. These are held for a period of five days from 7 til 10 p.m.

Spinney's efforts have been rewarding, and he is very quick to give due credit to the men in his department. Today the local fire department is ranked second to none for an area the size of Jensen Beach.

Commenting on his other interests and hobbies, Spinney says they are few. His only other outside interest is helping the Fireworks committee, which he pointed out was a completely separate organization from the fire department.

Other than that, I like working with my fruit trees and traveling," he said. I really pamper my trees and can easily get a full quart of orange juice from eight oranges.

Spinney and his wife Martha have traveled over Europe on two different occasions. On the second trip they took their own automobile and drove over 13,000 miles through England, Scotland, Norway, and Sweden.

The only disappointment on that vacation was that we had traveled over 300 miles north of the Arctic Circle to

Hi...Our Glogg Party must have set some kind of record. We served 185 people Christmas Eve, and from our vantage point behind the "bar", it was an enormous success. If you missed it this year, there is always next.

We keep adding new things to our HALF PRICE SALE to make room for new stock. So keep your eye on this half price corner for rare bargains. Right now there are children's feeding sets by Stangl that were $7 and $8 - AND NOW $3.50 and $4. There must be some child in your life who would dearly love to eat his mush and drink milk from a handpainted Bo Peep or Little Boy Blue.

Did you see the linen-look plastic table clothes? Ovals, Rounds, Oblongs and Squares in soft green, white, beige and gold. Just perfect for Florida's informal way of dining while still being gracious. From $4 for the Bridge table size, to $7.50 for the Round, 70" in diameter.

The post-holiday exodus has begun and the park is looking more like its normal self.

Five dollar prizes were awarded to the first three winners in the Christmas decoration contest, and Jensen Laundromat awarded a $2.50 and $2.00 certificate to fourth and fifth places. Winners in place order were Smanotto, 230 S. Bluefish Dr.; Glassford, 232 S. Kingfish Dr.; Lewis, 433 N. Sailfish Dr.; and Hendrichsen, 366 S. Cobia Dr. Bennett, 358 N. Marlin Dr. Judges were Catherine and Russ Wright, chairmen; Erna McCarter, Helen Stumpf and Agnes and Harold Landis.

Audrey and Bob Middleton, Coventry, R.I., are with us until mid-February.

The chartered bus tour to Disney World on Jan. 10 has taken off with a bang. One bus has already been filled and the second bus begun. Make your reservations with Fran Wade, north end of park, and Mary Sumner, south end.

Ellena Percy and Liz Faust have moved their Winnebago motor home to 57 S. Sailfish Dr. for the rest of the winter. They spent the New Year's weekend with friends in Ormond Beach.

Nora Turner caught her first fish, a one lb. trout, and says it made a tasty lunch. Now she's trying her luck with a new casting rod.

Helen and Vance Neugebauer are down for the winter from Claymont, Del.

Winners at bridge were Cecil Scott, George McPherson and Sophie Holler. No scores available.

Board director Boyce Bell holds a conference every Saturday morning to hear suggestions from owners. This was previously reported as being held on another day. Sorry, Boyce.

Aubrey Jenkins' boat ranked out near Nettles Island the other day. Lucky Zoe Bennett and Marc McPherson were there to head the rescue team.

Joy and Helen Allison, nieces of Betty Nagy, are visiting at 238 S. Kingfish Dr. for the New Year school break.

F. Atwood Brocklebank celebrated his birthday Dec. 31. His initials are F.A.B. provoking many gags as friends came to congratulate him.

Don Peeling was released from the hospital last week. Rumors are flying that he may be allowed to convalesce here at the park.

The rec. hall was jammed with merrymakers New Year's Eve. Everyone had a wonderful time. Congratulations to Pinney Bennett and her helpers.

Weekly issues of The Mirror are available in the park at Wood's store.

Painting classes offered to children

STUART — Oil painting classes are being offered to children in Martin County starting on Saturday, Jan. 8, according to Jim McMahon, superintendent of recreation at the Stuart Youth Center. The classes are offered by the department and will start at 10 a.m.

The classes will be directed by Mrs. Madeleine Reteniser, who has been instructing adult classes in the area for several years. Students will be grouped according to ability in basic, intermediate and advanced. New students will be accepted after the starting date of Jan. 8. A fee will be charged.

Guitar lessons

STUART — A new series of guitar classes are being offered at the Stuart Youth Center this month. Classes for intermediate level are being held presently on Thursday afternoons, and the new classes will be offered on the same days, at a different time starting June and June will be announced after registration.

Normal students will be available according to Jim McMahon, superintendent of recreation, and Mrs. Faye Hammond is the instructor. A fee will be charged.

Registrations are being accepted at the Youth Center or phone 287-2550.

VWV meeting will be Friday

JENSEN BEACH — Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Auxiliary will have their monthly combined dinner-business and meeting on Friday, Jan. 7, at Jensen Beach Community Center.

The turn-down will be at 6 p.m., followed by the meetings. Bring your own table service and beverage.

NARFE 1104 meets Jan. 12

STUART — Chapter 1104 of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees/Retired will meet Wednesday, Jan. 12 in the Community Room of First National Bank of Stuart. All retired federal employees are invited to the 1:30 p.m. meeting.

NARFE was formed over fifty years ago by fourteen men in Washington, D.C. It is a non-profit incorporated association and now has more than 152,000 federal service annuitants and survivors living in the 50 states. Legislative efforts of the NARFE brought about the cost of living escalation clause which increased annuities as much as 37.6 percent in the past eight years, according to a report by Max Zapin, president of Chapter 1104.

MENS VISIT THE HAROLD LARTACIS

JENSEN BEACH — Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Lartacis of Manila, Iowa, have been entertaining their sons, John of Hamilton, N.J., and Harold of Brooklyn Heights, N.Y. during the Christmas holidays.

This is their sons' first visit to Florida and the Lartacis enjoyed showing them the area. Several fishing trips on the family boat turned up good catches of fish. Most were released, but enough were kept for dinner.

Lake Manor Park News

By Corinne Davenport

Christmas trees and holiday decorations are stored away until another year. Now is the time to participate in the weekly activities at the park. It might help to conquer that familiar let down feeling that seems to come annually.

Just to remind you of the clubhouse schedule

Monday 1 p.m. Round robin shuffle board

Monday 7:30 p.m. Cards

Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Movies once monthly

Friday 7:30 p.m. Bingo

A morning coffee for the women is held on the first Tuesday of each month at 10 o'clock

A very successful New Year's eve party was held at the club house. Due to a commitment made some time ago, we were unable to attend, but everyone had a good time and we hear the refreshments were very special. Gladys Oakes, Dot Beamer, Edna and Bill Eastman put much effort into the party and to them we owe a word of thanks.

We are most grateful to Doris and Max Bardine who so generously lend their record player whenever needed. However, it is felt that this is becoming an imposition and something should be done about acquiring one of our own. This is to be brought up at the next business meeting on the 12th so come and join in the discussion. Your ideas are welcomed.

Another thank you to Elsie Schoenaman, Mildred Mullon and Minnie Leslie who sang carols around the park on Christmas eve.

Sylvia and Charles Siman recently visited Sylvia's adopted mom, Mrs. Gertrude Clair in St. Petersburg. Mrs. Clair is 86 years old.

Fred Balfanz was the three game winner at last weeks Round Robin Shuffle. There were five two game winners, Ray Fish, Agnes Menase, Lee Tucker, Bernie Dubuque and Charles Brinsley.

A tournament was held recently at Vero Beach between the Stuart and Vero shuffle clubs. The Stuart players, of which Frank Menase is a member, won six out of ten games.

Mary and Andrew Rastucci are our newest residents and we welcome them to Lake Manor Park. They recently purchased the former Ed Jones mobile.

Residents of Lake Wall espousack in the Pocono mountains, Mary has just retired after forty years as a teacher of the mentally retarded.

Andrew also retired has been a Public Relations officer with an advertising agency. He is an avid gardener and already has plans to beautify their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nugent, Jr. of St. Louis, Missouri were holiday guests of his parents, Ellen and Mark Nugent.

Les and Tee Olson have returned from the West Coast but they will be leaving us soon to occupy their new home in New Port Richey. They will be missed by all.

Madeleine and Fred Balfanz spent the New Year holidays visiting relatives and friends in Juno Beach.

Those who have not already joined the Federation of Mobile Homes Owners of Florida, Inc. are urged to do so. Dues are $3.00 per person annually and may be paid to Ed Franks.

With the membership in the Federation goes the privilege of joining the Blood Bank which entitles members to six free pints of blood a year at the rate of $1.00 annually.

Deadline for joining the Blood Bank is the end of January.

Susie and Dale Butler are now living in their new home on the West coast. We wish them happiness and they will be greatly missed.

Their new address is 120 Camellia Street, Bay Lake Estates, Nakomis, Florida 33556.

Riverside Village News

By KATIE SMITH

The Clarks - Marge and Howard and their dachshund Frieda are spending their second winter at the Davis trailer on 5th St. While Howard went fishing or golfing, Marge spent a busy week baking cookies for the six nephews and nieces who arrived in time for Christmas. They are the grand children of Norean and Pete Mickey who live on 3rd St. They were accompanied by their parents Bob and Carroll of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, and Don and Donna Mickey of Arkansas. The fourteen of them enjoyed Christmas dinner at the Mickey's.

The Keinanens, Marie and Sally are enjoying their fourth winter at Riverside. When weather permits, they fish the surf for pompano. So far the fish are not cooperating.

Looks like Mr. and Mrs. Al Brynalson will be returning to their cottage in the park soon. Ralph Noggle and Monty Priest recently put up the TV antenna and got things in order.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knuth spent Christmas at Pompano with their granddaughter who is a second grade teacher. They visited the flea market at Ft. Lauderdale and Walter came home with unbelievable bargains.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sankey and family of Terre Haute, Ind. spent last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chew of New Jersey have returned to the park for the winter.

Avis Wellington and Ethel French were dinner guests Wednesday of Mrs. Liz McCarthy at Spanish Lakes.

LEGAL NOTICE

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS TO BE VOTED ON MARCH 14, 1972

NOTICE OF ELECTION

WHEREAS, the Legislature, under the Constitution of the State of Florida, passed Senate Joint Resolution No. 52-D and House Joint Resolution No. 44-D, proposing amendments to the Constitution of the State of Florida, and duly did determine and direct that the said Joint Resolutions be submitted to the electors of the State of Florida, at the Special Election to be held March 14, 1972; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD (DICK) STONE, Secretary of State of the State of Florida do hereby give notice that a Special Election will be held in each County in Florida, on March 14, 1972 for the ratification or rejection of the Joint Resolutions proposing the following to the Constitution of the State of Florida, viz:

NO. 1

Senate Joint Resolution No. 52-D

A joint resolution proposing a revision of Article V of the State Constitution, relating to the judicial branch of the government.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following proposed revision of Article V of the State Constitution relating to the judicial branch of government is hereby agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of Florida for approval or rejection at the general election to be held in November 1972, or if authorized by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the legislature at a special election to be held March 14, 1972

(Substantial rewording of Article V, Florida State Constitution, for present text.)

ARTICLE V
JUDICIARY

SECTION 1. Courts. The judicial power shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts of appeal, circuit courts and county courts. No other courts may be established by the state, any political subdivision or any municipality. The jurisdiction shall, by general law, divide the state into appellate districts and judicial circuits following county lines. Commissions established by law may perform such duties as may be granted by the supreme court, but may not exercise any judicial power except as incidental to the performance of their primary duties.

SECTION 2. Administration; rule-making power; practice and procedure.

(a) The supreme court shall adopt rules for the practice and procedure in all courts including rules governing appellate review, the administrative supervision of all courts, the transfer to the court having jurisdiction of any proceeding improvidently begun in a court of another court has been improvidently invoked and a requirement that no cause shall be dismissed because an improper remedy has been sought. These rules may be repealed by general law enacted by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the legislature.

(b) The justices of the supreme court shall be chosen by a majority of the members of the court from among the chief administrative officer of the courts. He shall have and exercise the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

(c) A chief judge for each district court of appeal shall be chosen by a majority of the judges thereof or, if there is no majority, by the chief justice. The chief judge shall be responsible for the administrative supervision of the court. He shall have the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

(d) A chief judge for each district court of appeal shall be chosen by a majority of the judges thereof or, if there is no majority, by the chief justice. The chief judge shall be responsible for the administrative supervision of the court. He shall have the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

SECTION 3. Supreme Court.

(a) ORGANIZATION. The supreme court shall consist of seven justices. Five justices shall constitute a quorum. The concurrence of four justices shall be necessary to a decision. When recusals for cause would prohibit the court from convening because of the requirements of this section, judges assigned to temporary duty may be substituted for justices.

(b) JURISDICTION. The supreme court shall:

(1) Hear appeals from final judgments of trial courts imposing the death penalty and from orders of trial courts and decisions of boards or commissions certified to be of great public importance, or that directly affect the validity of a state statute, or a federal statute or treaty, or construing a provision of the state or federal constitution.

(2) When provided by general law, hear appeals from final judgments and orders of trial courts ordering or denying an injunction, and final judgments entered in proceedings for the validation of bonds or certificates of indebtedness.

(3) Review by certiorari a decision of a district court of appeal that affects a class of constitutional or state officers, or passes upon a question certified by a district court of appeal to be of great public interest, or that is in direct conflict with a decision of any district court of appeal or of the supreme court on the same question of law, and any interlocutory judgment, order or decree which upon final judgment would be directly appealable to the supreme court, and may issue writs of certiorari to jurisdictional courts specified by law, all law having statewide application.

(4) May issue writs of prohibition to courts and commissions in cases within their jurisdiction of a supreme court to review, and may issue writs of habeas corpus, of mandamus, of quo warranto, of mandamus, of quo warranto, of certiorari, of prohibition, of habeas corpus, and all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction. Jurisdiction of the circuit court shall be uniform throughout the state. The transfer to the court having jurisdiction of any proceeding improvidently begun in a court of another court has been improvidently invoked and a requirement that no cause shall be dismissed because an improper remedy has been sought. These rules may be repealed by general law enacted by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the legislature.

(5) The justices of the supreme court shall be chosen by a majority of the members of the court from among the chief administrative officer of the courts. He shall have and exercise the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

(c) A chief judge for each district court of appeal shall be chosen by a majority of the judges thereof or, if there is no majority, by the chief justice. The chief judge shall be responsible for the administrative supervision of the court. He shall have the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

SECTION 2. Supreme Court.

(a) ORGANIZATION. The supreme court shall consist of seven justices. Five justices shall constitute a quorum. The concurrence of four justices shall be necessary to a decision. When recusals for cause would prohibit the court from convening because of the requirements of this section, judges assigned to temporary duty may be substituted for justices.

(b) JURISDICTION. The supreme court shall:

(1) Hear appeals from final judgments of trial courts imposing the death penalty and from orders of trial courts and decisions of boards or commissions certified to be of great public importance, or that directly affect the validity of a state statute, or a federal statute or treaty, or construing a provision of the state or federal constitution.

(2) When provided by general law, hear appeals from final judgments and orders of trial courts ordering or denying an injunction, and final judgments entered in proceedings for the validation of bonds or certificates of indebtedness.

(3) Review by certiorari a decision of a district court of appeal that affects a class of constitutional or state officers, or passes upon a question certified by a district court of appeal to be of great public interest, or that is in direct conflict with a decision of any district court of appeal or of the supreme court on the same question of law, and any interlocutory judgment, order or decree which upon final judgment would be directly appealable to the supreme court, and may issue writs of certiorari to jurisdictional courts specified by law, all law having statewide application.

(4) May issue writs of prohibition to courts and commissions in cases within their jurisdiction of a supreme court to review, and may issue writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction.

(5) May issue writs of mandamus and quo warranto to state officers and agencies.

(6) May, or any justice may, issue writs of habeas corpus returnable before the supreme court or any justice, a district court of appeal or any judge thereof, or any circuit judge.

(7) Shall have the power of direct review of administrative action prescribed by general law.

(c) CLERK AND MARSHAL. The supreme court shall appoint a clerk and a marshal who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court and perform such duties as the court directs. Their compensation shall be fixed by general law. The marshal shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the state, and in any county may deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

SECTION 4. District Courts of Appeal.

(a) ORGANIZATION. There shall be a district court of appeal serving each appellate district. Each district court of appeal shall consist of at least three judges. Three judges shall consider each case and the concurrence of two shall be necessary to a decision.

(b) JURISDICTION.

(1) District courts of appeal shall have jurisdiction to hear appeals that may be taken as a matter of right, from final judgments or orders of trial courts, including those entered on review of administrative action, not directly appealable to the supreme court or a circuit court. They may review interlocutory orders in such cases to the extent provided by rules adopted by the supreme court.

(2) District courts of appeal shall have the power of direct review of administrative action, as prescribed by general law.

(3) A district court of appeal or any judge thereof may issue writs of habeas corpus returnable before the court or any judge thereof or before any circuit judge within the territorial jurisdiction of the court. A district court of appeal may issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto, and other writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction. To the extent necessary to dispose of all issues in a cause properly before it, a district court of appeal may exercise any of the appellate jurisdiction of the circuit courts.

CLERKS and MARSHALS.

Each district court of appeal shall appoint a clerk and a marshal who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court and perform such duties as the court directs. Their compensation shall be fixed by general law. The marshal shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the territorial jurisdiction of the court and in any county may deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

SECTION 5. Circuit Courts.

(a) ORGANIZATION. There shall be a circuit court serving each judicial circuit.

(b) JURISDICTION. The circuit courts shall have such jurisdiction not vested in the county courts, and such powers in addition to those which may be provided by general law. They shall have the power to issue writs of mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition, habeas corpus, and all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their jurisdiction. Jurisdiction of the circuit court shall be uniform throughout the state. The transfer to the court having jurisdiction of any proceeding improvidently begun in a court of another court has been improvidently invoked and a requirement that no cause shall be dismissed because an improper remedy has been sought. These rules may be repealed by general law enacted by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the legislature.

(c) The justices of the supreme court shall be chosen by a majority of the members of the court from among the chief administrative officer of the courts. He shall have and exercise the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

(d) A chief judge for each district court of appeal shall be chosen by a majority of the judges thereof or, if there is no majority, by the chief justice. The chief judge shall be responsible for the administrative supervision of the court. He shall have the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

SECTION 3. Supreme Court.

(a) ORGANIZATION. The supreme court shall consist of seven justices. Five justices shall constitute a quorum. The concurrence of four justices shall be necessary to a decision. When recusals for cause would prohibit the court from convening because of the requirements of this section, judges assigned to temporary duty may be substituted for justices.

(b) JURISDICTION. The supreme court shall:

(1) Hear appeals from final judgments of trial courts imposing the death penalty and from orders of trial courts and decisions of boards or commissions certified to be of great public importance, or that directly affect the validity of a state statute, or a federal statute or treaty, or construing a provision of the state or federal constitution.

(2) When provided by general law, hear appeals from final judgments and orders of trial courts ordering or denying an injunction, and final judgments entered in proceedings for the validation of bonds or certificates of indebtedness.

(3) Review by certiorari a decision of a district court of appeal that affects a class of constitutional or state officers, or passes upon a question certified by a district court of appeal to be of great public interest, or that is in direct conflict with a decision of any district court of appeal or of the supreme court on the same question of law, and any interlocutory judgment, order or decree which upon final judgment would be directly appealable to the supreme court, and may issue writs of certiorari to jurisdictional courts specified by law, all law having statewide application.

(4) May issue writs of prohibition to courts and commissions in cases within their jurisdiction of a supreme court to review, and may issue writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction.

(5) May issue writs of mandamus and quo warranto to state officers and agencies.

(6) May, or any justice may, issue writs of habeas corpus returnable before the supreme court or any justice, a district court of appeal or any judge thereof, or any circuit judge.

(7) Shall have the power of direct review of administrative action prescribed by general law.

(c) CLERK AND MARSHAL. The supreme court shall appoint a clerk and a marshal who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court and perform such duties as the court directs. Their compensation shall be fixed by general law. The marshal shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the state, and in any county may deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

SECTION 4. District Courts of Appeal.

(a) ORGANIZATION. There shall be a district court of appeal serving each appellate district. Each district court of appeal shall consist of at least three judges. Three judges shall consider each case and the concurrence of two shall be necessary to a decision.

(b) JURISDICTION.

(1) District courts of appeal shall have jurisdiction to hear appeals, that may be taken as a matter of right, from final judgments or orders of trial courts, including those entered on review of administrative action, not directly appealable to the supreme court or a circuit court. They may review interlocutory orders in such cases to the extent provided by rules adopted by the supreme court.

(2) District courts of appeal shall have the power of direct review of administrative action, as prescribed by general law.

(3) A district court of appeal or any judge thereof may issue writs of habeas corpus returnable before the court or any judge thereof or before any circuit judge within the territorial jurisdiction of the court. A district court of appeal may issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto, and other writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction. To the extent necessary to dispose of all issues in a cause properly before it, a district court of appeal may exercise any of the appellate jurisdiction of the circuit courts.

CLERKS and MARSHALS.

Each district court of appeal shall appoint a clerk and a marshal who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court and perform such duties as the court directs. Their compensation shall be fixed by general law. The marshal shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the territorial jurisdiction of the court and in any county may deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

SECTION 5. Circuit Courts.

(a) ORGANIZATION. There shall be a circuit court serving each judicial circuit.

(b) JURISDICTION. The circuit courts shall have such jurisdiction not vested in the county courts, and such powers in addition to those which may be provided by general law. They shall have the power to issue writs of mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition, habeas corpus, and all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their jurisdiction. Jurisdiction of the circuit court shall be uniform throughout the state. The transfer to the court having jurisdiction of any proceeding improvidently begun in a court of another court has been improvidently invoked and a requirement that no cause shall be dismissed because an improper remedy has been sought. These rules may be repealed by general law enacted by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the legislature.

(c) The justices of the supreme court shall be chosen by a majority of the members of the court from among the chief administrative officer of the courts. He shall have and exercise the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

(d) A chief judge for each district court of appeal shall be chosen by a majority of the judges thereof or, if there is no majority, by the chief justice. The chief judge shall be responsible for the administrative supervision of the court. He shall have the power to assign justices or judges, active or retired justices or judges of the county court to temporary duty in any court for which they are qualified and to delegate to a chief judge of a judicial circuit the power to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit.

SECTION 6. Eligibility. No person shall be eligible for office of justice or judge of any court unless he is an elector of the state and resides in the territorial jurisdiction of his court. No justice or judge shall serve after attaining the age of seventy years except upon temporary assignment. No justice or judge shall hold any office except judicial offices, nor engage in the practice of law, nor hold office in any political party.

SECTION 14. Judicial salaries. All justices and judges shall be compensated only by state salaries fixed by general law. The judiciary shall have no power to fix appropriations.

SECTION 15. Attorneys; admission and discipline. The supreme court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to regulate the admission of persons to the practice of law and the discipline of persons admitted.

SECTION 16. Clerks of the circuit courts. There shall be in each county a clerk of the circuit court who shall be selected pursuant to the provisions of Article VIII, section 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution, the duties of the clerk of the circuit court may be divided by special or general law between two offices, one serving as clerk of court and one serving as officio custodian of county funds, county commissioners, auditor, recorder and custodian of all county funds which may be by the clerk of the county court if provided by general or special law.

SECTION 17. State attorneys. In each judicial circuit a state attorney shall be elected for a term of four years who shall be the prosecuting officer of all trial courts in that circuit and shall perform other duties prescribed by general law. Provided however that until otherwise provided by general law the violations of all municipal ordinances shall be prosecuted by municipal prosecutors as may be provided by law. In an elector of the state and reside in the territorial jurisdiction of the circuit he shall be eligible to be elected a member of the bar of Florida for the preceding five years. He shall devote full time to his duties, and he shall not engage in the practice of law. The State Attorneys shall appoint such assistants as the legislature may by law authorized by law.

SECTION 18. Public defenders. In each judicial circuit a public defender shall be elected for a term of four years who shall perform duties prescribed by general law. A public defender shall be an elector of the state and reside in the territorial jurisdiction of the circuit. He shall be and have been a member of the bar of Florida for the preceding five years. He shall devote full time to his duties, and he shall not engage in the practice of law. The State Attorneys shall appoint such assistants as the legislature may by law authorized by law.

SECTION 19. Judicial officers as conservators of the peace. All judicial officers in this state shall be conservators of the peace.

SECTION 20. Schedule.

(a) This article shall replace all of Article V of the Constitution of 1885, as amended, which shall then stand repealed.

(b) Except to the extent inconsistent with the provisions of this article, all provisions of law and rules of court in force on the effective date of this article shall continue in effect until superseded in the manner authorized by the constitution.

(c) After this article becomes effective, and until changed by general law consistent with sections 1 through 19 of this article

(1) The supreme court shall have the jurisdiction now exercised by it, and the practice and proceedings pending before it on the effective date of this article.

(2) The appellate districts shall be those in existence on the date of adoption of this article. There shall be a district court of appeal in each district. The district courts of appeal shall have the jurisdiction immediately theretofore exercised by the district courts of appeal and shall determine all proceedings pending before them on the effective date of this article.

(3) Circuit courts shall have jurisdiction of appeals from county courts. Except those appeals which are to be taken directly to the supreme court, and they shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all actions at law not cognizable by the county courts, of proceedings relating to the settlement of the estate of decedents and minors, the granting of letters testamentary, guardianship, involuntary hospitalization, the determination of incompetency, and other juris as may be conferred by the courts of probate, in all cases in equity including all cases relating to juvenile, and in all cases in all misdemeanors arising out of the same circuit and not a felony, which is also charged in an information or indictment, in all cases involving legality of any tax assessment or toll, in any action of ejectment, and in all actions involving the titles boundaries or right of possession of real estate, and the circuit courts may issue injunctions. There shall be judicial circuits which shall be the judicial circuits in existence on the date of adoption of this article, and the legislature may authorize a county court judge to order emergency hospitalization pursuant to Chapter 71-131, Laws of Florida, in the absence from the county of the circuit judge and the county judge and the circuit judge may act to issue all temporary orders and temporary injunctions necessary for proper and complete exercise of such jurisdiction.

(4) County courts shall have original jurisdiction in all criminal misdemeanor cases not cognizable by the circuit courts, of all violations of municipal and county ordinances, of all other actions at law in which the matter in controversy does not exceed the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00) exclusive of interest and costs except those within the exclusive jurisdiction of the circuit courts judges of county courts shall be committing magistrates. The county courts shall have such jurisdiction now exercised by the county judge's courts as other may be vested in the circuit court by subsection (3) hereof. Such jurisdiction now exercised by the county courts, the claims court, the small claims court, traffic claims magistrates courts, may arbitrate courts, justice of the peace courts, municipal courts and courts of chartered counties, including but not limited to the counties referred to in Article VIII, section 10 (1) and 24 of the Constitution of 1885.

(5) Each judicial nominating commission shall be composed of the following:

a. Three members appointed by the Board of Governors of the Florida Bar from among the Florida Bar members who are actively engaged in the practice of law in the county, circuit or territorial jurisdiction of the affected court district or circuit; and

b. Three electors who reside in the territorial jurisdiction of the court or circuit appointed by the governor.

c. Three electors who reside in the territorial jurisdiction of the court or circuit and who are not members of the bar of Florida, selected and appointed by a majority vote of the other six members of the judicial nominating commission.

(6) No justice or judge shall be a member of a judicial nominating commission or any member of a judicial nominating commission may hold public office other than judicial office. No member shall be eligible for appointment to a state judicial office so long as he is a member of a judicial nominating commission and for a period of two years thereafter. Each judicial nominating commission shall be made with a concurrence of a majority of its members.

(7) The members of a judicial nominating commission shall serve for a term of four years except the terms of the initial members of the judicial nominating commissions shall expire as follows:

a. The terms of one member of category (a), (b) and (c) in sub section (5) hereof shall expire on July 1, 1973.

b. The terms of one member of category (a) (b) and (c) in subsection (5) hereof shall expire on July 1, 1974.

(8) All fines and forfeitures arising from offenses tried in the county courts shall be collected and accounted for by clerk of the circuit court and deposited in special trust account. All fines and forfeitures arising from violations of ordinances or mis demeanors committed within a county or municipality and offenses committed within a municipality within the territorial jurisdiction of the county court shall be paid monthly to the county or municipality respectively. All costs are assessed and collected in connection with offenses tried in county court, all court costs shall be paid into the general revenue fund of the state of Florida and such other funds as prescribed by general law.

(9) Any municipality or county may appeal to the circuit court of the circuit in which that municipality or county is situated for the county court to sit in a location suitable to the municipality or county and convenient in time and place to its citizens and police officers and upon such application said chief judge shall direct the court to sit in the location where he shall determine the request is not justified. If the chief judge does not authorize the county court to sit in the location requested, the county or municipality may apply to the supreme court for an order directing the county court to sit in the location. Any municipality or county which so applies shall be required to provide the appropriate physical facilities in which the county court may hold court.

(10) All courts except the supreme court may sit in divisions as may be established by local rule approved by the supreme court.

(11) A county court judge in any county having a population of 40,000 or more according to the last decennial census, shall not be required to be a member of the bar of Florida.

(12) Municipal prosecutors shall prosecute violations of municipal ordinances.

(13) Justice shall mean any justice elected or appointed to the supreme court and shall not include any justice temporarily from any court.

(d) When this article becomes effective

(1) All courts not herein authorized shall be abolished and all records of and property held by them shall be delivered to and transferred to the proper office of the appropriate court under this article.

(2) Judges of the following courts shall hold office until they expire in 1973 and if they are eligible under subsection (d) (8) hereof shall become circuit court judges of the circuit court for each of the counties in their respective circuits and shall serve as such judges for the rest of the remainder of the terms to which they were elected and shall be eligible for election to succeed judges thereafter. These courts are the criminal courts of record, county all criminal courts of record, the felony courts of record of Alachua county, the criminal courts of record of Escambia county, the criminal courts of record of Hillsborough, Lee, Manatee and Pinellas county, the criminal court of record of Pinellas county, and courts of record of Duval county, and juvenile courts in counties having juvenile courts created by law according to the 1970 federal census. On the effective date of this article, there shall be one additional number of positions of circuit judge in each circuit for each number of existing circuit judges in the circuit, which additional number of positions of circuit judge shall have the same term and manner as elections by the electors at the general election in 1972 and the terms of such additional offices shall be for a term of four years unless sooner terminated pursuant to section nine of this article. The number of circuit judges presently existing and authorized by this subsection shall not be changed.

(3) In all counties having a population of less than 40,000 according to the 1970 federal census and having more than one county judge on the effective date of adoption of this article, there shall be the same number of judges of the county court as there are county judges existing on that date unless changed pursuant to sections 4 of this article.

(4) Municipal courts shall continue until amended or terminated in a manner prescribed by law and all municipal laws, ordinances or until January 3, 1973, whichever is earlier. On that date all municipal courts not heretofore abolished shall cease to exist and municipal courts shall remain in office and municipal judges shall continue in the manner pre scribed by law, unless sooner terminated pursuant to the provisions of this subsection. Municipal courts may be terminated or abolished in accordance with the provisions of this subsection. The judges thereof shall be members of the bar of Florida shall be eligible to succession as judges of county courts or circuit courts as the case may be.

(5) Judges holding elective office in all other courts abolished by this article, whose terms do not expire with the normal terms established pursuant to Article V, section 10 of the 1968 Constitution of 1885 shall serve as judges of the county court for the remainder of the terms for which they were elected. Unless created pursuant to Article V, section 4 Article V such judicial office shall not continue as such beyond the county judges. The legislature in the 1972 session of the legislature shall enact general law create additional offices of judge for the terms of which shall begin on the effective date of this article. Elections to such offices shall be held at the same time and manner as elections to other state judicial offices.

(7) County judges of existing county courts shall be members of the peace and magistrates of such courts. Members of the bar of Florida shall be eligible to seek election as county court judges of such courts.

(8) No judge of a court abolished by this article shall become or be eligible to become a judge of the circuit court unless he has been a member of the bar of Florida for the preceding five years.

(9) The office of judges of all other courts abolished by this article shall be abolished as of the effective date of this article.

(10) The county attorney, county solicitor and prosecuting attorney shall continue to perform all county solicitors and prosecuting attorneys holding such offices upon the effective date of this article shall become and serve as county attorneys for the county courts in which their counties are situated for the remainder of their terms, with compensation not less than that received by them immediately before the effective date of this article.

(e) Limited operation of some provisions.

(1) All justices of the supreme court holding office on the effective date of appeal and circuit judges in office on the effective date of this article shall retain their offices for the remainder of their respective terms. All members of the judicial qualifications commission in office on the effective date of this article shall retain their offices for the remainder of their terms.

(2) No justice or judge holding office immediately after this article becomes effective who held office on July 1, 1957, shall be subject to retirement from judicial office because of age pursuant to section 8 of this article.

(f) Until otherwise provided by law, the nonjudicial duties required of county judges shall be performed by the judges of the county court.

(g) All provisions of Article V of the Constitution of 1885, as amended, not embraced herein which are not inconsistent with this revision shall become statutes subject to modification or repeal as by law provided.

(h) The requirements of section 14 relative to all county court judges, of a county judge of a municipal court who continues to hold office pursuant to subsection (d) (4) hereof being compensated by state salaries shall not apply to any person prior to 1977 unless otherwise provided by general law.

(i) Deletion of obsolete schedule items. The legislature shall have power, by concurrent resolution, to delete from this schedule all provisions which by section 20 including this subsection have become inoperative or which subsection to be deleted is or could become applicable have occurred. Any legislative determination of fact made as a basis for such deletion as to default will be entered against you for the relief demanded in the Complaint or Petition.

Inlet meeting in Wacha call

STUART—St Lucie Inlet problems will be discussed at a special meeting Thursday night, January 6, at the courthouse in Stuart.

The meeting, to begin at 7:30 p.m., was called by County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha.

Those who will gain economic benefits from the improvement of the inlet, and from the attendant erosion control, are asked to attend. The benefits are to be catalogued at the meeting.

Wacha plans to use the information to update the cost-benefit ratio to that the cost of the project could be justified to a point that would 1.5 times the cost. At present, cost-benefit ratios show a 1:1 figure, set in 1969.

Persons directly involved in the benefits of an improved inlet, including commercial and sports fishermen, are asked to bring figures showing any losses incurred in the unsafe inlet as all would be a part of the cost-benefit ratio.

The county's present estimated cost of the project would be near $800,000 of the total four million dollars set improving the inlet and solving portions of the erosion along the ocean shoreline.

Fire guts room in artist's home

JENSEN BEACH Fire destroyed the rear bedroom and caused smoke damage to the home of Mr and Mrs Samuel Margolies in a late morning fire Friday. The fire began in the rear bedroom of the home located at 208 Jeannette Ave.

Mrs. Margolies was sitting in the back yard of the home about 11 a.m. when she noticed black dust coming out of the doors to the rear room, she told The Mirror. She summoned her husband, who was in the house.

The damage was confined to the room where Margolies had stored an undetermined number of paintings, etchings and clothes which were destroyed in the fire. Hours later, he realized he had saved some of his paintings and etchings that had been hanging on the walls of the living and dining rooms. One such painting was a self-portrait of Margolies which he did forty years ago. "I'm glad this didn't get ruined because I could never go back forty years and re-do it," he said.

Margolies is a local artist who has over 72 etchings on display at Elliott Museum and has donated some of his works to the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary to sell at the Opportunity Shop.

He has lived in the area for the past nine years and just remarried two months ago. His new wife lost numerous articles of clothing and furniture stored in the back room that she had sent down from massachusetts.

Neither of us smoke, he said, "so I knew the fire hadn't begun because of a cigarette. As a matter of fact, we don't even keep matches in the house."

An estimated $7,500 damage was reported by Fire Chief Randolph Spencer of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department. Spencer said a lighted lamp in the rear room leaning against a pile of clothes was the cause of the fire.

Cook of the Week

BY RUTH BOWMAN

Sally's Mango Cobbler

JENSEN BEACH Mrs. L. Hambleton Wade of 206 River Court tried to tell us she was not a creative cook. Mrs. Wade had called to offer a recipe for Mango Chutney requested by a Mirror reader. We have a Mango Chutney recipe we're going to use. I told her ... but how about sharing one of your personal recipes with us.

The Wades were very fond of peaches back in their home town of Annapolis, Md. and when they moved here four years ago Mrs. Wade started experimenting with mangoes instead of peaches in dessert. She came up with a delicious Mango Cobbler which is worth saving and using during mango season.

Mrs. Wade puts sewing at the top of her hobby list with knitting right behind. I love to do handiwork, anything with my hands. She made thirty dolls for the recent bazaar at Jensen Beach Community Church, where she is a member.

The Wades have a daughter and three grandchildren in Malvern, Pa., and a son and two grandchildren in the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Here is Sally Wade's Mango Cobbler which can also be made with peaches or possibly apples.

SALLY'S MANGO COBBLER

1 tablespoon butter
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Cook until thick, stirring constantly.
Pour into 1½ quart pan. Cover with crust.

Topping:
1 cup sifted flour
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 tbsp. soft butter

Mix all ingredients well and sprinkle with NUTMEG. TOPPING: Made with tablespoons of sugar and teaspoon nutmeg. Bake in 350 degrees oven for 30 minutes or 45 minutes if using frozen mangoes.

Mrs. Wade adds the milk and butter to the ingredients in all recipes and uses a hand mixer. She says frozen mangoes are as good as fresh ones.

If you are looking for a particular recipe or having a special personal recipe you would like to see, please call me at The Mirror office 287-1551 or at my home 286-4465.

JENSEN BEACH was a great place... is a great place... WILL BE A GREATER PLACE

There are some folks who are always talking about the "good old days." Why not? They were good. There are some others who insist that today is the only time that counts. It's important. Why not? Today is important. And There are a whole lot of people who are only interested in tomorrow. The future. Again, why not? Tomorrow is the next step to being bigger, better and greater. Three incompatible points of view? Not a bit of it. In a strange sort of way it's given vitality to our town.

Look at it this way. When you want to stimulate really constructive thinking, you've got to have a couple of different opinions. And after things get talked out you usually come up with the best plan. That's what happened here in our own town. Time after time. That's why the best of the past and the present have made this community such a wonderful place to live. We've preserved parts of our cherished heritage. We've moved ahead into excitingly new concepts of business and industry. Our town? It's the greatest!

Congratulations to our neighbors at First Federal Savings & Loan Association on their beautiful addition to our town.

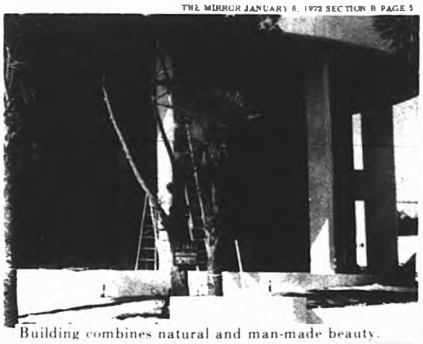
CofC hails Federal Building

JENSEN BEACH — Con[illegible] of the new First Federal Savings and Loan Building and its opening this week were hailed by David Deer, president of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce as "good for the area" on Tuesday.

Deer, real enthused about the opening, Deer told The Mirror ... I think it will do a lot to bring business into the community.



Building combines natural and man-made beauty.

...d 1 hours for bridges

...from Cardoz Avenue to Skyline Drive on Commercial Street is promised Jon Hooks who has been working on the project for the Chamber of Commerce ...reported Monday night to the Chamber directors.

He added that Wacha plans to get with county road and administrative personnel to have a meeting so that the drainage can be isolated and the sidewalk built ...

...Chairman Frank A. Wacha said at Tuesday's meeting Wacha was referring to the problem of obtaining state ...cooperation in repairing erosion damage on the Jensen Beach Causeway.

"The Cabinet is meeting today on this problem and we hope to have a confirmation later today on starting work on the cause way," Wacha announced.

"There is one thing that disturbs me though he continued. We talk about things that cannot be repaired irreparable damage but we all know that prior to the 1965 storm a wooden bridge one and one-eighth miles long spanned the Indian River with 66 feet at Pirate Bob's side and 66 feet at mangroves at the east side. Then the IIF ...pumped in a fill on the north side creating an artificial piece of land pumping out of the river.

"Now we have an ecology report from the state saying that along both sides of this causeway there is important growth grasses and habitat for marine life. What they are saying is that this piece of artificial land which has not been there 20 years has had attached to it such important growth that the application we have made for spreading and repair would be detrimental to the growth ...grasses. If that is so maybe these fill permits are not as permanently damaging as we have been led to believe.

"If we have added something to the ecology and provided additional grass bottoms for marine life, maybe we should leave other Causeways along there and make the entire area much more productive. Wacha concluded dryly.

A public hearing will be held January 25 on this subject.

...RESENTATION. A check for $3,000 to fund the water resources study of the Jensen-Savannas ...a is presented to Frank Wacha chairman of the Martin County Commission at Tuesday's ...mission meeting by Fred Vidrex director of development General Development ...poration. GDC funded the program to learn the effects of development on the savannas. The ...udy will be made with the cooperation of the St. Lucie County Commission.

...JENSEN BEACH - A new ...ncept of basketball for ...h youth designed to bring ...re parents into the ...ports will be used to kick ...f the basketball season in ...nsen Beach, according to ...e Bocchino, president of ...Jensen Beach Cubs.

...Bocchino harkens back to ...old "sand lot days" as he ...s about starting two ...ferent leagues in "disor...ized basketball." In ...th the boys set up their ...n teams pick a coach ...m their parents and ...rticipate in the program. ...he Cubs hope to get the season under way on January 22 and the local boys will have to have their teams organized by that time. In groups of seven or eight they must sign their players, pick a coach one of the parents of the boys on the team, and make out the regular forms for the team entrance in the league.

Registration fees of five dollars will cover the cost of insurance for the boys. The registration cards will be available on Saturday morning at the field house at Langford Park.

Once the team is organized it will be issued uniforms, assigned a sponsor and begin a schedule of practices. That schedule is the responsibility of the coach who must be at all games with the team.

"We want to get more people active in the sports program at Langford Park," Bocchino said. "Our recreation program is strictly volunteer and we must have the help of the parents if we hope to continue to have organized sports. I like the sand lot concept and feel that the boys will like it too."

Boys eligible to play must live in the Jensen Beach area which includes Jensen Bch. Sewall's Point North River Shores and Hutchinson Island. Boys from outside the area can participate but will be assigned to teams by Bocchino and must have a parent who will agree to assist in the program.

Two leagues will be formed a little 10 to 12 years and a junior 13 to 15 years old. Referees and equipment to play the games will be furnished by the Cubs.

For more information youngsters can contact Bocchino at the park in the evenings or at his home by telephone 287-2508.

30TH ANNIVERSARY. The Rev. Frank Alvarez, Rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, center, celebrated his 30th anniversary in a Thanksgiving Mass last Tuesday. At left is Bishop Wallace E. Conkling with Rev. Samuel Browne, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, West Palm Beach, at right. A reception honoring Rev. Alvarez was held in the church hall after the Mass.

Holiday out-lines

BY BETTY TAYLOR
283-0624

Better start taking double doses of your vitamins, folks. Our holiday dropouts are dribbling back, bringing flu germs with them. Rita and Frank Streeby were confined to the trailer three days with it, and Helen Sidwell was also ill.

Is there anyone who missed seeing Bob Long cook spareribs on his new grill in the rain Saturday? The canopy over it that he and Art rigged from canvas and two open umbrellas was a gas, PS. The ribs were delicious.

Alice Elder is nursing a broken shoulder and various bruises resulting from a fall from her bicycle.

Mac and Austin Williams are back for the season. Austin retired last year, but this will be their first full winter here.

Dorothy and Earling Johnson of Wasilla, Minn., flew out a few days. Earling is a pilot for Northwestern Air Lines. They will be back in March for a longer stay.

Sorry to hear that Jean and Ralph Taylor have been ill a while at home. They both had flu, and then Jean progressed to pneumonia. Ralph vowed when he got back last week that he'll never again go home for the holidays.

Dean Whitfield's parents are here for a vacation. Mrs. Whitfield makes quilts for her children and works on the squares while traveling in the car. They are just beautiful.

Nancy and Hugh Hutchins were visited their family in Washington, D.C. over the holidays.

Linda and Tom Hall, Betty Taylor, Elsie and Marvin Smith attended the trailer show in West Palm Beach Thursday evening.

Lou and Max Bauer will babysit with two of their grandsons, one nine months, the other 22 months old. They will stay with grandma while mama goes skating. In addition, the Bauers have friends visiting them.

Craft classes this week featured leather working, instruction by Fred Kiefabel.

The 328 was bought by John Grandfield, a first-time renter. Welcome to the park.

Umbrellas were up then down all evening long at the campfire back of the Allison Long and Nagy trailers. Might have looked silly to sit around the fire in the rain, but no one wanted to miss the roasting and hot dogs that were being cooked. By the way, who was that gentle soul who ate five hot dogs and three hot dogs? Never mind. Martin, there were others who weren't far behind.

Les and Doris Ward had a New Hampshire snowstorm in their motor home, and are heartily glad to be down here.

Cleaning up after the New Year's Eve party could have been quite a chore, but you know the old saw about many hands and light work. The group, which included Mary Ella and Atwood Brockel, Hank the Thomases and the whole committee for the party, had a ball. I'm told it was almost more fun than the party.

Marie and Aubrey Johnson brought their trailer down from Tenn. Their stay was short this time, but they will return in February. Good to see them again, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jones of Titusville visited them.

Grace and George Taylor rolled in early this week. They have a new Norris trailer that they bought right in the office as bus buying goodies to dress it up while George is just interested in getting everything working.

Erma and Goldie St. Louis are back from a working trip to Miami.

Spanish class met for the first time January 4. Attending were Frank Barnette and daughter Jane, B. Taylor, Dick Duffton, Ernest and Isabelle Rayner, Ellena Peters, Edna and Joe Samson, Sue and Curt Harrison, plus others as yet unknown to me. Time dedicated lady drives in clear from Vero Beach. The classes, sponsored by the Board of Education, are open to all.

Fred Kiefabel and three others from the park are participating in the shuffle board tournament at Ocean Breeze. Good luck to them.

WHAT A DAY! Mr. and Mrs. Myron S. Cramer and Mr. and Mrs. Don Seberl of Overland Park, Kan. had quite a day recently while fishing aboard the Carole Ann III with Capt. Harold Selover out of Frances Langford's Outrigger Marina. The party had a good catch of dolphin, bonito, wahoo and shark, including a 40-pound dolphin caught by Cramer, which was a winner in the Stuart Sailfish Club's Winter Tournament. The visitors, with their catch, are shown above, smiling happily for Mirror photographer.

Candidates may file for Sewall's Point election

SEWALL'S POINT—Candidates wishing to run in the Sewall's Point City Council election have until February 7 to file for office with the town clerk. There are three posts open in the board for this election.

Residents of Sewall's Point have until Feb. 8 to register to vote and may register at the town hall. Letters are being sent out this week by the town clerk informing residents of the closing date.

The election will be held March 7. If a primary is needed, it will be held on Feb. 22.

The terms of Robert W. Wilson, Jr., Aubrey K. Nicholson, and Frank T. Foster will expire this year. Robert Smith and Harry Sisson will remain on the board until 1974.

SILLS-HUDSON HEAD HEART FUND DRIVE

STUART—Mrs. Nesbit Sills and Dennis Hudson, Jr. will head the Martin County Heart Fund Drive for the second year. The drive will be conducted throughout the month of February.

Hudson, president of First National Bank and Trust, has assumed responsibility for the commerce and industry drive. Mrs. Sills will organize the door-to-door neighborhood drive Feb. 21 through 27 and hopes to enlist the services of 300 volunteers.

Martin County residents gave $7,421 to the Heart Fund last year.

VWW1 Aux. obligates two new members

JENSEN BEACH—Two new members were obligated at the recent meeting of the Veterans WW 1 Auxiliary, Barracks 854. They were Margaret Duane and Emma McCue. Mrs. Rosa Dahlberg was introduced as being transferred from the Riviera Beach Auxiliary.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Florence Newhart, and Julia Clark entertained there will be sewing on Wednesday, January 12 at 10 a.m. at the Indian Beach Community Center.

The Auxiliary will hold a bake sale on Friday, January 14 in front of the Jensen Beach Bank at 9 a.m. Marcella Deras is chairman.

There will be a card party on Jan. 27 with Julia Clark and Ruth Hall as chairman. Reservations may be made by calling either one of them.

Welcome party for neighbors

JENSEN BEACH—Mrs. Rod Aderhold of Melba Drive recently entertained two new neighbors with a coffee at her home. Mrs. Harold Garland and Mrs. Charles Justice are new residents of Melba Drive and were given the opportunity of meeting their neighbors at the party.

Guests included Mesdames George Schmidt, Edward Kossella, Rupert Brown, Edward Hunt, Wally Hewitt, Howard Clark, Joseph Dubois, Donald Howard, George Conover, Arthur Watson and Miss Jean Moon.

Lake Manor Park News

By Corinne Davenport

For the benefit of the newcomers we are repeating what was only partially reported in last weeks paper Lake Manor Park Activities:

Monday - Round Robin Shuffle - 1 p.m. Card Playing - 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday, Hobby Classes 1 p.m.

Thursday - Bridge Class 2 - 4 p.m.

Friday - Bingo 7:30 p.m.

A morning coffee is held at 10 o'clock on the first Tuesday of each month.

Movies are shown once monthly dates to be announced.

The Bookmobile is at the clubhouse on alternate Thursdays at 1:40 p.m. The next date being January 20th.

The clubhouse is open at all times and any one is welcome to use it whenever he wishes.

Ethel and Stan Bullack are spending a week in Tampa and St. Petersburg visiting friends and relatives.

The Zwahlens have sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burnmeister of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Marie and Richard Bradley of St. Louis, Missouri have rented the Hall mobile on North Lake Drive for three months.

Mr. Bradley is a retired electrical engineer. We extend to them a warm welcome and hope they will enjoy their stay with us.

Bill Eastman was a lucky fisherman last week a 20 pound snook. Congratulation again Bill!

Also omitted from last weeks column were Dot and Beamers and Sylvia Simans names. Dot served ably on the committee for December Pot Luck dinner and Sylvia helped to make the New Year's eve party a big success.

We are sorry to hear that Frank Robertson is again on the sick list. Down with the flu bug last week were Lee Olson and Mary Ratkecz certainly hope they have recovered by the time the paper goes to press.

The monthly morning coffee last Tuesday was enjoyed by all and we thank Gladys Oakes and Madeleine Balfanz for the delicious refreshments.

Happy Birthday was sung to Dot Beamer. May she have many more!

The Wednesday afternoon hobby class was another pleasant occasion and we are grateful to Sylvia Siman for the good cake and coffee. Gladys Oakes chairman brought several new ideas and Peggy Sommer presented two guests. Mrs Ralph Childes of Venice Florida and Mrs. Richard Colley of Boynton Beach. Mrs Colley modeled a beautiful and unique long skirt which sent several of us to the fabric shops the next day.

Those who do not care to participate in hobby's are most welcome to join the knitting group and enjoy a cup of coffee. It is a good way to get acquainted.

It is good to see the lights in Theresa Shoup's home again and we welcome her.

Her house guests for the past two weeks have been her son and daughter-in-law Charles and Nancy Shoup and their son Ricky, all from Springfield, Ohio.

The Shoup family have always been ardent fishermen and last week proved to be their lucky one. Nancy caught a 6 foot 9 inch sailfish weighing 32 ½ pounds and Charles prize was a 7 foot 6 inch sailfish weighing 50 ½ pounds.

Congratulations to both!

Fred Balfanz and Glenn Oakes were in charge of Bingo last Friday with a good number attending as usual.

There was an unusually good turn out for the movies on Wednesday night. We are indeed grateful to Jim Whipple commentator and Indian River Community College for providing this monthly entertainment.

The monthly meeting of Lake Manor shufflers was held January 3rd. Two new members were welcomed Mary and Andrew Ratkecz bringing the total count to thirty eight players.

Three game winners were Fred Balfanz, Andrew Bullock and Ray Fish.

Two game winners were Charles Brinsley, Bill Eastman, Jen Ballenbacher, Ann Crawford, Bernie Dubuque and Dot Beamer.

Agnes Messe and Dot Beamer played in the East Coas Shuffle Board Tournament at Ocean Breeze on January 6th and 7th. They did themselves proud by going to the third round.

Frank Messe and Harry Beamer played in the consolation match winning two out of three games. Frank is our club chairman and to him goes much credit for the very enthusiastic group of Monday afternoon players.

Mrs. Ralph Larson of North Lake Drive died suddenly on December 16th in a Detroit hospital. Ina was ill only a few days and her death came as a great shock to us who knew her. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Gerald of Farmington, Michigan and Roger of Southfield, Michigan and a daughter Mrs. Beverly Smith of Trumbull, Connecticut.

The Larson's northern address is Higgins Lake, Michigan.

Ralph is now in their Lake Manor home and all in the Ralph is now in their Lake Manor home and all in the park extend to him their deepest sympathy.

Varied courses offered at IRCC

FORT PIERCE–Courses covering radios, boats, vehicles, real estate and personal improvement are offered at Indian River Community College by the Community Services program.

The Fort Pierce Power Squadron, a branch of the U.S. Power Squadrons, is offering a free boating course at the college, starting Monday, Jan. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in Room F-106. It is composed of ten lessons.

A course in amateur radio is available Wednesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. No previous experience in electronics is required. Dr. James H. Nestor has announced and the course is open to residents sixteen or over.

A personal improvement course for career woman is offered Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m. in the home economics facility. Instructor is Miss Christine McNeil, fashion coordinator at Sears in Ft. Pierce. Topics will include figure control, grooming, wardrobe planning and poise in this eight weeks course.

Limited openings are still available in real estate courses on campus or at Stuart Middle School.

G.E.D. tests are administered at IRCC four times each year. Special review classes began Monday night. Classes are available any night of the week other than Friday, and adults may enter these classes at any time during the school year.

For additional information on any of the above courses, contact the college 464-2881, 287-4760 or register at the college.

Visitor dies at local beach

JENSEN BEACH–A heart attack was suffered by Mrs. Lavon Hafer at the Jensen public beach last Wednesday. Mrs. Hafer was attended by lifeguards and was transferred to Martin Memorial Hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

Mrs. Hafer, of Pottsville, Pa., was at the beach with her husband. She had been bathing in the unusually warm ocean and suffered the attack just after leaving the water. Life guard Garrett Meyer administered aid, a respirator and was joined by Jack Cunningham, chief lifeguard for Thomas Dickerson of St. Lucie County Parks. Fredric and Marian Hunsinger, both R.N.'s, Ft. Pierce, also assisted Mrs. Hafer died after more than two hours of oxygen had been administered.

Around the world in 90 days

By Dorothy Geeben

We didn't quite equal Jules Verne's story in the number of days, but I am sure we had a more enjoyable time in doing it.

Our party composed of Emma Saum, Carole Chapman, George Reeve and myself left Port Everglades on the Chinese Ship, "Oriental Carnaval" on June 24th. We three ladies shared one cabin and George had a cabin to himself.

We soon got acquainted with several of our fellow passengers and we found the ship provided plenty of entertainment in addition to our individual hobbies.

Saturday, July 3, was a memorable day, for that day we crossed the equator and there was a rig party for all the "Polly Wogs" on board. What stunts the passengers can thing of. We are all now "Shell Backs". That evening we had a big Chinese Dinner with 12 courses served one dish at a time and taking one and one half hours to eat.

Rio Janiero was our first stop. We took a side trip to see the statue of Christ the Redeemer climbing 275 steps to the 120 foot high statue from where we had a good view of the harbor and country side.

Our ship stopped at Santos and Buenos Aires. We enjoyed the tour of the latter city and admired the beautiful flowers. The main avenue is claimed to be the widest and longest in the world. The city has an opera house seating 3700 a market and an underground parking for 1500 cars. The largest Jade stone in the world is here.

Leaving port July 20th we crossed the South Atlantic and experienced some rough weather resulting in an attack of seasickness for a role quite severe but for me only one day. The 11 days on the ocean passed quickly for plenty of entertainment was provided. We had lots of fun at the Costume Party where all three won prizes.

We gals attended a Chinese cooking class. Then there was a talent program in which Carole was one of the singers also a handicraft exhibition were some beautiful work was displayed.

Arriving at Cape Town Aug. 2nd Carole and George left us to visit with her son and his family in Johannesburg while Emma and I took a bus to shop in Durban. Carole spent so much time in Johannesburg that her son and family drove her to Durban to catch the ship.

The children had the thrill of their lives being allowed to sleep on board the ship over night, where they were made quite a fuss over by the Captain and crew members not to mention the pass engers.

We witnessed the eclipse of the moon while there on Aug 6th and we enjoyed the Zulu dancing.

Our ship followed the coast northward, then crossed the Indian Ocean arriving at Singapore Aug 25. On Aug 13 Emma had a birthday which was celebrated with champagne and cake and the orchestra playing Happy Birthday during dinner.

Singapore is a very interesting city and we enjoyed several tours and visiting Hindoo Temples, Tegar Bomb Gardens and into Malaya. We lunched at the Jahre Hotel and visited the Museleum temple where we had to remove our shoes before entering. It was all very beautiful.

We stopped at Taiwan for four days and took the tour of Keeling where Jade is for sale in many stores. This was Sept. 12 and George's birthday, which also was celebrated in the ships traditional style.

We landed in Kobe Japan Sept. 14 and visited the Takarazuka Review. When we arrived at Yokohama it was foggy and raining. Here a submarine passed quite close to our ship. We took the Tokyo tour and saw Ginza Street the most fashionable shopping district and the Kabuki Za where the best classical dramas are performed. By the way Tokyo has the longest monorail in the world. We left Yokohama on Sept. 24 and had a grand send off by the Japanese people which made us feel our visit was really appreciated.

We crossed the International Date Line and experienced two Wednesdays in the week our next stop was when we docked at Vancouver, B.C. on Oct. 5th and visited the two lovely parks and crossed to Vancouver Island and enjoyed many beautiful spots particularly Buchards Gardens. While docked at Takoma Wash we loaded 46,000 boxes of pears for Rio de Janiero. The highlight of our stop over here was the visit to Mount Rainer where we had fun playing in the snow. While in Seattle we crossed the worlds largest floating bridge. We followed the coast line down to San Francisco where we had a tour of the city also that of Los Angeles.

Acapulco, Mexico was very interesting and we admired the lovely houses and the coastal scenery and seeing the cliff diver. The diver dives from a 135 foot cliff at night time with only burning newspapers for illumination.

It took 8 hours to go through all the locks of the Panama Canal and then we docked at Christobal from here we toured Panama City and Balboa and left the next day for our home port of Port Everglades where we were met by friends who returned us to Jensen Beach.

Our cruise totaled 33,836 nautical miles. We were 88 days at sea and 92 days in ports. We had 788 passengers aboard.

KIDS' PARTY Twenty-eight children attended the annual Kids' Party at Ocean Breeze Park clubhouse December 26th. The luncheon tables were decorated for the occasion and the goodies were prepared by Orlee Ecklund assisted by Mrs. Gwen Fuseling. Mrs. Ida Winzer was in charge of the tables and Mrs. Gene Hoke of the games. Santa Claus arrived after lunch in his lovely red suit and gave each child a gift from the tree on the stage. Children present were Sigi Woodburn, Jay Woodburn, Eddie Ford, April Lynn Morrison, Tanya Jo Morrison, Gary Hendrix, Marcie Hendrix, Kelly Cavanaugh, Poncho Woodruff, Brian Dixon, Christie Dixon, Michael Ridgeway, Sue Osler, Ruth Osler, Branda Lee Hare, Tomi Kae Hare, Jerry Hare, Curtis Christie, Tim Towne, Dennis Towne, Tommie Meyer, Tom Hawkins, Kara Hawkins, Alan Hruschenkp, Scott Fisher, Billie Morin, Paul Morin, and Robin Barstow.

NAUTILUS FOUND A 5 inch paper nautilus was found recently on Hutchinson Island south of the House of Refuge by Mrs. Kenneth Bartlett of Ocean Breeze Park. When she found it there were still a few small eggs clinging to the lower cuplike part of the interior whorl. The paper nautilus has a fragile thin and flat shell sprinkled at one end and semi-translucent. It is decorated with dark knobs and swirls. The shell is tied at the aperture and is home for the female as a cradle in which to lay her eggs. Average size is four inches.

Pokeno girls party

OCEAN BREEZE The Pokeno Club met at the home of Adele Jaycox Dec. 21. Adele was hostess for the Christmas party which one of the members referred to as the most beautiful house party I ever attended.

As each lady entered bearing an exchange gift the gifts were numbered and put on the gift table. The living room was beautifully decorated as were the tables all carrying out the Christmas decor theme. First egg nog was served to the guests then they were seated at tables and served such delicacies as Aldine's famous Grasshopper Pie, Cheese Cake and an assortment of lovely home baked cookies with coffee to complete this lovely dessert luncheon. The meal eaten the guests were asked to have their coffee cups over this revealed numbers that had been stamped on the cups and gifts were then distributed by matching the numbers on the packages. The afternoon was spent playing Pokeno but before leaving each guest was given avocados from their hostess. All members of the club wish to express their thanks to Adele for a beautiful party and a happy afternoon.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my gratitude to Dr. Marsellar, Rev. Guimaldis, nurses, visitors and friends who sent cards and flowers that made my stay in Martin Memorial Hospital more pleasant.

Mrs. Bea Barrill
Ocean Breeze Park

Walter Scott and Carl Birchfiel were guests of their wives on the occasion of their mutual birthdays on Dec. 14. The girls took them to Junior's at the Mall in West Palm. Belated happy birthday greetings from your O.B. friends. Susy.

Gertrude and Al Wisbey left Dec. 23 by plane to spend the Christmas holidays with their family in Jovana, N.J. Mary and Luther Weeks drove them to the airport and they expect to be back early in January.

Nellie and Otto Schlaubach returned from Texas via car. Her ill spell at time to leave dinner with their friends the Duffel Bowers.

December 18 marked the 36th wedding anniversary of Ethel and Carl Birchfiel. They celebrated with dinner at the Pierce where their guests were their friends Bert Gordon and Nellie Hawkins. Myrtle and Gordon are Birchfiels oldest and closest friends since both couples started camping grounds until mid-September. Lydia is the over all chairman of eight schools for the Christmas Entertainment at Jones Park. In addition to having a hobby class for the ladies she took charge of their Bazaars but before leaving for the south said another happy winter in the park.

Seeing some activity around a vacant spotted trailer in South Sixth we found Mr. and Mrs. David Moore putting up some Christmas decorations. They are from Mattapoisett, Mass., about 50 miles from Cape Cod. They spent three weeks here last winter and met so many nice people they are back again.

Personals

Lydia Hendrix and her husband Harry arrived back Dec. 15. Referring to their summer Lydia said, Harry spent much of the time helping a brother building on his home. Her biggest thrill was attending 2 family reunions of her family, the Dickmans. About 100 members of the family who like Lydia and Harry travelled with a camper stayed three days on the farm of a neighbor where the reunion was held in Michigan.

Later the Hendrixes went camping with their daughter and her husband to Dowa Jack Mich. From there they went to Marseille to attend their camping grounds until mid-September. Lydia is the over all chairman of eight schools for the Christmas Entertainment at Jones Park. In addition to having a hobby class for the ladies she took charge of their Bazaars but before leaving for the south said another happy winter in the park.

Mobile home owners meet

OCEAN BREEZE The residents of the Mobile Home Trailers Park area held the December 21 meeting of the organization held at Ridgecrest M.H. Park on Ft. Pierce. Speaker of the afternoon spoke on Nat'l Fail Car Insurance. In a standing room only clubhouse of interested people. In summing up his talk he said that the State of Mass. the first to use this type of insurance has found it quite satisfactory and he believes all as well as Fla. were going to find it will work well. Refreshments were served by the host club.

Over 5,000 attend opening of First Federal in Jensen

ENSEN BEACH – Com- sts that Commercial et looked like Fifth nue in New York were ed with the ooohs and ahhs of the ING VISITORS AT opening of the new nsen Beach offices of First eral Savings and Loan ociation of Martin Coun

ver 5,000 attended in the day open house held urday, a normally closed for the Federal

The official opening was conducted by the officers and directors of the association Master of Ceremonies Bill Owens, a board director, introduced James A. Garvey, president, who made the introductions of the various directors in attendance.

Garvey also introduced Joseph T. Mauldin, who will be in charge of the offices. Mauldin, who has run the office here for the past few years, has been active in the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club.

Then Garvey introduced Harry Hoke, chairman of the board of First Federal of Martin County, who cut the ribbon. Hundreds of persons then flocked into the building.

The opening was said to be "fantastic" and "the largest turnout of people I have seen," by Garvey.

About 4,800 registered for the color television set, a door prize that was eventually won by Mr. and Mrs. Rod Aderholt of Jensen Beach.

Door gifts went fast, with pens, candles and small putting gifts running out early in the day, to be replaced quickly by other door gifts. There was no estimate of the number of new accounts opened, but tellers and clerks were kept busy throughout the day.

The premium of a free safe deposit box for the deposit of a sum of money was of prime incentive to the new customers.

Middle Band to give mini-concert

STUART–The Stuart Middle School Band, under the direction of John Norton, will present a mini-concert Monday, January 17 at 8 p.m.

The program will also feature a colored slide presentation about the school made by a group of students working with their teacher Don Hinkel.

Results of the recent I.D. tag sale will be announced, and there will be room count and refreshments.

All parents are interested adults are invited. The P.T.A. will meet in the open concept building at 8 p.m. on the same evening.

GED tests to be given

STUART–A series of the General Educational Development tests will be given January 17 through January 21 at the Indiantown Middle School. The same tests will be given at Martin County High School in Stuart January 24 through 28.

There are five parts to the tests and one section will be given each night until completion. The dates for the tests will run from Monday night through Friday night beginning between 6:30 and 7 p.m. each night. They are given at night for the benefit of those adults who work in the day.

Each test will take approximately two hours to complete and one test will be given each night until all are completed.

The five sections consist of mathematics, science, social studies, English and literature. The materials covered in these tests will be comparable to the materials studied in the regular high school program.

Any legal resident of Florida who is 18½ years of age or older, own a home or business, or has filed a manifestation of domicile with the Clerk of Circuit Court of his Florida county of residence, and has at least one credit in American History of Government or Civics is eligible to take the tests. Martin County is one of 42 official testing centers in the state.

A fee is charged for the tests. Those planning to take the tests should call E.B. Horton, testing agent at the Adult Education office, 287-6400, as soon as possible and make arrangements for the test before testing time. If prior arrangements are not possible, come to the testing center and make application the first night before tests begin.

Civilization film series to begin at St. Joseph's

JENSEN BEACH–The Civilization film series, written and narrated for the British Broadcasting Corporation by Lord Kenneth Clark will be offered to area residents at St. Joseph College beginning January 17.

Since, the Civilization series had its U.S. premiere at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. in November of 1969, over 275,00 people have viewed the film in over a hundred performances.

There are thirteen films in the series, which will be shown on a weekly basis at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium, beginning with "The Frozen World."

Anglers Cove plans a pier

JENSEN BEACH–Plans for a "T-head jer" with thirteen finger piers were revealed in an application to the U.S. Corps of Engineers by Stuart Land Development Inc., developers of Anglers Cove on Hutchinson Island.

The pier would be placed on the north side of the channel into Anglers Cove in a bent form to parallel the existing channel. It would jut approximately 175 feet out from the shore.

Anglers Cove is located approximately a mile north of the A.1.A. bridge from Hutchinson Island to Sewall's Point. Sixteen mooring pilings would be driven to hold the construction.

Comments on the application should be submitted to the district engineer on or before February 7, 1972.

Exhaust emission clinic will be held Tuesday

FT. PIERCE–A vehicle exhaust emission control systems clinic will be held at Indian River Community College on Tuesday, January 18 from 7 to 10:30 p.m. in the automotive shops.

The program will be conducted by Bryon Blevins and Henry DeLoach of the Manpower Training Division of the State Department of Education. The clinic is designed to prepare automotive people for work with emission control equipment.

The free clinic will cover crankcase, exhaust and evaporative emission control systems, plus instrumentation, tune-up operations and diagnosis.

PAINTED. The painters got painted, and Peter Tallman and William Kahl, members of Pack 80, Jensen Beach, look as if they got more paint on them than they got on the bleachers at Langford Park that they helped paint last Saturday.

Park rummage sale collection starts

JENSEN BEACH Rummage for the February 19-20 annual Langford Park Rummage Sale is now being collected at the field house at the park.

The annual event, one of the major sources of revenue for recreational activities at the park, supports the purchase of baseball, foot ball and basketball equipment and new playground equipment purchases.

In order to have a more successful sale for this year, we need rummage and lots of it. We especially encourage any parent who has a child taking part in the park activities to donate some rummage for the sale, said Vince Beckham, president of the sponsoring Jensen Beach Cubs.

Rummage can be left at the park field house any morning. It can be picked up by park volunteers. Donors can call 287-5686 for pickup service, according to Beckham.

VOLUNTEER PAINTERS. Members of Cub Scout Pack 80 gathered to have a private take-off on their work a break from painting all the bleachers at Langford Park. With the county furnishing the paint, the boys spent

Names wanted

Charter Commission asked by county

STUART—The Martin County Commission asked for a charter study commission and state legislators will name one in 30 days. That was the reaction to the request of the commission of the six representatives and one senator who sat in judgement of county needs last week.

Senator Beth Johnson, chairman of the delegation announced that she would appreciate all local interests sending prospective names to her office at PO Box 1018, Cocoa Beach, Florida.

Along with the nominations a background resume on the members of proposed boards Sen. Johnson announced that she would then circulate the list of names to the delegation so that they would be able to discuss the qualifications of each nominee.

Deadline for nominations will be on January 28. The delegation will then name the list at a special meeting in Tallahassee. The list will range from nine to fifteen persons. The commission will then have up to eighteen months to study the governmental reorganization of the county and make charter recommendations in a referendum of the people.

The charter commission is designed to bring about home rule for the county elimination of duplication of governmental services and possible privatization for county wide water sewage police and fire protection.

May demise

College closing brings mixed emotions in town

JENSEN BEACH—St. Joseph College in Florida in Jensen Beach will close its doors May 31 at the end of the school year.

A terse news release announced the demise of the two-year college of liberal arts citing rising costs and the inability to provide a sufficient number of Sister personnel for the college's operations as the main reasons for the closing.

The news release followed by one day the cancellation of a meeting of the college board of administrative advisors. The board scheduled to meet this Wednesday today was not advised of the action to close the college and was at the time of the announcement working of a reorganization set of bylaws and a fund raising campaign for the new library at the college.

The college has been operated by the Sisters of St. Joseph of St. Augustine on a media annual basis since 1968 and prior to that was a training school for nurses in the order.

The news release credited the decision to close the college to the board of trustees Disposition of the college buildings including two large dormitories the new library a dining room and a new science-administration complex will be decided at a later date.

The property is the former Leon P. Estate on the Indian River 20 acres and the facilities of the four million dollar plants were just recently refinanced for the sum of $2.5 million.

Kindness among residents in Jensen Beach were mixed in the fate of the loss to the community. The comments ranged from shock at the loss of cultural potential in Jensen Beach and commuting to Vero Beach, to heartbreak. I haven't heard anyone complain a bout the closing of that place.

The college has had some problems on community relations and Sister Thomas Joseph college president mentioned those problems many times in public statements especially the lack of moral support from the community.

These relations had a low point last year when 28 students were arrested after an open house at the dormitory student body in an early drug bust many charged on the campus were one of the 28 now faces charges in the narcotics cases with all other charges of felonies or misdemeanors due to problems with collection of evidence in the cases.

Tippy Says

St. Joseph College closes this May. Because of financial difficulties. People don't seem to want to fund colleges any more. I wonder if the students wonder why.

Liquor dealers receive 'mickey' from legislators

STUART The Martin County Liquor Dealer's Association got a mickey in response to their bid to have a special bill introduced that would place a moratorium on future liquor licenses in the county for the next ten years.

And, the county commission also got a little boost from the legislative delegation for supporting the move.

Opposing testimony by attorney Jim Lofthan revealed that half the license in the county are owned by mother Jerry Smith of Smith Liquors of by the family of Nathaniel Reed, Jupiter Island conservationist.

"I didn't know that Reed was in the booze business," quipped Rep. Don Reed with a smile.

The legislators refused the bill voting against the consideration for this session of the legislature after Rep. Dave Clark moved to deny it.

Gospel music at Trinity Sunday

JENSEN BEACH– The Hobe Sound Bible & Academy will present a gospel music concert at Trinity United Methodist Church in Jensen Beach on Sunday, Jan. 23 at 7:30 p.m.

The choir is under the direction of Mrs. George L. Basham. The public is invited.

The sewing group of Trinity will meet to sew for underprivileged children on Monday, Jan. 24 at 10 a.m. in Fellowship Hall.

FOUR GENERATIONS. The sixth third anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Toney of Green Castle, Ind. was celebrated last week with four generations of the family present. With Mr. and Mrs. Toney seated were their daughter, top left, Mrs. William Stephenson, Jensen Beach, her son, William Stephenson, and grandson, Brad 9, of Ft. Lauderdale. The celebration was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Stephenson, 513 Skyline Drive.

Godfrey is elected

JENSEN BEACH– Jack Godfrey has been elected Commodore of the Anchor Line Yacht Club at the general membership meeting held on January 12.

Installation of new officers will take place February 19 at the club's Commodore's Ball.

Others elected to serve with Godfrey include Charles French, Vice Commodore; Fred Stein, Rear Commodore; Irene Penuck, secretary; and Walter Sutorius, treasurer.

Newly elected board members are Gordon Bearss, Ione Gerrie, Ira Henderson and Allen Moore. Continuing for one year as board members are Frank Holden, Wayne Leland, Helen Outwater and George Sottong. Anita Gibson will continue as recording secretary.

VALENTINE PROJECT
By KATHY HARDY
TROOP SCRIBE

Our Valentine project is almost completed, because we are working very hard on it.

We got our permission slips to sell our cookies. Parents please be sure to sign them.

We are thinking about going to the state fair in Tampa.

The girls seem very happy in their new patrols.

We gave out pen pal letters from Liverpool, N.Y. Troop 46 wanted to exchange letters with our troop.

Be looking for your local cookie girls this month.

Robert Burns salute is planned by Scots

STUART– It's that time of year again when Scots the world over sit down to sup together on or near the birthday of Robert Burns. For the fourth consecutive year, Scots in Martin County will meet at Holiday Inn in Stuart to hoist the peel pipe in a haggis and enjoy the performance of an eight-some reel performed by a double quartet of local dancers. The event will be held Saturday, January 22 at 7:30, according to William D. Maclaren, president of the St. Andrew Society of Florida, Inc.

This year, George Nicoll will be piping for the dancers and the haggis will enter to the piping of a member from Jacksonville, Micheal J. Wolpert. The dancers have been coached by Miss Cheia Jacobo and their Scottish costumes have been assembled by Mrs. Nicoll. James A. Muir of Melbourne, past president of the St. Andrew Society of Washington, D.C. will give the Address to the Haggis.

Maclaren stressed that anyone interested in Burns in particular or Scottish matters in general is welcome to attend the dinner. It is not necessary to be a member of the St. Andrew Society of Florida or of Illinois or New York or any other state, he said. We Scots are a hospitable lot and notably so at a supper honoring Rabbie Burns. Reservations may be made with the secretary, Mrs. Jean Leslie Kenny, at 287-6184 or evenings at 461-1444.

Wimodausis has covered dish dinner

JENSEN BEACH– New officers of the Wimodausis took over their duties last Friday evening at the Field House at Langford Park.

Following the short business meeting, the club had a covered dish dinner and played games.

The next meeting will be at the Tradewinds Cafeteria in Ft. Pierce on Feb. 11 at 1 p.m.

Williams' operate Ft. Pierce diner

FT. PIERCE– John and Jane Williams, former owners and operators of the Jensen Beach Grill, are now in business with a new restaurant in Ft. Pierce.

Called the "House of Pierce," the restaurant is located on U.S. 1 across the highway from Yates Funeral Home.

CANDY HOUSE: Kindergarten students of Mrs. L. Richardson and Mrs. J. Menninger at Jensen Beach Elementary School had a real surprise last week when both teachers gave the children a puppet show of Hansel and Gretel with a real candy house. Mrs. Richardson's daughter, Lisa, a junior high student, made the house from a kit which features candy cigarettes for the windows and doors. Students Jimmy Keaton, Lesley Kendal, Bryan McMahon, Arthur Leonard, and Jeannie Kenney show their excitement of the show, held last week. According to Mrs. Richardson, the house won't be eaten until the end of the school year. She is in the process of finding a real good hiding place.

No stamp albums at Jensen Post Office

JENSEN BEACH: The Jensen Beach Post Office was not selected by the U.S. Postal Service to make available the 1971 commemorative Stamp Folders, according to Postmaster Harold Sattler. Fourteen post offices were chosen but not Jensen. Sattler told The Mirror: "I refer requests to Stuart."

This is the first time in history that such memorabilia have been distributed, no miracle through postal officials. The folders contain a description of each stamp together with the picture of its commemorative stamps, a count last year, and stamp hinges, which can be used to affix the stamps to the folder. The complete kit is $2.50.

Rupert's Golden Buck

JENSEN BEACH—Anybody who likes cheese will enjoy this sudden flash promises Rupert Brown of 228 Melba Drive. Many years ago, when he was in Maine, Golden Buck was served for luncheon at a club. "It's a cheese lover anyway, so I took the basic idea and have embellished it," Rupert said.

He and his wife have lived here three and a half years, after spending ten years in other parts of Florida. "I took up fun years in food Jensen Beach," he said originally from White Plains, N.Y. The couple has two sons, Bob, a carpenter, lea... who has two sons and a daughter, and Bruce of Stamford, Conn., who has four daughters. Rupert is a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, Holidays, Country Club and the Martin County Anglers Club. He lists cooking, fishing, gardening and keeping his wife happy as his hobbies.

Weight Watchers may omit one egg and use skim milk, beer or ale for the rest suggests. This rarebit dish serves four for lunch or Sunday supper.

GOLDEN BUCK

1 cup milk or half & half
1 cup sharp cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 teaspoon Worchester sauce
1 teaspoon horseradish
1 teaspoon mustard, prepared
1 teaspoon Mrs. Dash
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon cornstarch few shakes of red pepper
1 egg yolk, whites may be used
2 slices ripe tomato
2 slices white bread

In top half of double boiler, place milk, butter, cheese broken into small pieces and seasonings. Heat, stirring frequently with wire beater. When cheese is melted and ingredients are smooth, blend cornstarch with small amount of milk and add to cheese mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Do not boil. Remove from heat. Add egg yolk, beating well. Pour sauce over toast and tomato slices. Garnish with parsley and paprika. Makes approximately one cup sauce and three cups Rupert sauce.

Cherry sisters together

JENSEN BEACH—The three Cherry Sisters are together in Jensen Beach for a three-month holiday. The name was given to them as youngsters when they sang together at family gatherings and club events.

The three are Mrs. Ann Nebel of Bear Ridge, Mrs. Charlotte Keene of South Street, Jensen Beach, and Mrs. Madeline Jenkewitz of Redondo Beach, Cal. All were former residents of Long Island, N.Y.

Also a year ago, Mrs. Keene's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Logalato and six children moved to Jeannette Ave. Many parties and family get-togethers are being held while the Jenneweins are here. Present at all gatherings in addition to the above were Lib and Mike Logalato of Sound Beach, N.Y., Frances and Joseph Poli of Jensen Beach and Edythe and George Flynn of Stuart.

Involvement is Horace Donley's key to a happy retirement

BY ALICE HICKEY

Involvement is the key to a happy retirement for Horace Donley of Jensen Beach.

"I wish he had a secretary," Mrs. Donley said of her 70-year-old husband. "I can't keep track of him."

Retiring from the Dupont Dyes and Chemical Corporation after 35 years service, Donley with his wife Myrtle moved here from Pennsville, N.J.

My wife's parents lived in Jensen Beach and we had been vacationing here for ten years before my retirement," he said. "We both liked the area and though our decision to retire in Florida came as a surprise to our friends in Jersey, we have been here since 1961 and still like it."

The most time consuming of Horace Donley's involvement is serving on the committee of the Jensen Beach Cubs. In this capacity Donley is a key man for the largest recreational facility in Martin County. The Cubs are responsible for the organization of the recreational activities and facilities at Langford Park.

Horace Donley plays an important role in carrying out these responsibilities. He is the invaluable jack of all trades, so desperately needed to manage such a facility.

The park has grown within the past few years to the extent there is now a year round athletic program underway. Scheduled activities include little and pony league football, peanut, little brownie and pony league baseball, girls' softball, basketball, shuffleboard, men's softball and the state-wide softball tournaments held here during the summer months.

The care of the athletic equipment is one of the many duties which Horace Donley so capably handles. At the beginning of each season he sees that the equipment is taken from storage, checks the condition of the uniforms and distributes the equipment to the various managers. At the close of the season he again checks packs and stores all the equipment away for the coming year.

"I will never forget Mrs. Donley laughed 'last year when they were organizing little league football for the first time. Horace came home dragging 25 dirty old football helmets which he had volunteered to paint and number. We both spent the afternoon scrubbing them first."

Keeping the calendar of events and scheduling of the recreation hall for various events is another of the responsibilities Donley shares.

Due to the lack of suitable meeting places in our area the Langford Park Recreation Hall has become more and more in demand for social events, business meetings, rummage sales and even serves as the Precinct 1 polling place.

Donley makes sure the hall is properly set up for each occasion.

The title of warehouse manager could also be applied to Horace Donley. Aside from storing all the athletic equipment at the park he also manages to find room for storing fireworks for the Fireworks Committee and all of the Christmas displays used on the causeway.

Other jobs carried out by Donley at the park include cutting the grass, assembling playground equipment, stocking the concession stands and assisting with the building projects.

Horace Donley is also a volunteer fireman serving with the Jensen Beach Fire Department for the past four years. He holds an active membership in the East Florida Dupont Retirees and the Dupont Veterans Association.

When asked if he had time for any hobbies, Donley promptly replied "Oh yes. When I retired from Dupont the fellows gave me a complete set of bowling equipment. It is my favorite hobby. I bowl on a league one night a week and maintain an average of 198.

"I also enjoy playing cards and will go so far as to claim myself the champion crazy eights player of Martin County," he laughed.

"When I find the time to watch television, I am a real sports fan especially enjoying football. Dolphin games, Donley said.

"My greatest recreational pleasures as he states the Donley home and yard certainly does not hold a second place interest. He does all of the yard work and home repairs.

"I like working in the yard and especially with flowering plants," Donley said. "I am president of the two blue hydrangea plants I brought down from Jersey."

Decorating their home at Christmas time provides another very special interest for the Donleys.

"We built our first grape arbor years ago at the Jensen Beach Garden Club started the lighting contest except for this past year when the entries were judged on theme rather than decorative lighting. Mrs. Donley remarked.

Asked how and why he became so involved in civic work Donley replied "I guess the first step was when I heard they needed firemen. I volunteered.

"To get involved is easy. When you hear they need help in the community with some project just show up. You'll get a job if you really want one.

"I have always been interested in sports and as a boy was willing to trade a meal any time for play a game of baseball. So naturally when Langford Park needed volunteers to work I showed up.

"The only formula I could offer for a happy retirement would be to stay active and it sure helps to have a wife to take care of you," he said.

Commenting on her husband's numerous activities Mrs. Donley said "I certainly can't complain about him being in my way. I do wish he would pace himself and not try to do too much but if it makes him happy I'm happy.

"I also think his involvement has made him more understanding of my activities and interests. If I get myself too involved in something at the church he is always willing to help me out of my dilemma.

"The only change I would make is to have him a secretary. I find it nearly impossible to track him down," she laughed.

PARK BEAUTIFICATION . . . Making Langford Park more beautiful is still another of the responsibilities so capably handled by Horace Donley of Jensen Beach.

Friday Nite Gang to sponsor breakfast

PORT ST. LUCIE The Friday Nite Gang was in a jovial mood last Friday night. No birthdays or anniversaries were reported so the Gang whooped.

We did however report some visitors Mrs. Susan Valiotte of Portland, Conn. visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dwarrina and Mrs. Ruth Sagle from Dubuque, Iowa visiting Mrs. Mary Fondell. Attending for the first time were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Conley, originally from Johnstown, Pa. now living here.

The main prize of the evening four nice auction tip steaks was won by Anna Marie Conrad.

The host announced that the Gang is again sponsoring a Pancake and Pork Breakfast for the benefit of the Knights of the Round Table Eye Foundation on Sunday March 5 at the Marina from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained from Ann Boman, Terry Lunden, John Lombardi, Fran Lee, Mary Marsh, Ethel Krall, Cedric Benz and Dave Gessner at the Marina. They will also be available from members of the Local Knights Templars.

Gab-n-Eatas hold luncheon

PORT ST. LUCIE The Gab-n-Eatas women's social club met Thursday January 13 at the home of Mrs. Hiram Ricketts, Placida Court, Port St. Lucie with 12 members present. Guests present included Anne Searles sister and Mrs. Madeline Trumbower and Mrs. Karin Hanford of Harsund, Norway who are visiting here for the winter. Mrs. Mars Hesman was accepted as a new member of the club.

It was announced that there will be a concert given at the Country Club Convention Hall on February 29 sponsored by the Sears Foundation the proceeds of which are to be donated to CESA.

It was also reported that Christmas Gifts had been sent to Radio Station WIRA and to the Salvation Army.

The next meeting of the club will be a 12:30 luncheon on January 27 at the Hilltop House. Reservations must be made by January 24.

40 feet lost

Causeway erosion brings bulkhead

STUART — Displaying a large aerial photograph of the Jensen Beach Causeway, County Engineer Jack Borger showed Martin County Commissioners what erosion has done to the strip of land since March of 1969.

"We have lost an additional average of 40 feet on the north edge of the causeway since 1969," Borger said at Tuesday's public hearing. He pointed to the pavilions on the north side of the causeway which have been undermined, causing the slab floors to crack and said trees were awash along the shores.

Recently the county has installed 200 feet of seawalling in a belated effort to save the constantly eroding area. A planned program for connecting the previous seawalling is being sought according to Commission Chairman Frank Wacha.

The county has been delayed because no bulkhead line has been established, Wacha explained. The bulkhead line is a predetermined maximum limit line, set by the cities, he said, but must be approved by the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund.

A proposed bulkhead line of 170 feet north and 180 feet south of the center of SR 707 was approved unanimously by the commissioners. A resolution will be drafted by the county attorney and will be taken to the IIF in Tallahassee for application to establish such a line.

A representative of the IIF, Bob Shelton was introduced by Wacha. Shelton said the IIF is aware of the erosion problem and agrees with you.

The proposed bulkhead line is close to the outward line of the existing county land survey. Some seawalling has been installed in places on the west causeway, with headwalls erect on the east causeway.

Commissioner Bill Owens asked that a public hearing be set heading for the establishment of a bulkhead line for the Stuart Causeway, also. The hearing will be held at the March 14 meeting of the commission.

EROSION EVIDENT — river bars out of the Jensen Beach Causeway has been lost to the Indian River due to erosion, as is evidenced by this photograph of the new bulkhead installation that will protect county property. The erosion is telling proof of the fact Stuart officials have for years previously, watching each phase of the fill material that gave them the

Local girl is finalist in Miss Florida Teen-Ager

JENSEN BEACH — A local student, Melissa White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell White of Hutchinson Island, received word this week that she has been named as a finalist to participate in the Miss Florida Teen-ager Pageant to be held in Jacksonville on January 29-8.

It's an exciting month for Melissa who first celebrated her birthday on January 8, will graduate from Stuart's International Modeling School on January 29 and attend the pageant the last weekend of the month.

To be Florida teen-ager was required to submit an application. Nine winners were published in newspapers throughout the state late last year and applications by girls were also received to be finalists. The names of the contestants will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Miss Florida Teen-ager Pageant to be held on August in Atlanta, Georgia. She also wins a scholarship and other prizes.

The finalists will be judged during the weekend they are attending the Pageant on scholarship, leadership, poise and personality and also beauty of face and figure. There is no swim suit competition.

Melissa's sponsors are C. B. Arbegast Real Estate Co. and Hennessy Associates. She is a junior at Martin County High School.

COMMISSIONER OWENS NAMED TO CRIME BOARD

STUART — County Commissioner Bill Owens has been appointed a member of the National Crime and Public Safety Committee it was announced by County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha. Necessary travel expenses to Washington for D.C. were approved.

"I'll send you anywhere equipped, Wacha quipped.

"Stupid trip," asked Commissioner Paul Bryant.

Evinrudes give $5,000 to Langford Park fund

STUART — A check for $5,000 has been received by the Martin County Commission from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude to be used on Langford Park.

In a letter to Commission Chairman Frank Wacha Evinrude said that a great job had been done so far on the park area with your own sweat and effort and I would like to sweeten the pot. Enclude white enclosing the $5,000 check.

In 1966 the fishing pier on the north side of the Jensen Beach Causeway was built with funds and encouragement of Evinrude. Wacha said Tuesday.

Evinrude offered to give $2,500 if the community would raise $2,500. Wacha said. That's how the fishing pier was built.

Wiring causes $2500 damage

INDIAN BREEZE — Chief Randolph Spitzer suspects that the wiring in a new Colony trailer in Indian Breeze Park was the cause of a fire Tuesday.

The trailer is owned by Mrs. Ruth LaFave of 11 SW 6th Avenue. Damage was estimated at between $2500 and $3,000.

Firemen met with three trucks answered the call.

Murder of girl shocks Jensen

JENSEN BEACH — The quiet community of Jensen Beach was shocked Sunday by the tragic murder of a fifteen year-old Susan Mahoney. After county sheriff's and investigators at under way on the murderer.

Detectives of the Martin County Sheriff's Department searched for clues in the death of the 9th grade girl who was found in a patch of palmettos off Leonard Road near Walter Road.

Miss Mahoney, who was in the 9th grade at Martin County High School, had worked early in the morning at a local restaurant was picked up by her parents who dropped her off at her home, leaving for a while. Upon their return they found her missing, reporting it to the department at 11 a.m.

In the meantime their son Mike II and other neighbors began an extensive search of roads and byways along the

Wacha upholds garbage complaint

STUART — A continuing battle about noise and time of garbage collection by Community Sanitation at Rod and Reel Motel, Jensen Beach was brought to light at Tuesday's Martin County Commission meeting. According to Glenn Glidden, motel owner, garbage pickup complying with county regulations, Wacha said. He added that 6:30 a.m. is too early for pickup of trash and garbage. "I think 8 a.m. is early enough everywhere.

"If this can't be worked out, we'll get personnel in here to do it," said Wacha. He suggested there was a personality conflict adding, "There has not been any give and take - just push and shove."

Wacha said a public hearing would have to be set if the hours were to be changed, according to the county ordinance. The ordinance stipulates that nothing shall be a "public nuisance."

Your County Attorney Bill Scott said this constitutes a public nuisance, Wacha explained.

Ed Rastrelli, one of the owners of Community Sanitation, said it was impossible not to make noise no matter what time garbage is picked up.

"Metal against metal makes noise," he said.

"And wood against wood makes noise too," Wacha demonstrated hitting the gavel a light rap on the desk.

"But there is a degree of noise," he said pounding the gavel.

"That's wood, not metal," Rastrelli defended himself.

Wacha told Rastrelli to come to an agreement with Rod and Reel by adjusting the time of pickup.

"If you cannot do this, we will make other arrangements which may not be as satisfactory to you," Wacha concluded.

Three file for Sewall's Point

SEWALL'S POINT — Three candidates have filed for the seat of commissioner of the Town of Sewall's Point at press time. The three are Francis E. Clark, Samuel W. H. Nesbett and Clay Lambeth Jr.

Election will be March 7 and the books will be open for filing until Feb. 7. If a primary is necessary it will be held Feb. 22 according to Town Clerk Mrs. Mary Smith.

County to name Library Board

STUART — Martin County commissioners have accepted the responsibility of appointing future members of the Martin County Library Board of Trustees according to action taken Tuesday. When present terms expire, the county will name the five members. Appointments had previously been made by the governor, whose authority was repealed by the Legislature.

Present members include James Garvey, Mrs. Lillian Dussair, Mrs. William Tatnall, Walter Criswell and Dr. Francis Knowles. Mrs. Tatnall and Dr. Knowles were reappointed for four years Tuesday, effective January 1, 1972.

In order to vote in town elections, residents must register at the Town Hall. Registrations are taken Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. until noon. Three commissioners will be elected.

The [illegible] meeting will be in the new meeting room of First Federal Savings and Loan Association on Commercial Street.

Recent changes in [illegible] brought Beau Rivage East into Wacha's district. Mem-

Padrick reappointed by Gov. Askew

FT. PIERCE–Robert W. Padrick has been reappointed to the board of directors of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District by Gov. Reubin Askew. The new appointment runs until July, 1976.

Padrick, who said he was honored to be reappointed to the board, is now serving as chairman of the board to which he was appointed in 1965 by former Gov. Haydon Burns. That appointment ended in July, 1971. Padrick serves without pay as a member of the 16-county water management agency. During his term on the FCD board he has taken the lead in setting policies to preserve the integrity of the Everglades Conservation Area under jurisdiction of the Flood Control District.

Padrick is a real estate salesman in Ft. Pierce and was former secretary-treasurer of Padrick Packing [illegible]

Letters to the Editor

There has been talk of incorporating our area. Just for the record, lets check why any individual homeowner would want to incorporate. First let us say that incorporating would be prevential if we think that a breakdown has happened for the reasons given below.

1. Breakdown of law and order, vandalism, breaking and entering, speeding on our streets.
2. Condition of our streets and drainage ditches bad shape.
3. Lack of cultural factivity and recreational facilities.
4. Lack of good housekeeping by our homeowners (junk cars and general decay of property).
5. Lack of cooperation from county and General Development officials with essentials to insure a better community.

The five points listed make up the cardinal rules by which a community is judged. I can say with certainty that there isn't a community in Florida today that can boast a better record concerning the five points listed above especially since we are not incorporated and have an excellent street lighting program as Port St. Lucie North. I must say our homeowners Association has had help in the past and the present continue to do a wonderful job for us all.

Now do you think it is worth $200 more in taxes each year to each one of us homeowners just to say we are "incorporated"? Remember what taxes you paid before you came here? I'm sure this figure would be the minimum increase, don't you agree.

However let me warn those in our community that are not measuring up to these five points. Naturally there will always be some of us who are responsible for the ills and why we should incorporate.

I should like to point out to those few who by these actions the entire community suffers.

1. Those who allow pets to roam at will.
2. Who allow their lawns to overgrow causing infestation of vermin, snakes, etc.
3. Parking of cars on sidewalks (front and back).
4. Storage of old refrigerators, washers, etc. around the house, general untidyness.
5. Building of small outbuildings for storage of equipment. This is totally unlawful in accordance with your unit restrictions.

When any of the don'ts become intolerable then we must take steps in the direction of incorporation. Lets all understand now that we do live in a wonderful spot, please make it clear to all that we want to keep it this way, come hell or high water.

(One who cares)

WATS Line to state legislators

TALLAHASSEE— Florida taxpayers will have free telephone service available to them during the 1972 session of the Legislature, it has been announced by Sen George L. Hollahan, Jr. Miami, chairman of the Joint Legislative Management Committee on WATS line.

Hollahan said hundreds of taxpayers call Tallahassee during each session of the Legislature and spend money and time trying to find the proper source for the information needed. He emphasized that the cost of service will be only $100 a month, a small amount to provide deserved service to the people of our state.

Other states which have installed toll-free service are Delaware, Maryland, New York, South Carolina and West Virginia.

wide area telephone service for incoming calls will be located in the Legislative Information Division which through a computer records actions as they occur on the floor of the Senate and the House.

The telephone number will be 800-342-8614.

Holiday out-lines

By BETTY TAYLOR
283-4624

Someone better clue in the flowers and trees that are blooming out of season that we just may have some winter weather after all.

Mr and Mrs Alvin Smock and Mrs Sally Gorhenour of Council Bluffs Iowa are here for at least a month. These folks are relatives of Bill and Mabel Heinrichsen of our park.

Reggie and Pete Peterson were over to Sanibel Island for a few days fishing and shelling this past week.

Another successful potluck dinner is past. Dave Deuts-man and Jim Lewis were at the door while their spouses Cel and Martha gave general assistance through-out. Mari Birkbeck was MC and Bill Blair gave the blessing. After eating our selves into discomfort, Eileen and Bill Hunter entertained us with guitar music. Nora Turner couldn't resist some of their rhythms and got out there to dance, with a little help from one of our very junior residents, Traci Korn. Everyone got into the act when the old songs were played and the singing was loud and satisfying.

Kay and Ray Johnson Milton, Mass are staying here through February.

Lee and Harriet Price of Miami are here for a couple days to visit with the Rays and Elders.

Jim Elder says it cost him $6.00 but his son Bob finally got his hair cut.

Mr and Mrs Harvey Tequesta spent the day with Peggy and Al Ray recently.

Olive and George Taylor were in Europe for two months this fall, and George took nearly 2000 slides. He shows these slides every Friday evening in the rec hall.

There will be an art show on January 29th at Elliott Museum. Our own resident artist, Eileen Hunter, is busily preparing to exhibit.

Betty Ann and Robert Ray were married January 22nd and are spending their honeymoon in Dad and Mom's trailer here. They will take a trip to Nassau on Friday. Congratulations and best wishes from all of us.

Betty O'Donnell says her husband enjoyed piloting Betty's brothers 42 foot yacht down the Inland Waterway. They were aboard for several days.

Fifty five eager exercisers were counted in class not long ago. Director Fran Wade says there is always room for more.

Marvin and Lee Terry Plymouth, Mich have been here trying out Holiday Out's version of sun, surf and sand. They are friends of Ralph and Jean Taylor.

Ted and Margaret Havunja from Virginia Beach are renting in the park for their third year. Folks may remember their friendly Bassett hound, Henry.

Dogs could care less for leash laws, so when Gamin Vansant zipped out of his trailer the other night it meant two hours of calling and cussing for Joe and Edna before the errant poodle was retrieved. Romance maybe?

Marcia and Everett Rupert have gone to Old Port Cove, Palm Beach to help Marcia's brother decorate his new apartment.

Ruth and Jim Hall have come from Penndel, Pa for the winter and Robert and Kate Ramsey of Willingboro, N J are here for three months.

The first day of shuffle boarding was very well attended by the ladies. Now the men have to match their numbers when their turn comes.

Gather your books, folks. The shelves are nearly ready for our contributions. There is a box for donations behind the counter downstairs at the rec hall.

Leo O'Neill is taking some joshing about winning two jackpots at Bingo Saturday evening, the 15th.

Mr. Louis Winter was most upset when he arrived in the park to find his trailer was no longer in its place. Upon investigation, it was found his son-in-law had removed the old trailer and replaced it with a new gift trailer. How's that for a pleasant surprise?

Mr and Mrs Harvey Crockett of Vero Beach and Doylestown, Pa visited their daughter Olive Mrs George Taylor of this park.

Opinion has been divided about the fence line clearance work now under way. Take the long view, and think how the place will look when the work is done, grass growing and hedge in place.

By next year you won't be able to remember the mess it is now.

Linda, Al Korn and daughter Traci took a trip to St. Petersburg last week, spending a day in Orlando before coming back to the park.

Winning bridge scores Wednesday night were: Helen Neugebauer, 4120; Ramona Stowe, 3930; Edna Vansant, 3880; Ila Taylor, 3850; Jessie Ammerman, 3800.

Gertrude and Frank Raymond of Ramsey, N J have bought George Chambers lot. Welcome to the park Mr and Mrs. Raymond.

Lots in Holiday Out were sold recently to Kenneth M. Stoehr, John Feasel, Patrick F. Taylor, Remo Bianco, T. Arthur Dahlke, Harry T. Smith and Samuel Graber.

Welcome to Warner and Dorothy Abraham, who have bought lot 95. You couldn't come to a better park.

Lot-owners Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gray are spending their first full season down here. Eugene was recently retired. The couple is from Atlanta, Georgia.

John and Palma Smaniotto have moved to their new lot. They are now neighbors of Atwood and Marietta Brock Jebank.

Mr. & Mrs. Lane Jennings

Jennings-Melvin vows areexchanged

JENSEN BEACH: The marriage of Miss Beulah Evans Melvin and Lane Edward Jennings took place December 21 at 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Milton, Florida with the Rev. Joe M. Bamberg officiating. Judge and Mrs. Woodrow Melvin are parents of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Jennings of Walton are parents of the groom.

The bride's gown made by her mother was of white velvet fashioned with long full sleeves and Empire waist. Venetian lace trimmed the gown and the floor length train and veil of illusion and velvet. For her "something old" the bride wore an eleven-gored, hand embroidered linen petticoat which was made by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Sara Johnson before the turn of the century. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Ginger Melvin of Milton was her sister's maid of honor and Linda and Lee Jennings, sisters of the groom, were bridesmaids. Candlelighters were Ramona Melvin of Miami, niece of the bride and Connie Pace of Milton. Another niece Lisa Rene Melvin, Miami, was flower girl. The maid of honor and flower girl wore floor length purple crushed velvet gowns trimmed in white and lilac lace. Each attendant carried a long stemmed lavender carnation accented with velvet ribbons.

Cecil Whitaker of Miami served as best man. Ushers were Ric Christiansen of Jensen Beach and Robert Pahl of Ft. Myers. Ring bearer was Kyle Holley, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Holley of Milton.

A reception was held in the Church Hall following the ceremony and Mrs. Laura Cooley, sister of the bride kept the bride's book.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Melvin chose a gown of pale pink crepe de chine trimmed in white and silver pearl-encrusted lace. The groom's mother chose aqua peau de soie with a pearled neckline.

After a wedding trip through the State, the newlyweds are at home in Coconut Grove.

Hallstrom elected Board Chairman

FT. PIERCE—Nels E. Hallstrom was elected chairman of the board of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Ft. Pierce at the organizational meeting of the board recently. W. R. Goodwin was elected vice-chairman.

Depositors in 1971 received dividends in the amount of $3,097,000, an increase of 22.2 percent over 1970, according to Thomas A. Driscoll, president. The increase in assets in 1971 was two and a half times as large as any preceding year, he said.

Savings deposits at the year's end were $83,410,000, and mortgages held by the Association were $63,727,000. Reserves in 1971 totaled $1,008,000. During 1972 the Association will pay the State Intangible Tax on all savings accounts as has been the practice in past years, Driscoll announced.

OCEAN BREEZE—Charles J. Nichel, long-time winter visitor to Jensen Beach, has returned from Chesterton, Ind. and has taken the Boyd Smith trailer at 10 N. 10th Ave. His winter visits to this area were discontinued during the past few years because of the illness and death of his wife of 41 years, he said.

Nichel says he appreciates the weather in Jensen Beach as it was 15 degrees below zero and snowing.

You are still welcome to join the Spanish and Art Classes which are held in our hall. Spanish taught by John Morgan, Monday and Wednesday at 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and art taught by Madeline Rehenser, Thursdays at 1 to 4 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Thamm of Cleveland, Ohio are visiting with her brother and wife James and Martha Duffy.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Proctor of Erie, Pa. are visiting with his brother and wife, Leon and Mabel Proctor right now and expect to visit other places in Florida while here.

* * * *

Mrs. Linda Nichols and sons David and Michael flew from their home near Washington, D.C. to visit with her parents, Harold and Marie Johnson for several weeks. Her husband, Dave will drive down this week and spend two weeks here also.

* * * *

Bill and Edna West of Pitchford's Camp visited with Bill's sister and brother-in-law, the Ritenours, one evening recently.

* * * *

Charles Craig of Orlando also was a recent visitor at the Ritenours. He is their brother-in-law.

* * * *

Orville Conrad has been washing and cleaning the shuffle courts and deserves much credit for getting Jo John Stalker who is in charge of shuffle this year. The games have not gained too much popularity so far, but are expected to get going in the near future.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blanchard and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Moore had dinner with the two ladies parents, Leland and Frances Reese of Ocean Breeze Park, Thursday evening.

'Retirement is a wonderful life'

Ernest Baker exchanged relaxation for civic involvement

By ALICE HICKEY

"It is better to wear out than to rust out" commented Ernest Baker. Retirement is a wonderful life. My only regret is that I didn't do it sooner."

At the age of 54, Baker retired after 37 years with the Mobile Oil Company in Paulsboro, N.J.

Ernest Baker and his wife, Ruth had purchased a lot on Skyline Drive in 1958 while visiting relatives in the area.

As soon as we got back to New Jersey, Ernie started corresponding about our lot, standing idle in Jensen Beach and became most anxious about retiring," said Mrs. Baker.

In 1960 Ernest and Ruth Baker were early arrivals in Jensen to watch the construction of their retirement home. Once it was completed, it was to embark upon a life of fishing and relaxation, the ideal of the perfect retirement.

"I felt I had my share of civic involvement along with the accompanying responsibilities in the past," Baker said. "My retirement life was to be different. My interests and efforts would be confined to assisting in my church when I could be of help. That was to be it.

Baker became one of the five trustees of the Trinity United Methodist Church and still serves in that capacity. He is also chairman of the administrative Board an office he has held for the past 20 years.

"No time to shirk responsibilities. Ernest Baker is a leader like is the type of person people turn to. He is understanding, considerate and obliging.

Frequently he can be found at the church doing anything from the smallest of repair jobs to the installation of the new altar.

"We have to do our own repairs," he said. "After all, we are a small church and the income as such is small. We can't afford to hire all the work done.

Today, the one thing in Ernest Baker's retirement that hasn't changed is that of his church responsibilities. They still come first.

The two major changes, which are apparent to all who know Baker are his fishing and civic involvement.

"Did he tire of fishing? Not at all. It is just that with his civic commitments, finding the time for fishing has become the problem.

At the present time Baker is treasurer and a past president of the Jensen Beach Lions Club, vice president of the Jensen Beach Rotary Club and a lieutenant in the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, and more recently, he has been appointed by Governor Askew as the District 1 Jury Commissioner.

"My becoming involved was very simple," said Baker. "I helped to fight a fire one day and two weeks later was notified I had been elected to the fire department. Next I met Frank Ruffin, he said they needed a man at the park and I can't say no.

"In my opinion, Frank Ruffin is the best thing that has ever happened to Jensen Beach. I think he is as dedicated as any man could be," said Baker.

Ernest Baker is not sorry he has become so involved. He would not be happy if he wasn't busy helping some one.

Ranking high on Baker's priority list is the Jensen Beach Cubs. The Cubs is a group which assumes the responsibility for the organization of the recreational facilities and the maintenance of Langford Park.

"There are two reasons for my interest in the cubs," said Baker. "The first and most important is that I love kids and secondly, I guess I have never grown up. As a boy, I never had the chance to belong to an organized athletic program. If we wanted to play ball we found ourselves a tin can and kicked it around," he said.

Langford Park now has a year round athletic program under way including base ball, basketball and football for children 7 to 16 years of age.

"The thing that really annoys me," said Ernest Baker, "is the lack of cooperation on the part of the majority of the parents. Some of them can't even find the time to get the kids to the park to play, much less offer a hand to assist and even more surprisingly, to find the time to watch them participate in their contests.

At Langford Park we have one of the finest recreational facilities in the state of Florida up to a point. Baker refers to this point as sixteen, the age of our formed dropouts. There are no organized programs for the youths 16 and older at the park.

"Our kids are good kids," Baker said. "Ninety nine percent of them don't want to drop out. In my opinion, this is an age when it is more important than ever to see that their energies and interests are channeled in the right direction.

The facilities and the equipment is available and will be provided to anyone who will organize and manage a group.

"I do wish the parents would step out and volunteer as managers rather than set back and let the kids find their own street corner hang outs," Baker said.

Unfortunately what Baker says is true. The majority of the work at the park is done with few exceptions by those with no children.

Ernest Baker is an all for one and one for all man. He has served as a vice president on the Jensen Beach Rec. United Fund Drive for the past several years, one of his responsibilities on this capacity is collecting from the south business district.

I got involved in this office while I was vacationing up north for four months and couldn't defend myself," he remarked.

Although Ernest Baker insists he is not as active in civic involvement as he used to be the latest job falling his way is that of Jury Commissioner for District 1. This was a governor appointed position and covers the Jensen Beach Rec area.

"I have just been notified of this appointment and have yet to learn exactly what the job entails," said Baker.

Ernest Baker will never become less involved with civic matters because he is always available and willing to help out.

As a perfect example of this when the Salvation Army set up local head quarters and needed help during the holiday season Ernest and Ruth Baker were among the first to volunteer their services. Consequently for the past five years they have assumed much of the responsibility in obtaining the volunteer helpers for the project.

Last year there were 300 families with 800 children aided through the Salvation Army's local station. For several weeks prior to Christmas the Bakers can be found packing groceries, wrapping and sorting gifts and assisting in the distribution of same.

It gives you a great feeling of warm satisfaction to have been able to help such deserving people," said Baker. It is most rewarding.

The success of the annual art shows sponsored by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce can be credited in part to Baker. He has handled the details for these shows for the past four years.

I had to be laughed. My wife paints.

Sure I have time to fish when and to spoil my two granddaughters Cathy and Susan," said Baker. "Ruth and I spend four months in the summer in Strathmere N.J. Up there I am strictly a retired grandfather and I love every single minute of it.

Mrs. Baker standing nearby smiled and said, "You know we've been married for 42 years just because he is such a nice guy."

The committee in charge consists of Cedric Benz, chairman, Leo Malone and Peter Specht.

Pike plaza county bid

STUART—There will be another attempt to pass a bill through the Florida Legislature establishing a turnpike plaza on the Florida turnpike in Martin County.

Efforts to establish such a plaza in 1969 failed to get the support of the legislature. The bill will be introduced by Sen. Beth Johnson in the senate and Rep. Don Reed in the house of representatives.

Martin County is one of two counties on the entire turnpike without a plaza.

Road revenues to the county are based upon sales of gasoline in the county and Martin County's share of the gasoline revenue is low. One county's gasoline revenue is doubled by the location of a plaza in the county on the turnpike.

Bazaar International February 11-12

JENSEN BEACH—Plans for the Bazaar International, sponsored by the Jensen Beach Women's Association, are being continued by overall chairman Mrs. Marie Miller and her committee. The event will be Friday and Saturday, Feb. 11 and 12 at the club house on Sugar Hill Road.

Booths depicting various countries will be open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day. Booths include Mexico, jams, jellies, Holland, handmade gifts, Spain, jewelry, Germany, children's booth, Orient, flower arrangements and plants, Italy, arts and crafts, France, French Patisserie, pastry and candies, Persian Flea Market, and America with its coffee and doughnuts being served from 9 to 11 a.m., and luncheon at the Coney Island Snack Bar from 11 to 3 p.m.

Proceeds will be used for the field house at Langford Park and the club's nursing scholarship.

IRCC plans community services explanation Tuesday in Jensen Beach

JENSEN BEACH—A special community services program to inform citizens of the many services of Indian River Community College is planned for Tuesday, Feb. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the community room of First Federal Savings and Loan's Jensen Beach office.

The free program is designed to bring those community events to the people of Jensen Beach that they desire and will feature an environmental concern program as an example.

Following an explanation of the types of programs of IRCC by Frank O'Brien, director of community services, the Loxahatchee Chapter of the Isaac Walton League will make a slide presentation. Bill Lund and Jim and Trudy Bernard, noted conservationists, will conduct the program which is an example of the community services pro-

To meet with zoners

Less than 90,000 population projection is asked by county

BY DICK CAMPBELL

STUART The main phase report of the master planners will project a population of less than 90,000 persons in 1990 with a concerted effort to hold down population growth according to directives given master planner Roy Lowell Tuesday by the Martin County Commission.

Lowell asked for a letter of direction from the county and will meet with the planning and zoning board today Wednesday to discuss the proper manner in which to establish such a letter. The commission will take action on the letter next Tuesday at the regular meeting of the board.

We can tailor any kind of plan and implementation program Lowell said to the commission.

That are tailor it for but more than 90,000" asked Commission Chairman Frank Wacha.

I understand said Lowell.

The planner had spent most of the one and one half hour workshop meeting reassuring the county commissioners, members of the planning and zoning board and county zoning director Tom Higgins that they had the power to hold back growth.

You can make it clear through definition to see to it that there are adequate public facilities before building begins Lowell explained.

He noted the laws in Maryland that forbid issuing one of a building permit until there is public paved road, water and sewage to the building lot as methods of controlling growth. He said that provisions for schools could also be used to remove the attendant burdens from the county taxpayers.

Wacha asked if the county could for example stop issuing building permits to Keda Pines on East Ocean Blvd. until they provide proper traffic storage lanes into the condominium area and was told that the county could definitely do so.

Wacha said that he felt if such forming zones created a major traffic problem on the thoroughfare at Cedar Pointe Condominiums across the street from Keda Pines.

Lowell said that traffic counts on the roads and highways of Martin County were not overloaded as many have said.

If someone from New York came here he would think the traffic was freezing along a superhighway. It is all a matter of what you are used to Lowell said.

He emphasized that the master planning term was not going to provide a zoning map for the county, saying that zoning was a thing of the past. Lowell said that. If the service disciples sat down to draft such a zoning map for the county it would be doomed to failure.

There are look all land and put into agriculture zoning and zoned each piece as it came up Wacha began.

That would be Utopia Lowell said and you can't do it.

The planner told the commissioners that the courts shouldn't allow costly development.

It would be foolish to allow something to develop that would be costly to the county. That is a valid reason for not allowing something to happen he said.

Then how do you stop it asked Higgins.

The key is to enforce subdivision regulations and not issue building permits Lowell answered.

What about the sale of land by metes and bounds asked Commissioner Bill Myers.

You just don't allow them to build Lowell said.

Where are we now? If we have these powers we don't know about them com-

[illegible] Wacha.

Lowell said the county had to make the developer take care of his own problems without creating more for the county citing the Cedar Pointe storage traffic lane as an instance Lowell said that requiring traffic storage lanes would "build up around"

There are should have control so that failure development doesn't add to the problems of our roads Wacha said.

But you have to build a cause You must develop codes You have powers now to [illegible] can't imagine Lowell said.

He added that the biggest control lies not in zoning but in permits to construct. The planner said that even though an area may be zoned for a certain thing there is no reason that building should be allowed there.

Master you have smart growth in that area at that time he said.

The commissioner asked Lowell to outline the departmental review he wanted from the commission while the planning and zoning board so that the commission could take action next Tuesday.

Phil Baker heads CAP Cadet unit

Island variances are sought

JENSEN BEACH Two applications for variances to permit construction of residences on Hutchinson Island are being investigated by the Martin County Board of Adjustment according to Tom Higgins.

The board will inspect the two sites along the narrow portion of the island. Setback variances have been requested by Arthur St. John for Lot 12 and Dean D. Mergenthaler for Lot 11 Yacht Club Beach.

Resources Board sets annual meet

JENSEN BEACH The Martin County Resources Development Board will hold its annual meeting and election of officers tonight Wednesday at the Exit Slide Estate Hut according to Buck Campbell president.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m. with the election of directors to be followed by a short directors meeting to elect officers of the board for 1972.

Hosts for the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edmunds.

Question of the week

How do you feel about Federal Income Taxes?

Nobody's happy with taxes, but if we're going to have the programs we have to pay the price.

Claudia Mackey

I don't pay any so I don't have to worry about them.

Lance Davis

It is an obligation we have to meet.

Lucille Bibber

It's a must in order to keep our Federal Government operating.

Favor easterly route

JENSEN BEACH The Beau Rivage East Association has rolled to nullify the state Department of Transportation and the Martin County Commissioners of their wish to have an easterly route established for 1-95 following their meeting last Friday evening. January 28 County speakers at the meeting was County Commissioner Frank Wacha who announced that the proposed westerly route of 1-95.

The Association also discussed the need for street lights and heard problems concerning unauthorized dumping in the neighborhood adjoining Beau Rivage East.

The meeting held at the new Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Jensen Beach was attended by 50 residents.

The next meeting of the association will be held Friday February 25.

Rummage is being collected for sale

JENSEN BEACH—Rummage for the Feb. 19-20 annual Langford Park rummage sale is being collected at the field house at the park.

We need rummage, and lots of it, in order to have a successful sale this year, said Vince Bocchino, president of the sponsoring Jensen Beach Cubs.

The annual event, one of the major sources of revenue for recreational activities at the park, supports the purchase of baseball, football and basketball equipment and new playground equipment purchases.

Rummage can be left at the park field house on SR 707 any morning or will be picked up by volunteers. Donors can call 287-2508.

SHOULDERS NOT MOUTHS. Ecology students and friends of Martin County High School put their shoulders where their mouths were recently, planting 40 Norfolk Island pines at Langford Park in Jensen Beach. Mary Jo Newson, an ecology student, wanted to know why we didn't plant more trees. County Commissioner Frank Wacha said Commissioner Paul Bryant donated the 40 trees and the group planted them on a day off from school. "They sure put their arms and shoulders where their mouths are. I'm real pleased," Wacha said.

Whalen-Greenlees wedding was held in Stuart

STUART—The wedding of Miss Sharon Dawn Whalen and Charles Joseph Greenlees took place on December 26 at the First Baptist Church in Stuart with the Rev. Clinton Marlow officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Whalen Sr. of Stuart, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Greenlees of Stuart.

The double ring ceremony took place in front of the altar decorated with two seven branch candleabras with bells, tulle, two arrangements of white gladiolas, white standard mums, white pom poms and white daisy pom poms. The bride's ring was first used in 1913 in the marriage of the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Vera Nerborg.

Soloist Mrs. Harold R. Whalen Jr. sang "Love is A Many Splendored Thing." Because and the Wedding Prayer, accompanied by organist Mrs. Milda Luce.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white satin gown with empire waist and sweetheart neckline trimmed with Venecon lace and seed pearls.

Matron of honor Mrs. James Hill wore an empire waist dress green velvet dress with a mint green double chiffon bodice and a ruffled neckline set off with Venice lace and scattered seed pearls.

The bridesmaids Gail McKnight and Mrs. Janet Kozlowski were gowned identical to the matron of honor.

Jack Sameck served as best man and ushers were Tommy Hill, Mark Sylvester, Jeff Krauskopf and Hollie Whalen the bride's nephew.

Serving at the reception were Jos. Marlow and Mrs. Kathy Howard who served the punch. Mrs. Diane Kendall sister of the bride who served the cake, and Becky Shaw sister of the groom.

The new Mrs. Greenlees is a 1969 graduate of Martin County High School. Her husband is a 1968 graduate of the local school and attended the University of Florida for two years before enlisting in the U.S. Army.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Vera Nerborg grandmother of the groom, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Lorraine Sanford, Miami; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sameck, Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Greenlees, Jr., Temple Terrace, Fl.; Mrs. Robert Franks, Gaines ville, Fl.; Mrs. Hassie Tomlinson, Fort Orange, Fl.; Mrs. Mabel Tomlinson, Ocala, Fl.; Mrs. Flossie Lee, Gainesville, Capt. and Mrs. Gene Sterling, Patrick AF Base, Cocoa Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bruner, Memphis, Tenn.

After the groom completes his tour of duty in Ft. Dix, South Vietnam, in June, the couple will reside in Tampa.

JENSEN BEACH -Our own Eileen Hunter was one of the first place winners at Elliott Museum's Art Show. Congratulations Eileen. We knew your work was tops we didn't need any judge's opinions really.

* * * *

Bridge scores this week were as follows: Sophie Hollier 5420. Flora Derr 5220. Jess Amerman 4560 and G McPherson 4360.

* * * *

Mr and Mrs Edsel Pfabe Painesville Ohio and Betty and Marie Foote Ravenna Ohio have arrived in the park.

* * * *

Granville Jones of Gatlinburg, Tenn was taken suddenly ill last week and is now in St Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach. He was operated for an embolism and as at this writing out of Intensive care and doing very well. A heart felt thank goodness from all of us.

* * * *

Sid and Dot Burr arrived from Arizona to spend the rest of the season.

* * * *

Because of a cancellation, a date has suddenly opened for another bus trip to Disney World on February 8th. Edna Vansant. Tel 311 is captain. Cost is as before. $15.00 a person.

* * * *

Margaret and Fred Allcock Niagara on the Lake, Ontario are on lot 51 for several weeks. Margaret won a fourth place trophy at shuffleboard on a previous visit.

* * * *

Ruth and Joseph Trupiano had to leave for home for that saddest of all reasons, the death of a relative.

* * * *

Evelyn and Jack Faust entertained their grand daughters Amy and Heidi Laurie over the weekend.

* * * *

Mr and Mrs Harvey Crockett of Vero Beach were hosts to their daughter and husband, George and Elise Taylor at The Outriggers.

* * * *

Betty Taylor was the dinner guest of Linda and Al Korn one evening last week.

* * * *

January 28th was the big day. A dinner honoring Bessie Bell our Board president was a huge success. The dinner was a pot luck affair and as always, delicious. Nora Turner in charge of the entertainment got together a hilarious group. Bessie and Isabel were given a lounge chair for the trailer and an inscribed plaque. Souvenir programs and songsheets were made by Liz Faust, Betty Taylor and Elsie Smith. A host of men and women turned out to honor Bessie and a large number of the residents gave their time to help make the affair run smoothly. Thanks to them all. So many helped that I am afraid to start listing names, lest someone be accidently omitted.

* * * *

A surprise birthday was tendered Betty Taylor on her birthday by friends. Hostess was Carolynn Allen at her home in Palm City. Food was served by their lake with a fire to sit around afterwards while tales were swapped.

* * * *

Welcome to new lot owners Mr. and Mrs. Barton from way up in Maine. They bought lot 12 Elkus and Harold Merritt of Mt. Morris, Mich have bought lot 97, but are living on 98 until their lot is paved.

* * * *

Del and Burt Jones along with Burt's brother Clyde and his wife Connie brought their trailers in last week expecting to stay for awhile. However a call to Clyde's boss cut their stay short. They will return in March when the men hope to be hired at the atomic plant above us here.

* * * *

Carl and Debbie Hoganson, from Farmington, Mich were guests of Ruth and Earl Bowes last week. They were very impressed with our park and went away singing our praises.

* * * *

Willo and Harold Shorey have left a gap in our ranks by leaving for home Plymouth, Mich. They have been here since December and really don't want to go but you know how those things are.

* * * *

Hazel and Harold "Red" Brumund have arrived for a short stay. Red's arrival has anxiously been awaited by his ping pong opponents, Al Korn and Ralph Taylor. These fellows have a running tournament going each year.

* * * *

Shuffleboarding has shift ed into high gear by now. The courts are crowded nearly every day, and the tourna ments are begun. If you want to play, make up games can be played on Thursdays, but don't delay too long signing up.

* * * *

An hour's hymn singalong will be held every Sunday at 2:30. Your voice is not as important as your en thusiasm, so please come out and swell the chorus. Please bring along any instruments you have to assist Dot Blair at the organ.

* * * *

The library shelves have finally been finished and are waiting to be filled. Dona tions of books and magazines are solicited. Bring a book and take a look at those we have.

* * * *

Lot 148 has been purchased by the Kelsalls who are ex Canadians and own 3 U. S. citizens and are extensive travelers. Hope they put down roots and spend time with us.

* * * *

Edwin and Reeta Dunning of Cortland, N.Y. arrived in our model on January 29th.

* * * *

Marcia and Everett Rupert have left on a lengthy cruise on Marcia's brother's yacht. The plans are to sail to the Virgin Islands. Some people have all the luck, doesn't it sound yummy?

* * * *

Miss Jane Barnette is the proud possessor of a new tri cycle and can be seen on any fine day tooling around the streets.

* * * *

Walt and Tom Wallake from Fitchburg, Mass are spend ing the rest of the winter on Sam Tuckers trailer on lot 131. They are looking forward to seeing their numerous friends again as they were visitors here last year. Del and Sam Tucker are now staying in their mobile home at Venture Out.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roben son and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Holder had dinner and saw the Appaloosa stallions at the West Palm Beach auditorium on Saturday.

Card party was held

JENSEN BEACH — The card party held Thursday, January 27 by the Veterans World War I Auxiliary, was attended by approximately 80 people.

Chairman for the party was Julia Clark, assisted by Ruth Hall.

Door prizes were won by Marcella Deus, Helen Schneider, Opel Gosney, Margie Pine, Marian Hohlstelder and Grace Brownell.

Eleanor Diffendahl and Alma Sholwell were winners of the special prizes.

Julia Clark will hold sewing for the Veterans Hospital on February 6 at 10 a.m. in the Jensen Beach Community Center. Bring your sandwich.

There will be a bake sale on February 13 at the Jensen Beach Bank sponsored by the Auxiliary.

The next regular meeting will be a covered dish and will be held on February 4 at 12 noon in the Community Center. The meeting will be held at the Jensen Beach Community Church following the covered dish.

The Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Dept. Auxiliary will meet Monday, Feb. 5 at 8 p.m. at the fire station.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS TO BE VOTED ON MARCH 14, 1972

NOTICE OF ELECTION

WHEREAS, the Legislature ... [illegible] ... Senate Joint Resolution No. 52-D ... and House Joint Resolution No. 46-D ... proposing amendments to the Constitution of the State of Florida, and may add, delete or repeal certain sections of the Constitution of the State of Florida, all relating to the Judicial Department of the State of Florida; and

WHEREAS, ... [illegible] ... STONE ... Secretary of State of the State of Florida, is required by law to issue notice of said election, and to have published in each county of the State of Florida the said proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Florida ... [illegible] ...

NOW, ... [illegible] ... Senate Joint Resolution No. 52-D ... proposing a ... [illegible] ... of the State of Florida ... [illegible] ... the qualified electors of the State of Florida ... [illegible] ... the Constitution of the State of Florida ... [illegible] ... amendments to the Constitution of the State of Florida ... [illegible] ...

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD STONE, Secretary of State of the State of Florida, do hereby give notice that an election will be held in the State of Florida on the aforesaid proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Florida ... [illegible] ...

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following proposed amendments to Article V of the Constitution of the State of Florida shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the general election to be held in November, 1972, ... [illegible] ... Article V, State Judicial Department, as follows:

ARTICLE V

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

SECTION 1. Courts. The judicial power shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts of appeal, circuit courts and county courts. No other courts may be established by the state, any political subdivision or any municipality except as provided in this section. The following officers may be established by law with the jurisdiction of trial courts which they may deem necessary: county judges, judges of compensation claims, deputy county judges, magistrates, clerks of the circuit and county courts, notaries public and such other officers as may be provided by law with the jurisdiction of trial courts.

SECTION 2. Administration; practice and procedure. The supreme court shall adopt rules for practice and procedure, including the time for seeking appellate review, the relief to be granted pending review, and the stay of proceedings during review, and the transfer of jurisdiction of appeals between courts in order to expedite decisions to the end that justice may be administered without sacrifice of fundamental rights. The supreme court shall have the power to amend rules of practice and procedure which have been adopted prior to the effective date of this article. The supreme court shall have the power to repeal rules of practice and procedure, whether adopted prior or subsequent to the effective date of this article, when they are in conflict with general law. The supreme court shall have the power to amend or repeal rules of practice and procedure adopted by general law. The chief justice may be removed by the governor upon address by two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature. The supreme court shall have the power to discipline any justice or judge of a court, or any member of the bar of this state, for unethical conduct. The supreme court shall have the power to temporarily assign any justice or judge of a court to serve on any court. The supreme court shall have the power to assign justices or judges to preside in any court. The supreme court shall have the power to assign justices or judges to any court when necessary because of the docket. The supreme court shall have the power to assign retired justices or judges who are willing and able to serve, and who are selected according to uniform standards established by the supreme court. The supreme court shall have the power to assign any judge of a circuit court to perform judicial duties in any county.

SECTION 3. Supreme Court. A. ORGANIZATION. The supreme court shall consist of seven justices. Five justices shall constitute a quorum. The concurrence of four justices shall be necessary to decide. When fewer than five justices are qualified to act, the chief justice may assign to the court one or more judges who are qualified and able to act. The chief justice may assign a judge of a district court of appeal to perform judicial duties in this court.

B. CHIEF JUSTICE. The chief justice shall be selected from among those justices who have been members of the supreme court for the preceding two years, by a majority vote of the justices. If there is no such justice qualified and willing to serve as chief justice, the most senior justice qualified and willing to serve shall become chief justice. The chief justice shall preside at sessions of the court and shall perform such administrative duties as the court may delegate to him. The chief justice may be removed as administrative head of the court by a majority vote of the justices. In the absence of the chief justice, the most senior qualified associate justice present at any session shall preside.

C. JURISDICTION. The supreme court shall hear appeals from final judgments of trial courts imposing the death penalty and from decisions of district courts of appeal declaring invalid a state statute or a provision of the state constitution. When provided by general law, it shall hear appeals from final judgments or decisions of trial courts passing upon bonds, mandamus or injunction in matters relating to redistricting or apportionment. When provided by general law, it shall hear appeals from final judgments of trial courts certified by the district courts of appeal to be of great public importance, or that will affect a class of citizens, a class of corporations, or a class of institutions. When provided by general law, it shall hear appeals from decisions of district courts of appeal or trial courts certified by them to be in direct conflict with decisions of other district courts of appeal or of the supreme court on the same question of law. It may review any interlocutory order in cases to be reviewed as provided by rules adopted by the supreme court.

D. DUTY. The supreme court shall issue writs of mandamus, prohibition, habeas corpus, quo warranto, and other writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction, and may issue writs of mandamus, prohibition, habeas corpus, quo warranto, and other writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction to the extent necessary to dispose of an appeal or other cause properly before it. A justice of the supreme court may exercise any of the appellate jurisdiction of the court singly.

E. CLERK'S AND MARSHALL. Each district court of appeal may appoint a clerk and a marshal, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court and perform such duties as the court directs. Their compensation shall be fixed by general law. The marshal shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the state, and in any county may deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

SECTION 4. District Courts of Appeal.

A. ORGANIZATION. There shall be a district court of appeal serving each appellate district. Each district court of appeal shall consist of at least three judges. Three judges shall consider each case and the concurrence of two shall be necessary to a decision.

B. JURISDICTION.

(1) District courts of appeal shall have jurisdiction to hear appeals that may be taken as a matter of right from final judgments or orders of trial courts, including those entered on review of administrative action, not directly appealable to the supreme court or a circuit court. They may review interlocutory orders in such cases to the extent provided by rules adopted by the supreme court.

(2) District courts of appeal shall have the power of direct review of administrative action prescribed by general law.

(3) A district court of appeal or any judge thereof may issue writs of habeas corpus returnable before any circuit judge within the territorial limits of the district. Any district court of appeal may issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto, and other writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction, and may exercise any of the appellate jurisdiction of the circuit courts to the extent necessary to dispose of an appeal or cause properly before it. A district court of appeal may exercise any of the appellate jurisdiction of the circuit courts.

C. CLERKS AND MARSHALS. Each district court of appeal may appoint a clerk and a marshal, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court and perform such duties as the court directs. Their compensation shall be fixed by general law. The marshal shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the territorial jurisdiction of the court, and in any county may deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

SECTION 5. Circuit Courts.

A. ORGANIZATION. There shall be a circuit court serving each judicial circuit.

B. JURISDICTION. The circuit courts shall have original jurisdiction not vested in the county courts, and jurisdiction of appeals when provided by general law. They shall have the power to issue writs of mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition and habeas corpus, and all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their jurisdiction. Jurisdiction of the circuit court shall be uniform throughout the state. They shall have the power of direct review of administrative action prescribed by general law.

SECTION 6. County Courts.

A. ORGANIZATION. There shall be a county court in each county. There shall be two or more judges for each county court as prescribed by general law.

B. JURISDICTION. The county courts shall exercise the jurisdiction prescribed by general law. Such jurisdiction shall be uniform throughout the state.

SECTION 7. Specialized Divisions. All justices and judges of the supreme court may sit in divisions as may be established by general law. A circuit or county court may hold trials and hearings in any place within its territorial jurisdiction at the court's discretion or as provided by the chief judge of the circuit.

SECTION 8. Eligibility. No person shall be eligible for office of justice or judge of any court unless he is an elector of the state and resides in the territorial jurisdiction of his court. No justice or judge shall serve after attaining the age of seventy years except upon temporary assignment or to complete a term of one half of which he has served. No person is eligible for the office of justice of the supreme court or judge of a district court of appeal unless he is a member of the bar of the state and has been for the preceding ten years a member of the bar of Florida. No person is eligible for the office of circuit judge unless he has been for the preceding five years a member of the bar of Florida.

SECTION 9. Determination of number of judges. The supreme court shall establish by rule uniform criteria to determine the need for additional judges except supreme court justices. The necessity for decreasing the number of judges and for increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits shall be subject to review in the same manner as provided for increasing or decreasing the number of judges or increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits. If a vacancy occurs in a newly created judgeship, the governor may appoint any qualified person to serve until the next general election, and if no election is held within one year thereafter, the appointee shall hold office for the remainder of the term. The governor may not make an appointment to any court which will increase the membership of that court to more than one judge for each fifteen thousand residents of the territorial jurisdiction of that court based on the last official census of the United States

Jensen hosts Pinewood Derby on this weekend

JENSEN BEACH Langford Park will be the location for the First Annual Sailfish District Cub Scout Pinewood Derby this weekend. The Stuart Jensen Beach Jaycees are sponsoring the first annual event and all trophies are being donated by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County.

More than 500 persons are expected [illegible] said John Clyde Jaycee Chairman and Cub Scouts should come early because of the large crowd.

Car inspection and judging will take place Friday evening between 7 and 9 at Langford Park Field House. Each car must pass the Jaycee official inspection before it can compete.

The race will take place at Langford basketball court Saturday at 12 noon on a four car track. In case of bad weather the alternative place for the race will be the Jensen Beach Elementary School Auditorium at 12:30 p.m.

After the boys race in age categories of eight nine and ten, Buck Mauldin First Federal officer will present trophies in each category for the best design best exterior and most original.

Doug Rader Houston Astro third baseman and a resident of Sewall's Point, will present the trophies to each age group champion of the race. The three winners will then race for the Sailfish District Grand Champion Trophy. Thomas Fletcher head of the Gulfstream Council will present the trophy to the grand champion winner.

Cub Scout Packs participating in the event will be Packs 801 and 838, Jensen Beach. Packs 822 and 804, Port Salerno, and Packs 830 and 830, Stuart.

Senator Beth is first woman on rules group

TALLAHASSEE Senator Beth Johnson who represents Martin and St. Lucie counties in the Florida Senate has been named to the powerful rules committee of the Senate, it was announced last week.

Senator Beth was appointed to the post by Senate President Jerry Thomas and now serves on the two highest ranking committees, rules and appropriations, in the Senate.

The senator is the first female senator to be named to the rules committee and is the second woman in history to serve on the upper chamber.

"This is the peak of my political career," said Senator Johnson. "I can think of no higher honor."

The second term senator also serves on the regulated industries, and the health, welfare and institutions committees.

The ways and means committee, appropriations, controls all money matters before they go to the Senate for debate and the rules committee establishes the order of business on the senate floor each day.

Local musician's adaption accepted

JENSEN BEACH Retired organist-composer Frederick Christian Mayer of 11903 S. Indian River Drive was not happy with the nine-bar finale to Wagner's "Tannhauser."

The brief finale spoiled the entire opera for Mayer who has written a new one.

Maestro Caesar LaMonaca, conductor of the Miami Municipal Band, has written Mayer that he will include the new adaptation for a "New Finale" to Tannhauser in the Feb. 4 program at Bayfront Park Amphitheater in Miami.

Past 80, Mayer spent a year researching before writing the new ending which is now cast in three editions for chorus with piano or organ, for symphony orchestra and for symphonic band.

"The ending was not what Wagner wanted at all," Mayer says. Wagner's "The Flying Dutchman and Rienzi had been unfavorably received because they were too long. The Rienzi premier had taken six hours.

"The Dresden Royal Opera, which was considering the premier of the new "Tannhauser" was muttering about shortening the score here and there. So the composer did shorten it, against his will." Mayer relates. When it came to the finale, where Wagner intended to use the Pilgrim's Chorus again, he just brought it to an abrupt end in nine measures. And these nine measures are his Finale No. 1, arrived at after three previous experimentations.

"It is the one used today," says Mayer. "In 1963 at Bayreuth, I suddenly realized it sounded as though they were cutting it short in order to bring down the fire curtain or for some other emergency."

Mayer said he gave the Pilgrim's Chorus its full expanse without changing the melody or harmonies. In his finale Wagner had used the women's chorus as an obligato to the melody, getting his finest effects through his high sustained line.

"I had to extend this line, and I added the women's voices to the men's pair of Alleluias making for a final exultant conclusion." Mayer explained. Many musicians like this ending, but so far the San Francisco Symphony is the only major orchestra to use it, according to Mayer. Friday night Maestro LaMonaca will be added to the list.

Mayer now approaching 90, swims a quarter of a mile every day and walks four miles on the beach. He took his first skiing lesson at 80. He was chairmaster and organist at the Cadet Chapel at West Point for 44 years and has written a number of marches and other works for band. At West Point he brought the organ up to 14,000 speaking pipes, so that it is now the largest church organ in the western hemisphere.

Mayer, an expert in designing and inspecting carillons, was the architect for carillons at the House of Parliament in Canada and Louvain University in Belgium.

Since his retirement, he has lived with his son, Robert, at Jensen Beach. He still travels a great deal and tries to get to Europe every other year.

Reg Walker keeps trains going in Jensen home

MASTER SHIPBUILDER... Reg Walker with six beauties.

By ALICE HICKEY

All the railroad strikes in the country won't stop the trains from running in Jensen Beach. Four trains run daily loading and unloading passengers logs livestock and petroleum products.

Retiring after 43 years as purchasing agent with the Pennsylvania Railroad, Reg Walker has continued his lifetime occupation in his two car garage on Melbe Drive. This time there is one exception. Today he is not only the purchasing agent but he is also the engineer brakeman dispatcher switchman and conductor of four trains. He is a railroad magnate in his own right.

"Trains have always fascinated me," said Walker, so in 1954 I bought one of my own and mounted it on a piece of four foot by eight foot plywood.

This was the beginning of what has turned out to be an elaborate set-up which now occupies one half of his large two car garage. His collection has grown through the years to nine locomotives, four trains and all the accessories one could possibly imagine.

The trains and all accessories are operated from one large control panel and the size of the layout now measures six feet by 18 feet.

Walker is proud of his railroad operation and boasts of being able to run four trains simultaneously while mixing a drink for his guests.

Reg Walker and his wife Grace, moved to Jensen Beach from Bloomfield New Jersey in 1958.

Twice retired popular Reg Walker was a familiar sight on Commercial Street for nine years while serving in his capacity as secretary of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

Due to a serious illness Walker was forced to retire from the Chamber office in 1968.

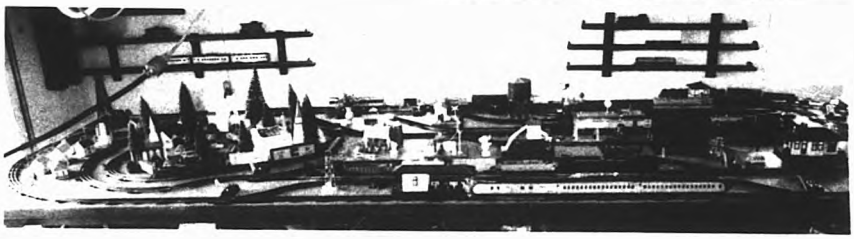
While his activeness was limited considerably during the period of recuperation, Walker embarked on another hobby that of ship building.

To date he has built a total of seven ships. A perfectionist in his work, he spends hour after hour on the intricate assembly of these models. One he completed was the Essex, and as an example of his perfection he has re-worked the rigging on this ship three times, twice with wire, before it was at last completed to his satisfaction with a fine rigging.

Mrs. Walker is as enthusiastic over her husband's interests as he. Although the Walkers have been married over 15 years they remind one of a newly wed couple with their obvious devotion to each other.

A necessary ingredient for a happy retirement or fulfillment Reg Walker has accomplished this.

CHIEF ENGINEER... Reg Walker operates his trains from this control panel.



...And the trains are all on time"

ONE FOR ALL...

Give once, for all. That's the aim of the United Fund, where one gift serves many who need your help. One gift works for all. That's the meaning of the United Fund, where with one gift you help your neighbors, and yourself, too.

Through that one gift, you can comfort the ill, the aged, the needy, the underprivileged. Yours, too, is the honor of providing aid and inspiration to the young, who hold tomorrow in their hands — if you help. Pledge now to give your fair share, the United Way. You'll be rewarded, many times, in manifold benefits to you, your family and community.

Between 65 & 70 of our folks attended the Pot Luck dinner Wednesday evening. Arvel and Dona Conrad and their committee did a wonderful job. There was lots of food of every kind and lots of pies and cakes. Every few minutes they called a number, which they had given everyone when they came in. Also everyone had a card pinned on them with their name written on it and a number. Door prizes were given to about 25 lucky people, mostly gag prizes but everything useful. Some men received earrings and beads while women received ash trays etc., but it turned out to be a delightful evening.

The Merle Conklins had quite a surprize on their 56th Wedding Anniversary last week. Their grandson Gary Conklin and his wife Debbie came from Weston, Ohio to spend the week with them. Thursday was Ruth Conklins 77th birthday also and they were having a patio supper of 15 near neighbors. The big thrill came in the afternoon when their son Roger, his wife Bernice and their granddaughter Kim flew their own plane down from Bowling Green, Ohio to help celebrate. In the evening Roger and Bernice showed slides and lectured on their recent trips. Bernice of the Holy Land where she had gone with a Bible Study Group and Roger of his trip to Alaska with the flying farmers of northern Ohio. These were shown in the recreation hall and the entire park was invited. A large crowd attended and the pictures and lectures were wonderful.

A Federation Meeting of Mobile Home Owners was held in the hall Tuesday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. There were 23 present despite the pouring down rain. The nominating committee, Lowell Foster, Harold Johnson and George Grindley, gave their report and as no one offered any nominations from the floor the new officers will be: President Bud Keefer, Vice President Arvel Conrad and Secretary Ethel Phillips. Mr. Keefer suggested that if we are a resident of Florida please register. Also suggested that since we are residents of St. Lucie County we should get our trailer license at Fort Pierce.

Rotonda defeat urged by county

STUART Letters and telegrams, telephone calls and plane trips were discussed by Martin County Commissioners Tuesday morning in an attempt to smother a move by Rotonda to push through a special taxing district legislation in Tallahassee. Urgency was the key.

Rotonda Conservation District is requesting a special act of the state delegation for permission to drain surplus water, provide roads and among other things, collect taxes in Martin County.

What a beautiful set-up, County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha said. They have the authority to assess a special tax, supposedly for roads, but there's no one there to see if the taxes are used for roads. Everyone is an absentee owner. It gives a precedent that this is assessed by the county, what a racket.

Commissioners have prepared a resolution stating any residential development of Rotonda would be detrimental to the health, welfare and safety of the county that further drainage would have an adverse effect on the resources of the county and state that urbanization would not be in accord with the agricultural zoning of the district, and that the institution of a special taxing district would create a duplication of present taxing powers of District F in the county.

This special act of theirs calls for urban development although the area is zoned agricultural, zoning director Tom Higgins pointed out.

Representatives of the Organized Fishermen of Florida, Martin County Conservation Alliance and Martin County Anglers in addition to the public spoke against the Rotonda request.

Send letters opposing this, Commissioner Bill Owens said. Write to Sen. Beth Johnson and other members of the delegation saying you oppose the bill pertaining to Rotonda.

We should all get on a plane to Tallahassee, said former Commissioner Bill Hussey. George Ewing asked to be included on the flight.

Ed Gluckler urged that the county resolution be telephoned to the delegation immediately.

Sen. Beth Johnson told me yesterday she would not move on Rotonda's request until she heard from the Martin County Commission, Gluckler said. He added that McArthur of Palm Beach County had recently bought one square mile of land adjacent to Rotonda's impoundment basin area for $250,000.

Commissioners approved the resolution and charged Jack Noble, county administrator, with telephoning it over Saturn to the legislators with follow up telegrams. They also approved travel to Tallahassee by a member or members of the board.

County seeks use of St. Joseph College

STUART An attempt to utilize the facilities of St. Joseph College on Jensen Beach will be made by the Martin County Commission, according to County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha Tuesday.

Referring to a letter from the library association, Wacha asked for permission of the commission to confer with St. Joseph College officials to find out what is going to happen and where we may be of assistance in continuing some of the facilities that are there. This pertains to the library itself, he said.

The college recently announced it will close in the spring.

Commissioner Toney Powers suggested contacting state educational programs and Indian River Community College to see if there is any way to possibly expand the Ft. Pierce college in this area.

Commissioner Bill Owens said he has spoken with officials of IRCC and expects to hear from its president Dr. Herman A. Hesse.

Baseball registration continues at Langford

JENSEN BEACH Registration for boys in the Jensen area will continue this Saturday, February 12 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the concession stand of Langford Park.

Boys between the ages of eight and 18 are eligible to play in the baseball league. Boys must not be 17 before August 1 to be eligible to play.

To register, parents must accompany the boy, bringing his birth certificate and a $5 fee to cover registration and insurance for the year.

There will be a meeting of all administrative personnel, managers and coaches of the Jensen and Port Salerno League Tuesday, February 15. The meeting will be held at the Stuart Youth Center on Flagler Street at 7:30 p.m.

Any man interested in coaching a team is invited to attend the meeting. Any business or civic club wishing to sponsor a team is asked to contact Vince Bocchino at 287-2580.

Chamber Festival at Langford

JENSEN BEACH Twenty-eight artists have registered so far for the sixth annual Outdoor Art Festival sponsored by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

The event will be Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 26-27 at Langford Park.

In conjunction with the art festival an art contest is being conducted at Jensen Beach Elementary School. Prizes will be given for the top three posters publicizing the festival, according to Ernie Baker, chairman of the event. Mrs. Sandy Lashbrook is in charge of the poster contest and will arrange for judging. The best posters will be placed in windows of local businesses.

Refreshments will be served by Jensen Cubs on Saturday. They will serve coffee, cold drinks, hot dogs and hamburgers on Sunday starting at noon. The VFW Post 10068, Jensen Beach will have a barbecue at Langford Park.

Applications may be obtained at the Chamber office. Registration fee is $2.00.

The Martin County Health Association will meet Feb. 16 at 12 noon in the conference room at Martin Memorial Hospital, Stuart.

Coordination planned

Jon Chicky heads cleanup

JENSEN BEACH The appeals of three young people did not go unheeded Monday night as the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce agreed to coordinate a community wide cleanup in Jensen Beach

The action followed an announcement by the Rio Civic Club of a cleanup of that community s streets and highways this weekend

Three members of the Junior High section of Jensen Beach Community Church appeared before the board of directors of the Jensen Beach Chamber at their regular meeting asking that they be helped in the monumental job of cleanup of Jensen Beach They described their effort on South Savanna Road recently and said that someone should coordinate all clubs and organizations in the area in making Jensen Beach a better place in which to live

Jon Chicky who is spearheading the community govetrnment study for the Chamber this year was named chairman of the cleanup drive by President David Deci Chamber secretary Kathy Van Dien was named vice chairman of the cleanup campaign

The effort will be tied to the recycling program of aluminum cans in the county with all trash picked up in the cleanup separated for the recycling program and proceeds from the can sale being donated to beautification projects

Chicky said he would begin the effort as soon as he was able to contact the area captains have not yet come in to UF Treasurer Kathleen Spencer

POST OFFICE CLOSED MONDAY

JENSEN BEACH The Jensen Beach Post Office will be closed on Monday Feb 21 in observance of George Washington s birth day

Washington s birthday is on the 22nd

Youth experience led to campaign

JENSEN BEACH Twelve members of the Jensen Beach Community Church junior high youth group walked down South Savanna Road beginning south of the Jensen Beach Elementary school on state If took them two hours to walk less than a mile

Plastic bags filled with litter [illegible] than they expected and they were only able to get as far south as Tropical Acres Mobile Home Park on the afternoon cleanup campaign

The result of their trek brought them to The Mirror office with a plea for a continuation of the cleanup campaign

You must talk to these young people said Angie Johnson advisor to the group and wife of the church minister who talked of their concern after their Sunday afternoon experience in South Savanna Road

The two representatives of the youth group were Sally Bricker and Mike Phillips [illegible] were joined by Miss Maddie Stuart 6th grade

The group filled the church truck with garbage bags filled with litter and Sally Wells said everything paper cans bottles tires a muffler and even a typewriter [illegible]

Beach beer cans were the main item and there were broken liquor bottles in paper sacks lunch sacks old bills and notes with the names of people on them

People slowed their cars as they went by and some called out congratulating us for cleaning up Mike yelled Come on in here in a drunk [illegible] and some thought the car stopped and the people had a container of cold water and gave us a drink

Mike grinned saying Now they were treasure

Mrs Johnson said that it would take years to clean up the area and the youth group wanted to see if there was anything that might be done to get everyone to clean up the area

The young people agreed to ask the Chamber of Commerce to coordinate a continuous wide drive to clean up Jensen Beach

As for the rubbish and other items along the road the youth group plans to make a monument of the trash placing it on the garden area of the church and one is to let the members of the church know what a problem

Sally said that she watched the roadside after the cleanup looking from her school bus window each day to those days the litter from passing motorists began to [illegible]

The [illegible] of the [illegible] Sally said There is a lot of litter but it isn t there

Parking problems in Chamber study

JENSEN BEACH Parking and traffic on Commercial Street will be the subject of study and action by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce in the near future Past President Don Wilkie has been named to head a committee seeking an answer to the snarled traffic problem and attendant parking problems in the community downtown area

The appointment of the task force study followed complaints by President David Deci on parking in downtown Deci said he felt that the traffic danger would be lessened by removal of parking from Commercial Street, which he called "chaotic"

"If the merchants won't do anything then the state will Deci said referring to the threat of removing Commercial Street parking by Department of Transportation district engineer Arnold Ramon last year

Wilkie said that there were two answers to the problem widening Commercial Street and making a new railroad crossing at Sunrise into Ricou Blvd and extending the road to South Savanna Road for westbound traffic thus making Commercial Street one-way east

The chairman said he would contact the Florida East Coast Railroad and the county about the traffic solution

Timmerman-Hovland vows exchanged

JENSEN BEACH — The marriage of Miss Shirley Ann Hovland and Dale Allen Timmerman took place February 3 at First Baptist Church of Jensen Beach. The Rev. Richard Womack officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wesley Hunter, 763 Alfonso Blvd., Port St. Lucie. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Timmerman of Palm Lake Park are the groom's parents.

For her wedding the bride chose a mint green semi-formal silk brocade dress with matching coat. Her corsage was an orchid. Mrs. Kay Crook, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. James Crook, the bride's uncle, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hunter chose a pink knit ensemble with white accessories. She wore a carnation corsage. The groom's mother chose a green dress with matching accessories and a carnation corsage.

Serving at the reception at which cake and other refreshments were served were sisters of the groom, Janet Joyce, Carol and Lee Ann Timmerman. Mr. and Mrs. Wes Hunter hosted a dinner for the wedding party at Crow's Nest immediately after the ceremony.

For her wedding trip to Silver Springs, the new Mrs. Timmerman wore a light blue suit. The newlyweds will live at 505 San Jose Stuart.

The couple attended Martin County High School. Both are employed locally.

Out-of-town guests included the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reed of Burlington, Iowa. Local guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Walters, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Bonnie McMillion and son, Michael; Mrs. Dorothy Hunter, Wesley Hunter, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walters and daughter Nicki; the James Crooks and daughters, Sherri and Traci; Miss Roger Ingram; Mrs. Frank Torino; Mrs. Ray Linsell; Miss Kathy Spry; Mr. and Mrs. Al Gravatt; Larry Heenan; Miss Kathy Spry and sisters of the groom, Janet Joyce, Carol and Lee Ann Timmerman.

Hospital Ball theme is 'April in Paris'

STUART– Patricia Murphy, West Palm Beach, will again provide decorations for the Martin Memorial Hospital Ball, and has announced this year's decor will be designed around the theme, "April in Paris."

The ball will be held April 15 at the St. Lucie Country Club Convention Hall. Harmon Glascock and Mrs. Judy Carroll are co-chairmen.

Miss Murphy said she is keeping the decorations a surprise for the gala annual affair. She has handled the decorations for the past seven years.

Mrs. Carroll is coordinating the committee of fund raisers for the ball, and plans to announce a reservations chairman next week.

Venture Out opens new pool

JENSEN BEACH: A new [illegible] swimming pool was opened at Venture Out on Sunday, Feb. 13. A splash party attended by 180 [illegible] residents and guests opened the new recreational facility.

The [illegible]-foot pool is surrounded by a patio and [illegible] ground. The pool is heated for the comfort of [illegible] residents.

[illegible] Keller, assistant vice-president of Venture Out and Dee Smith, social director, took part in the ribbon cutting ceremony. Groups posed for pictures in modern and old-fashioned bathing suits and refreshments were served in the club house.

A Hawaiian Luau is planned for sometime in March. Anyone wishing to help on the committee is asked to contact Dee Smith.

VALENTINE DANCE: Betty Jones and Dick Tener enjoyed dancing to the music during the Valentine party at Venture Out last Saturday evening.

LAST ONE IS A: Everybody above looks as if he is waiting for the other fellow to get his feet wet first. This shot of the new Venture Out pool shows Selma Valaro and Ida Hausman with friends at poolside.

TWENTY-THREE SKIDOO: Something new has been added to poolside. Above, dressed in the latest garb are Dot Gerard, Selma Valaro, Jake and Betty Davis.

EVERYBODY IN: Everybody was invited into the new pool at Venture Out on Sunday. Many residents turned out to enjoy the warm water and sun.

Venture Out news

The pot luck dinner last week was a great success with 54 attending. Eileen and Bill Hunter entertained with music on their electric guitars. Lawrence Hamrick from Webbersville, Mich. led group singing. The Monday night dinners are becoming a hit.

Exercise classes are starting at the club house and will be held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 10 a.m. Both men and women are welcome to join the class.

Arts and craft classes will be conducted in the club house starting Thursday, Feb. 24 at 1 p.m. All are invited to come out.

WELCOME NEIGHBORS: Dee and Al Norman on Lot V-9 are from Stuart and spend most of their time at the park. Betty and John Markey, V-8, hail from Hialeah and plan to spend a lot of time here. Mate and Bill Greuling, V-10, are from Mt. Clemens, Mich. and expect to spend the winter here. Also, Mildred and Bill Middleton from Schenectady, N.Y. are staying on for V-115. Bill is now retired, looking for a place to settle down and Venture Out looks good to them.

Emerson Hip, Beau Lot V-96, just returned from a week with his daughter and son-in-law in Charleston, S.C. He was glad to get back to the warm weather.

It was good news to hear that Howie Homer had the cast removed from his leg last week. Pat reports that everything is fine.

Mrs. Libel Donovan from Washington, D.C. has been visiting with Fran and Dick Tener for the past two weeks.

Three tables played bridge and one played other card games last Tuesday. Come out and join the group. There are bridge classes and lessons for beginners each Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the club house.

A record breaking crowd showed up for Bingo Wednesday night with 80 attending the games. Special prize, a bottle of champagne was won by Ernest Hammel. The only double winner was G. E. Vetterli, Lot 30, Holidays Out. Final count all was won by Mrs. Pretha Trumbull, $13.00, Lot 42, Holidays Out. No one won the grand prize as yet as the lucky number is 38 for this week. Anyone covering a card during the first 38 numbers called will win the Hawaiian surf board.

Art and Alice Bauman from Harrington Park, N.J. are back to stay with us. We are glad to see the home open once again.

Clara and Stanley Tomasky have been entertaining their daughter and husband, Rita Anne and George Pas, with two grandchildren, Janet Marie and George Jr. While here they are enjoying the ocean and pool during their three weeks stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Huppert and Minnie Kilby from Michigan visited with Marie and Bill Greuling, Lot V-10, last week.

Catherine and Hank Higgins visited their relatives in Hialeah last Friday to celebrate Hank's birthday. Best wishes, Hank.

Best wishes to the twins Susanne and David Silverstein of Millburn, N.J. grandchildren of shuffleboard master John Carle. The twins celebrated their first birthday Feb. 2. Happy birthday.

Our friendly cat of Walnut Rd. has become a mother. Five kittens were born last week and it hadn't been for Bill fostering they may have all perished during the heavy rain storm. Anyone looking for a pet cat stop in at Bill's to see them.

Herman Hintz has returned from Martin Memorial Hospital and is recuperating from an operation. Glad to see you around again. Also we were sorry to hear about Kay and Bob Smithe's illness. Happy to see them back home again.

Dot and Sam Tucker graduated from the coast guard auxiliary boating class last Friday. They don't consider themselves experts but know much more than they did previous to the course. Good luck on the water.

Last week Jerry and Ron Rumph had a patio party despite the weather. In addition to other goodies each one cooked filled biscuits over the hot coals. Enjoying the fun were Betty and Mack O'Donnell, Edna and George Mason, Win and Tom Widlake, Dot and Sam Tucker, Mary and Stanley Birkbeck and Mildred and Mac McDowell.

The Valentine's Day party Saturday was a big success and the committees did a wonderful job. Name cards were given to the 78 guests making it easy to know everyone. Three judges selected the two best Valentines and that wasn't easy and the winners received boxes of candy. Betty Jones won first prize and Dot Gerard's mother, Mrs. Selma Bartlett from Dallas, Tex. won second prize. The door prize, a sewing tray, was won by little Miss Hagen and her mother, Maureen Hagen of Lot V-34.

SOCIAL HOUR: Residents of Venture Out enjoyed a Valentine party last Saturday at the club house. Prizes were awarded for the best Valentines submitted, and a door prize for the lucky date during the buffet dinner. Above, Harry Hausman, Dee Smith, Venture Out social director, and Jill King enjoy some friendly conversation during the social hour.

Legion Auxiliary makes donations

JENSEN BEACH - At the Monday meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 126, $50 was donated to the Jensen Beach Rio United Fund, and $10 to the Jensen Beach Fire Department.

Other donations announced at the meeting included $150 each to three crippled children's hospitals, $36 for rehabilitation, $25 for National Child Welfare Foundation. The Auxiliary also donated to CARE, Four Chaplains Fund, and the Radio Free Europe Foundation.

There were 17 members and one guest present at the meeting. Mrs. Adele Weil from St. Louis, Mo. was the guest, and two new members, Zona Solsmon and Ruth Nethery were received.

After the regular meeting, initiation was held for new members and some old who had never been initiated. Those initiated were Gertrude Buckel, Shirley De Fondas, Michel DeFondas, Zona Salsmon, Ruth Nethery, and Diana Stole. Lorraine Middleton headed the initiation team. Assisting were Emma Snyder, Emma McCue, Margaret Morgan, Dorothy Grimm, and Helga Spetz.

There will be a flag burning ceremony at the next meeting on February 28.

A dessert card party will be held Thursday, February 23 at 1 p.m. at the Legion Hall. For reservations call Diana Stole, 287-3223. The public is invited.

Mrs. Constance M. Bruzdoski will celebrate her birthday on Saturday, Feb. 19.

Adults offered anthropology

STUART - A course in anthropology started Tuesday, February 15 at Martin County High School. Adults may still register for the course at the next class next Tuesday night.

The class will attempt to study man from his earliest origins to the present time. It is sponsored by the Adult Education Department, Martin County Public Schools.

Three phases of anthropology will be explored: physical and cultural anthropology and archeology.

Adults may register Monday through Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. at Martin County High School. For additional information, call 287-6400.

Commission will hear beach report

STUART - The Martin County Commission will hear the results of the state study at Hutchinson and Jupiter Island foreshores during the week of March 13, according to Coastal Commission chairman Frank Wacha.

Wacha said that he was notified of the date by William Sensabaugh of the State Department of Natural Resources engineer on the study.

The construction setback line of the dunes was done by the DNR with the assistance of Dr. James A. Nelson, associate professor of the Coastal and Engineering Department of the University of Florida.

Martin County was the first in the state to request the study after the 1970 session adopted legislation which will result in the studies on all of the state's 1,200 miles of beaches, it is hoped.

Wacha indicated Saturday no new building permits would be issued even under variances on dunes structures until after public hearings point the way to future county policy.

Dr. Turfura expected two local public hearings on the study.

LADY GOLFERS PLAY LOW SET

STUART - Tuesday's play for the Martin County Ladies Golf Association was low net, 18 holes, with Joan Wright winner of first flight with a 69.

Other winners by flight were: 2nd, Chris Potthoff, 74; 3rd, Adele Sarro, 75; 4th, Agnes Jones, 74; 5th, Marion Kelleher, 73; 6th, Kay Larson, 73; 7th, Isabelle McPherson, 77.

Tied for low putts at 30 were Mary Hoover and Ruth Weigand.

CHOIR CONCERT AT TRINITY METHODIST

JENSEN BEACH - The East Stuart Choir under the direction of Jay Thompson, will present a concert at Trinity United Methodist Church, Arch St. on Sunday, Feb. 20.

The concert, open to all, starts at 7:30 p.m.

The Naomi Circle will meet Monday, Feb. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Robert Benton and Mrs. George Schriver are hostesses.

NAME TAGS: Helen Williams filled out the name tags for guests entering the Venture Out Valentine party Saturday night at the club house. Seventy-eight guests attended the party which included a buffet dinner and dancing.

County schools celebrate Vocational Education Week

STUART - Martin County Schools are celebrating Vocational Education Week February 13 through 19 and many of the students are participating in various vocational training classes will be telling about it on the radio this week.

Vocational courses offered at the school include: Work Experience programs, grades 9-10; Vocational Business Education, grade 12; Distributive Education, grade 12; Diversified Cooperative Training, grades 11-12; Electronics Radio Tv program, grades 10-12; Auto Mechanics, grades 10-12; Basic Electricity, grade 9; Small Engine repair, grade 9; World of Construction, grade 7; World of Manufacturing, grade 8; carpentry, grades 10-12; and home economics, grades 7-12.

In addition to these programs the schools offer training in related vocational courses including general shop typing, accounting, business organization, clerical records, mechanical drawing, shorthand, business law, key punch and business math.

SCHOOL FASHION SHOW WILL BE WEDNESDAY

STUART - Miss Jeanne Sprott will be commentator at the fashion show to be held at Martin County High School on Wednesday, Feb. 23. The show will be from 7 to 9 p.m. in the new social studies wing of the school on SR 76.

Fashions will be modeled by students of the sewing class with Mrs. Charlotte Buck, teacher. The show is sponsored by the Future Homemakers of America.

Robert Wallace heads SLR Power Squadron

STUART Robert E. Wallace who has served as Education Officer of the St. Lucie River Power Squadron since its inception in 1970, was elected Commander at the annual meeting of the group held at Holiday Inn last Thursday evening. He succeeds Charles E. Burtoft, whose term expired with the session.

Others elected to join Wallace in the new administration or bridge as it is termed by Power Squadrons are Lt. Cdr. William B. McChesney, Executive Officer; Lt. Cdr. Floyd L. Genter, Administrative Officer and David D. Burton, who continues as Secretary.

Fred W. Marquardt, treasurer who had been nominated for reelection, withdrew from the slate for health reasons. William McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee was designated to fill the position, pending election of a successor. By appointment of the Commander, William H. Craig will be assistant secretary with Ros E. Bishop filling the post of assistant treasurer.

Induction ceremonies for the new bridge will take place at a dinner dance to be held at the St. Lucie County Club Convention Hall on Thursday evening, March 9 with officials of the United States Power Squadrons, District Eight as Installing Officers.

In the educational portion of the meeting, Commander James Scott of Miami, Chief of Boating Safety, District Seven, U.S. Coast Guard described features of the 1972 Federal Safe Boating Act.

ART WINNERS- Three posters were awarded ribbons in the Jensen Beach Elementary School competition for art festival posters. Holding the signs are Ernie Baker, art festival chairman; Ginny Van Dyne, and Don Wilkie, who are assisting in the festival. The winners were Suzanne Loveday, fifth grade; Robin Poux, second grade; and Karen Dickerson, first grade. Winning posters are on display at Jensen Beach Bank. The sixth annual Outdoor Art Festival sponsored by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce will be Feb. 26-27 at Langford Park. All artists are eligible to enter, and entry blanks may be obtained at the Chamber office. Registration fee is $2.00.

NICE CATCH- Paul Albert of 426 Rinemar Drive had no complaints about the fishing last week as is evidenced by his nice 12-pound snook. Albert's only comment was that it was caught somewhere in the North Fork of the St. Lucie River.

'Everyman' is planned Sunday by youth group

JENSEN BEACH - The Jensen Beach Senior High Youth Group will present the 14th century morality play, Everyman, at the Jensen Beach Community Church on Sunday, February 20 at 7:30 p.m.

The drama deals almost exclusively with the character Everyman who is summoned by Death to make his reckoning before God. Everyman, who is totally unprepared for such a reckoning, hurriedly seeks out his friends, relatives and riches only to find them unwilling to help. Even his strength, discretion, five wits, beauty and knowledge forsake him at last. The only true friend Everyman possesses is his Good Deeds who, because of Everyman's weakness, is unable to walk or even move.

Everyman carries a strong morality tag which is given by the Doctor at the end of the play and best summed up by Everyman's line, "O Death you come when I had you least in mind."

The Community Church is located at 496 NE Dixie. It will sponsor an after performance discussion with the cast and their parents.

DEATHS

RUTH ISABELLE MEANS

STUART - Mrs. Ruth Isabelle Means, 71, of 2000 E. Ocean Blvd. died Thursday, Feb. 10 at Martin Memorial Hospital. She was a native of Missouri coming here with her family in 1957.

She is survived by her husband Harry H. Means; two sons, Jensen Beach, and Donald E. Ellis of Arlington, Tex.; a brother H. L. Hays and a sister Mrs. Mabel Jaeger, both of Jensen Beach; two granddaughters; two grandsons and one great grandson.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 1 p.m. at Johns Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Donald E. Johnson, pastor of Jensen Beach Community Church officiating. Burial was in Fern Hill Cemetery.

WILLIAM E. BANKER

PORT ST. LUCIE - William E. Banker, 63, of 214 Rattle Lane died Sunday at Port Pierce Memorial Hospital. He had lived in Port St. Lucie three months moving here from Dayton, Ohio.

He was a member of the West Carrollton Memorial United Methodist Church in Ohio, of the Mystic Lodge 626 F&AM in Dayton, the Scottish Rite Bodies in Dayton, the Antioch Temple in Dayton and the Dayton Power Squadron.

Survivors include his wife Dorothy H. and a sister.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Yates Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. P. Dean Brown officiating. Further funeral services will be held in West Carrollton. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery in West Carrollton.

ETHEL MITCHELL JENSEN BEACH - Mrs. Ethel Marguerite Mitchell, 82, of Sewall's Point, died Monday, February 14 at Martin Memorial Hospital.

She was born in N.Y. and moved to this area in 1952 from Glenda Falls, N.Y.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Stuart, the Woman's Club of Stuart, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Order of Eastern Star and a graduate of Fort Edwards Collegiate Institute and Bennett Junior College.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, February 17 tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Aycock Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Clinton C. Marlow of the First Baptist Church officiating.

Interment will be in Fern Hill Cemetery. Friends may call today, Wednesday, from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Aycock Funeral Home.

He is promoting the Jensen's suits that will be on sale this Saturday and Sunday.

Nuclear plant asks cooling structures

FORT PIERCE, Florida - Power and Light Company has asked for a permit to construct intake and discharge structures for the new nuclear power plant being constructed on Hutchinson Island.

The application for a permit was made to the U.S. Corps of Engineers and will provide for pipes that will take water from the ocean for cooling and return the heated water to the ocean.

The pipes, 12 feet under the beach, will extend from canals out 1,200 feet into the ocean.

Comments on the structures will be received at the office of the Corps of Engineers in Jacksonville until March 13.

Installation of the structures will not permit use which would require another permit.

$15,731 is walked

PORT ST. LUCIE - Total pledges for the annual Walk for the March of Dimes have amounted to $15,731.83 according to Mrs. Robert Post, Walk A Thon Chairman of Port St. Lucie.

Thirteen hundred and fifty walkers turned out in 40 degree weather to walk the 20 miles along with local dignitaries. It is estimated that approximately 80 per cent of the walkers finished the 20-mile walk.

Choice ranges wide

Legislators name fifteen to charter commission

BY DICK CAMPBELL

TALLAHASSEE - The future of governmental reorganization and the elimination of duplication in government will be in the hands of a wide ranging commission of fifteen Martin County residents named last weekend by the county's legislative delegation.

There are no elected officials in the list of fifteen and the names run the gauntlet of social and civic postures that represent all segments of the population.

The commission appointments include:

Walter Criswell executive vice president of Dickerson Inc. a road building firm, a member of the planning board and active Resources Board director.

Ransum Tilton pioneer real estate operator, a director on the Resources Board.

Jack Robinson manager of Indiantown Company, a director on the Resources Board, civic leader.

Roscoe Phillbrick retired real estate civic leader, a director of the Resources Board, political leader.

Thelma Gartland manager of Hobe Grove, a member of the Resources Board active in agriculture circles.

Felix Williams coordinator of exceptional child education and special services for Martin County Schools, leading moderate spokesman for the black community in the county, civil leader.

Margaret Hurchalla conservationist, active in project to reserve Sailfish Point for the public.

Harold Dutcher, president of Hutchinson Island Property Owners Association, developer.

Dollie Miller, guidance counselor at Jensen Beach Elementary school.

Jean Hupfel, civic and social leader active in politics and communists services.

James Littman, attorney, associated right wing views, active political leader, scout leader.

J.W. Hussey, former county commissioner retired federal lawyer, conservationist.

Louis Bergen, retired, member county water management board, conservationist, former oil refining executive.

John McQuigg, well known conservationist, former oil refining executive.

William Taylor, Indian River farmer, member of the county board of adjustment.

The list was announced by Sen. Beth Johnson last Friday, with the selection being made by the Martin County legislative delegation.

Sen. Johnson, who presided, was well pleased and made the announcement at the regularly scheduled legislative luncheon meeting in Tallahassee.

The group will have eighteen months in which to complete the study of governmental reorganization and consolidation. Then the issue is voted on by the citizens in a referendum election.

PROUD WINNERS-Proud winners of the Valentine contest, sponsored by the Port St. Lucie Junior Woman's Club, were Ben Race, prettiest, age 4; Donald Snyder, most original, 5; Pattie Logel, most original, age 7; Aimee Rowell, prettiest, 5; George Edward Whitley, most original, 6, and Elizabeth Klein, prettiest, age 7.

INTERESTED ANGLERS—A crowd of 254 Martin County Anglers Club members and friends crowded the second floor meeting room at First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Jensen Beach last Monday night to take part in the kickoff membership drive for 1,000 members. The drive will continue through February, according to George and Elsie Decker, membership chairmen. So far about 500 men and women have joined the club. Anyone wishing to become a member can send a check for $2.00 annual dues with name, address and telephone number to P.O. Box 1142, Stuart.

AMBULANCE RUNS

JENSEN BEACH. The Jensen Beach Samaritans have had a busy time recently.

On Feb. 7 O.H. Haines was taken from Third Court to Martin Memorial Hospital by Peterman and Dema, driver and attendant for the Samaritans. The next day Martha Heimig of Hilltop Court was taken to the hospital by Hudek and Theobald.

Others taken to Martin Memorial included Jeffry Coleman of Crown Rd. by Redit, Stephenson, Goodwin; Clifford Stoddard, North St. by Bentsen and Dixon; Michael Herzog, Rte. 707 and C Rowe; Anne Ternyen from Lockwood Motel to hospital by M. and E. Oliver and McComb; Nancy Wright, Skyline Drive, by Oliver and McComb, and Mr. Faber of 154 Rustic Ave. by Peterman and Dema.

REGISTRATION—Jim Driscoll and Walt Peterson sign up Larry Hostetter and Dave Duffy on Saturday at the field house at Langford Park. Ninety-seven boys between the ages of 8 and 16 have signed for the coming baseball season.

ORGAN CONCERT. An organ concert will be presented at All Saints' Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, on Sunday, February 23, at 3 p.m. Organist is Gene Hammes of Chattanooga, Tenn., who played recitals under the sponsorship of the American Guild of Organists throughout the South at age 17. He has appeared in recitals in New York and the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C., and has been guest artist with symphony orchestras. There is no admission charge or Sunday's concert, and the public is invited.

Boom brings decision

People make Mirrorland the wonder-living place

By DICK CAMPBELL

It's wonderful living here in Mirrorland. The people of Jensen Beach and Port St. Lucie have found it so, and that's what encouraged them to make their move to the land of sunshine plenty and the ease of life that is found here.

As we have prepared this, our fourth annual Mirror Mail-Away edition, we kept this in mind, and rather than deal in the various objects of the area, however beautiful they may be, we have dedicated this edition to the people of the area.

They are beautiful people, and have given the area a character that is the envy of other areas.

Ours is a vibrant community, intent upon making the lives of the residents full and active. A significant youth activities program, coordinated through the Port St. Lucie Optimist Club and the Port St. Lucie Recreation Department, is one that is supported in free enterprise by residents.

The same is true of the Jensen Beach youth activities program coordinated at Langford Park by the Jensen Beach Cubs. Complete programs throughout the year bring an enviable program to the youth, a program that keeps them busy, competitive and enriched.

But the area is not just for the young. Everyone has an opportunity to get into the act by taking part in some of the organized clubs that abound, be they civic, church or social. And all have something for someone.

Mirrorland is people, wonderful people helping each other, taking part in what is to build a future for their lives.

The rapid growth of the area has brought the people to a crossroads of decision. That decision is, should the area be left to grow or should it grow in planning. Should the area seek and encourage mass migration of population or should it be limited in population to the limits of families that can live together comfortably.

The people seem to take the latter course in population density, seeking to limit growth to that which is comfortable to its existance. And that growth it seems must be planned growth.

This is evident in the master planning concept of Port St. Lucie and is further evident in the present master planning of Martin County, and the continual studies of Jensen Beach in forms of government and their related effects upon living.

So, this issue is about people, people selected at random to represent the many facets of today in the area. They come from many and varied backgrounds, and all have some genius to offer the world that is Jensen Beach and Port St. Lucie.

Welcome to the land of decision, where people love living, and make the most of their lives.

Outdoor sports are enjoyed year around by residents

JENSEN BEACH Under Florida's famous sun, outdoor sports are enjoyed year round by residents of Mirrorland in Jensen Beach and Port St. Lucie.

Health-giving fun in the sun is part of the Florida way of life as residents take to the water to swim, fish, or cruise or spend leisure hours on the golf course, tennis court or go hunting or camping.

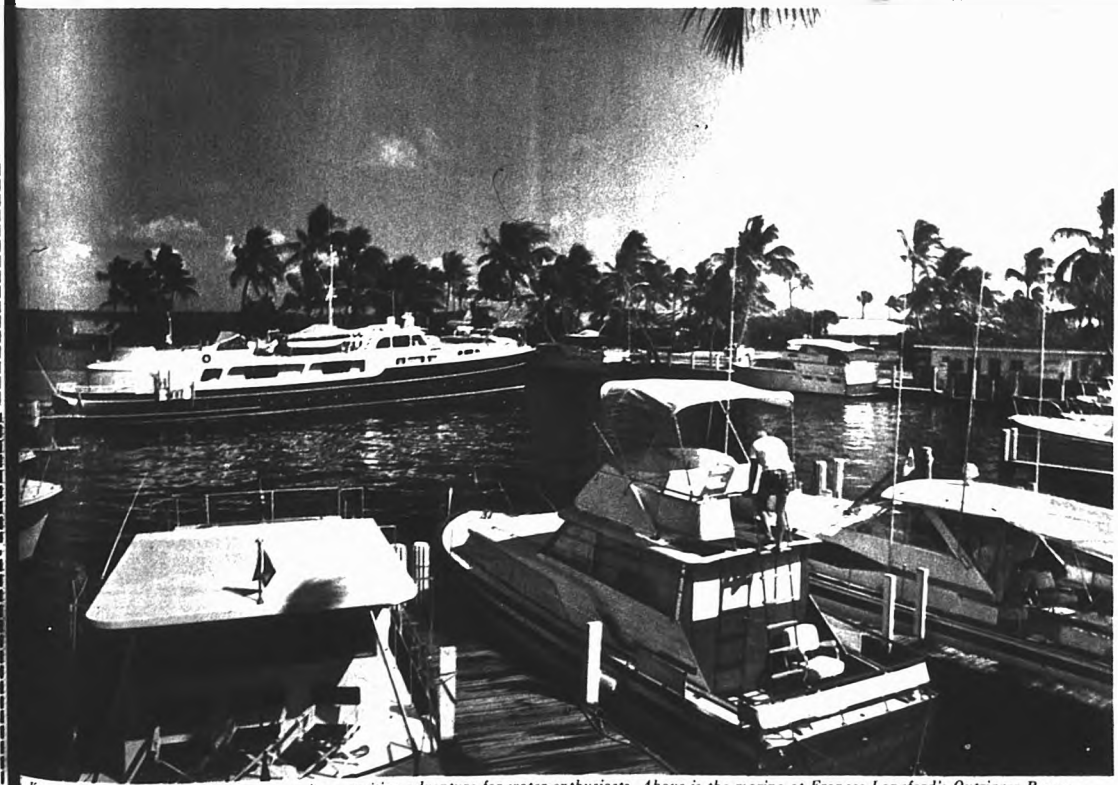
The fishing is great. The warm Atlantic is where saltwater enthusiasts take king-sized tarpon, permit, snook, tuna, bonito, jack crevalle, sheepshead and pompano. Dolphin and prize sailfish wait in the famous azure Atlantic Gulfstream.

Freshwater fishing from the many lakes, streams and waterways of the area includes a wide variety of bass, perch and bream. Nearby rivers, bays, inlets and natural waterways provide the boater and fisherman with endless possibilities.

Hunters will find that bird and game abound in virtually unbroken land within easy driving distance. Deer, wild pigs, turkey, quail, duck and doves provide an exciting challenge.

Camping and hiking and picnicking facilities are located in and near all the communities.

The nautical entrance to Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant.



Known as the 'land of waters', our area is an exciting adventure for water enthusiasts. Above is the marina at Frances Langford's Outrigger Resort

GATEWORK. Men from the Central and South Florida Flood Control District worked this week on the gates of C-24 canal in the City of Port St. Lucie. The upper reaches of the canal are becoming more and more popular to local fishermen.

WE GOT HIM! Fishermen find the north fork of the St. Lucie River a paradise for tarpon, snook, bass and many other varieties. Tropical mangroves along the river's edge provide any sportsman with an exciting day.

Anglers Club starts Good Neighbors policy

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Anglers Club had a banner year in 1971 with activities and programs being expanded and a good neighbor policy being arranged.

The Good Neighbor policy was held in conjunction with the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club, whereby the Anglers Club's fishing clinics were co-sponsored by the Yacht Club.

The Anglers Auction was the biggest in the history of the club, and the two senior fishing tournaments were well represented with prize winners receiving many awards. The Junior contest was also well represented by many entries.

Republicans honor Lincoln; raise money for CESA

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Republican Club of Port St. Lucie began its activities of the 1971 year with a Lincoln Day dinner in Stuart. Don Reed, Minority Leader of the Florida House of Representatives, was the guest speaker. The club followed this dinner with a May 6 bake sale, raising $125.40 for CESA.

Again joining in the fund-raising for CESA, the club manned the fish pond at the Port St. Lucie Fourth of July celebration.

The club meets on the first Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. at the Port St. Lucie Marina. Refreshments and a social hour precede the business meeting.

In place of the regular meeting on December 2, the club enjoyed a Christmas luncheon at St. Lucie Country Club.

The Republicans heard many fine speakers during the year, among them: Miles Heckendorn, Civitan Child Training Center; N. Monroe Youth Hall director; Herman Heise, president of Indian River Community College; James Brooks, St. Lucie County Supervisor of Elections; F.G. Enns, St. Lucie County Commissioner; J. McCarty, Social Security Administration; and Edward Bedell, District Supervisor of Florida Probation and Parole Commission.

Flag burning is this Monday

JENSEN BEACH—The annual flag burning ceremony, sponsored by the American Legion, will be held Monday, Feb. 28 at the Legion Hall. Those with old or worn-out flags may bring them to the Legion hall and they will be disposed of properly.

After the ceremony, there will be a horn of plenty. The public is invited to the ceremony and the horn of plenty.

Great hobby

Ceramics can fill gap in your spare time

By DENNIS DOYLE

PORT ST. LUCIE—If you are in the market for a new hobby to fill a gap in your spare time and need something that won't take a lot of time, think about ceramics.

Mrs. Shirley Hunter of Port St. Lucie did twelve years ago and is still going strong in her hobby.

"Ceramics is fascinating once you get started," remarked Mrs. Hunter. "The advantage of ceramics is you can work on it in stages without sitting down starting and finishing to the end.

"I first started with small things, like glazing ash trays, but then decided to specialize in the Bisque process because it was easier than glazing," said Mrs. Hunter.

The Bisque process Mrs. Hunter uses is just one phase of ceramics and is entirely different from the glazing finish.

"I like working with the Bisque finish because it goes through all the phases as in glazing-pouring the mold, cleaning the figure and firing. But instead of painting and rebaking it to get the sheen I just paint and spray it with a colorless sheen spray that gives it a dull finish," she explained.

In the first step of ceramics the liquid clay is poured into a plaster mold and set for twenty minutes. When the mold is removed the figure will be firm but wet and should set to dry for at least 24 hours, depending on its size.

At this point the cleaning of the figure must be done.

"One of the keys to ceramics is the cleaning," advises Mrs. Hunter. "My biggest complaint is the figures I see in the stores that haven't been cleaned properly. The edges are still left where the mold pieces went together. That leaves a ridge," she said adding all the cleaning and scraping must be done before the figure goes into the kiln to be fired. The object should be scraped and sanded with a fine sand paper. Then a damp sponge should be used to moisten the whole object.

"This way you can be sure that all the lines are gone. If you're good with your cleaning and take great pains with your painting you'll have a real nice piece of art that will look very expensive."

After the figure is cleaned it goes into the kiln oven to be "fired." The kiln is round and opens at the top. The pieces are placed inside. The figure is fired four hours with the first hour on low temperature, the second on medium and the third and fourth on high. During the last two hours the kiln reaches a temperature of 1,944 degrees and shuts itself off automatically after the fourth hour.

"Ceramics is something very personal. It gives you a creative feeling and the figures make ideal gifts," said Mrs. Hunter.

Referring to the cost of ceramics, Mrs. Hunter said it costs a third or less of what the piece would cost in a store. "But," she added, "Ceramics can be costly if you don't watch it."

Mrs. Hunter recommends beginners take lessons through a ceramics shop, urging that they feel free to ask questions. "Don't be afraid to tackle anything big because with help you can do it," she advises.

Most of the ceramic shops start with the glazing process. Mrs. Hunter went to the Bisque process because she said she found it easier.

"I'm a perfectionist and I get what I want with the dull wood finish in the Bisque method," she said.

Mrs. Hunter is an active person and is on the go as much as her time will allow. She moved to Martin County ten years ago, two years after starting ceramics.

While living in Martin County she worked with the Girl Scouts, helped train candidates for the Jaycee Miss Martin County beauty contest and did volunteer work in the schools for "good grooming classes." Now she lives in Port St. Lucie with her husband and daughter and works full time at Florida Home Finders. In the evening she attends classes towards obtaining her real estate brokers license.

Her other hobbies include sewing, making plastic flowers and making candles.

MANY TALENTS: Looking over one of her smaller figures done in the Bisque finish in wood tones, Mrs. Shirley Hunter of Port St. Lucie is an active person when it comes to hobbies. Even though she works full time and goes to school at night, her main hobby is ceramics, and as she says almost any new hobby that comes along, "I'll try it."

Professional artists present program

PORT ST. LUCIE—An Evening with the Performing Arts will be presented Tuesday, Feb. 29 at St. Lucie Country Club. The benefit performance will benefit the Cultural Center's building fund.

Tenor John Stewart, Japanese soprano Yoshiko Ito and pianist Francisco Aybar will perform.

The concert will start at 8:30 p.m. and seats will not be reserved. A special dinner menu will be offered in the dining hall earlier in the evening. Reservations are requested for dinner.

All States Club is for all residents

PORT ST. LUCIE—The All States Club of Port St. Lucie is a social organization, featuring cookouts on the third Wednesday of each month at 6 p.m. at the Marina.

The cookouts are held from September to April, and at Christmas time a turkey dinner is served, and in April the club holds its installation dinner. Entertainment is provided for all special events.

About 110 people attend the monthly cookouts which are informal. A short business meeting follows the dinner, and films are then shown by the club's projectionist, Charles White.

The club has donated time and money to many other organizations in Port St. Lucie, including the Shuffleboard Club, the Migrant Children Fund and has helped purchase tables for the Marina and cabinets for the new Port St. Lucie Branch Library.

Officers of the club are, Frank Clobens, president; Leo Malone, vice president, and Mrs. Anita White, secretary.

The club is open to all residents of the North Port St. Lucie River Park area. No dues are charged, just a minimum cost for the cookouts.

Little league season was successful

PORT ST. LUCIE—Little League Association meetings are held at the Port St. Lucie Marina the third Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m., and all interested persons are invited to attend, according to Tony Maida, president.

The season ending June, 1971, was a good and exciting one—under the guidance of president Frank Laurito. The league was expanded to six teams. It was also expanded to include a Minor League under the direction of Lee Schroeder.

A new team, Florida Contractors, represented PSL in the county tourney but bowed to Ft. Pierce. The all star game for district 7 was held at PSL, and an end-of-the-season picnic was held for all boys, coaches and managers, with trophies awarded to the All Stars. New officers were elected and Maida is working for an even bigger and better year.

GASOLINE WINNER—Lloyd Lawson of Ocean Breeze Park was the winner of 100 gallons of gasoline given as a prize during the Jensen Beach Woman's Association Bazaar International held February 11 and 12. To the left is Mrs. Marie Miller, bazaar chairman and to the right is Mrs. Geneva Siebert, president of the Association.

PSL Blood Bank is open to all residents

PORT ST. LUCIE — The Port St. Lucie-River Park Blood Bank is open to every resident of the area for just an entry fee of $1 per person.

The Blood Bank currently has an enrollment of 1100 residents.

The Bank maintains reserves in the St. Lucie County Blood Bank.

Officers and directors of the Bank include Cedric Benz, Frances Lee, Al Weigel, John Lombardi, Janet Clarke, and Larry Ackerman.

Local yacht club sponsors many events

PORT ST. LUCIE - The year 1971 included many highlights for the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club. In its second year membership increased from 120 to 192 members.

Activities started early in 1971 with a boat-a-cade on January 30 to the Manatee Marina for a luncheon and party. A $200 donation was presented to CESA. George Ewing of Stuart spoke to the club about the history of the St. Lucie River from 1930.

In February, a young entertainer, John Kelly, of St. Joseph's College, entertained the club with his guitar and folk songs.

March brought the election of new officers. Commodore Robert Musson, Vice Commodore Bill Treverton, Secretary Walter Palmer, Treasurer George Vanderhood and board members Karl Grattage, Tom Hillegas, Harold Cuder and Fred Johnston. The Commodore's Ball was held at St. Lucie Country Club on March 13.

In April, committee chairmen were appointed. Lee Kaestner chairs the sailing committee, John Pugh, the program committee, Helen Everett, the hostess committee, Henry Marvin, the membership committee, Joe Cornwell, fleet captain and Fred Johnston, publicity.

During May a picnic boat-a-cade to Peck's Lake was held, and Gordon Jackson accepted the chairmanship for the summer party. Bruce Thorndike of the TSE G talked to the club about rescue service and water safety.

June saw the summer party at Tropical Acres with a dinner dance. The Walter Wholfworth's entertained the club with a film and talk on "Treasures from the Sea."

In July, the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club was registered with Lloyd's of London in Lloyd's register of American Yacht Clubs. Art and Sally Coulon chaired the Marina cookout boat-a-cade. Plans were made for an August boat-a-cade. John Pugh was appointed Vice Commodore and Ed and Mildred Nichols agreed to chair the September party. Has Grattage was named chairman of the newly formed Sunshine committee.

On August 14-21 boats carrying 101 members departed the County Club for a trip to the Anchorage Marina for luncheon and dancing. During August Charlie White started the presentation of six films that were shown during the fall meetings.

Ed and Millie Nichols September party took place at the Pelican Hotel in Stuart. Highlight of the evening was the grand door prize a trip to West End, Grand Bahamas won by Paul and Beatrice Viar.

In October an additional $100 contribution to CESA was voted by the membership. Carl Herzog, Ted Bass and Herb Spencer kicked off a series of three meetings devoted to teaching members about deep sea fishing and trolling.

November featured a Boat-a-cade down the Intracoastal Waterway to Jupiter and return to the Anchorage for lunch, beer and dancing. Coast Guard Appreciation Day was held November 13 at the Anchorage Marina.

On December 11 Don and Nike Porter and Skeeter and Lou Hawley headed a gala Christmas party at the Stuart Holiday Inn. Al and Ruth McDonald were appointed chairman of a fishing picnic boat-a-cade planned for January.

ACCOMMODATIONS- The visitor and traveler are well taken care of in the numerous attractive and comfortable motels, cottages and homes in the Jensen Beach area. Above bright, clean cottages hug the shore of the Indian River, providing a beautiful view and quiet, peaceful surroundings.

Jensen Beach is volunteer-served

JENSEN BEACH - Jensen Beach wouldn't be the friendly little town it is without its volunteers. Lucky residents can look to the Jensen Beach Samaritans Free Ambulance Service, Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department and Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce in almost any emergency.

The Samaritans serve free of charge on a 24 hour call. Last year the 202 calls were handled by about 25 drivers and assistants and so far this year the group has answered 9 calls.

Most of the emergency calls are from distraught families who must have someone taken to Martin Memorial Hospital in ambulance. Then there are the happier trips returning patients to their homes if they are unable to travel by regular auto transportation.

The Samaritans are funded by volunteer donations and by participating in the annual Jensen Beach Rotary United Fund drive. The group also conducts a bazaar which stocks wheel chairs, crutches, canes, walkers, hospital beds and many other items to be loaned without charge to residents. Anyone needing any of this equipment may contact chairman Mrs. Glen Curtis, 287-7347 or Wally Redd, 287-4422.

Seventeen volunteer firemen are on call around the clock, backed up by four trucks, one utility truck, the chief's car and three portable fire pumps. The equipment is housed in spacious quarters at the fire station on Palmetto Road.

Last year the fire calls were answered. Losses were kept to a minimum of about $75,450. There were 11 house fires, plus car, brush and miscellaneous fires. The firemen receive help and moral support from their women's auxiliary.

The Jensen Beach chamber of commerce is made up of top officers and a board of eleven members. About 130 local businesses and individuals are members of the chamber.

To show how active the office is according to Mrs. Helen Richardson, executive secretary, in January there were 487 visitors and 192 phone calls. This year's visitors logged 1,200 miles to the 222 persons. A total of 40 maps were distributed in January and about 1,000 fishing guides were handed out since they were received in November. This is in addition to those that are mailed.

This year FPL will spend almost a million dollars a day on new construction.

We can't afford not to.

Not if we all want to go on living the way we're accustomed to. Lives in which we always have the essential electric power we need. At just the flick of a switch.

And that's some challenge for us at FPL. We know that Florida is the nation's fastest-growing major state. More than 3,500 new residents each week. We know, too, that we have to stay ahead of your demand for electricity.

So we're building. Building more than ever before. Over the next five years, we'll spend at least $1.2 billion, almost a million dollars a day, on new construction. That's as much as we've spent in our entire 46-year history.

One and a half billion dollars. It's a startling amount.

But that's what it takes to keep adequate, reliable electric service at your fingertips.

CKY FISHERMEN–One of the most popular spots for the many avid fishermen is the walk along the Frank A. Wacha Bridge in Jensen Beach. The bridge, spanning the Indian River, boasts two lighted catwalks, one of the northeast and one on the southwest side. Fishermen can be found there at almost any time of the day or night

Dale Powell has two

Car collector likes to drive them, not let them sit as museum pieces

FEATURES: Two distinct features are the horns sitting on the front of Dale Powell's 1940 Buick Century and the wheel covers on the front fenders. The car now has 55,000 original miles on it

All my life I've been interested in cars ever since I got my first Model A Ford when I was fifteen, says Dale Powell of Rio, an old car collector.

Powell has a two-car garage separate from his home on Kubin Boulevard for his 1928 Model A Ford and his 1940 Buick. Both cars he completely restored.

Originally from Indiana, Powell moved to Georgia where he was seventeen and lived there for thirty years.

In 1966 Powell and his wife Elizabeth made Florida their winter residence following his retirement from the furniture business in Smyrna, Ga.

Powell says he's not retired though — just slowed down. With their 22 year-old son in the Air Force, Powell and his wife spend some time on their 90 acre ranch in Ellijay, Ga. raising cattle.

When not raising his cattle Powell works on his cars because "You never really completely finish restoring the cars. There's always something more you want to do."

It was about 1955 when I got interested in the Horseless Carriage Club in the Atlanta area and that made me want to get some old cars," Powell said.

He bought his first old car a Model A Ford in 1957.

It was a real basket case," Powell remarked. Besides getting the old cars Powell likes to read about the history on the cars.

The Model A Ford was used in Alabama from 1928 to 1946 as a sheriff's car. Powell learned from the man who sold it to him. Powell remembers when he bought the car it was in a barn and all broken down.

All that was left of the seats were their springs, he said. Even though the car had been sitting in the barn for ten years, the motor was still in "real shape."

I put a battery and gas into it and drove it eighty miles back to Atlanta as it wasn't in too bad shape," Powell said. "Maybe the car was used officially by the sheriff for a number of years and then used as a family car on the farm," he added.

You could tell it had been out in the mud and the fenders in the back had been eaten away from where the spare chains would come loose and hit it."

The Model A Ford Phaeton has a regular four cylinder 40 horsepower engine. The Model A was the first automobile to have a gear shift instead of the pedals used to change the gears as in the Model T.

Powell said I don't restore my cars to perfection so they can be driven. I like to drive mine around here to keep their batteries up. I have often driven them in parades.

I tore the whole Model A down from the frame up and restored it in about a year and a half in my spare time on weekends," said Powell.

I'm the fourth owner of my 1940 Buick Century. I bought it ten years ago for my wife's birthday," he added. "I have pictures of it before I bought it because the fellow that owned it wouldn't sell it to me.

Finally the General Motors executive in Atlanta sold the car to Powell.

The Buick Century is a model 66C and is rare according to Powell. There were only 342 of them built.

It is the only one still registered. There may be more but they're not registered," contends Powell.

The car has a Roadmaster engine that has the spare tools on it. This is why it was never allowed to be classed as a regular passenger car, Powell said, but not as a 62 year old car.

I drove it down to Florida from Atlanta at one time in less than ten hours," Powell said and drove it on the turnpike cruising at 70 and 80 mph just like the cars today.

The Buick had 55,000 miles on it when Powell bought it. It has 55,000 miles on it now. The Ford had 45,000 miles when he bought it on the barn but the speedometer wasn't working.

Powell says he still has a set of tires on the Ford since he had it down here because I get more time to drive the cars here than I did up north.

Powell has accumulated awards and trophies for his cars in the Atlanta area. He is a past president of the Horseless Carriage in Atlanta and is currently a member of the same club in West Palm Beach.

Powell recommends to anyone else thinking about collecting old cars that they make sure the body is in good condition.

Most of the motor parts and transmissions you can find, but your main thing if you're going to restore it is the body. Don't forget it takes time and money. That's something you have to realize. You can't count the money because it's like the time you spend when restoring an old car.

An example of this is when Powell needed new convertible tops on both the Model A Phaeton and the Buick Century, he had to have both tops specially made to order.

MODEL A: Just recently Powell found some 1928 Florida tags and acquired them for his 1928 Model Ford A Phaeton. The car was a sheriff's car from 1928 to 1946 in Alabama.

THEY DON MAKE THEM LIKE THEY USED TO: Dale Powell of Rio stands next to his 1928 Model A Ford Phaeton and looks over at his 1940 Buick Century. He got the Ford in 1957 and restored it in a year and a half. The Buick was purchased from a General Motors executive in Atlanta in 1962.

JENSEN BEACH
was a great place... is a great place... WILL BE A GREATER PLACE

There are some folks who are always talking about the "good old days." Why not? They were good. There are some others who insist that today is the only time that counts. It's important. Why not? Today is important. And There are a whole lot of people who are only interested in tomorrow. The future. Again, why not? Tomorrow is the next step to being bigger, better and greater. Three incompatible points of view? Not a bit of it. In a strange sort of way it's given vitality to our town.

Look at it this way. When you want to stimulate really constructive thinking, you've got to have a couple of different opinions. And after things get talked out you usually come up with the best plan. That's what happened here in our own town. Time after time. That's why the best of the past and the present have made this community such a wonderful place to live. We've preserved parts of our cherished heritage. We've moved ahead into excitingly new concepts of business and industry. Our town? It's the greatest!

CREATIVITY. Mrs. Robert Fenton won the creativity award at the Garden Club of Stuart Flower Show last weekend at the Bank of Stuart.

SPECIAL PROJECT. The Garden Club of Stuart had a special project going on last weekend in the park across the street from their flower show in the Bank of Stuart. The project, headed by Mrs. John Hussey, displayed all landscape materials to be used in different situations. The above display was for seed bearing trees. Others included salt and seaside trees, Japanese style plants, seed bearing plants for birds, seed bearing trees and exotic tropical trees.

Holiday out-lines

By BETTY TAYLOR
283-0624

Everyone was happy to see Don Peeling in his old place at the board meeting last Sunday. A doctor's appointment took him away again but now he's here to stay, rest and gain back a little weight.

Welcome to Maureen and Hal Holmes, Livingston Manor, N.Y., who have bought 270 S. Cobia Drive.

Shirley and Dean Whitfield enjoyed a week in Jamaica before flying in to attend the February meeting. Wish we could have kept them here longer.

Henry and Ruth Jacobson have bought lot 184 from the Friedrichsons and are busy planting and beautifying the grounds.

Art and Betty Nagy's son was hurt in an automobile accident and needed well over a hundred stitches in his face. I am happy to report that he will need only one or two small spots sanded after his face heals. Thank goodness his injuries were no worse.

Lot 166 was bought by Ike and Thelma Langrich, Portland, N.Y. Thelma's sister Dorothy and her husband Don Greenman are visiting for about a month.

Bertha Ouelette flew home for ten days to babysit while daughter Claire went to the hospital.

Anne and Frank Gilbert, Fitchburg, Mass., lot 246, spent two weeks here in their brand new Bonanza. Anne will be back for the month of March.

Ray and Kay Johnson, Milton, Mass., have purchased a trailer and lot 247. Welcome to our midst.

Margaret and Bob Thomas are here from St. Albans, W. Va., for several weeks visit.

Orville and Fern Quick, Hazel Park, Mich., bought lot 61 and in two hours were happily moved in.

Erma and Gordon St. Louis were hosts at a cocktail party Monday, Feb. 14th. Attending were Linda and Al Korn, Ralph and Jean Taylor, Ike and Thelma Langrich, Don and Dot Greenman, Olive and George Taylor, Frank Barnette, Hazel and Red Brumund, Joe and Edna Vansant, Betty Taylor, Evelyn and Marvin Smith, and Reeta and Emery Dunning.

Sophia Holler was Wednesday's high scorer at bridge with 629. Doc Ashley came in second with 626, while Helen Neuge Sauer had Ede and Flora Dietz last week.

The Morris Brinks have gone home to Connecticut to attend their daughter Bonnie's graduation.

Fran Wolfe is in northern Michigan visiting her daughter. A phone call to Howard reveals she is in snow to her armpits. Much nicer down here, Fran.

Bingo winners were Sandy Ewing, Mrs. Steen, Elsie Smith, Gert Schaefer, Jane Barnette with Mary Steele winning the coverall.

Emil and Al Bupold will be spending the month of March on Bing Grosby's lot.

Ruth Manchester, Troy, N.Y., lot 134, injured her ankle in a bicycle accident recently. She was treated at Martin Memorial Hospital and she's back riding again.

Patrick and Catherine Taylor, New Hyde Park, Long Island, N.Y., are enjoying their winter vacation. They hang their hats at 277 S. Kingfish Drive.

Marietta and Atwood Brockelbank were in Sarasota for the Airstream Rally where Atwood served on the parking committee. On the same committee was Bert Turner. Knowing their ladies, undoubtedly they were working in some capacity also.

Edna and Wally Spencer are enjoying the visit of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spencer, Princeton, Wisconsin and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jasch, Kenosha, Wis.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Spooner, East Douglas, Mass., are staying in the Brink's trailer for a week.

Nancy, Jean Frank and Rosemary Mitze are staying for a week's visit with Nancy Jean's grandmother, Mrs. Florence Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bowen, of East Liverpool, Ohio, are guests of Lisbee Pierce, 321 S. Bluefish Drive. This is the first trip to Florida for the Bowens.

Marvin and Lee Terry have returned from Plymouth, Mich., spearheading an invasion from that town. At home they hosted the park so highly that three couples headed our way to see for themselves. Pat and Mark Willsie plan to stay a month while Wendell and Dorothy Lent and Len and Jo Wendel are here for a week only.

The Sunday night hymn sings are going great guns. Director Ellena Peters says they have now progressed to part singing. We'll have a park choir yet. I'm told forty-six were present last week.

Tuesday night's crowd at Betty Taylor's had George and Lil Bates, Essie and Marvin Smith, Dean and Shirley Whitfield, setting around the fire during the group after dinner were the George Taylors, the Ralph Taylors, Marvin Ewing, coroner and Erma St. Louis and Hazel Brink and Tom and Lorraine Crockett.

Three cheers for Dot Hart and Bill Henrichsen, whose inspiration gave birth to our new park song. It was enthusiastically received at last Monday's pot-luck dinner. Bats rang was enjoyed afterward to the music of a colorful band. Bill plays with all various parks in the country.

Tom and Lorraine Crockett are entertaining their grandson, Jeff, while Mom and Dad attend the races at Daytona. Young Jeff celebrated his birthday Feb. 17th. That new bike is a dandy, Jeff.

WWI & AUXILIARY HELD PARTY DINNER

JENSEN BEACH — Mrs. Eleanor Diffendal was chairman of the Feb. 17 card party held by the Auxiliary of VWWI, Barracks 854. She was assisted by Juha Clark and Henrietta Horton.

Door prizes were won by Marcella Deuss, Henrietta Horton, Sophia Rinehart, Mildred Greenland and Isabelle McPherson. Special prizes went to Henrietta Horton and Eleanor Peterson.

Louis Babin and Elsie Sevoboda won special prizes at the covered dish dinner cosponsored by the Barracks and Auxiliary on Feb. 18 at the Community Center. The Barracks provided the meat course.

Pearl Bissig was pianist.

Hello, Neighbors Kay and Bud Williams, Lot V 31, are from East Booth Bay, Maine, and plan to spend the winter here. Lucy and Toad Bowling, Lot V 97, come from Charleston, W Va. Marvie and Curt Payntor, Dayton, Ohio, are the new owners of Lot V 92. Jayne and Robert Messersmith, South Bend, Ind., plan to retire in the near future and are the owners of Lot V 91. Cora Lee and Ward Irwin on Lot V 110, hail from Bristol, Tenn. Stop by and say hello, and they will all be glad to see you.

Doris and Royce Christy from Rogers Ark., who own a lot at Venture Out in Panama City, spent a week with their trailer at St. Lucie recently.

Mildred and George St. Amand from Largo, Fla., visited with Theo and Bruce Slagle last week.

Richard Cooke is back with us again for about two weeks and we are all glad to see him. He brought his mother, Mrs. Jennie Cooke, from Alden, N.Y. for a visit.

Monday night's pot luck last week was coffee and desserts only for a change. A real friendly group of 38 turned out and seemed to enjoy the assortment of pies, cakes and other goodies. Ida and Harry Hausman acted as host and hostess for the evening, dressed in typical Hawaiian style, including fresh flower leis which were passed around with the customary kisses. Colored slides on a visit to the Hawaiian Islands followed.

Tuesday night bridge as usual. However, there were only enough for three tables and several spectators. Don't forget the bridge classes and lessons every Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the club house.

Wednesday night Bingo at Venture Out last week was really something with a record crowd of 96 attending the games. The big Hawaiian surf board was won by Julie Nemeth of Holiday Out with a straight line Bingo on six numbers called. The special prize, a bottle of champagne was won by Mike Griffith also of Holiday Out. The final game of the evening was won by George Trumbull, Holiday Out.

TRIM TIME It looks as though Howie Homer has his own private barber shop. Virgil Wilson of Jensen Beach stopped in at Howie's mobile home to do the job the other day.

Venture Out news

FISHING IS GOOD Jack Clayton, Robert Smith and Claude Duncan, all of Venture Out, went fishing last week and came home with 166 fish. Their catch included 106 red snapper, some silver, white and yellow snapper, sailor's choice and drum. Not bad for one day.

HELPERS Behind the scenes at Venture Out are helpers John Carlo, dock master, and Larry Del Vecchio, maintenance man.

PICNIC The West Virginia Mountaineers held their picnic at Jensen Beach last Sunday. Because of the cold weather, they had to move from the Causeway to Langford Park. Over 200 arrived during the day from all over Florida to enjoy refreshments and entertainment.

Louise and Jim Santangelo, Joe Valaro's sister and brother-in-law, from New York are visiting Selma and Joe. They brought along their toy poodle Princess Zsa Zsa. After spending two weeks here, they plan to go to the west coast.

Bobbie and Bill Ostertag have had guests every week. They have entertained Kay and Ed Bender, Ruth and Bill Schaper and Joan and Lou Lebe all from Long Island, N.Y.

A group of eight men and six women showed up at the bowling alleys Friday morning.

Theo Bigle 108, 70, 121, total 299, Av. 99. Libet Donovan 84, 124, 127, total 335, Av. 111. Louise Santangelo 92, 115, 94, total 301, Av. 100.

Come out next week to the Jensen Beach Bowling Lanes at 10 a.m. Friday.

Only a small group of 28 turned out for the Friday night movie last week. The picture was "Not With My Wife You Don't."

Don't forget the arts and crafts classes starting Thursday, Feb. 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the Venture Out Club House.

Physical fitness exercise classes will be held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursdays at 10 a.m. in the club house. We still need more participants.

ENTERTAINMENT Joey Scott and the Fugitives from Stuart entertained the West Virginia Mountaineers with good ole country music.

Helen and Roy Williams have their son, Eddie, and his wife, Joan, with the two grandchildren, David and Denise, visiting them for the next two weeks. We want to welcome them to the park.

The Hawaiian Luau is coming up real soon so keep the date open. The day is March 11 and the place is the Venture Out Club House. If you would like to help on a committee contact our social director Dee Smith. Make reservations early. Tickets are available at the club house.

Ten couples honored at Golden Wedding fete

JENSEN BEACH — The 14th annual Golden Wedding Celebration at Ocean Breeze Park was held Feb. 6 for ten couples. The 25-50 event was held at the clubhouse.

Each honored couple had a hostess who served in many ways to make the occasion a memorable one. Mrs. Irene Ruth Hoke was in charge of arrangements and had the hall beautifully decorated with a gold theme including fresh flowers and beautiful tables. Each couple had a wedding book for guests to sign and refreshments were served.

The ten couples were congratulated by their many friends and relatives.

The lady in charge of the flowers was Toni Hebert formerly of Ocean Breeze Park now of Cedar Pointe of Stuart, Florida.

Ruth Hoke was chairman and her assistants were Alva Scott, Madeleine Drummond, Hulda Tyler, Ethel Moon, Pearl Seigman and Jennie Manes.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY AND JOSEPHINE DORING were married Jan. 26, 1922 at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church Hoboken, N.J. They are from New York coming here in 1964. They have one son and their hobbies are knitting and bridge and Henry collects pipes. Florence Tienkin was their hostess. Guests for the reception included his cousin, Mrs. Lillian Rohlen and Mrs. Dorothy Becker from Mt. Holly, N.J.

MR. AND MRS. KARL AND HELEN HOKE were married Sept. 2, 1922 at Karl Wertz' Ohio and are from Toledo, Ohio. They grew up together in the same town and attended the same schools. The Hokes have been winter residents here since 1936 when Karl's brother, Harry Hoke, opened Ocean Breeze Park. They have three sons and eight grandchildren and enjoy their boat and painting. Hostess was Mrs. Louise Wheeler.

MR. AND MRS. BEN AND MARGARET MORGAN of Ray Drive were married Nov. 11, 1922 in Cicero, Ill. They met in high school. Now living on Ocean Breeze Park for the seventh year they have two children four grandchildren and one great grandchild. Their hobbies are rug hooking and craftsman. Their hostess was Marjorie Bergeron, his niece. Guests for the reception included Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bergeron, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eickhorst from Clearwater.

MR. AND MRS. CLENNEL AND ZENNA RICHARDSON were married Oct. 19, 1922 in Sparta, N.C. They have one child and two grandchildren and have been here since 1949. PORT ST. LUCIE: Where the action is. Right now it is anywhere in any abundance. There are lots of bass being taken here and there. Up until the past weather set in this past weekend, there were snook, grunts, jacks and ladyfish being taken in the North Fort Pierce Cut and in the St Lucie. The spillway at Port St. Lucie has been good several times in the past few weeks although the activity has not seemed that great and some few snook have been taken at those times the water has been running. There have been some taken in the lower reaches down around Jensen Beach way but generally speaking things are slow all over. Given a few days for the weather to settle down and the water after a few weeks of high winds subside pick up. Our last trip to the Indian River yielded a couple of nice redfish in the 5 to 6 pound class taken on the ever effective Trout Tout. The same lure has accounted for a number of snook in the St. Lucie in recent weeks and a couple of upper 30s, one of which was estimated at between 45 and 50 pounds. This weekend, provided the weather settles down sufficiently, we'll go to the mangrove shorelines and the islands of the Indian River. Should the weather ease off but the winds return, we'll have to go with the North Fork. That's where the action is.

It's the time of the year when we discuss some of the new products to find their way from the fertile imaginations of the lure designers to our tackle boxes and this year we have a bumper crop. We will eventually get around to the majority of those which seem particularly noteworthy but for now let's just take a sampling.

Of particular note for those of us who use plastic worms, trout louts and other lures of this particular type of plastic is a tackle box saver from Burke Flexo. Lures of Traverse City. Mich. It is simply a sealable reusable plastic bag designed for the storage of these plastic lures. What's so special about that? The advantage lies in the fact that these lures will not attack the plastic of the bags, which was they do the plastic of most tackle box. We've been using them for about 8 weeks and they are really great. Two bits to Burke gets you a worm bag and the new Burke Flexo catalog. It's worth it. One of the most intriguing items in this catalog is a little number called the Hawgaswim. This is an artificial eel mounted on a jig and it really looks great. Insofar as we have been able to determine none of the local dealers have these in stock, but we predict this will be one of the most consistent producers of snook in this area provided it is as good as it looks in the book.

Another new one that shows promise is the addition to the Morro Lure line called the Model 9AM. This rascal is a popper but will also swim very nicely just below the surface.

Probably the greatest number of new products are coming from Plastics Research wherein resides the genius which produced the Rebel Minnow. As a member of their advisors staff we will be receiving up to the minute bulletins on new products and you may be sure of any such information coming to us. The Mirror line of the newest Sea Star looked so good on the one occasion on which I was able to real it that we will devote more space to it in the near future. However we will say this much. We were told this lure would walk the dog better than another top water plug whose virtues we have extolled repeatedly and we replied quite frankly and honestly. There ain't no way. It would appear at this point that we were wrong.

There will be more on new products in our next column including some rather exciting news from Scientific Anglers. In the meantime let us know how the fishing goes with you.

Til next time don't litter, practice conservation and come see us.

Jeannie Conaway best teenage cook

PORT ST. LUCIE: The prize for the best teenage cook in St. Lucie County was awarded to Jeannie Conaway of 328 Shady Lane.

Competing in a field of thirteen girls selected to represent various schools in the county, Jeannie received the first place ribbon and the grand award in the Baking Contest at the St. Lucie County Fair.

Her specialty was called Jeannie's Gem Cake, which consisted of pumpkin nuts reserve among with the other basic ingredients covered with white icing sprinkled with nuts.

Anglers planning a fishing clinic

JENSEN BEACH — One of Martin County's most qualified anglers will hold a fishing clinic at the regular monthly meeting of the Martin County Anglers Club next Monday night at First Federal Savings, Jensen Beach office, Community room.

Bill Newsome, an experienced fisherman, will present a program in which there will be a long period for questions and answers, at 7:30 p.m.

It is possible that a chairman of the proposed committee on beach acquisition will be named at the meeting. Anglers Club officers met to discuss the project, plan a full scale fund raising campaign, and seek a chairman last Monday night.

The meeting will be open to all and vacationing college students in the area for the meeting will be welcome according to a spokesman for the group.

United Fund passes $10,000

JENSEN BEACH — A donation of $200 from Publix Markets pushed the Jensen Beach United Fund drive across the half-way mark of its $20,000 goal Monday, J.D. President Walter Woodrich reported that the fund was now at $10,250.00.

The figure includes $139.50 reported in the collection of Mart-Hill workers, tabulated on Monday.

Woodrich reported the optimistic about the $20,000 goal, though. He said that while only half of the businesses and motels in the Jensen Beach Hobe area have reported, "the areas of population in the community have not always been covered."

We have only a few big ones left to come in and I'm afraid that we might be able to make the goal," Woodrich said.

The following donations of $20 and more were reported by Woodrich.

Holmes Beach Star Wall Inc. $100; Jupiter $100; Jupiter Optometrists $100; Sealine Standard Service $100; First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County $100; First Restaurant $75.

The following firms and individuals donated $50: Rick Keller Commercial Heating Stuart; Paint and Supply; Douglas Hamilton; Victor Ravenio; Albert Goodman; Ethel Inman; Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce; William Weiss; Jensen Lanes; Fredrick Stone; First National Bank and Trust of Stuart; American Legion Post 126; Auxiliary; Shatter Hexan Company and guests of Crossroads Cottages.

Friday on Jupiter Island

Taxpayers will hear conservancy

JUPITER ISLAND — The U.S. Richards, president of the Nature Conservancy in Washington, D.C., will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Martin County Taxpayers Association Friday night.

The annual meeting for the taxpayers will be held on Jupiter Island at Tanglewood Theater at 8:30 p.m.

The annual meeting of the association is usually held in Stuart but because the county's only Nature Conservancy is on Jupiter Island the meeting was scheduled here.

Richards will show the tax situation involved in conservancies, will show slides of some of the Conservancy's national effort as well as its recent Florida projects.

E.F. Warebreth, president of the Association, will introduce Richards. The annual election of directors of the Association will also take place.

The meeting is open to the public.

Cleanup gets in operation

JENSEN BEACH — The counterattack is gaining in the Jensen Beach Cleanup campaign and local organizations are joining in force to get the job done.

So far 11 different groups in Jensen Beach have banded together to clean up the town including two scouts, girl scouts, youth groups, college students. The elementary school and members of the Jensen Beach Lions. Other groups have indicated that they would take part in the drive. Those interested can call Virginia Van Dien at 287-3000 or Steve Schroeder at 286-6080.

March 18 will be assault day. Jensen Beach, where the south groups will get out to clean up the highways and byways of the community. Then will come at the west end of the Jensen Beach Causeways to fan out all over Jensen Beach to clean up roadsides.

Materials collected will be put in garbage bags with a maximum of trash bags to be centrally located at the Causeways after the cleanup.

Automatic cans will be separated so that the recycling program will be affected in the drive.

Once the areas have been cleaned signs will be erected by the groups cleaning up the areas. Each group is responsible for cleaning up and making its own signs to erect, according to Joe Chicks, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce coordinated program.

Three pickup trucks will shuffle the litter from the roadsides to the central collection point for county pickup.

Another meeting of the cleanup group will be held on March 14 at 8 p.m. in the Chamber office. Between now and then workshop sections of various groups will be held, according to Chicks.

Power Squadron to install officers

STUART — New officers of the St. Lucie River Power Squadron will be installed at a Change of Watch dinner meeting at St. Lucie Country Club Convention Hall on Thursday, March 9.

Heading the new bridge will be Robert E. Wallace, newly elected Commander. Lt. Cdr. William B. McChesney, executive officer. Lt. Cdr. Floyd L. Gardner, administrative officer. David D. Burtett, re-elected secretary. William M. McKay, chairman of the finance committee, will serve as treasurer until a successor is found to fill the vacancy created when Fred A. Marquardt declined re-election for health reasons, according to Charles E. Burtett, outgoing Commander.

Following the Squadron induction ceremonies, the women's auxiliary, the Ardes, will install Dorothy Burtett as president succeeding Audrey Burton. Jane Mace, album, first vice president; Aurelia Martinez, second vice; Ann Gongaware, treasurer; Florence Marquardt, recording secretary, and Billie Beau, corresponding secretary.

More than 150 are expected to attend the event. Music will be by Carl Strecker and his orchestra.

IRCC offers courses in scuba & driving

FT. PIERCE — Indian River Community College is offering courses in driver education and scuba diving starting March 6.

Basic scuba will be taught Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6 to 10, and advanced scuba on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 to 10 p.m. It is an eight-weeks course.

Driver Education courses are offered from March 6 to April 26 on Mondays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 6 p.m. in Room L-204, upstairs in the gymnasium.

BINGO TO BE PLAYED FOR RETARDED

PORT SALERNO — Bingo will be played in the Salerno Civic Center Wednesday, March 8 at 8 p.m. for the benefit of the Martin County Association for Retarded Children.

The public is invited.

Surprise program planned for Art Associates

STUART Get acquainted with your fellow artist will be the theme at Friday's meeting of the Art Associates of Martin County. A surprise program will be featured at the 7:30 p.m. meeting at the Levi Johnson Agriculture Building on A1A south of Stuart.

The nominating committee will present a slate of names for officers to be elected at the April meeting.

Members exhibiting at the Bank of Stuart during March are Anne Callan, Marguerite Duston, Barbara Green, Justina Pettit and Dorothy Stafford. Dr. Leo Chylack of Port St. Lucie is displaying at Mayfair Theatre.

All members and other artists and craftsmen are invited to bring their work to the Agriculture Center on Saturday, March 11 between 2 and 5 p.m. for registration for the Martin County Fair. The Fair runs from March 13 through 18. One item only may be entered for competition but several items may be entered for display. Mrs. Raymond Ruppert is chairman of fine arts. Mrs. Kenneth Mapp is chairman and Mrs. Richard Connolly co-chairman of the handcraft exhibit for the fair.

Ft. Pierce Art Club sets show for April

FT. PIERCE The Fort Pierce Art Club is sponsoring its eighth annual Four County Art Show from Saturday, April 1 through April 13 at the Ft. Pierce Art Gallery on Indian River Drive.

All artists, ceramists and sculptors, both amateur and professional, residing in Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee Counties are eligible to enter.

Entries must be delivered to the Gallery, Friday, March 31, between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. The gallery will be open to the public April 1 through Thursday, April 13, from 12 noon until 5 p.m. daily except Fridays.

Inquiries may be directed to Mrs. Margaret Smith, 461-1035, or Mrs. Megs Taylor, 464-1789.

Passion Play at Lake Wales

LAKE WALES Josef Meier, world renowned Christus portrayer and his cast and crew of 100 are presenting performances of the Black Hills Passion Play in the Lake Wales Amphitheatre through April 16.

The play is being presented for the 20th consecutive season of winter performances. All parts of the 350-foot stage are in full view of every spectator. The outdoor historical drama faithfully reconstructs the events during Christ's last seven days on earth.

Twenty-three walk for March of Dimes

STUART Twenty three students and adults took part in a recent walk-a-thon for the March of Dimes, according to Tim Foster and Cindy Langbehn, co-chairmen, and students of Martin County High School. Each walker had a sponsor who paid so much a mile for each mile walked. A total of $700 was realized for the effort.

The group walked for about four hours, starting at Stuart Middle School to Port Salerno, St. Lucie Blvd. out to Kanner Blvd. to the Stuart Beach, then back to St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

Adults taking part were Police Chief Jesse Taylor, Michael Stevenson and Mrs. Herman Langbehn.

Ambulance runs reported

JENSEN BEACH Recent runs by the Jensen Beach Samaritans Ambulance include taking Leonard Knowles of Sewall's Point to Martin Memorial Hospital on Feb. 19 by M. Hilyer and to McComb Mrs. Emanuel Bergman Villa del Sol to the hospital by J. McMahon and J. Rhodes and Mr. Parke from Skyline Clinic to the hospital by Peterman and Denis.

Bea Brodus was taken to the hospital from Skyline Clinic by Redit and M. and E. Jones on Feb. 23. Howard Faber from hospital to Fisherman's Haven by Redit Stephenson, Goodwin and Buck Snyder from Sands Trailer to hospital by the same drivers.

On Feb. 28 Leonard Knowles was taken home from the hospital by Peterman and Denis.

Vets, Auxiliary to meet Friday

JENSEN BEACH Members of VFW Barracks 8[illegible] and its Auxiliary will have their monthly covered dish luncheon and meeting on Friday, March 3 at Jensen Beach Community Center.

The luncheon will be at 12 noon. Following the meeting, Bring your own table service and beverage of your choice.

Nominations of officers for the VFW Auxiliary Post 10068 Jensen Beach will be held at the April 7 meeting.

The food and fooleria for pot luck last week were like and like smith our social director. A group of 35 turned out. After the fine dinner the group was entertained by Linda Hackathorn playing the piano. Everyone joined in a sing along before breaking up for the evening.

Neighbors from the Trailer Park Caroline and Clark Price are from Ann Arbor Mich. on Lot V 113. Helen and Boyd Kitts on Lot V 108 are from Powder Springs Tenn. Betty and Jake Davis on Lot V 119 are from Erie Pa. Kay and Ray Kileen on Lot V 96 are from Decatur Ill. We are sure time and kay have not yet acquainted with them.

Fishing It looks like it is beginning to pick up around Hutchinson Island once again. Hank Higgins has been pulling in some weak fish along the seawall at Indian River. Dick Tener has been going out in his boat and bringing back a few trout and I have managed to land some spot croaker catfish and one small pompano in the surf at Venture Out. Lee and George Chambers are catching whiting sheepshead drum and spot in the surf.

The next pot luck supper will be held Saturday, March [illegible] at the recreation hall. Be sure to mark your calendars now. Please contact Hazle Mar [illegible] if you plan to attend.

The March 1st Games Marathon was held today. Has February 29 and four of our boys took part in the [illegible] walk.

By the way, the [illegible] residents of Tropical Acres contributed a total of $66 to the March of Dimes. In appreciation they have [illegible]

Congratulations to the Stuarts who had a baby boy on February 8. They named him Kenneth Wayne.

Mrs. Olive Potsfield and daughter Mrs. Alice Eastman and her son Jackson were over night guests of Ray and Bes Black. They are now visiting in Texas before returning to their home in Concord, N.H.

Surprise visitors of Paul and Marge Johnson were Arlene Dekkers and Lucille and Layman Thorhser of Newaggo and Grant Mich. During their enjoyable week long stay an early birthday party was given for Marge.

Attention all girls. We will have a ladies class starting March 1st today from 3 to 4 p.m. in the recreation hall. Please register with Mrs. Keller.

Recent visitors to the Marshalls were Dayle's father Mr. Brannan and her brother Don. After leaving here they headed south to spend some time in Key West.

Birthday greetings go to Elsie Falkinburg, Pat Keller, Ann Esposito and Marge Johnson.

Seek 7,000 names on anti high-rise petitions here

PORT ST LUCIE — A movement that got started in Martin County has spread to St Lucie County with a special band of citizens joining forces to seek the limitation of growth in North and South Jensen and the elimination of high-rise construction on the island.

Petitions were placed this week on the marinas in Port St Lucie in the grassroots movement to limit growth. The petitions ask the county commission to restrict the beaches to an eight and per acre density and a building height limitation of 35 feet.

The petition doesn't quite ask but is worded to demand the limitation.

Mrs. Enid Aitcheson of White City is seeking 7,000 signatures to take to the county commission in the drive. She has printed reports that 80 petitions and has reported little difficulty in getting signatures while riding in front of local super markets.

No one opposed signing while we were in front of the super market. We already have over 1,000 signatures and the drive is just beginning. We want to do what the people of Martin County did. They are smaller and got 6,000 signatures. Mrs Aitcheson told The Mirror Tuesday.

Mirror Survey offers readers $200 in prizes

The third Mirror News paper survey, included in The Mirror this week offers $200 in prizes to those who fill out the forms and return them to The Mirror. The forms, printed on special white paper as a regular part of the newspaper, are designed to be postage free mailing items when completed.

The survey is designed to collect information on the buying habits of Mirror readers. The information is used to seek new businesses for the area, provide guidance for businesses already located here, and give organizations seeking recreation for Jensen Beach and their St. Lucie living in their research.

The survey is being conducted for The Mirror by the Institute of Modern Marketing, Boynton Beach, Florida, which guarantees the security of the survey forms.

All forms are designed so that by folding them three times along dotted lines, and stapling or taping them shut, with two more a postage free mailer. They are collected at The Mirror office and sent unopened to I.M.M., where the information is tabulated by computer.

The surveys are kept completely confidential, said Dr. Franklin D. Hagger, president of I.M.M. "No one, Hagger was quoted as saying, will be willing to handle the office if items in The Mirror editorial, boat items that show an change of having been opened will be rejected," he added.

Richard E. Campbell, publisher of The Mirror said, "The past two surveys produced in 1967 and 1968 proved that the surveys is confidential that all information is made a part of an overall statistical exhibit on the buying habits of Mirror readers."

We hope that everyone reads and fills out The Mirror survey forms in this week's Mirror. This will give us a good cross-section of the spending habits of the residents and visitors in the area, businesses and groups can use to determine what they can expect from the area in the future, and we can better serve our readers and go bring present businesses to offer more services and merchandise."

Tigers advance to state basketball finals in Jax

STUART To the cheers of a packed house, the Fighting Tigers of Martin County High School defeated Ft. Lauderdale Dillard 78-63, to capture Region 4AAA championship honors and move to the state finals in Jacksonville next Friday.

It will be the third trip in as many years for the Tigers and hopes are high that the third time is a charm so that the team can bring back a state championship.

Coach Don Wallen's efforts to build a state contender have never been doubted with the Tigers maintaining almost constant ranking as the number one team in the state throughout the season. But the state championship has eluded the coach and his well-polished team for the past two years. The team will seek that honor Friday, opening against St. Peters burg Gibbs.

Humphries-Martin sank High starting goal to break the ice for Jacksonville as three their team to victory. They will go to school bus with many families who have followed the team through the season, making the four hour drive to Jacksonville by auto.

Terry Johnson 6-6 scoring 25 points and Arthur Kitchen 6-4 with 22 points paced the Tigers to victory.

The Saturday night victory followed a Friday night clobbering of Riviera Beach Suncoast 97-71.

Students collected 226 pounds of trash

STUART The budding environmentalists from Stuart Middle School returned to the east end of Stuart Causeways Friday, February 18, to resume the scientific flavored clean up litter project. A month had lapsed since their first efforts.

Results: 226 pounds of trash as compared to 250 pounds collected January 21, the first time. Again a rough break down of types revealed 621 beer containers of which 290 were returnable.

84 soda 11 returnable

Holiday out-lines

By BETTY TAYLOR

Well the rocket finally got off to Jupiter, just as everyone was about to give up the beach patrol!

Mabel Henrichsen was honored at a birthday brunch on March 2nd. Hostess was Mary Sumner and other guests included Betty Delehant, Norma Quillen, Martha Lewis, Ruth Quinn, Susan Sutfin, Ila Taylor, Florence Dunn, Lisbee Pierce, Carrie Ullman and Marietta Brockelbank.

Walter and Selma Gardner bought lot 466 February 8th. They are from Baltimore, Md. The Gardners are planning to be permanent residents of the park.

Granville Jones has left the hospital and is now in a nursing home.

Pete and Reggie Petersen have left the park and are busy setting up their new apartment at Anglers Cove.

Bridge scores last week were unusually low since the players took time out Wednesday to watch for the scrubbed rocket. E. Santemma was first with 3280, Evie Faust 2960, Bobbie Hosser 2930, Bob Howe 2780 and Dee Brink 2620.

Dwight Swofford caught a 35 lb. amberjack while Les and Al Johnson caught some very nice red and mangrove snappers and grouper. Berti Swofford hooked a 350 lg. shark but it could not be boated.

Margaret and Bob Thomas have decided to stay on until March 12th. This place really grows on you.

Alfred and Marion Hill from Branford, Conn. have bought lot 134 on February 27th. They left the park shortly afterward, but will be back next year for a much longer stay.

Tom Mac McFarland one of our directors, called from Tennessee to thank all who have sent him get well cards, and to send his best regards to his many friends. He may need further hospitalization but will be here in Florida just as soon as the doctor will release him to travel.

Shuffleboard winners are: Ladies, Evie Faust, first place; Bertha Ouellette, second; Evie Smith, third; Lisbee Pierce, fourth. Men, Irving Ringer, first place; Les O'Neil, second; Harold Landis, third; and Charles Ullman, fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. John U. Vetterl from New Jersey have bought lot 154. Welcome to the park. Mrs. Bess Hubbard from Colorado has bought lot 198.

Roy Wood is in Martin Memorial Hospital recuperating from an operation. He is feeling fine and hopes to be back in the park soon.

Mark and Audrey Bicknell have gone to Arizona to finish out the winter season.

Bill McKinnon entertained relatives last week. Couldn't reach Bill to find out their names.

Palma Sfiamonitto celebrated her birthday Thursday, March 2nd. Congratulations.

Bill and Mrs. Wimbush are staying with us for a week on their lot 5. Their home is in Cheverly, Md. and they also spend most of the winter in Key Largo.

Not to be outdone by Doc Bennett, Pete Isbaer caught an octopus which he figures is about 8 lbs. It is living in a crab trap in the river awaiting pick-up by a gentleman from the Smithsonian Institute who is presently working in Ft. Pierce. It seems it is unusual to catch these octopi in the river. Does octopus dies the night it was transferred to an ocean water tank, and it was probably the change of water that caused its death.

Mac McPherson is in a Miami hospital, doing well after an operation for a detached retina on Wednesday, March 1st. We all wish him well and a speedy return to our midst.

The travelling Ruperts are back after that fabulous cruise among the Caribbean Islands in Marcia's brothers boat. They attended the Langford Park Art Festival and bought several paintings. Among them was the picture by Mrs. Penick that was backed by her treasured anniversary photo which due to the article in the Mirror was discovered and returned to the artist.

Pinney and Doc Bennett entertained their niece Mrs. Jane Spangenberg and her three children from Marlboro, Mass. last week.

Fran Wode wishes to thank all the good cooks who so bountifully nourished Howard during her absence. In fact he may have to go on a diet.

Bert Turner has a new Yamaha electric organ in his trailer. It is a twin to the one in the rec hall. Good luck with it, Bert.

Joseph and Mary Horvath, Youngstown, Ohio bought lot 267. I'm sure they'll be happy here.

Last week Harold and Agnes Landis served roast moose to sixteen guests including the deMinks, the Turners, Dick Harper, the Pascoes, the Stuarts and several others.

Bingo winners for Saturday, February 26th: Camille Duchene, Selma Gardner, Press Scott, Paul Kuhn, Don Nee, Jane Barnette, Bud Wilhan, W. R. Brown, Glen Schram, Ginny Ford won two, one of which was the overall, and Mabel Lapp also won two games.

March first was George Taylor's birthday. The day

Ambulance runs reported

JENSEN BEACH — R. Kurzen was taken by the Jensen Beach Samaritans Ambulance service from the Outrigger to Martin Memorial Hospital by Leevern Proctor and Theobold, driver and attendants, on March 1.

March 1 — Mrs. Buck Hendrix was taken from her home in Skyline Drive to the hospital by G. and M. Oliver and G. McComb and Tom Gumbs was returned to his home on Sandra Drive from the hospital.

March 6 — Roger Gundaschi of Rio was taken to Martin Memorial Hospital by Denis and Peterman.

HAZEL HANLEY ENTERTAINS SISTERS

JENSEN BEACH — Mrs. Hazel Hanley recently entertained her two sisters, Mrs. Helen Wehrel and Mrs. Ilene Sykes and niece Mrs. Lester Harvey, from Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Sykes, who with her late husband, Bob, spent 24 winters here at Pine Taslge, said she enjoyed seeing all her friends and the changes in the area. She said she feels as if this is home.

BOWMAN ENTERTAINS AIR FORCE BUDDIES

JENSEN BEACH — Former U.S. Air Force buddies visited Dick Bowman of Jeannette Ave. last week. Bowman recently returned from four years duty and is a student at Indian River Community College.

Bob Walker and Ed Marino spent two days with Bowman their first visit to the area. Both are students at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, Mo.

began with a serenade outside his trailer window with friends warbling "Happy Birthday". Relatives came to spend the day. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodgernes and Olive's mom and day, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Crockett of Vero Beach. The Crocketts were hosts at dinner at the Ocean Grille, Vero Beach. He was also presented with a plate of homemade peanut butter fudge made by Margaret Thomas.

Marvin and Lee Terry celebrated their thirty third anniversary on March 5th.

Jack and Lee Wiltse are visiting their parents, Pat and Mary Wiltse, here in the park.

Harold and Bonnie Walker and their son, Bob, are staying for two weeks. They are from Plymouth, Mich.

It has been brought to my attention that six members of the Plymouth, Michigan Kiwanis Club are in the park. They are enjoying their stay so much that a fresh air camp for run-down Kiwanians is contemplated.

Houseboat club is planned to promote local waterbirds

COMFORT: Inside the Waterbird, a full kitchen, beds and living area make the houseboat a pleasure for those who like to take their trips on water. The closed rear door produces a quietness in the boat even when the engine is running.

By DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH: It isn't exactly like a cork, but it looks like one and once inside it feels like a powerful cruiser.

When the beds are made up and the stereo softly lulling with the drapes drawn, it becomes a vacation room and even the soft tapping of slight waves in the harbor adds to the mood of sleep.

The powerful engine roars and a touch of the skipper's wheel turns the 25 craft on a dime and the novice boat captain realizes that this is a new concept of outdoor fun.

It was the first announcement of the formation of The Waterbird Club, an organization of outdoor boating enthusiasts who want to use the fleet of houseboats lining the marina at Venture Out.

The press was invited to come see and drive the small craft at a press party conducted by Bob Mayer, president of Waterbird, Inc.

Only 200 can join the club and they must be from Martin or St. Lucie which will give benefits in reduced rates for use of the houseboats. The club is more of a recognition of local acceptability in rentals but Mayer said he hoped it would grow into a social organization also.

The Waterbirds are made of Royales are completely enclosed with an OMC inboard outboard power plant. The boats is water tight with floatation materials that withstand 9,400 pounds per square inch. They have an automatic bailing system to remove any water that might splash over the back.

They are roomy with the captain's seat behind the wheel, a comfortable place to survey the world of water. A complete kitchen is there, a shower and head and closet facilities for a comfortable trip.

The boats are supposed to sleep six but I would suggest five including one family of two adults and three kids. Four of they are small, or perhaps two couples who know each other pretty well.

The Waterbirds are heated and air conditioned, and they draw less than eight inches of water with the engine tilted up.

Mayer came up with the idea to offer his Waterbirds to local residents at reduced prices, more than 25 per cent, and says that the checkout of the residents would save him money on the long run.

It takes about an hour and a half to check someone out in handling the houseboats. If I can get local residents checked out once then they don't have to be checked out again, saving me the time and money to handle the checkouts, Mayer said.

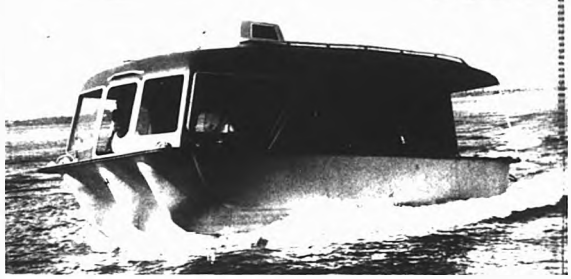
He plans to bring other savings to residents like the elimination of the security deposit of $200 for each trip. The membership initiation fee of $100 to the club would take care of any security deposit and the member gets his $100 back if he wants to resign from the club.

Rates for use of the boats are $50 for an overnight rental, $130 for a weekend and $250 for a week. These figures compare with the top price of non members of $75, $180, and $250.

The conservation minded retired advertising executive was proud to boast that his houseboats are anti-pollutive and are the only houseboats in Florida that have holding tanks and a pump-out station for sewage.

The boats have a complete cabin with linens, cooking ware, first-aid kits, chairs and any other material to make the trip comfortable. The people, according to Mayer provide only their own food and themselves for a trip.

Mayer said he is now accepting members for the new club. It is a great idea and Florida's waterways soon be full of the Waterbirds.



CRUISING: The 25 foot Waterbird moves through the water up to 20 miles per hour, fast enough to pull a water skier, and yet is comfortable enough to take care of five or six persons on a vacation cruise, either overnight or for a week. The hull is all flotation material.

Lake Manor Park News

By Corinne Davenport

The Shuffleboard courts seem to be more and more popular every week-end and evening they are in use.

Last week's three game winners were Ray Fish, Gene Mercer, Frank Mercer and Charles Brinsley.

Congratulations to all.

We extend a warm welcome to Mrs. Florence Shearer and her daughter Mrs. Dorothy Conway who are now occupying their new mobile on the Lake.

Several women from the park attended the hobby show at A & M Mobile Park and were impressed by the many new and beautiful items on display.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand [illegible] St. Louis, Missouri and Mrs. [illegible] Petersburg were weekend guests of Mrs. and Mrs. Jack Bradley.

Theresa Hoag has as her guests her son and daughter and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shoup with son Richey, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Guildmeyer and daughter Kim. All are from Spring Field, Ohio.

Both families brought their boats and have had most successful fishing while here.

Edna and Harold Eatland of Walworth, Wisconsin have rented the former Zuehlke mobile for a month.

They are friends of the Ballards and the Simats. We hope they will enjoy their stay in Lake Manor.

Bridge attracted the [illegible] players last Friday. Fred Ballard and Gene Krakaur were callers.

The next Pot Luck is on Thursday, March 16th at 6 p.m.

Don't miss the March business meeting at 1 p.m. on Thursday the 9th.

A slate of officers for the coming year will be presented by the nominating committee: Clair Brewer, John Bollenbacher, Henry Steinborn and Jack Bell.

The new reflectors at the entrance gates are a gift from the ladies hobby club. The group has also purchased a No Soliciting sign which will soon be put in a conspicuous place. We are sure that many in the park will appreciate these additions.

Edna and Oscar Stocker of Battle Creek, Michigan are occupying the former mobile of the Smiths at Manor.

They are friends of the Bullocks and we know they will enjoy their stay in Lake Manor.

Friends from New York, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lessing, visited with Robert Hunt recently. The Lessings are [illegible] Florida.

Members of the holiday group and their husbands were invited by the children of Theresa Hoag to a birthday party on the night house last Sunday evening. Refreshments were served and all joined in wishing Theresa many happy returns.

How to Invest for Security.

Check A Month

designed for people who want MONTHLY income from savings.

If you're a widow, you may need the earnings from your funds to live. If you're retired, you may want income over a period of years to supplement social security payments. As a businessman, you may have accumulated a special fund to serve some important purpose of your own. Or perhaps you plan to help out a newly married son or daughter during the lean early-married years. As a parent or grandparent, you may want a definite plan to pay for the education of children.

No matter what your objective may be, you will want your investment to stretch as far as possible. Above all, you want to know your funds are safe and available if needed for some emergency.

We have worked out these charts to help you. Figure out a financial plan for the investment and use of your money.

AMOUNT OF PRINCIPAL INVESTED	$5,000	$10,000	$15,000	$20,000
RECEIVE A CHECK MONTHLY Without Reducing Principal	$23.95	$47.91	$71.87	$95.83

These figures are projected on a 2 year Savings Certificate earning 5.75% per year, compounded quarterly.

AMOUNT OF PRINCIPAL INVESTED	$10,000	$15,000	$20,000	$25,000
RECEIVE A CHECK MONTHLY Without Reducing Principal	$50.00	$75.00	$100.00	$125.00

These figures are projected on a 2 year Savings Certificate earning 6% per year, compounded quarterly.

Venture Out news

By HARRY HAUSMAN

Herkimer N.Y. visited with Ida and Harry Hausman last week and stayed in Holiday Out with their trailer. Virginia and Van Aitts owners of the Herkimer Diamond Dealership and Corp. and KOA campground also stopped in to say hello during their vacation in Florida.

Theo and Bruce Slagle entertained Shirley and Weedy Brackin from Wilmington, Del. for several days on their way to the west coast of Fla.

Joe Salerno left last week for his home in Watertown, N.Y. for a few weeks to take care of some personal business. He was missed for the Bingo calling.

Alberta and Bertrand Hickman from Ft. Lee were the host and hostess for the Monday night pot luck dinner last week. A record crowd of 68 turned out to enjoy the fine food and desserts.

Two door prizes were given away and the lucky winners were Caroline Price and Marie Southern. After dinner everyone introduced themselves to get better acquainted and the rest of the evening was spent playing cards, pool or just sitting around chatting.

The first Arts and Crafts class was held on Tuesday, Feb. 29 at 10 a.m. in the clubhouse. A group of 22 registered and started to work on their various projects. Everyone seemed to enjoy it so come out and see what's going on and join in the fun next week the same time.

Tuesday night Bridge is still on and they are looking for more players, so get together with some friends and come out and start another table.

We are still looking for more men and women to join the exercise class on Wednesday and Thursday mornings at 10AM. Either sign up at the clubhouse or just come out next week and join the group.

The Bingo games last Wednesday night had a real good turnout of 75. The special prize was won by Juanita McKain. The grand prize of $40 for a coverall in the letter 42 numbers were called was not won again last week.

Don't forget next week the number is raised to 44 so come out and you might just be lucky. The final game of the evening last week was won by Bill Wentling for $50.

Bill Sullivan of Lot V 123 went deep sea fishing last week aboard Five Miles off Jupiter Inlet and landed a 5 pound 10 oz. kingfish. He caught this prize on a 20 lb. test line and after an hour's battle aided the big fish in filling their boat several times. Sorry, we were not around to get a picture for The Mirror.

Rita Hoole left last week for her home in N.Y. to spend several weeks up north. We all hope she enjoys her trip.

The Friday morning bowling session was enjoyed by the small group that turned out. It's a real fun set so let's get together and come out next week. Last week's winners were: Fran Tener 76 66 64 total 206 as did Bruce Slagle 175 16 144 total 206 as did Hank Higgins 140 128 184 total 452 av 150. Roy Williams 127 140 128 total 395 av 131. Harry Hausman 139 189 114 total 442 av 147.

The Friday night movie was attended by 35 from the park. The picture was "Oklahoma". Next week's picture is entitled "Endless Summer".

Mate and Bill Grueling of Lot V 101 have just returned from a cruise with friends to the Keys Flamingo National Park and White Water Bay. They both say it was a most enjoyable trip.

Betty and Paul Brinkard have been entertaining guests from Mich. Grace and Al Sargent from Detroit spent a week with them recently and Mark and Bruce Mayhew from Bloomfield Hills stopped in to visit while vacationing in Fla.

Mrs. Lucinda Barrett from Amherst, Mass. and Mrs. Van Jennyson from Maitland spend several days with Dot and Sam Tucker here recently.

Betty and Al Jones spent several days last week in Ft. Lauderdale attending the U.S. Peony retirees meeting and luncheon at the Grove Isle Club. Those present were from Florida and home office in N.Y. They also spent a night with their friends Mr. and Mrs. Dost in Hollywood before returning here.

Lucy and Toad Bowling on Lot V 97 had their daughter Cindy visit with them last week for several days. Cindy's two girlfriends, Dyane Heddleston and Pam Hartley were with her spending their vacation from the University of W. Va. at Morgantown and heading for Ft. Lauderdale.

Howie Horner of Seneca Drive is coming just great with this therapeutic treatment on his knee after a recent operation. He is now driving his car and last week showed up at the bingo games.

All the final plans have been made for the big Luau to be held at the Club house on Saturday, March 11. Make sure you have your ticket as it looks like a sellout. There will be music and dancing and plenty to eat.

Short of goal

Evinrude adds $1,000 to UF, now $11,824.80

JENSEN BEACH The Jensen Beach Rotary Club Unified Fund drive has now reached $11,824.80 and the announcement of a gift donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude this week according to Walter Woodruch president.

The amount is still short of the hoped for goal of $12,000.

Woodruch said he was disappointed at the response of the businesses in the area.

Only sixty percent of the businesses and only twenty percent of the motels have responded yet with their contributions thus far and the drive is almost over.

Woodruch said. If they come in I would be optimistic about our chances to make the goal.

Woodruch said he was still optimistic and added that the drive still has a good chance to go over the top.

Citing the failure of West Palm Beach and Ft. Pierce drives to make projected goals Woodruch said it would be believed to death if little Jensen Beach could make its goal.

Woodruch said that planning to another way to reinstitute the popular visitors party at the end of the drive. The party was held for years to make the final push to put the drive over the top and usually was successful.

Treasure is recovered

JENSEN BEACH The [illegible] treasured [illegible] hidden behind a [illegible] has been returned to Mrs. Esther Penick an [illegible] artist.

Mrs. Penick had entered a painting in the recent outdoor art festival at Langford Park. She had a picture of the 20th wedding anni[illegible]

Sebastian.

Mrs. Betty Taylor, who writes a column for The Mirror from Holiday Hill knew her neighbors Everett and Marcia Rupert had bought eight pictures at the festival. She contacted them the Ruperts found the treasured photograph and it was returned to Mrs. Penick.

JENSEN BEACH The Jensen Beach Square Club Dimensions will meet this Friday evening March 17 a covered dish supper at Langford Hall Park.

The March meeting of the Jensen Beach Garden Club will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Jensen Beach Community Church at 1 p.m. March 21st.

Marie Yurillo heads Jensen Fire Auxiliary

JENSEN BEACH Mrs. Bill Yurillo was elected president of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary at Monday's meeting. She replaces Mrs. Willard Bowman who served as president for two years.

Newly elected vice presidents are Mrs. Hadley Vossmer and Mrs. Anna Hill was elected secretary. Mrs. Randolph Spinney was elected for a second year as treasurer.

Plans are under way for a film and program on cancer at the April 3 meeting of the group. All women of the area are invited to attend this program. Refreshments will be served following the film and question and answer period.

DEATHS

JOSEPH HENRY POH

JENSEN BEACH Joseph Henry Poh 74 of 38 Mallard Ave. died March 4 at his home. Born in Brooklyn N.Y. he moved here several years ago from New Milford N.J. He was a salesman and buyer for Arris Electronics in New York City before he retired prior to retirement. He was a member of the Joseph Catholic Church and lifetime member of the Knights of Columbus.

He is survived by his wife Frances J. Poh two sons Ronald Joseph Poh of Jensen Beach and Robert A. Poh of New Milford N.J. one daughter Mrs. Charles Bocking of Whittier Calif. one step-daughter Mrs. Marjorie Basile of Jensen Beach six grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

'World Around Us' March 22

START Martin County Library Association closes its 1972 series of The World Around Us lectures with Ruth Pope's personally presented color films on Ecuador and the Galapagos Islands. The presentation will be Wednesday, March 22 at 8 p.m. in the Woman's Club of Stuart.

In contrast to Ecuador's mainly mountainous Darien area, inhabited by evil cannibals, with its jungle-like plateaus, scarlet macaws, huge buttresses, rosy flamingos and soaring frigate birds.

MARTIN MURAL: Twenty-two counties are represented by Tom Sawyer murals mounted on the construction fence surrounding the site of new legislative office additions to the Capitol Building in Tallahassee. Above, the Martin County mural calls attention to the good fishing in the area.

The March pot luck dinner was well attended with loads of good food to choose from. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eastlack and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson were in charge and everything went along smoothly. There were 3 long tables served buffet style and everyone had their plates loaded and back in their seats in exactly 18 minutes. George Grindley asked the blessing. The hall had a new decoration, a beautiful nylon American flag purchased by the Hobbs ladies from the American Legion in Jensen Beach. It is very attractive and adds much to our hall. The April pot luck will be April 4th in charge of the Barrs and their committee.

The regular monthly association meeting was held Thursday evening but the evening was chilly and the attendance was poor. Harold Johnson our chairman informed us that he would be gone home before the April meeting and John Stelser will take charge. We all like to know what plans are taking place in our park among the association and recreation but so few attend the meetings. Please come out and give our leaders your support.

. . . .

There were so many winners at Bingo on Monday evening that no one won very much except Jennie Leven good who won the outside square and the jack pot. Mable Rude and Ethel Phillips won three games and the two game winners were Goldie Barrick, Leonard Blanchard, Marguerite Ritenour and Esther Grindley and quite a number of single winners. For five games were split three ways.

. . . .

The Blood Pressure Nurse will be in our hall Friday, March 17th at 1:30.

. . . .

Herman and Darlene Patnaude of Momence, Ill. have purchased the Gordon Morgans mobile home and expect to get possession soon. Herman is a retired truck driver and Darlene is Juanita Brouillettes sister. They are living in their travel trailer which they would like to sell now. As soon as they get settled they expect to return to Momence and settle up their affairs up there and then come back here permanently. Juanita will accompany them back to Momence and will come back with them or with Bob who expects his job up there to be finished by July 1st or 15th. We welcome the Patnaudes to our park and hope they will enjoy their life here. We are a friendly park and hope they will like us.

Grant and Anna Mones of Lonesville, Pa. and Engle wood, Fla. called on the Ritenours last Thursday. They are very anxious to get a mobile home in our park next season.

. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Near and son and daughter in law Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Near Jr. of Schenectady, N. Y. visited last week with the formers sister and husband, Nettie and Bud Keefer.

Lake Manor Park News

By Corinne Davenport

There was a large attendance at the March business meeting on the 9th at which time the following officers were elected for the coming year. Chairman John Bollenbacher; Secretary-Treasurer Liz Krakaur; Social chairman Sylvia Simian. Five council members were chosen to assist the chairman. Jen Robertson, Ethel Brewer, Fred Balfanz, Andy Bullock and Gene Krakaur. Congratulations to all!

Don't forget the Pot Luck on March 16th at 6 p.m.

Ethel Brewer and Minnie Letsle were co-hostesses at our very successful monthly coffee on the 6th.

The ladies were most attractive with green velvet streamers and shamrocks. Sandwiches, cake and coffee were served following which a recipe exchange was held.

The next coffee will be at 10 a.m. on April 4th.

Lake Manor is proud to announce that two of its shufflers, Agnes and Frank Messer, took second place in the Central East Coast Division Tournament.

This was played at Whispering Creek, Ft. Pierce on March 10th. Agnes and Frank were presented with two beautiful trophies.

We congratulate the Messers and take this opportunity to especially thank Frank for Lake Manor's shuffle club which he organized and which through his hard work and enthusiasm has become a very active group.

A record attendance of fifty-one turned out to play Bingo last Friday. John Bollenbacher and Ken Dubuque were callers. Full card winners were Florence Bollen and Vergil Lowe.

We would like to remind the folks at Lake Manor that the club house is open at all times to you.

Some of our Monday nights are spent card games of your choice. Come in, enjoy our many new records on our new record player.

There are magazines for your pleasure while you wait for the laundry to be done. Come just for a neighborly chat.

Bridge lessons have been discontinued on Thursday afternoons but anyone interested in playing is urged to join the group for just a sociable game. Starting time is 2 o'clock.

Frank Messer, president of Lake Manor shuffle club is more than pleased with this year's membership and the enthusiasm shown by the group.

There were only two three game winners last week, Bruce Crockett and Lew Tucker. Congratulations.

A letter from Jim Whipple of Indian River Community College informs us there will be no more movies until October. Apparently the reason for this cancellation is lack of funds but hopefully this will be straightened out by fall. We are indeed grateful to Jim and the college for the many enjoyable evenings.

Margaret and Vergil Lowe have returned from a visit to the West Coast.

House guests of Gladys and Edwin Oakes have been Mrs. Margaret Oakes of Lebanon, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oakes and their children of Tampa, Florida.

Four county art show set for April 1-13

FT. PIERCE — The Fort Pierce Art Guild is sponsoring its eighth annual Four County Art Show, being Saturday, April 1 through April 13. The show will be at the Fort Pierce Art Gallery on Indian River Drive.

All local artists in Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee counties are eligible to exhibit in the juried show. Entries must be delivered to the Art Gallery Friday, March 31, between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Margaret Smith, who lives in Mrs. Mirgs Tavern and Inn.

Birthday Greetings

JENSEN BEACH — Happy birthday wishes are extended to Bud Smith, who will celebrate his birthday March 17th; to Liz Burson, Charles French and Kathryn Smith on the 18th; Joan Yaniga, Doug Burton, 19th; Richard Dwell, Irene Penick and Stuart Hoagston on the 21st; Edwin Johnson and James Linford, 22nd; Marie Nalls, Fred Stein and Edna Wolf on the 23rd; and Crystal Papsidero and Jane Murray, 24th.

Special wishes go to the Martin County public relations director, Mrs. Margaret Smith, who will celebrate her birthday March 25th.

Ceramics exhibitited

WEST PALM — An exhibit of ceramic sculpture and pottery by Doris Agard is now on view at the Norton Gallery through April 2. Although Agard has had a number of one-man shows in Europe, the exhibition at Norton marks her first major showing in this country. Agard was awarded the Prix de Rome in sculpture in 1966. This recognition, which carries with it the honor of living and working in Italy, enabled Agard to study contemporary ceramics.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. David B. Wilmer of Jensen Beach and Farmington, Mich. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Janice Jay, to Dr. Mario G. Fiorelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaetano Fiorelli of Rome, Italy. An April 8 wedding is planned at Christ Memorial Chapel, Jupiter Island, to which all friends are invited.

No trailer ordinance is city council plan

PORT ST LUCIE At [illegible] the deed restrictions [illegible] General Development [illegible] provide that [illegible] not exceeding ten [illegible] height and 32 feet in [illegible] can be parked at the [illegible] a home cannot be [illegible] in front or temporary [illegible] and cannot be [illegible] of the sides of the [illegible]

The restrictive covenent [illegible] a pedestal and instead [illegible] will be a ban on parking [illegible] trailers, but boats as [illegible] anywhere except in the [illegible] of a home if the city [illegible] support for a proposed [illegible] to control such [illegible]

Support came immediately [illegible] the two city homeowner [illegible] operations with Bill Mc [illegible] president of the [illegible] club homeowners [illegible] benefits denouncing the [illegible] of trailers.

Plots of 10 feet by 32 feet [illegible] be sold at a big trailer [illegible] Chesney said and peo[illegible] who live in $30,000 to [illegible] homes didn't move [illegible] to live in a trailer park [illegible] how two or three parking [illegible] city is bad.

Mc Chesney said and found [illegible] applause from [illegible] members attending the [illegible]

Earl Lalas president of [illegible] homeowners in the [illegible] part of the city said [illegible] favors this too."

Florida living is in the back of the house Mc Chesney added.

City police will be directed to ask persons parking boats in their yards to use the facilities of the marinas available and trailer owners to park their trailers in some of the commercial lots on U.S. 1 while the ordinance is being drafted.

"I am sure that Mr. Rupert Smith will draw us up an ordinance with some teeth in it," said Councilman Julian Flood.

IIF interested only in river

PORT ST LUCIE The Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund are interested only in the natural waterways of the North Fork of the St. Lucie River, it was reported Tuesday. Making the report was Julian Flood, city councilman.

The man told me that the IIF was only interested in those water areas that are not man made. The City of Port St. Lucie will issue permits for docks on the man made areas but if it has to do with the natural waterways that is IIF territory and we must go through the regular state permitting channels," Flood said.

The report ended in a long discussion about the ownership of land from the rear lot line to the high water mark of waterways. Most of the land is now owned by General Development Corporation.

Flood said that the city attorney, Rupert Smith, was going to contact GDC attorneys to work out an agreement on permitting construction of docks by residents. Smith said that sea lots in Port St. Lucie carried riparian rights and an easement from GDC would be needed to allow dock construction.

In the discussion it was pointed out that construction of docks in Flood Control District areas such as I-23 and C-24 canals would take only a letter to the FCD asking permission to construct.

A resident asked about enforcement of a no wake ordinance and was told that any dangerous boat drivers would be reported to the city police for enforcement of the law.

Residents will have to install their own no wake signs, however, the council told Mrs. Arlene Remington.

Bazaar is planned by Homemakers

PORT ST LUCIE The Beautiful Waters Homemakers Club had its March 9 meeting at the Port St. Lucie Marina with businesses Hobbs Lodge, Anita White, Hazel McFarland and Betty Lewis.

Josephine Majerka and Mary Buck spoke on Hobbs' address, the history of the coat of arms.

A new bazaar is being planned for May 6 when many articles now being made at the Homemakers Tuesday morning workshop will be sold. A White Elephant sale and bake sale are also scheduled for the same day.

Homemakers Clubs in St. Lucie County, namely Lake Area Park, Ft. Pierce Indian River and Port Beautiful Waters, will hold their annual achievement day March 23 at the Marina.

The business meeting will start at 11 a.m. All members are requested to bring a sandwich for lunch, coffee and cake will be furnished by the host club.

Following the meeting a fashion show with some of the members of the host club as models will be presented by Evelyn's Dress Shop. The serious clubs will have handmade items on display for which they received awards at the St. Lucie County Fair.

Bunny

PORT ST LUCIE The Easter Bunny will be in Port St. Lucie at the Marina on Easter Sunday, April 2 at 2 p.m.

He'll have plenty of Easter eggs and all youngsters living in Port St. Lucie are invited to attend.

There will be an egg hunt divided into four age groups. Two and under, six to nine, ten to twelve and thirteen and over.

The event is sponsored by the PSL Junior Woman's Club, the North Port St. Lucie River Park Homeowners Association and Information Development Corp.

Variance fee $25

PORT ST LUCIE An ordinance establishing a fee of $25 for each application for variance coming before the city council was passed by the city council here Tuesday.

ADD'S INSTALLATION Dorothea Bartlett, past president of the Ardes Auxiliary of the St. Lucie River Power Squadron, installed Dorothy Bartlett as president of the auxiliary's summer's activities. She succeeds Audrey Burton. Other newly installed officers include Jane McLaughlin, vice president; Athelia Martinez, second vice president; Dorothy Marquardt, recording secretary; and Billie Rose, corresponding secretary.

Vimodausis plan to visit Sunland

PORT ST LUCIE The [illegible] Club met on [illegible] afternoon Ma[illegible] the Marina with [illegible] members and two [illegible] present. Dessert [illegible] was served in the [illegible] motif by Chair[illegible] Stephenson and co[illegible] Millie Bishop, Mae [illegible] Cecelia Kirby, [illegible] Kimball and Mary [illegible]

Program chairman [illegible] Sams introduced [illegible] Richardson who read a [illegible] entitled The Gift which was about a little retarded sister after which Ada Haines sang Little Boy Blue and a selection from Rogers & Hammerstein's Sound of Music.

A bus trip to Sunland Center in Ft. Myers has been planned for May 10 to visit the area and especially the young lady Vimodausis has helped to support for many years. Reservations and monies must be in to Nell Stephenson by Wednesday April 12.

Gab-n-Eatas held coffee

PORT ST LUCIE A morning coffee was held on Thursday, March 9 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Wasson, 606 Coconut Avenue for the members of the Gab N Eatas Social Club. There were 16 members and guests present.

Visitors introduced were Mrs. S.C. Johnson, guest of Mrs. Stanley Quick; Mrs. Maxwell Russell, guest of Mrs. Donald White; Mrs. Dorothy Lender, guest of Mrs. Mary Ann and Mrs. Charles White.

The club accepted Mrs. Frank Lobips, 701 A Pelton Vista Blvd., as an associate member.

A luncheon is announced for March 23 at 12 noon at the Port Esta Motel and the next coffee will be held at the home of Mrs. Albert Mc Donnell, 324 Holly Avenue on April 13.

Cub Pack 801 plans turtle race

JENSEN BEACH – Scouts of Cub Scout Pack 801 have a busy time ahead of them with trips and meetings planned.

One of the highlights of the March 28 meeting to be held at Jensen Beach Community Church at 7:30 p.m. will be a turtle race. Theme for the month is Hobbies and Pets, and hobbies will be displayed.

On march 26 Den 1 will attend a pre season baseball game featuring the Montreal Expos in West Palm Beach.

On the 29th Webelos Den 2 will visit Southern Bell central office in Stuart where various equipment will be explained.

Den 2 will visit the Candy Tree in Vero Beach on March 30. Nat Barker, a candy maker for 40 years, will give a demonstration in the art of candy making.

A trip to the telephone yard in hidden valley will be taken by Den 2 on April 3 where they will see a demonstration of telephone construction and the various equipment.

Members of the Den are: Ned Chapman, Jeff Driscoll, Drew Nugent, William Kahl, David Schroeder, Bennett Hardware and Darin Tal. Assistant Leine Mercanes is den leader.

POLICEMEN MAY APPLY

JENSEN BEACH – Police commissioners are now accepting applications for the position of policeman for the town of Jensen Beach.

Applications may be obtained at the police department and application must be returned there on or before March 29th. Any person interested may apply at the Police office in Jensen Beach.

BUSINESS HALL COMPANY

JENSEN BEACH – Mrs. Mary Hughes of Jensen Beach was hostess for the meeting of the Business Hall Company held Monday, March 13 at the home of Mrs. Hughes on Jensen Beach Blvd.

Mrs. Hughes was assisted in her duties and entertainment by Mrs. Dorothy Wood, co-hostess. Mrs. Wood read the minutes of the previous meeting and the roll call was answered by members telling what they had done to help others.

Mrs. Hughes read a letter from Mrs. Ruth Hall, Mrs. Hall's daughter, Linda, is a patient at Veterans Hospital in Miami and Mrs. Hall is staying with her. Mrs. Hall asked that the group remember Linda in their prayers.

Fran's Cheese Fondu

JENSEN BEACH Straight from Switzerland, via a recent trip, comes this week's recipe for cheese fondu. Mrs. Fran Hooker of Melba Drive discovered the recipe during a recent visit there and found it a great dish.

She said she brought presents back from her travels. Fran said she had been invited to attend the Swiss Ski Club's annual banquet one night last year. She was the guest of honor. The banquet was attended by Swiss, French, Italian and English people. Fran said she had to wear a Swiss costume for the occasion. She said she was the only American present.

Fran and husband Wally, who also have two boys, age Sixth Grader Brandy, Jason, Judy, Jeffy and Wendy. He said the dish is one of the specialties of the restaurant where he and Fran were married.

Fran said fondue is a dish that is served in a pot over a flame. She said the pot is placed in the center of the table and each person dips his own piece of bread into the pot. She said the dish is very popular in Switzerland and that eating is a social event. She said the dish is also popular in France and Italy.

FRAN'S CHEESE FONDU

One pound Swiss cheese (grated)
One tablespoon flour
One clove garlic
One cup dry white wine
One tablespoon kirsch
One loaf French bread (cut in bite-size pieces)

Cut half a pound of Swiss cheese and half a pound of American sharp cheese into small cubes and dredge them in flour. Cut the garlic clove in half and rub the inside of a heavy saucepan with the cut surfaces. Pour the wine into the saucepan and heat over a low flame. Add the cheese, a little at a time, stirring constantly with a wooden spoon. Continue stirring until the cheese is melted and the mixture is smooth. Add the kirsch and stir well. Pour the fondue into a chafing dish and keep it warm over a low flame. Serve with bread cubes. Each person dips a piece of bread into the fondue, using a long-handled fork. If the fondue becomes too thick, add a little more wine and stir well.

IRCC fund up

FT. PIERCE. The fund drive for the new Student Center at Indian River Community College got a $5,000 boost from General Development Corporation. GDC donated $2,500 each for Martin and St. Lucie Counties. The donation was presented to the college by GDC president Frederick Roach and Jack Sheridan, general manager of GDC's Port St. Lucie.

Construction of the new student center is expected to start in four or five weeks, according to Dr. Herman Hesse, president of the college.

Hesse said that although the fund drive is only four months old, he expects to have $200,000 in four or five weeks with which to begin construction.

Total of the fund drive is $300,000.

County fair tops all in history with 28,000

the fair. The school exhibit's main theme was Math and Science Fair. Each school had held a math science fair and the winners in the individual schools were also on for the county fair.

The children are to be highly commended, said Eugene Debus, co-chairman of the school division of the fair. There were 61 individual exhibits and the hands of the children were evident in each entry, Debus said that this year's entries were different from previous years in that the individual child prepared them instead of a group of children in a class. The teachers usually thought up the idea and then the kids would build around it. This year the kids worked very hard and the exhibits were self made, he said.

Plaques were awarded to the winning children, their schools and each child that exhibited received a certificate.

The Port Salerno Elementary School won first and second place in the K-2 division and third place was won by Jensen Beach Elementary.

In Grades 3-4 Hobe Sound Elementary's entry placed first, Palm City second and Hobe Sound third.

In the 5th and 6th grade division Jensen Beach Elementary placed first, Hobe Sound second and Indiantown Iowa Middle School third.

Indiantown Middle School was the winner in Grades 7-8. Stuart Middle took second place and the Indiantown school also won third place.

Martin County High School exhibited in the fair but did not compete.

The exhibits were judged on scientific thought, creative ability, thoroughness, clarity of display and dramatic value.

The best commercial exhibit rosette was awarded to Stuart Paint and Supply for their display featuring a mock-up of the proposed Stuart-Port Salerno Commercial center. Second place in that category was awarded to Central Air Conditioning and third place went to B. Lacie Pump.

Martin Marine Center was awarded the rosette for the most colorful exhibit and Sunrise Music was awarded the blue ribbon in that division. Third place went to Hansen Music.

The most original display rosette was given to Stuart Marine Center for their display of boats and motors and Driftwood Taxidermist was awarded the blue ribbon in that category. Willich Sprinklers was third.

Florida Underwater School of Diving was judged the most educational display and the Stuart Police Department was the first runner up with Nozzle Nolen the second runner up.

Jenkins Landscape had the best professional display according to the judges.

Bob Whitty, the new county agent was chairman of the citrus flower and vegetable exhibit where many local growers displayed their wares.

Many local artists also exhibited at the fair and Kenneth Mapp won the Best of Show award for his entry. Mapp also won first place in the watercolor division of the art judging. Second place watercolor award was won by Frank Turner and third place by Jean Schinnick.

Donna Privateer won the first place ribbon in the landscape division and Mary Lovalvo was second. E. Zunino won third place.

The still life category was won by Betty Elasasser. Second place ribbon went to Kas Ruppert and third to Mary McGee.

Ann Callen won first in abstracts, V.H. Ells second and Dorothy Elliot third.

3-way tie for SDS golfers

STUART — There was a three way tie for Tuesday's at Martin County Golf and Country Club for the Stuart Department Store Trophy. The tie was between Evelyn Broggi, Thelma Bader and Kas Bishop.

A field of about 20 qualified Tuesdays for the qualifying round for the club championship. Medalist was Joan Wright with 82. Low putt winner was Jane Weiss with 30.

The first round of the club championship will be played next Tuesday, March 28, with the second round April 4 and the third round April 6. Finals will be played April 11.

Clean-up campaign nets tennis shoe planter, beds, junk in assault

JENSEN BEACH — Anyone for a tennis shoe planter? That was among the 380 bags of litter collected Saturday in Jensen Beach's Assault on Litter. Workers from the Jensen Beach area collected lawn mowers, fertilizer spreaders, a truck door, tires, a mattress, a bed spring and the bed, clothing, shoes and a tennis shoe with plants growing out of it in Saturday's litter pick-up.

Jon Chicks, coordinator of the assault, said that around 125 people participated in the drive, including Boy Scout Troop 811, Cub Scout Pack 803, Girl Scout Troop 231, Mrs. Gilman's Brownie troop, the First Baptist Church of Jensen Beach, the Community Church's junior and senior high groups, Jensen Beach Mustangs, Martin County Anglers Club, the Jensen Beach Lions Club and the Stuart-Jensen Beach Jaycees. The drive was coordinated by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce with Chicks in charge.

Those that turned out really did a day's work and they deserve a lot of credit, Chicks said. I wish we could list all the names of the people who helped.

The workers started the assault about 1 p.m. and finished working about 4:30, cleaning Indian River Drive from the north county line, SR 707, to Warner Creek, Palmer Road, the South Jensen shopping area, Langford Ball Park, Commercial and Rivou Streets, Candice Avenue, South Savana Road and the Jensen Beach Causeway.

A group under the direction of Rev. Donald Johnson cleaned the picnic area at the Jensen beach.

The Jensen Beach Lions Club handed out drinks to the workers. Drinks were provided by Coca-Cola Bottling of Ft. Pierce.

The Chamber of Commerce donated the gas for the trucks that picked up the bags from the workers, and the Martin County Sheriff's Department kept traffic under control, according to Chicks.

Chicks said that some of the workers were discouraged because in spite of all their effort, the next day, beer cans and other litter started appearing in the same spots we had cleaned the day before. He added that he personally doubts there will be another public assault on the litter, saying, "The next one will have to be under the direction of the county. This is very discouraging for the people who worked so hard to go out the next day and see the same kind of litter again."

IRCC is eyeing St. Joseph site

STUART The possibility of establishing a branch of IRCC at the St. Joseph College site in Jensen Beach was discussed briefly by the Martin County Commission Tuesday. St. Joseph College, located on a spacious campus on the banks of the Indian River, expects to close its doors permanently in May.

In a letter from IRCC President Dr. Herman Beise to Governor Reubin Askew, copied to County Commissioner Bill Roberts, Beise said his institution has been studying the [illegible] at Jensen Beach.

The prospect for placing an [illegible] college would serve its admirably. President Beise said. Several colleges have been contacted to purchase the property, he explained, and there is a possibility that private interests may purchase all or part of the St. Joseph College property.

If that were done, not all of it would be used for educational facilities, Dr. Beise said. He suggested the sharing of the facilities with the Martin County marine science program, and the engineering program. Funding and limitations were the problem he pointed out.

I would hate to see a fine educational facility lost to the state, where at the same time we are searching for a site in the area, said Dr. Beise. The purchase at this facility could be a real long term saving for the State of Florida.

Dr. Beise offered to assist the Governor in any way including data leading to a decision.

Commissioners United unanimously to schedule a [illegible] to support the stand taken by Dr. Beise and submits him to letter.

UNION SERVICE On Good Friday there will be a union service of three churches of Jensen Beach. The participating churches are Trinity United Methodist, Jensen Beach Community, and Jensen Beach Christian. The services will be held at 12 noon Good Friday at Jensen Beach Christian Church. Shown above are right to left Rev. Donald E. Johnson of the Community Church, Rev. Milton Frymire of the Christian Church, and Rev. Neil M. Vanderpool of the Trinity Church. All three ministers will speak at the Good Friday services.

Easter services planned in area

JENSEN BEACH Traditional sunrise services on Easter Sunday are growing more and more popular in the area with three local churches planning services for this Sunday.

Trinity United Methodist Church will sponsor the seventh annual Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. on the ocean at Jensen's public beach. The Rev. Neil M. Vanderpool, pastor, will be the speaker, assisted by the Rev. William Underwood, retired United Methodist minister from the Philadelphia Conference. Ernest Baker is in charge of arrangements and Charles Baskin, choir director, will lead the anthems. He [illegible]

A brass ensemble will provide the music. All are invited to attend.

Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. will be observed. Thursday of Holy Week.

Easter Sunrise Service will be held by the Jensen Beach Community Church at 6 a.m. on the Jensen Beach Causeway. There will be a special service, special singing, and special music, according to the Rev. Durland F. Johnson, pastor.

Services will be held at the Church on Skyline Drive at 10 a.m. Maundy Thursday and Good Friday. Those services will be held at the Jensen Beach Christian Church Street front.

The First Baptist Church of Jensen Beach will have an Early Easter Service on the Indian River at the foot of Commercial Street in the parking lot of First Federal Savings and Loan Association. The service will be at 6 a.m. with the Rev. Kenneth Hall in charge. Easter Sunday, March 26 at 11 a.m. Easter cantata will be rendered by the choir.

The Feast of the Resurrection will be celebrated at All Saints Episcopal Church with Sunrise Eucharist Sunday at 6:30 a.m. preceded by the blessing of the Paschal Candle. At the 10 a.m. Mass the Rt. Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, D.D., retired Bishop of Easton, will preside and preach.

Maundy Thursday services will be held at 8 p.m. with the Holy Eucharist. Good Friday Liturgy at 10 a.m. and Stations of the Cross at 3 p.m. with sermon by the Rev. Harry Taylor, rector. Holy Saturday Mass will be at 8 a.m. with blessing of the Easter food.

Pollution Control lab slated

FT. PIERCE: A laboratory in the office of Florida Pollution Control has been approved for the Ft. Pierce district, according to Al Cox, head of the local unit.

Serving Martin, St. Lucie, Okeechobee and Indian River counties, the office will be able to test locally cutting down on the time-consuming and sample destroying preservation method of gaining lab reports.

Cox was notified of the lab approval by Frank Kleeman, regional engineer for FPC.

At present the samples collected for analysis have to be sent to Hallendale and testing must be made in most cases in twelve hours. This delay renders the samples useless.

The local FPC has been seeking a laboratory for a year and has established certain testing statistics throughout the four-county area so that constant contact can be made with the potential pollution areas. The lab will make it easier to take care of problems as they arise, according to Cox.

NEW MEMBERS: Thirteen members were installed at the Jensen Beach Lions Club Ladies Night last Tuesday. New members are, seated, Sylvia Nichols, Marian Cancel and Ralph Hutson will be as president Elaine Burnett and George Mercer, District Governor, installing officer. Another new member, John Hipp, was unable to come and will be installed April 1.

ST. PATRICK PARTY: Green hats were sported by members and guests of the Jensen Beach Lions Club last week as it celebrated St. Patrick's Day. A group of 38 guests and 14 visiting Lions attended the party at Cross's Nest. Among those at the table are Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Miller, Mrs. Al Walker, whose husband was master of ceremonies, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marks.

Did we really get the China story?

BY DICK CAMPBELL

WASHINGTON Helen Thomas leaned into the microphone confidentially saying. "And Ron Ziegler walked up to one of the reporters he trusted and said 'If you ask the president how he liked the Great Wall, he will be prepared to answer.'"

The UPI reporter paused. The audience laughed.

Then when the president came out all smiles the reporter said "Sir Mr President how do you like the Great Wall?"

The president said I must conclude the Great Wall is a Great Wall.

We reached heights of eloquence all over the place Miss Thomas added.

It was typical of the fare received by newsmen covering the China trip by President Richard Nixon a dessert of actual news in a restrained atmosphere of news nothingness in which the days menu became as important as anything else since there was nothing else of news value in the trip.

Even so Miss Thomas said that the president's wife Pat came up with a gem. Pat supposedly said I have tasted Chinese food all over the world but I tasted best in China.

The reporters in China were free to write all they wished but were given nothing of substance. The president was kept from the reporters who ended up being a cosmetic force for photographers painting a picture that showed off the president to the public in the best manner.

The substance of the trip was one of the meetings the leaders had in the various government offices conference of the National Newspaper Association in Washington D.C. recently.

Miss Thomas shared the platform with Dr. Paul Cheng a Nationalist Chinese refugee who is now publisher of the Midland Valley Journal in Michigan. Richard Nethercut a state department official. Dr. Ernest Mayhard Stone of the Institute for International Studies George Washington University and John Fincher professor of Asian studies John Hopkins University.

Miss Thomas described the colorful first press conference on the trip and of what China is like and the professors interpreted the significance of the statements made with the press briefing officers who were in the room. Some of the statements about the reception in Hong Kong for Ling Piao and Chou En Lai were made by Miss Thomas and Miss Thomas was also responsible for the statement that Chou En Lai is a striking man.

Aside the sterilized thing having been stripped of any substance the reporters gained insight upon the trip as being a beginning of a bridge of understanding between the two countries but not based on the power block of Soviet Russia for Ling Piao Michael said Mao made the statement that the U.S. is a strong nation and we must be strong to be respected.

Mao concluded that the relationship between China and the U.S. must be on an equal basis.

The question then according to Michael is the stability of China and whether the cult of Mao will survive the leader.

The opportunity to have a foot in the door in this time of detente by China was cited by Michael as being an opportunity. He said that China could become more nationalistic move back to Moscow move into an elimination of the wars of liberation a de Maoization of China or a return to Marxism and Leninism.

Michael also said that the credibility of the United States is now in question and he called that the major problem. He said that our relations with Japan are strained with a new alignment possible but not probable. He said there may be a Moscow Tokyo combine against the Peking Washington combine.

In any case Michael said our credibility is strained with our friends who expected us to continue in the containment of China.

However Miss Thomas said that it was just that containment that placed the United States in the Korean and Viet Nam wars.

Michael said the move of the nation toward China held massive inherent dangers.

Contrary to what most people believe the Taiwan of Nationalist China has always been considered a province of China not a separate government based upon declaration of 1943.

Dr. Fincher said that he felt that Taiwan will some day change to an integration of the Taiwanese with the mainland visitors who form the government there. He said that Peking rulers would not take Taiwan by force but will woo the island back into the China fold ensuring the present high standard of living of the Taiwanese.

He compared the capitulation with the treatment of Hong Kong by the China government.

The state department representative said nothing deferring to the delicate nature of negotiations and other such noncommittal expletives that said nothing. He was somewhat obviously displayed at the continuous mocking of those who took liberties with the style department abandonment of his people.

He called the trip achieving success at the highest level and said it helped Asia much in reducing tensions.

It was evident in the hearing that the people of the United States did not get the facts from this and other reports are that the images will be a long time in building.

Miss Thomas told the reporters that she had walked bravely up to Chou and asked how the talks were going. We are trying to reach common ground Chou answered.

I thought I was a most sensible answer it was more than we were getting from the White House she said.

Cook of the Week

BY RUTH BOWMAN

Vernal's Asparagus Casserole

JENSEN BEACH — Mrs. Vernal Shipes and family of Miss A. Hickory Ave. find a recipe that they feel is worthy of the area. Vernal, husband Bubba, a sales representative for Florida Power and Light Co., and their four sons, Skipper is a student at Indian River Community College, Fifth is a student at Martin County High School, Gary is also a student and Scott is in the second grade at Jensen Beach Elementary. Bubba, Skipper and Gary are avid hunters and fishermen, while Scott and Mrs. Parker enjoy the finer things of life. Mrs. Parker is a homemaker and a very handy person with a needle. She enjoys planning, and sometimes working on the handicrafts being embroidered, sewn or otherwise created by her friends. She is also an accomplished artist in painting. During the season she is employed as a waitress at Hutchins Landing Restaurant, where she has also worked as a cook. Mrs. Parker is a member of the Methodist Church and enjoys reading, sewing, cooking, traveling, and entertaining friends. She also shares an interest in bird watching with her husband.

Mrs. Parker has submitted special recipes with Mirror readers.

VERNAL'S ASPARAGUS CASSEROLE
1 can or can of Very Young Early Peas
1 15 oz. can Asparagus Spears, Drain both
1 can Cream of Mushroom Soup
1 or 2 chopped hardboiled eggs
1 small can chopped mush rooms
1 Tbsp. chopped pimentoes

Put peas in casserole dish. Arrange Asparagus Spears in spoke style on top of peas. Pour heated soup to which eggs, mushrooms and pimentoes have been added over the top and sprinkle 1 cup grated cheese over all.

Bake 325 degrees until bubbls and the cheese melts, about 15-20 minutes. Toasted almonds may be sprinkled over the top the last five minutes if desired. This serves 8 persons.

The Mirror welcomes special personal recipes from you just send to "Cook of the Week" care of the Mirror, or please call me at the office, 287-1111, or at my home, 287-4447.

St. Joseph students found guilty

...NT ART. Final disposition ...the 28 cases involved in a ...pre-dawn raid on St. Joseph ...college dormitory last Octo... ...ber 30 was made in circuit ...court Friday, and two ...students received sentences. ...One, Bruce Bonaiuto, 20, of Morristown, N.J., was ordered to pay $250 court costs or 30 days in jail on possession of less than five grams of marijuana.

The second, John W. Rate, 19, of Glastonbury, Conn., was sentenced to three years on probation on the same charge.

Judge D. C. Smith refused to entertain motions to supress evidence on the cases as he had in the cases of five other students recently, saying he had found that deputies used proper search and seizure in the immediacy of the case, fearing destruction of the evidence.

TOPS IN SALES: Steve Means, Jensen Beach, a salesman for WSTU was honored by Distributive Education Clubs of America as the number two salesman in Florida at the annual meeting of the state organization in Orlando Saturday. Means attributed his success in the competition in which he placed only three points behind the first place winner to the training of station owner Hansen Glasscock. He is now eligible to compete in the national program. Means is pictured with his wife Jackie following the presentation.

OUTGOING PRESIDENT: Kevin Thomas, outgoing president of FAME, presided over the awards banquet of the seventh annual State Leadership Conference in Orlando last weekend. Thomas attended Indian River Community College when elected into office and now works for Sears in Ft. Pierce. Thomas' last official duty was the installation of the new officers, two of whom are IRCC students.

Love of golf, training, builds Shirley's comeback

By JIM CAMPBELL

PORT ST. LUCIE Mental attitude is no problem in the case of Shirley Engelhorn as she begins the first phase of a comeback at the site of tomorrow's pro-national golfers.

The 27-year-old barbecue pro-fessional hostess of the Sears Women's World Classic is sitting out tournament recuperat-ing from an operation that has her ankle but she has been keeping busy with her friends on the LPGA circuit and taking care of the hundred and one business items that a hostess takes care of for a tournament.

Her doctor kept her in the hospital until last Friday following the removal of three screws from her ankle. Then he told her to come to St. Lucie and walk and walk, and walk.

I was worried about the ankle swelling but he said it wouldn't and it hasn't. The beautiful blond athlete said last weekend. Her therapy includes dangling her feet in the swimming pool morning and evening and taking hot baths alternating between hot and cold water to increase circulation in her ankle area.

I just roll up the wastebasket with cold water, keep hot water running in the tub and it does the job, she said, smiling.

The ankle injury, a result of an automobile accident in 1963, in which the entire ankle area was crushed, Miss Englehorn had some of the damage repaired but in July of last year the cartilidge between the ankle bones disintegrated, creating a painful bone against bone problem.

Finally I knew what pain is. It got to a point that it was hard to smile, and at night my teeth would hurt from clenching them together to smile during the day. But now that is all over. The golfer said.

Miss Englehorn is a member of the Ted Williams Advisory Staff of Sears Sporting & Designing and testing recreational equip-ment. The Willow lobe is the best in the field and tops of the Sears sports depart-ments.

It would be difficult for you to imagine how much pain and agony an operation as the fusion of an ankle but the smile of Shirley Englehorn is not to be denied.

The bone has healed. Now it is a matter of training the muscles of the leg to respond. I know just what muscles to work on and I am determined to get in shape.

If things work out I'll be able to play in June but that is a big if, she said.

If I could, I'd like to play golf. But if I'm not playing golf, I just enjoy being around the girls. I know I'll be able to play again, and that's what she said with finality.

Once the leg and ankle heals, Miss Englehorn expects to get back in shape and get back on the tour. She indicates that she expects to play on only eight or ten tournaments a year for the time being, not more.

One of the most popular golfers on the tour, Miss Englehorn was third top money winner in 1970 despite the pain in the ankle and the way her touring shrunk to a one.

When I get back on the tour, I'll be ready. A gal has to play in order to golf and must walk five or six miles a day, she said.

With a home in Palm Desert, California and traveling twelve months a year for Sears, Miss Engle-horn lives and leads a busy life.

I'm on the board of directors of my condomin-ium, and I get a kick out of the work I like politics, think President Nixon is great, and feel that his trip to China was a great thing for the peace of the world, she said.

Traveling so much means not too much personal life for the attractive Shirley, but she says that she is used to opening my own doors and paying my own bills although it's kinda nice to have someone do it for you. But her travel is the reason that three almost marri-ages didn't come to pass, she said.

I am not ready to get married yet. When I meet the right man, maybe then. But he will have to respect me for myself. Besides, being in love, we've got to like each other, she smiled.

Devoted to golf, Shirley said she loves to promote ladies golf and golf for the youth of America.

It teaches the kids self discipline and keeps them active. They burn off a lot of energy, and remember, it takes a lot of intelligence to play golf for three or four hours, a lot of intelligence and concentration.

As for the future, Miss Englehorn said, I hope with my health good, that I'll be able to go on doing what I am doing for as long as I can. I want to be involved in golf until I'm eighty or ninety years old.

As one of the popularly recognized leaders of the ladies golfing movement, Miss Englehorn will be closely watched as she begins the trip up the comeback trail. Her recov-ery will be the subject of depth analysis by every sports-writer in the nation.

But as they watch her, it will be from behind, for Shirley Englehorn is always looking ahead, smiling and that smile doesn't hurt anymore.

Popular, attractive Shirley Englehorn was official hostess at the Sears Women's ... last week a spot she prefers next to playing golf. Miss Englehorn is recovering ... operation and hopes to play golf by next June.

90 turtles released by Ross Witham

By DENNIS DOYLE

JENSEN BEACH - Ninety seven-month old green sea turtles raised in captivity were released last week on Hutchinson Island by marine biologist Ross Witham of the State Department of Natural Resources. Helping Witham in the release were Bob Gallager and Mac Hollinger who are with the Department.

Witham collects sea turtle eggs each year during July and August when the large turtles lay their eggs on the beaches. Witham studies the turtles under various conditions of captivity and tries to learn if the turtles sustain abnormal growth and if they can survive in their own natural habitat.

The turtles are tagged, weighed and measured before being released. When the turtles are discovered they will be re-studied to see if there is any significant change.

One turtle not long ago showed up in the Bahamas Witham remarked. Tagged turtles that are found should be reported to any local branch of the Department of Natural Resources. He added. It's illegal for anyone to capture these turtles. Even a marine biologist can't touch one unless he has a permit.

Witham has been studying these turtles capturing and releasing them in this area since 1968.

One thing that was different in the batch he released last week was a negative curve growth on their shells causing a swayback. Witham felt it was a genetic problem since the turtles grew under the same conditions as previous ones.

Even though they have the sway back on the shell the turtles are healthy according to examinations Witham said.

The turtles released weighed one and a quarter pounds and measured six inches in length. The maximum growth reaches six hundred pounds and a length of forty eight inches.

Gallager and Hollinger assisted Witham in the release. They are from the St. Petersburg office of the Department of Natural Resources. They have been in this area for the past year doing an ecological survey for the Atomic Energy Commission in connection with the Florida Power and Light nuclear power plant on Hutchinson Island.

TURTLES RELEASED: Last Tuesday, March 21, was freedom day for 90 green sea turtles released by Ross Witham of the State Department of Natural Resources. Bob Gallagher and Mac Hollinger. The turtles have been held captive since last August when found on the beach. The bigger turtles come every year between July and August to lay their eggs on the beach. The turtles were tagged, weighed and measured so if found somewhere later it can be determined whether the captivated growth has affected them. One tagged turtle in the past was found in the Bahamas.

TAGGED, WEIGHED AND MEASURED: Ross Witham, local marine biologist, along with Bob Gallagher and Mac Hollinger, tagged, weighed and measured each of the 90 green sea turtles released from the House of Refuge last week. The turtles have been held in a captive environment since last August. When released they weighed one and a quarter pounds and were six inches in length. Maximum growth of the green sea turtles reaches 600 pounds and 48 inches in length.

ART TROPHY: The Rebenser Art Trophy will be awarded this Sunday at the Community Services Program's Outdoor Art Festival at Elliott Museum. The last show of the season will be from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. for students of Mrs. Madeleine Rebenser, shown above holding the trophy which will be presented to the student entering the best oil painting. Judges will be three prominent local artists. Mrs. Ione Connolly

Where to go?

Forsberg predicts $51 million by '73

JENSEN BEACH — A prediction of over $51 million in construction by the end of 1972 in Martin County was made by planning and zoning board member Frank Forsberg Monday.

Speaking to the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club, Forsberg said that his figure was based upon the $6,327,000 in 202 building permits issued in the first two months of 1972.

Forsberg traced the boom-like growth of the county, saying that the county had 150 building permits in 1969 for $11,268,000; 1345 building permits for $35,000,000 in 1970, and projecting the revised $51 million by the end of 1972.

The veteran zoning board member said he didn't know where development was going to go and said that the present master planning group seemed to know what it was doing, but had not yet given the county proper guidelines to growth.

Talking about modular homes, Forsberg, himself a custom builder of over 100 homes in the Jensen Beach area said, "We have a battle on whether to continue with them. We have problems with design, location and architecture of the homes."

The zoning member said that he thought the county would reach the 50,000 by 1980, projection of the county ...

He also mentioned that the state was thinking of a moratorium on building, and that the county commission was considering a moratorium on building permits, as has been issued in Palm Beach County.

One problem is primary and secondary roads to serve the areas in development and as are being done now, ... Forsberg said. He ... the fact that Martin ... has a count per acre ... while the Ft. Lauderdale ... has an 85 unit per acre ...

As to where the county is going to grow, Forsberg said, "Your guess is as good as mine." He added that he felt that a moratorium or building would stand up in a court of law saying, "the lawyers laugh at us."

At the meeting, Kiwanis President Tom Wyatt named a nominating committee of Tom Proctor, Ed Wareheim, Hamilton Wade and Bill Herring to select candidates for election of the 1972-73 ...

Branford's book store in Jensen

JENSEN BEACH — Mrs. Brantford, owner of Brantford's Bar, has opened the first book store in Jensen Beach. It is located at 928 Commercial Street. The store opened Monday.

We are looking forward to a place for fine books and all those newspapers and magazines," she added that hand-made books are the specialty ordered for customers.

The brightly lit store is the farthest south Brantford's paint shop on commercial building.

Already, it appears, most newspapers and magazines, including a wide rating of regional magazines. Delivery of daily newspapers within Jensen Beach is scheduled shortly.

Gertald and Hazel Proctor had a lot of company during March and ended up with a big turkey dinner with all the trimmings from March 16th to March 30th. Gertald's sister and brother in law, Edna and Arthur Harwood were here from Wallsburg, near Provo. On Saturday, March 18th four of his sister and brother in law, Olga and Ted Hath from Cedar City, Utah, his sister in law, Lucille Hath from Fort Lauderdale were here to spend the night. The Hath friends were here on their way to Fort Lauderdale and left there for home this past week. While in Fort Lauderdale they purchased a mobile home in the same court where the Haths, Myles Estates. On Sunday, the Proctors entertained for a big family dinner and potluck party. Eddie Bolling recovers from Ho Chi Minh ordeal

JENSEN BEACH Capt Eddie Bolling 25 son of Mr and Mrs Rudy Bolling of Bollings Motel was reported recovering in a Viet Nam hospital this week following his rescue from the Ho Chi Minh Trail area last Thursday

Bolling was flying the second of two AC103 Spectre gunships that were shot down over the trail by enemy anti aircraft gunfire The first ship lost all fourteen of its crew missing in action on the crash but Bolling's crew parachuted into enemy territory in Laos

Helicopters picked up the 10 men there Friday morning Bolling called his father from the hospital to tell him all was well and said he plans to be back to duty flying in a few days

Bolling was flying single engine jet fighters until being trained and assigned to the new computerized Spectre gunship which is equipped with infra red cameras He has been in the service for three years and is a graduate of the University of Miami

The
of a
$100,000,000.00
Savings and Loan Association

The History . . .

17 YEARS OF PROGRESS

The Association was born in 1955 as the Riviera Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association at 1901 Broadway in Riviera Beach. The original floor space was just 1,000 square feet. The office operated with three employees.

Foreseeing the need for additional savings and loan facilities in the northern Palm Beach County area, this Board of Directors established an agency office in Jupiter in February, 1959. In addition, due to the expanded service area of the association, the name was changed to Community Federal Savings and Loan Association of Riviera Beach. In July, 1959 the Federal Home Loan Bank Board granted Community Federal permission to establish a branch office at 929 North Alternate A-1-A in Jupiter. This office had 3,000 square feet of floor space.

The Growth Facts . . .

As the assets of Community Federal grew, the need for larger office space was inevitable. August, 1961 — new 7,500 square foot office constructed on the corner of Broadway and Blue Heron Boulevard in Riviera Beach. June, 1965 — second floor added to Riviera Beach office. October, 1966 — 5,700 square foot office constructed on the corner of U.S. #1 and Tequesta Drive in Jupiter-Tequesta. August, 1971 — Twin City Mall office officially opened — 650 square feet of office space. January, 1972 the newest branch office granted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington, D.C. to Community Federal was the Stuart branch in growing Martin County. This office will be opened in temporary quarters in April, 1972 between 1st and 2nd Streets and U.S. #1 in Stuart.

The Future . . . in One Word

DYNAMIC!

A growth minded Board of Directors supported by a forward thinking management team assures continued success for serving the needs of the citizens of Palm Beach and Martin Counties.

GEORGE L. AHGAMALIAN

How do you answer your children's questions about God?

Come to this Christian Science Lecture

What right does an individual have to be himself and to be free?

A divine right, according to a public lecture to be given in Stuart, Florida on Saturday, April 15, by George Louis Aghamalian C.S.B., a Christian Science lecturer from New York.

Right now, Mr. Aghamalian will state, you have the right to be yourself, the man God made the man Christ Jesus exemplified. Right here you have the right to remind your experience and be free. And furthermore you have the right to fulfill your God-directed purpose.

Mr. Aghamalian will speak at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist in First United Methodist Church, Rt. 76 Stuart, at 3:30 p.m.

The lecturer will explain how spiritual understanding of one's true identity brings healing.

Mr. Aghamalian, a native of Brooklyn, New York, withdrew from business in 1961 to devote his full time to the healing ministry of Christian Science. In 1964 he became a teacher of Christian Science. He is currently on extensive tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

"Stand Up for Your Rights" is the subject of his local lecture which is free to all.

BIG DAY: March 26 was a big day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Lightfield of 147 S. Rustic Lane, Fisherman's Haven. First of all it was their 25th wedding anniversary. In addition to that, while playing golf with her husband at Martin County Golf and Country Club, Mrs. Lightfield had her first hole-in-one. DJ, who golfs four or five times a week, shot the hole-in-one on the 161-yard par three eleventh hole, using a number three wood. Happy silver wedding anniversary and happy golfing, Lightfields.

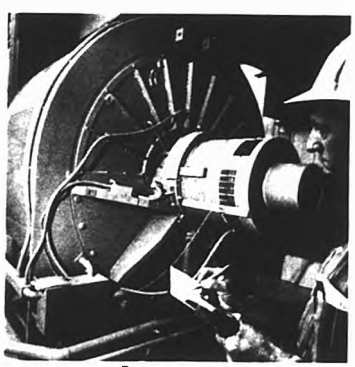
This year FPL will spend $40 million on peak-period generators.



We can't afford not to.

Not if we are to keep on serving you reliably, even in emergency power peak situations.

Peak periods occur when everyone needs a lot of electricity at the same time. It could come most anytime.

Now FPL is installing its third group of gas turbine peak period generators at a cost of $40 million. This will add 444,000 kilowatts of power available quickly in an emergency.

Designed for short-term use only, these jet engine generators are not the answer to Florida's critical power problems. We are still threatened by a shortage of power reserves. But FPL is working hard on that problem too, with our enormous construction program.

Meanwhile, we're installing push-button power with these new peak-period generators.

We can't afford not to.

Riverside Village News

By HELEN GITHENS

As John and I will be having for our home in Haddon Heights, N.J. in two weeks this will be my last column til next year. I want to say how much I have enjoyed writing this column for the lovely folks in Riverside Village. We hope to see you all next fall. God willing.

Well, it is now around that time of year when those who go north for the summer are either packing to go or are already on the way. Some of the folks who have left Riverside are Ethel Mc Avery 1st St. for her home in Edden Conn. Erma and Elmer Munn left for their home in Iowa (their grandaughter and grandson spent the last ten days with them then rode back to Iowa with them) The Munns will not be returning as they have sold their trailer. Ellie Wilson and Vivian Glass, sisters, of 2nd St. left for their home in Louisville Ky. after spending the winter here. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith left Tuesday for their home in Terra Haute Ind. Mae and Karl Engerside with her sister Sue O'Rourke, left for their home in Upper Black Eddy Bucks County, Pa. Happy and safe traveling to all.

Mrs. Wealthy Ruschel's daughter and grandson, Mrs. Les Ho, and Chris from Hawaii were here for Easter. Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Rushel during her recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lucia spent Easter with their son and family in Clearwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy had their son and family here for Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark are entertaining their son and family from Lyle, Ill. The children are enjoying the great and warm sunshine.

There were 48 at the Carry-in Dinner Wednesday. We bid farewell to many of our friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Powers, Rochester, Mich. are visiting for a week with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ferrier. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cowan from Michigan spent the day with the Ferriers. They are staying at Holiday Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray of Cleveland, Ohio were guests of his sister, Mrs. Karl Berthan for the past month.

Sale and Matty Segal are visiting her son Donald daughter in law Shirley and three grandsons Scott Donald and Gregg Szymanski over the holidays. They have visited Busch Gardens and plan to go to Disney World before returning home to Buffalo, N.Y.

Orpha and Marion Wood are visiting here with them for two weeks their daughter Bernice husband, Ralph, and two grandchildren Dave and Cass Todd. They are enjoying the beach and fishing here in Jensen Beach. They will ride back to Cooperstown, Mich. with the Hastings when they leave for home Friday.

Marion and Earle Briscoe of the Lane visited Mrs. Orpha Griswold for the weekend.

Harry Mowry of Port Huron spent Sunday with Ed and Daisy Lingrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Shapton visited in Zephyrhills Fla. with his brother Earl and wife. While there they took in two Detroit Tiger ball games in Lakeland.

Recently Ralph Shapton from Royal Oak Mich. visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lou Shapton. He flew down to Florida in his private plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Russ Freese entertained house guests over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Demery from Bluffton Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Remi Rothy had his brother and wife from Avon Park for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Toby DeVlieghter spent last week end at Homestead visiting an aunt and uncle also Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bokhart.

Shirley Whitman had a surprise visit from a cousin Graham Leonard and daughters Mona and Dere. They are from London England. Leonard is a professor at Harvard University and was touring Florida with his daughters who are on vacation from a boarding school in England.

There were 65 guests at the Easter supper. A delicious ham dinner was served by Mesdames Russ Freese Ralph Noggle Toby DeVlieghter Camile LaCluyse Ken Bigham Al Brynilson. A good time was had by all.

BEAUTY FOR THE ASKING. This area can be a flower of beauty if residents take advantage of an offer of seeds for the Poinciana Species, a large Brazilian tree that covers itself with quantities of eight-inch beautiful pink flowers. This is one of the most striking ornamental trees in South Florida according to Dr. Edwin A. Menninger, DCS. The Flowering Tree Man for Menninger offers seeds for the tree, which he says should be planted in parkways and similar areas as it is too big for an average yard. Send for seeds in envelope for mailing to Dr. Edwin A. Menninger, 229 Martin Ave., Stuart, Fla. 33494.

Fourth son

PROUD FAMILY Tom Littman received his Eagle badge, scoutings highest honor, last Wednesday, and became the fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. James Littman to win the coveted award. Mrs. Littman wears her four individual Eagle pins, and a specially made "Cluster of Eagles" pin presented to her by the council scout executive, Tom Fletcher. At right is Scoutmaster Art Pitman, who helped Littman to his goal. His father, next to Pitman, is advancement chairman of Troop 811.

Tom Littman receives eagle, BSA top award

JENSEN BEACH—History in Florida and possibly in the nation was made last Wednesday night in Jensen Beach when Tom Littman, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Littman, North River Shores, was awarded the Eagle Badge, scouting's highest award.

Littman is the fourth son to win the coveted honor and according to Gulfstream Council Executive Tommy Fletcher, his family might be the largest family of Eagles in America.

"I have searched the records and have not found one instance of there being four Eagle Scouts in one family and all four boys being Eagles," Fletcher said.

The Eagle award was presented at the Troop 811 Eagle Court of Honor by Mirror Editor Dick Campbell himself an Eagle and one of the founders of the troop in Jensen Beach.

"You have joined an exclusive club, a club with few members," Campbell said. He pointed to the fact that he was the only adult in the room who was an Eagle as a boy, telling Littman, "Your accomplishment is one of which you and your family can be proud for you have achieved the highest honor of any boy in scouting.

"Throughout your life your accomplishment will be one of your greatest treasures. Of all that I have done in my life, I take greatest pride in winning the Eagle in scouting," Campbell added.

The ceremony of the Eagle was handled by the members of Troop 811 with a candlelight service explaining the grades in scouting and honoring of the parents of the scouter.

Littman was escorted to the court of honor by two Eagles of the troop, Kevin Brown and David Deer.

As a part of the ceremony, a cluster of eagles, four miniature Eagle badges fused together, was presented to Mrs. Littman by Fletcher. He said that the Boy Scouts of America had no such cluster and the badge had to be specially made for the event.

In the presentation letters of congratulations in a scrapbook were presented to the new Eagle Scout. They were from public officials including President Richard Nixon, senators and congressmen, state officials and, as Scoutmaster Art Pitman said, "All the way down to the Chase a delight in the book."

Pitman, who was in charge of advancement before becoming Scoutmaster of the troop early this year, was obviously proud of Littman. He third son of the Littman family to achieve Eagle rank while a member of the troop.

RANK WINNERS Three scouts were among five awarded rank badges at the Troop 811 court of honor last week. Receiving Tenderfoot and second class badges were Paul Dee, Bobby Nunn, Eric Todd and Mark Sawyer. Receiving first class awards were Todd Nunn, Mark Mayer, Peter Pyle, Tom Marlett and Joe Charles.

MERIT BADGES Troop scouts achieve merit badges which are awarded at the quarterly court of honor held by Troop 811. [illegible] Hall and Art Pitman.

Mirror survey winners named

JENSEN BEACH — Mrs Marcella Bernhard, Ocean Breeze Park, was the winner of $50 in the drawing for prizes awarded to entrants in The Mirror Household Questionnaire Survey.

A. J. Reading, Port St. Lucie, won $25. R. Angus, Jensen Beach, won $15, and C. B. Heasley, Rio, won $10 in the drawing. The four top winners were the first four questionnaires drawn from a basket full of the returns in the survey.

The drawing was made by Dr. Franklin B. Rogger, president of the Institute of Modern Marketing, who arrived last week to pick up the entries. Rogger then opened the forms and announced the winners in the drawing.

Twenty winners of five dollars each were Mr. Bergen, Robert Skripak, Lawrence Farwell, Richard Neeson, A. Johnson, Fadina Price, Elmer Funk, O.A. Smith, Jr., Rose Mathura and Mrs. F. Robertson, Sr., all of Jensen Beach; Alvin Rupp and Paul Floyd, of Rio; Mrs. Joe Kuhn, M. McAfee, Thomas Chapman, all of Port St. Lucie; Emma Work, D. Tyree, all of Ocean Breeze Park; Ammon Hendricks, Jack Redddick, Stuart; and Lyle Gustavsson, Palm City.

Entries in the survey represented ten percent of The Mirror circulation of over 3,200, the number sought by I.M.M. Dr. Rogger took the unopened forms to his offices in Boynton Beach, where they will be tabulated for the 1972 Mirror survey.

$50.00 WINNER Mrs. Marcella Bernhard of Jensen Beach was the first place prize of $50.00 in The Mirror Household Survey drawing. Dr. Franklin B. Rogger, president of the Institute of Modern Marketing, drew the winning names at The Mirror office last week. Above, Mirror editor and publisher Richard Campbell, presents Mrs. Bernhard with the check.

$10.00 WINNER Mrs. C. B. Heasley of Rio was the $10.00 winner in the recent Mirror Household Survey drawing. The drawing took place last week and winners received their checks in The Mirror office Monday.

$25.00 WINNERS Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Reading of Port St. Lucie won the second place prize of $25.00 in the recent Mirror Household Survey drawing. Checks to the winners were presented in The Mirror office Monday morning.

Prize winner donates to CLICK

JENSEN BEACH — Mrs. Richard Angus, of Jensen Beach, one of the winners in The Mirror's survey drawing, told The Mirror that she plans to donate her $15 check to CLICK, the youth organization at All Saints Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Angus told The Mirror of her plans when she was notified that she had won the prize. Duke Fletcher, president of the youth organization

Three break-ins reported in Jensen

JENSEN BEACH — The Sandpiper Restaurant located at the Jensen Beach was broken into early in the morning and had $20 worth of beer and hamburgers stolen. The break in was discovered by Georgianna Krantz of 810 Ridge Road, Jensen Beach at 10 a.m. Entry was made through the east window where the glass was broken. Approximately two dozen cans of beer and two boxes of hamburger were stolen.

Owner of the restaurant is Jim Beach, Palm City. Sheriff's Deputy Mike Quinn investigated the scene.

Nothing was stolen from the Ralph Ballou Estate at 204 Third Court in Jensen Beach last week when the next door neighbor, Mrs. J.H. Barrett, reported the break in, which occured late in the evening. Entrance was made through the rear door of the carport. Sheriff's Deputy Walter Murawski reported to the scene.

An attempted entry was made between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. at the home of R. Schreier, 413 Crown Road, Jensen Beach recently. The catch on the screen door was broken by force in the rear of the house. The attempt was reported at 6:10 a.m. and Sheriff's Deputy Bruce J. Heuteux arrived at the scene at 6:35 p.m.

This is Library Week

STUART The week of April 16-22 is National Library Week with a theme of "Books Bring People Together." Since this is also International Book Year, Martin County Public Library turns the spotlight on the books in its collection that have an international flair.

If you are planning a trip, it's a brief yourself on the nation's ultimate local sightseeing points of interest with the help of a travel guide. If you want to sample the different dishes of the countries try the foods of the world series of cookbooks prepared by Time-Life Inc. Included are lively discussions of why certain dishes are prepared in certain sections of a country and how they have contributed to its culture.

Examine the works of foreign writers translated into English fiction and non-fiction. The library personnel will help you discover these books.

GEORGE L. AHGAMALIAN

How do you answer your children's questions about God?

Come to this Christian Science Lecture

What right does an individual have to be himself and to be free.

A divine right according to a public lecture to be given in Stuart, Florida on Saturday, April 15 by George [illegible] Ahgamalian, C.S.B. a Christian Science lecturer from New York.

Right now, Mr. Ahgamalian will state, you have the right to be yourself, the man God made the man Christ Jesus exemplified. Right here you have the right to control your experience and be free. And furthermore you have the right to fulfill your God-directed purpose.

Mr. Ahgamalian will speak at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist in First United Methodist Church in Stuart, at 2:30 p.m.

The lecturer will explain how spiritual understanding of one's true identity brings healing.

Mr. Ahgamalian, a native of Brooklyn, New York graduated from business in 1951 to devote his full time to the healing ministry of Christian Science. In 1964 he became a teacher of Christian Science. He is currently on extensive tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

"Stand Up for Your Rights" is the subject of his local lecture which is free to all.

Cook of the Week

BY RUTH BOWMAN

Neeson's Steak & Salad Dinner

JENSEN BEACH — I've always loved to cook but hate to do dishes," said Richard Neeson of 801 Spruce Ridge Road. The comparative statement has already established himself as a two minded individual. He is treasurer of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, vice president of the Jensen Beach-Rio United Fund Inc. and enjoys people and working with children. And he hates whenever he gets the chance.

Originally from Chicago, Richard and Rose Neeson moved here two and a half years ago from Brookfield, Wis. with their four children, Lynne Marie, Jo Michael and Thomas. Because of his health, Richard retired early from his position with the steel and truck tire division of Sears Roebuck. He was assistant manager of the division in Chicago and manager of the Wisconsin area.

Our Cook of the Week offers an original and special SUMMER SALAD DRESSING AND LONDON BROIL. He serves this proudly to six hungry people.

SALAD DRESSING

½ cup olive or Wesson oil
1 cup Miracle Whip
¼ cup tarragon vinegar
¼ cup port wine
5 tablespoons strong horse radish
1 cup catsup
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
Salt to taste
Dash of oregano

Mix all thoroughly.

RICHARD'S SALAD

1 large head lettuce (torn)
4 large tomatoes (diced)
1 green pepper (diced)
4 hard boiled eggs, sliced for garnish
½ lb. salad shrimp
½ lb. American cheese (diced)
2 large onions (diced)
4 to 6 cups left-over beef or fowl (diced)

LONDON BROIL

2 lb. London Broil. Place on hot charcoal grill. Sear 4 minutes on each side. Then salt and cook 10 minutes.

Brush with mixture of 2 tablespoons A1 Sauce and 1 cup Open Pit Barbecue Sauce. Cook 5 minutes on each side.

Last, platter over top of steak during last 2 minutes of cooking to heat platter. Flip steak over onto platter and slice across the grain.

The Mirror welcomes recipes you just love to cook. If you have a recipe to share as Cook of the Week please call me at the office 287-7331 or at my home 287-4502.

ANOTHER DIET FORUM SCHEDULED FOR MAY 2

STUART — Success of the diet forum co-sponsored by the Heart Association and Martin Memorial Hospital last week has prompted a second forum for May 2.

We had to keep registration below 50 persons and it was hard to say no after we reached the limit," said Mrs. Lynne Brown, program director.

The second diet program forum will be Tuesday, May 2 at 1:30 p.m. in the hospital annex. Program speakers and the format will be the same as for the first program.

Persons wishing to attend may register free by calling the hospital, 287-5200, ext. 261. Registration is limited by room size.

Julia Clark heads VWW1 Auxiliary

JENSEN BEACH — Mrs. Julia Clark was elected president of VWW1 Auxiliary Barracks 804 at the meeting last week. Other officers to be installed at a later date include Mrs. Mary Kerney, senior vice president; Mrs. Loretta Gentile, junior vice; Mrs. Minnie Wendel, treasurer; Mrs. Eleanor Diffendal, conductress; Mrs. Eva Beggs, chaplain; Mrs. Vera Sigs, guard; and Mrs. Florence Newman, trustee.

Mrs. Naomi Bedard was obligated as a new member.

Delegates elected to attend the June 1-4 district convention in Miami Beach were Mesdames Julia Clark, El eanor Diffendal, Natalie Harkhart, Marcella Deas, Florence Newman, Loretta Gentile and Henrietta Horton, banner bearer.

There will be no sewing until October, according to Mrs. Clark, and a covered dish dinner is planned for April 21.

FIRST SOLO—Navy Ensign Richard E. Alvarez, son of Rev. and Mrs. Frank R. Alvarez of 520 Seaview Crescent, Jensen Beach, made his first solo flight in a Navy aircraft at Pensacola recently. Soloing is a major step towards becoming a Naval Aviator.

D & M Mobile Home News Notes

By Marguerite Ritenour
283-6472

The Pot Luck Dinner on Wednesday evening served two different purposes. It didn't seem a secret to anyone but the Ritenours. After we were all seated Celia Barr, Chairman of the dinner, announced that we were having ice cream and cake in honor of the Ritenours 35th Wedding Anniversary and the 44 persons present sang Happy Anniversary to you. It was such a surprise it was a real thrill. Thank you one and all. We'll remember our 35th at D & M Park for a long time. Celia and Ras Barr and their assistants Frank and Verna Moran did a very nice job and as usual our pot luck dinner turned out to be a real success.

1st Sgt. Norman Manning arrived from Kansas by plane on Wednesday to drive his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaiser home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Conrad will be their home in the North on Thursday.

Harold and Marie Johnson left for their home in Concord, N.H. on Thursday. They expect to visit their four children on their way home so it will be quite some time before they reach their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Levin good of Pottstown, Pa. visited with the William Leongreds this past week.

Bill Waack and family from Livonia, Mich. are staying at the Holiday Out for two weeks, but spending most of their time with his parents, Maurice and Dorthea Waack of D & M. Bill and his wife Sandy and three children, Carie, Patty and David.

Mr. and Mrs. David A. Snyder, Jr. of Amherst, Ohio visited with his parents the D. A. Snyders this past week.

Linda Proctor of Gainesville is spending a few days with her grandparents, Leon and Mabel Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Warner and daughter Phyllis of Plainfield, Ind. spent last week with the Lowell Fosters.

Brent and Rachael Hodge and Chuck and Gertrude Foster visited the Dale Fosters at Bas Lakes Estates near Sarasota recently.

William West, Jr. of New Castle, Pa. spent a few days last week with his Aunt and Uncle, the Ritenours. He pulled in several nice fish Tuesday, the first little he had ever fished in the ocean.

Alma Kramer is in room 148 at Martin Memorial Hospital and getting along nicely. She is allowed out of bed on a chair for short periods.

Don't forget your Association Meeting Thursday, April 13th at 8 p.m. John Shelest will be presiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Jacobs of Mulberry, Ind. visited a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Linds Sweitzer. During their visit the Jacobs's then visited Disney World and other points on the west coast, including Key West and Lake Placid. They were much impressed with our nice weather.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gentile were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rutan of Jensen Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Fido Fleischauer were also guests. Fido had a message that morning that his brother Ross had just passed away in Mulberry. The dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Fleischauer but due to the sad news Mrs. Rutan had it in her home and the Fleischauers left for home immediately after dinner.

The Ritenours and the Carl Nowalks of Whispering Creek Park, Fort Pierce were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baker of St. Cloud on Thursday, all the Hostess House in Orlando. It was Elsie Nowalk's birthday and they have all been friends for 40 years, since school days in New Castle, Penna.

Officers to be nominated

STUART — A slate of officers will be presented at the Tuesday, April 18 luncheon and business meeting of the South Welcome Wagon. The event will be held at Manatee Yacht Club Restaurant, Port Salerno.

The social hour will begin at 11 a.m., with luncheon served at noon. Reservations must be made by April 15 by calling 286-4886 or 283-1262.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Lillian Schright, president of the alumnae. Nominations of others may be made from the floor.

Pat and Howie Homer sold their mobile home and have returned to Long Island. They were guests of Hank and Catherine Higgins and Ida and Harry Hausman at a farewell dinner.

Norman and Barbara Morrell and daughters Debbie and Sandy, from Crown Point, Ind., stopped to visit the Hausmans while vacationing during Easter.

Helen Beierlein and her daughter Jill have been guests of Betty and Al Jones for the past week.

The Monday night pot luck last week was just coffee and desserts for a change. Fran and Dick Tener did a fine job as hosts for the evening. Slides on a trip to Mexico and Acapulco were shown by your reporter. Also a number of slides were shown of the recent Luau. The rest of the evening was spent playing cards.

Tuesday morning's arts and craft classes had 18 ladies out to work on hobbies and projects. If he (director) thinks there should be another hobby class, please speak.

• • •

Wednesday night's bingo games had a good turnout of 85 players. Special prize was won by Helen Beierlein, guest of Betty and Al Jones. Grand prize of $25 was not won, so the lucky number will be [illegible]

Savings and Loan Association

The History . . .

17 YEARS OF PROGRESS

The Association was born in 1955 as the Riviera Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association at 1901 Broadway in Riviera Beach. The original floor space was just 1,000 square feet. The office operated with three employees.

Foreseeing the need for additional savings and loan facilities in the northern Palm Beach County area, this Board of Directors established an agency office in Jupiter in February, 1959. In addition, due to the expanded service area of the association, the name was changed to Community Federal Savings and Loan Association of Riviera Beach. In July, 1959 the Federal Home Loan Bank Board granted Community Federal permission to establish a branch office at 929 North Alternate A-1-A in Jupiter. This office had 3,000 square feet of floor space.

The Growth Facts . . .

As the assets of Community Federal grew, the need for larger office space was inevitable. August, 1961 — new 7,500 square foot office constructed on the corner of Broadway and Blue Heron Boulevard in Riviera Beach. June, 1965 — second floor added to Riviera Beach office. October, 1966 — 5,700 square foot office constructed on the corner of U.S. #1 and Tequesta Drive in Jupiter-Tequesta. August, 1971 — Twin City Mall office officially opened — 650 square feet of office space. January, 1972 the newest branch office granted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington, D.C. to Community Federal was the Stuart branch in growing Martin County. This office will be opened in temporary quarters in April, 1972 between 1st and 2nd Streets and U.S. #1 in Stuart.

The Future . . . in One Word

... subsidiaries conduct a diversified business consisting of the sales of general merchandise through company-owned and franchised stores, home furnishings and department stores.

TG&Y continued to operate as an autonomous division under the management of the same group of officers.

Scott Stores, a subsidiary of City Products, merged with TG&Y in 1969. Scott operated 110 stores in 18 states, with most of its outlets being clustered in the Great Lakes and Middle Western states. This merger brought all of City Products company-owned variety stores into the TG&Y Division.

Plans for the growth of TG&Y call for 1,000 stores by 1975 doing a volume of about $800 million. The firm is scheduled for a 15 to 20 per cent increase per year for the next five to seven years. Additional warehouses will be needed to service the new stores. States now being considered for future warehouses are Florida, South Carolina and Texas.

Holiday out-lines

By BETTY TAYLOR
283-0624

With Easter past for another year this column will read like a departure sheet. In a very few days only the year round residents and a few die-hards will be left in the park.

• • • •

Margaret and John Clokey, Pittsburgh, Pa. left the park. They had been here since February 1st.

Bridge scores for last week: Mercy Whitney 4470, Sophie Holler 4300, Erma Barton 4270, Lee Chambers 3790 and Jess Amerman 3750.

• • • •

Chuck and Joyce Watson, Williamsburg, Va. stayed with us for three weeks. Sorry to see them leave.

• • • •

Last week I reported the death of Mrs. Wilma Kidd. I have since received a more detailed report as follows: Mrs. Wilma Kidd, Utica, Michigan died Friday, March 25th. Survivors are a daughter Mrs. Anne Olson, Ferndale, Mich., two grand children, Dean and Bryan Olson. A sister, Elsie Nieland, Evanston, Ill. and a brother, Alfred Nieland, Mt. Prospect, Ill. Services were held the following Wednesday in Utica. Mrs. Kidd had a wide range of friends and acquaintances since she had taught school for many years in Utica. Her late husband, Mel Kidd, owned and operated a sporting goods store. The Kidds had many friends in Holiday Out and this area. They had been visitors to the park for the past three years and will be missed.

• • • •

Eileen Hunter won second prize in the art show at Elliott Museum. She also sold quite a few of her paintings.

• • • •

George and Olive Taylor left for Revere, Pa. on Monday, April 10th in spite of reports of adverse weather conditions. George says it wouldn't dare snow when he decided to go home. Hope he's right!

• • • •

Miss Karen Sawyer and her two guests, Karen and Alice Wells, all of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. spent a week with us. The girls visited local points of interest and acquired a suntan. Karen Wells will be married soon after the girls return home. They left the park early, Saturday morning.

• • • •

Gordon and Erma St. Louis headed for the North Carolina mountains on Tuesday. They recently bought lot 46 and will be back with us early in November.

• • • •

A luncheon was held at the Pelican Hotel on Friday in honor of Ruth Bowes and Marietta Brickelbank. These ladies have borne the brunt of the recreation program and fully deserved being feted. Each was given a lovely pink rose to remember the occasion. Fifty-four ladies of the park attended the luncheon and had such a good time that plans are being laid to make a monthly luncheon part of our park plans from now on.

• • • •

While their wives attended the above luncheon, Max Bauer entertained Atwood Brockelbank and Carl Sutfin at lunch. They weren't about to be left out!

• • • •

Judith and Carl Tyler have moved onto their new lot 204. They will enjoy their ownership for about two weeks before leaving for home until next year. Judi and Carl are from Lansing, Michigan.

• • • •

Willo and Harold Shires arrived to spend a short visit. They are from Plymouth, Michigan.

• • • •

Norman and Georgia Symonds visited entertained Betty Taylor at breakfast on Monday. Norman was cook and turned out a delicious omelette.

• • • •

Frank Barnette and his daughter Jane have left the park for Seattle, Washington by way of Ohio. They will visit friends there on the way west. Barney sold his Holiday Out lot, but plans to visit us often.

• • • •

Ken and Rosemary Telder, Somerville, N.J. and Harry and Betty Jones, Hollis, Michigan, stayed at the park for a few days of fun and sun.

• • • •

Bingo winners for last week were: Ward R. Mincer, George Kiefer each won two games. Mike Turner, Helen Nebers, Richard Kreitner who also split a game with Carol Mikich, Michael Miller, Ann Hopkins, coverall Janet Larson, Elizabeth Hopkins, Essie Smith, Harold Dall, final coverall. Easter bunnies were given to the two coverall winners.

• • • •

Mrs. Shirley Whitfield and her sons Drew and Todd are spending a few weeks with us. Visiting with Shirley is Mrs. Bonnie Troyer and wee Scott from Illinois and Shirley's dad, Pappy Fawkes of St. Mary's, Pa. and his dog Fancy.

• • • •

On Monday, March 20th former residents Louis and Yvette Bernier paid a visit to the Hare Lamp site. Many shared happy hours were recalled. The Berniers were accompanied by relatives from Montreal, Canada being, Rene, Alphonse, Aline and Florence Bonin. Here to welcome them, too, were Emile and Grace Couillend, Vera and Joe Riccio all from Cedar Pointe. The Couillends brought their 91 year old father with them. May we all look and feel as well as he does at his advanced age. Ruth D. Hare's father, the youngster of 82, enjoyed the company of the 91 year old guest. They recalled old times and the way things used to be. Mrs. Florence Stutz, Wallingford, Conn. and Esther Pierce, a fellow residents of Holiday Out joined the group, extending a warm welcome. The afternoon climaxed the afternoon and our out of town visitors were extended a warm invitation to return very soon.

• • • •

Betty Nagy has been confined to the hospital. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

• • • •

Speaking of recoveries, have you seen Jane Pierce lately? She looks wonderful, after shedding 30 extra pounds needed weight.

Dr. & Mrs. Mario G. Fiorilli

Fiorilli-Witmer vows exchanged

JENSEN BEACH — Miss Janice Joy Witmer became the bride of Dr. Mario G. Fiorilli on Saturday, April 8 at Christ Memorial Chapel, Jupiter Island. Dr. Miser officiated at the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Witmer of Jensen Beach and Farmington, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Gaetano Fiorilli of 12 Via Ponte Salario, Rome, Italy, are parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in light blue Empire styling of simple design. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and wore a single strand of pearls — something old.

Miss Barbara Bonis, maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow and orange print. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Serving the groom as best man was Gianfranco Rossi Espangel of Atlanta, Ga.

The chapel was decorated with tropical flowers and the altar settings were of carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Witmer chose a light yellow full length gown. Her flowers were white orchids.

The groom's mother chose a beige and brown ensemble with fan coral to match. She also had white orchids.

A reception for the family and wedding party was held at La Fonda Restaurant. The table was decorated to accent the wedding cake.

The newlyweds traveled to Key West for a wedding trip.

Out-of-town guests were the groom's parents from Rome, Italy; Mr. and Mrs. Gianfranco Rossi Espangel of Atlanta, Ga.; formerly of Rome, Italy; James David Witmer, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wonders and Mr. and Mrs. L. Sidarelli, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. H. Pratt, Philadelphia; Mrs. Louis and Jensen Beach; Mr. and Mrs. F. Salinas, Hollister, Estates, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. M. Marquardt of Detroit; Lukes, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. V. Engler, Sarasota; Mr. and Mrs. J. Fiste and son of Miami; Mr. and Mrs. J. Colgan, Ann Arbor, Mich.; and Mr. and Mrs. B. Murphy of Miami and Jensen Beach.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and taught at American School in Rome.

HAPPY RIDER. Jill Treloar, now 13 years old, is shown above on her unicycle when she was nine years old. It took her two months to master riding it well enough so she could ride it on the streets near her home. Jill is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Treloar, 121 Jeannette Ave., Jensen Beach, where she visits in the winter. Her home is in Kirkland Road, Lake Orion, where she lives with her parents, three sisters, a brother and large German shepherd dog. Jill now has a new unicycle.

Built toward upon us that there are many people who have never had the joy of seeing fine Cloisonne... while the best comes from old China, into the Peoples Republic of China. Because of the closed-door policy between the two nations, we've been deprived of this most exacting art form. It sometimes takes years to take one place, involving the most painstaking processes.
The Showcase has just received a few exquisite pieces of Cloisonne, a collection from one of the first shipments from the People's Republic of China to the U.S., and we invite you to call and see with us once. You will find the prices more than modest for this exquisite art form. A Ginger Jar is only $30 and a vase $6.

Reapportionment

Martin in new district; Jensen joins St. Lucie

By DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH Martin County wanted single member representation and it got it, but gets two members of the legislature's house of representatives under a new plan.

The maps are not yet drawn, and the boundaries are not yet defined. Some people know what has happened but the great black lines dividing the tan county map have made a great many things from the person seeking a definition of legislative districts.

Seeking a mathematically precise plan that meets the Federal requirements of one man one vote the legislature went to the census maps and took the proper districts to find the totals needed to apportion to 36,161 persons in a legislative district.

In the new District 28, St. Lucie and part of Martin (the reapportionment) results that total plus 16 people or a difference of less than one tenth of one percent.

In the new District 27 Martin and part of Palm Beach and Okeechobee the difference is a plus 46 persons, or one and four hundredths of one percent deviation.

The two districts are as close as is possible. The average for districts in the state is about three tenths of one percent which is still pretty good.

Defining the new District 28 is difficult but the maps prepared by the U. S. Census show the inclusion of North River Shores and Cocoanut Park. Jensen Beach, Hutchinson Island and the two Beau Rivage areas north to the St. Lucie County line and all of St. Lucie with one small exception in the northwest corner.

The geographic area of Bahama Terrace, south of North River Shores, and the city of Stuart north of the St. Lucie River, plus Rio and Sewall's Point are put into the new District 27.

District 28 includes the above plus all of Martin, the population area of Okeechobee County including Okeechobee City, plus the Jupiter, Tequesta area south to Juno Beach.

Rep. Chuck Nergard who is the incumbent in the new District 28, brought the census maps to The Mirror office to explain the new district composition. Nergard said that the single member districts would offer greater representation to the people in the area, adding that the supreme court should approve the plan based upon the given mathematical equation.

Nergard said he had not yet made up his mind if he would be a candidate for reelection, saying that the new congressional seat, new senatorial districts as well as the new making of the house seat required him to do given study of his principles.

In Martin County Commissioner Frank Warfel has indicated interest in the congressional, senate and house seats, along with his present commission seat, saying he was keeping his options open.

Commissioner Bill Owens has eyed the house seat, and Commissioner Bill Martin is viewing the congressional seat. Both commissioners have indicated they will announce their plans for the future.

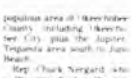
Charter group sets committee

STUART The Martin County Charter Commission named eight committees to begin its research and gave instructions concerning at the second meeting of the group last week.

William Caron is to appoint chairmen of the eight committees. Committees will have Thomas Copeland and Jack Johnson (Government), Joseph Wood and John Mylander (Finance), Mrs. Ruth Bergen and Robert Cline.

The charter commission was created by the county commission to study county government and to make recommendations to the voters. Members of the commission are Chairman Roger Cain, Frank Warfel, Mrs. Margaret Michaels, Mrs. Lucille Hancock, Tom Copeland and Jack Johnson (Government), Joseph Wood and John Mylander (Finance), Mrs. Ruth Bergen and Robert Cline.

Tippy says



Those who want to recycle paper had better help John Hesburn and Hamp Wade, two not so young guys were drafted to load papers in Jensen Beach last week when nobody showed. Seems paper recycling is for other people not those who promote it.

Swing and sway at Stuart causeway

STUART The youth of Martin County will have the chance to swing and sway on the Stuart Causeway as sponsoring the activities Tuesday by the Martin County Commission.

Permission was granted to Kevin Hunter and Jim Gaines to arrange for a series of 20 weekly concerts on Saturdays at the Stuart Causeway bandstand. Hunter said he and Gaines represented the students and youth of Stuart.

We're not trying to get something started for the youth in the area, they told the commissioners. We ad... assume would be charged before drinks would be sold and they promised no alcohol or drugs.

We offer to be glad about it, Hunter said. We believe we can keep the... under control. Drugs will be because we'll be offering something new to do.

Roger's annual questionaire

WASHINGTON D.C. Congressman Paul Rogers has for the past 18 years mailed questionnaires to his constituents asking their views on matters which will face the Congress.

The questionnaire gives the people a chance to express their views on important issues and helps me on these issues as they come before the Congress, Rogers said. The response has been great over the years and I believe that the questionnaire has been one of the most successful in the Congress.

QUESTIONS

1. Do you favor the President's proposal for increased trade and cultural exchange with the Peoples Republic of China?
YES NO

2. Should there be a nationwide Presidential Primary?
YES NO

3. Which of the following National Health Insurance plans would you favor:
a. Total Federal sponsorship and operation
b. Private insurance company policies with Federal standards
c. None, continue with available private insurance coverage and Medicare

4. Should wage and price controls be continued?
YES NO

5. Do you favor amnesty for those citizens who left the United States to avoid the draft?
YES NO

6. Should total withdrawal of U.S. forces from South Vietnam depend upon the release of POW-MIA's?
YES NO

7. Do you favor the President's proposed National Sales Tax to support education?
YES NO

Report of Lecture By: George Louis Aghamalian Title: Stand Up For Your Rights

Divine rights are at hand for all to claim and enjoy, ... Louis Aghamalian C.S.B. told an audience here ... in a public lecture entitled "Stand Up For Your Rights."

... enough to be yourself and to fulfill your God directed purpose, Mr. Aghamalian said, can never be taken from ... withheld because of race, education, sex or ...

But these rights do have to be recognized and claimed, he said, emphasizing that listening to God, divine Mind in prayer for guidance and then obediently following divine Mind's direction is the surest way to claim all ... God derived rights.

A Christian Science lecturer and teacher from New York, Mr. Aghamalian spoke at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Stuart, in First United Methodist Church, Stuart.

What people throughout the world need is spiritual ..., not a Pollyanna approach to today's problems, ... lecturer brought out.

Individual rights need to be claimed, he said. Its spiritual activism is a spiritually scientific understanding of God and man. As the way of the Christ ... is understood and demonstrated ...

... already possess these rights, he said, but we ... exercise them.

... Aghamalian urged his audience to discover for ... the freedom inherent in these rights ... morning from SCIENCE AND HEALTH WITH KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES by Mary Baker Eddy, who ... and founded Christian Science. He said ... citizens of the world accept the glorious liberty of ... children of God and be free. This is your divine ...

The lecturer shared several experiences illustrating how exercising divine rights met recognizable human needs including a child's need for the healing of an ear ... condition diagnosed as a double mastoid and a young ...'s need for employment.

More than changed physical conditions came about ... through divine healing, he said, stressing the ... importance of spiritual growth and enlightened outlook ... the solution of current problems.

Holiday out-lines

By BETTY TAYLOR
283-4624

Gosh I hate to say goodbye! That's all I seem to be saying these days and it means another lovely winter season has passed into limbo. Trailers are pulling out of the park every day. Of course, week enders take up some of the slack but the familiar faces are dwindling fast.

* * * *

Fred and Stephanie Kuhlen are entertaining their daughter and son-in-law from New York State.

* * * *

Bingo winners Tammis Dugan, James Lewis (he gave belowed Mrs. John T. Miller and Debbie Fox Elsie Winter, John J. Miller, Penn Dorah, Charlie Vallick, coverall, Harry Jackson, Dennis Chojnowski, Mahlon Matteson, Mrs. John W. Fahs (coverall). A large crowd approximately 50 attended.

* * * *

Jim and Mrs. J. Arlene Knoxville, Mich. left the park for the long trip north.

* * * *

Lake Manor and Holiday Out shuffleboard teams played a tournament on our premises on April 11th. Holiday Out won four games to two. The teams: Lake Manor, Jack Bell, Bernadette Dubuque, Agnes Meisse, John Bollenbacher, Dorothy Bollenbacher, Hans Beamer, Clair Brewer, Lee Tucker, Paul Crawford, Irene Krakauer, Jerry Van Curra, Charles Brinsley. Holiday Out: Exie Smith, Millie Oehler, Ida Duggstone, Harold Landis, Leo O'Neill, Sid Burr, Dot Burr, Irving Ringer, Al Korr, Bertha Guenette, Fred Schaffer. Coffee and donuts were served to the two bids after the tournament and pictures were taken.

* * * *

... Ingwersen is home from the hospital and feeling fine again.

* * * *

Last week Inquirers of Student Lodge Pierce Hill and Dorothy Studebaker and Hase and Neil Deutchman. Fridays Sid and Dorothy Burr will be hosts.

* * * *

Olive Taylor celebrated her birthday April 9th by scurrying about to get treats to leave for home. She and George pulled out early Monday morning along with Mac and Nell Maryland, George and Olive intended to spend a few days with the Mc Farlands before going on home to Pennsylvania.

* * * *

Ida and Howard Duggstone will be daughter's ... on April 30th. They intend to ... some ... supplies and ... supply.

* * * *

... and Mrs. Fred Dallas headed north to Kansas ... last week.

* * * *

Kay and Ray Johnson celebrated their anniversary on April 9th. Congratulations ... family.

* * * *

April Birthdays: ... Parker on the 12th and Sid Burr on the 16th. Many happy returns.

April 17th Agnes and Harold Landis celebrated their wedding anniversary. May they have many more.

* * * *

Bridge scores: Mercy Whitney 3880, Exie Faust 3730 and Flora Derr 3670.

* * * *

Ellena Percy and Eliza beth Faust left for Manafield Ohio. They will return in ... October.

* * * *

Edna and Joe Vansant left Wednesday for home in Rehoboth Beach, Del.

* * * *

Frank Barnette, who left the park for the season last week returned to announce to his friends here that he is being married to Doris Dalsche whose winter home is in Stuart. The couple will be married in June and we'll be seeing them here again next year. Hearts congratulations and long years together to Doris and Barney.

* * * *

Dean and Shirley Whitfield and their merry crew have gone back north. The campfire will be quieter without them. They sure do have the ability to put everyone in a good humor.

* * * *

Millie Oehler treated us all to apple fritters for dessert the other night. Were they yummy. Around the circle of hungry watchers was Dick Oehler, Edna and Wally Spencer, Harold Willo and Virginia Shires, Ralph and Jean Taylor, Shirley and Dean Whitfield, Bonnie Trover and Judy Tyler. Exie and Marvin Smith had left a short time before the goodies began coming out of the pan and they sure did miss a delicious treat.

* * * *

The Board meeting last week produced changes in park management. Our new park manager is Cy Haberle and Dottie Ebner is our new secretary-treasurer of the Condominium.

* * * *

Harold and Margaret Strader are back from the west coast where they went to meet their famous son-in-law, Larry. John was appearing at Pratt-n-Call and Harold says they had a grand time with him one that happens all too infrequently because of his son's busy schedule.

* * * *

Holly Faust-Percy is recuperating nicely from her cartilege operation. Her cast is finally off and although her leg looks odd with the fur shaved she gets around perkily. Holly's human friends are mighty happy to see her nearly her old self again.

* * * *

Speaking of recuperation Betty Taylor's arms are healing fast now that the puppy she was keeping for her son has gone to its new home. Nothing is sharper than puppy teeth. This item is for the folks who walk by and ask what has become of the little darling.

* * * *

Erna McCarter and Rutl and Joe Trupiano had a cookout last week for a group of their friends.

Dorothy and George Poynter have taken their new large Fan home, but will return to about a week or so to trail the smaller Fan home.

* * * *

Phinney and Doc Bennett have enjoyed the visit of their daughter and son-in-law Kay and Gerald Carson, plus Jamie and Jon, who stayed a week.

* * * *

The Magnussons had to fly home because of illness in the family, but are expected back in the park very soon. While they are gone their children Ron and Bobbie Warner and their two youngsters are staying in the trailer.

* * * *

Earl Tyler flew in to join his wife Judie for a weeks vacation before heading back to Michigan until next year.

South Bend but spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Barrs. The two couples worked together during the great old days of depression at the Sherman Hotel and have not seen each other for years. Needless to say there was plenty of reminiscing over old times and friends and the Barrs were really pleased to have them. This was the highest point of the trip for them as the next day was to visit the Space Center. As they left it rained. Another beautiful day.

VISITS IN WEST COAST

Martha Duffy and her two guests, Mary Oliver and Mary Jurgar of Pittsburgh, Pa. spent a couple days visiting 82 Ft. Myers, Naples and Pompano. There Mary Jurgar bought Martha Duffie and gave a few more days here. Mary Oliver stayed in Pompano.

ENJOY ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. John Burns and children Tamina, Kelly and Aaron of Newburgh, Mich. spent two weeks visiting with the Barrows, parents. Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. & M.

We are all happy to have Alma Kramer home from the hospital. She is still very weak but improving a little each day. Welcome home Alma.

Mary Palm rode her new three wheeler down to the mail box Thursday and holding mail in one hand she tried to start up and upset her bike. Mary had a hard fall and was rushed to Martin Memorial Hospital where they found a hair line fracture in her knee and how has her leg up in a cast. We are all sorry to hear about your accident Mary. Hurry up and get home.

There will be movies in our hall April 21st at 7:30 by Martin Weinstock of Indian River Community College.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Snyder came to D & M still for their home. Welcome Mr. and Mrs. Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Arrowsmith are Sunday for their home in Fla. Pa.

Bess and Bess Walden left on their home in Springfield, Pa. Mass. on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearson of St. Marys W. Va. are visiting with Agnes Harrick and Mattie Rude this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delaney of Mansfield, O. are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Lemaire. They are couples from Connecticut friends for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooper are now part of Canada. He is from Kansas and Mrs. Cooper is from Saskatchewan. They are both retired. They are looking forward to their trip to Alaska.

Youth treated for overdose

STUART — Bobby Tarr, [illegible] of West Palm Beach was found by Deputy Sheriff [illegible] Dale Gunderson last week wandering aimlessly in the swamp in Jonathan Dickinson State Park near the picnic area. The report said the youth had taken drugs, possibly LSD.

Torrance was accompanied by his wife Gina and taken to Martin Memorial Hospital for treatment. Five other youths from West Palm Beach were with the couple when found in the park.

DNR asked to county meeting

STUART — The controversial proposed setback lines on Hutchinson Island [illegible] were aired again Tuesday when Cliff Perry, president of the Hutchinson Island Owners Association appealed to the Martin County commission for help.

Perry had appeared last week requesting an extension of time for [illegible] the proposed line set by the Department of Natural Resources.

The [illegible] granted until April 20. County Commissioner Chairman Frank Wachsmuth told Perry and Evans Crary, who said he represented several island property owners, Perry's and Crary's asked that the DNR review the line before it is established by the county.

Data is being compiled as of April 20 a report will be written and submitted to the County then a public hearing will be held, Wachsmuth explained.

The intent of the law is to protect front of the property owners, Wachsmuth said to restrict building on the island.

The line is being [illegible] established by the state of the request of the [illegible].

The proposed [illegible] would [illegible] and [illegible] would [illegible] property owners that they will not be permitted to rebuild beyond the setback line if their homes are damaged by fire or hurricane.

He said that the [illegible] the state reconsider the proposed line. Crary asked. He especially referred to the [illegible] south of Elliott Museum [illegible] Jensen Beach.

Dr. Walter Stokes, local [illegible] read a prepared statement charging that island property owners and their attorneys threw up a legal smokescreen at the [illegible] March 20 public hearing. He charged the Florida [illegible] with [illegible] myths claimed by the attorneys then enumerated facts to disclaim the myths. He referred to the beaches as being our most cherished natural resource.

We need this beach protection desperately and urgently, Dr. Stokes concluded.

Brotherhood Dinner will be Friday

Birth control urgent

Conservationists seek population controls

BY DENNIS DOYLE

JENSEN BEACH A resolution to the Martin County commission requesting a reduced population growth in the county was passed Friday by the Martin County Conservationist Alliance.

George Scott, a Martin County High School senior, presided over the meeting held in the Crow's Nest Restaurant and began the discussion by stating that Martin County should begin a six month immigration control. Scott admitted his idea was radical but insisted something must be done to curb overpopulation in the county.

Scott compared the building permits which totaled $4 million in the 1971 figures that reach $42 million.

Referring to a recent county-wide population control survey taken by Martin County High School students, Scott said, I was surprised that 51 percent only stated they would like unlimited population.

The survey, broken into four age groups of high school age, 16 to 18 year old, 19 to 21 year old, 22 to 25 years old and over, showed 29 percent said the county should under no circumstances permit any more population. 11 percent agree it should be limited to 1,000 while 60 percent want no limit under the law.

Local conservationist Dr. Walter Stokes spoke up saying The quality of life in Florida today is not what it was when I was a boy and I'm afraid that way of life is gone forever.

Stokes described himself as being much more radical in his youth than the young people of today and even recalls at one time being called a communist.

The alliance agreed birth control was urgent to save Martin County from the fate of counties to the south and that pressure should be applied to the public health office to make the public more knowledgeable on the subject of birth control.

Scott named a committee including himself and MCHS student Bonnie Colon, Bert Mehling and Mrs. C.H. Prescott to study a plan on population control.

Les Scherer, former chairman of the county's solid waste pick up drive told the conservationists he couldn't handle the full charge of the newspaper collections. Scherer said,

The last newspaper pick up we had just about no one showed up to man the stations.

He added, It's impossible for me to be at three or four stations at one time. Former County Commissioner Chairman J.W. Hussey stood up and said, I don't mind going out and giving a hand but I don't think we should expect the older people to take charge of the stations.

Hussey pointed out that some young people with stronger backs were needed.

Scherer added One man just isn't enough when you have a station like the Jensen Beach Bank where in tons of newspapers are collected each month.

The point was made that the public was doing the job in delivering the newspapers but the alliance was not doing its job.

Two suggestions were made during the discussion by conservation member Tom Collins. He said, We're only picking up a fraction of the potential. If we can't handle it maybe we should involve other organizations.

Collins added, If that doesn't work take it to the county commission and show them its worth. Maybe the county would take over the management and manpower.

Before the discussion ended members expressed feeling that they didn't think the Primary Occupational Center was doing enough help as it should. The Occupational Center has received $4000 to date from the county-wide newspaper collection drive.

MCHS student Dennis Hudson told the members that the high school alumni association is also getting a fraction of what we should. The money raised from the drive will go to the beachfront property fund campaign.

Hudson reported that the aluminum can at the high school should be full in two weeks and would raise $300. However $3 of the money will have to paid for the bin holding the cans.

At this point J.W. Hussey presented his personal check of $40 toward the payment of the bin. Later Frank and Velma Malacsay, owners of the Crow's Nest, the location of the meeting, donated the receipts from the luncheon totaling $100.50 for whatever the Alliance saw fit.

Bank of Stuart announces increase in dividends

STUART—An increase of the regular quarterly dividend from fifteen cents a share to twenty cents a share has been approved by the board of directors of the Bank of Stuart, according to President Jack T. Williams. The approval was given at the April 18 regular monthly meeting of the board.

Williams also reported the Bank's first quarter earnings had increased 12 percent from the same period last year. Deposits reached an all time high at the first quarter showing a 58 percent increase over the same period in 1971, he said, and earnings per share after estimated tax for the first quarter were $1.72 compared to $1.51 for 1971.

Venture Out News Notes

283-2988

With so many trailers leaving Venture Out and a number of the residents of the mobile home park heading north it's time to say goodbye again for a while. We will miss the good times we had over the past several months but are looking forward to the return of the snow birds in the fall.

Mate and Bill Greuling left for their home in Michigan. Lora Lee and Ward Irwin left for Bristol, Tenn. Ginny and Bill Thompson left for New York Lorene and Al Suckow also left for New York. Lola and Clyde Boner are heading for Michigan and Gladys and Gil Lawrance are on their way north for the summer. From the mobile home park Helen and Bill Williams left for Westfield N.J. and Isabelle and Ed Shipman are on their way back to Asheville, N.C.

We welcome Millie and Bud Ludwig from Grafton, Wis. owners of Lot V-8 who have been spending their vacation with us for the past two weeks.

Hilda and Larry Atkin are back again in their mobile home on Snook Drive.

Selma and Joe Vitarelli arrived last week from New York and plan to stay all summer.

Betty and Ed Miller from Gary, Ind. stopped in to visit the Hausmans last week while vacationing in Florida.

The regular Monday night pot luck supper had a turnout of 51. As usual the food was very good. After dinner some played cards, others billiards and ping pong.

The Tuesday morning Arts and Crafts class had 15 from the park. With most of the projects completed and so many leaving for the summer, this week will be the last class until fall. Bring new ideas back with you.

A good crowd is on hand for the Wednesday night Bingo games last week. Special prize was won by Catherine Higgins grand prize of $50 for a coverall in 56 numbers or less was not won again, so the number is raised to 58. Final game of the evening, a coverall for $10 was won by Henrietta Baccarini of Windmill Village. Bingo night is being changed to Fridays at 8 p.m. starting this week.

Nine men and three women turned out for the Friday morning bowling session. A new high game of 226 was rolled by Bruce Slagle. [illegible] Hank Higgins [illegible] total 450 average 150. Joe Salaro 135-129-136 total 400 as 133. Harry Hausman 180-155-180 total 515 as 172. Bill Thompson 156-129-131 total 416 as 138. Ward Irwin [illegible] Al Suckow [illegible]

Venture Out MOBILE HOME PARK

SOMETHING NEW. At long last the Venture Out Mobile Home Park sign and entrance wall have been completed. Thanks and credit should be given to the group of the park who spent several days on the beach gathering stones for the wall. It was well worth waiting for.

Ida and Harry Hausman your reporter spent last weekend at Pompano Beach visiting with Mil and Rosa Haendler, old friends from Phila. Pa.

Hilda and Larry Atkin had their daughter and son-in-law, Susan and Henry Mooney from Whitestone, N.Y. visiting with them. They all spent last weekend [illegible] Kennedy to watch Apollo 16 blast off to the moon. Mr. and Mrs. Don Picard from Jupiter also stopped in to spend the day with the Atkins last week.

LADIES DAY. Crossing the rain and [illegible] to the park [illegible] Hausman, Lorraine Carpenter, Louise Kurtz, Kaye Troxel, Jeff Downes, Mildred Jones and Laura Lee Irwin. Getting the [illegible]

IN BUSINESS SAYS
MORE THAN WE'RE
17 YEARS OLD

It says we must be doing something right. With other car dealers coming and going, we've had to be more than merely lucky.

We started with quality automobiles BUICKS, PONTIACS and OPELS. Their traditions of fine craftsmanship and mechanical excellence keep people coming back to them, year after year.

But we didn't stop there. We added service people whose experience means our work is done right the first time. And we feel that we would rather make a friend than a sale. We're proud of our success. But we're also thankful to all of you who have counted on us over the years.

We pledge to continue to offer you the service, sales and automobiles that have kept you coming back.

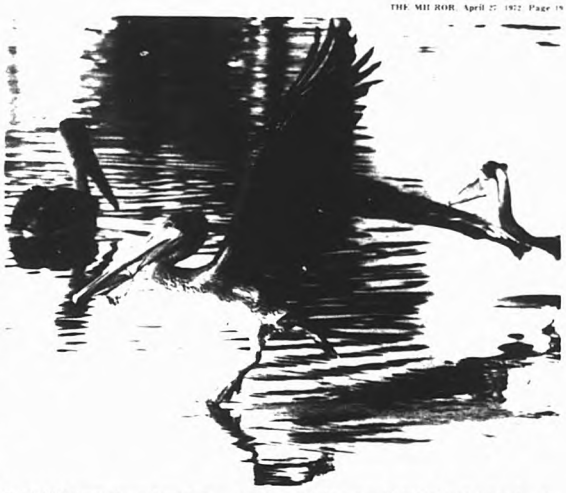
...ish offices. Everybody gets along in this cozy little nook in the corner of the Indian River, both the pelicans and the seagulls. They are waiting for a small mullet from a fisherman cleaning his catch.



TOUCHDOWN. Coming in for a landing on the glassy waters of the Indian River, this pelican makes the prettiest of flying look as graceful as it is. The landing doesn't seem to phase the seagull waiting for his food.

GDC to help City on dock

PORT ST. LUCIE With another meeting of the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, the Council of Port St. Lucie thought to get some information on dock construction in the city.

Mayor Frances Kavanaugh said she must ask for the information promised long ago so that the council knew where to stand on the building of docks in private and public waterways.

We have a bad situation on our waterways and do not have any information or guidelines on putting up docks, Kavanaugh said. We must have an answer.

Councilman Julian Elliott, who has met with the III and has been promised information, told his fellow councilmen that the hassle had satisfactorily to his questions of as long as last August from the board in Tallahassee.

Finally the mayor asked that General Development Corporation have its water resources scientist, Fred Vidres, a former employee with the III, seek the information.

PORT ST. LUCIE Beautiful Waters Homemakers Club closing spring luncheon will be held on Thursday, May 11, 12:30 p.m. at the Hilltop House. Reservations must be made by May 8 with Helen Munson, 464-6062, or Ann Friedel, 461-0896.

PORT ST. LUCIE Mr. Leon M. Zarbo and her son Ron, of Long Island, New York, were recent guests of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Roberts, at 328 S.E. Tranquilla Avenue.

Sherlock Holmes wins PSL friends

PORT ST. LUCIE A street in the new Port St. Lucie will be named Baker Street in honor of the famed Sherlock Holmes detective's refuge for members of the Baker Street Irregulars, a group of fans according to the city council this week.

The meeting of the council, following the death of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in 1859-1930, creator of Sherlock Holmes and the street that was the fictional home of the super sleuth, Kimmel said that General Development should name a street Baker Street in memory of Holmes.

Jack Sheridan, general manager of Port St. Lucie said, We'll do it, and perhaps we might even find a Mr. Holmes to live on it.

name Baker Street to their address as members of the fan club.

But when it was found that no action was needed, a new Holmesite sprung out of the council in the form of Councilman Franklin Beardsley. He asked that the city have such a street.

Councilman Larry Kimmel immediately spoke out for Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

T. Penick desensitizes

JENSEN BEACH — Many people are afraid of snakes but because of the efforts of Terry Penick senior psychology major at Bridgewater College a classmate has lost her fear.

Terry was looking for a subject to use in an experiment he worked out as part of a course requirement for modification of individual behavior. He needed some one who was afraid of snakes but willing to change. He finally found a rather reluctant classmate Junior Sally Hardwicke who agreed to take part because her fiance is an outdoorsman and she knew they would spend a great deal of time camping.

The object of the experiment was to eliminate her phobia using the technique of systematic desensitization. In this process she learned to relax and think about snakes in a series of 24 steps in order of increasing aversion.

In the space of 14 days Sally modified her behavior from that of possessing a severe fere of snakes to being able to hold a live garter snake close to her face for a period of one minute Terry reported.

Terry is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Penick, River Court, and is a senior at Bridgewater College. Bridgewater Va. He will graduate on May 28.

Sebright is back home

JENSEN BEACH — John Sebright son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Sebright of Hickory Ridge Road has returned home. John served in the U.S. Navy for several years and was last stationed at Long Beach, Cal.

John was discharged from the service about a year ago and he and his wife, Holly have been living in Chipawa Wis. Wednesday, today is their second anniversary.

Just this week the young couple moved into their new home in Ft. Pierce where John works with his father.

The senior Sebrights expect more company this week. Mrs. Sebright's niece Miss June Martin of Lincoln Park, Mich. and a friend are flying in Thursday evening and will stay until Tuesday.

Holiday out-lines

By BETTY TAYLOR
283-0624

This is my last column for the season and it calls me nearly flat. Ruth Bowers has kindly offered to carry on in my absence so we will keep in touch with what is going on in the park.

Bingo winners for last week at Indian Village is three-way tie for twelve wins: Antonio La Rosa and Jack Haggar, Joe Sacramella, Louis Winter & S. Wheelihan, Mahlon B. Mapstone, Barbara Lemaire, Lucy Schaefer, Fred Ebner, Lorretta Ebner.

Bill and Kathryn Smith are there northern racing on April 2. They will be back around January.

Evelyn and Jack Faust have gone back to Middletown, Pa. for the summer months.

The last bridge night of the season saw Mercy Whitney with high score of 4580. Ila Taylor second with 4370 and Herman Heins trailing with 4240.

Dan and Thelma Huckles of LaGrangeville, N.Y. stayed two weeks with us. They have property on Wallon across the river with them were their children Marie, Norma, Cathy, Eddie, Joseph and Mike.

Mac and Alice McPherson left Monday, April 23rd for Evansville, Tenn.

Recent visitors from Traverse City, Michigan were Dr. and Mrs. John Milliken. They stayed with Peggy and John Fleming. Jr. St. Also visiting was Mrs. Bernard Weber from Traverse City, and her two sisters from St. Marys, Ohio, Alma, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. L.F. Baxter of Delray Beach dropped in. Time was spent fishing and lunching at the outrigger and showing the visitors local attractions.

Margaret and Harold Strader, Allman, N.Y. have left the park for good as owners. Harold traded house and trailer for a motor home and plans to travel out west for awhile. They will visit the park and perhaps [illegible] again when the [illegible]

Howard and Ida Chgastaire have gone back to Binghamton, N.Y. for the summer.

Louise and Ted Valentine left Sat. for Attleboro Falls, Mass. after being here since Feb. 1st. They plan to stop at Disney World and Myrtle Beach on the way home.

Elsie and Louis Winter have left on many nice visits. Bingo will miss them.

Charlotte and Mahlon Mapstone of Buffalo, N.Y. left April 20th after 4 months visit on the Ft. They hiked up para sailed up a lot while they were here. Hope they'll be back next year.

The [illegible] was [illegible] Hospital in Brevard General Hospital. We are sorry to report he is seriously ill.

[illegible] Mac McFarland [illegible] that Mac was operated on last week. He will be in speech therapy and [illegible] Board of Education.

Happy birthday to Bertha [illegible] on April 20th.

[illegible] Norman [illegible] Mapstone, Michigan [illegible] and [illegible] Mapstone [illegible]

The [illegible] Saturday [illegible] of [illegible] Northern [illegible] took place Sunday, April 23 in the common area behind the Sugar Loaf. Peeling and Allison trailers. Bob Long was host and did [illegible] Barbecued ribs. Took him all afternoon but the results were worth it. Everyone brought a dish plus their share of the ribs, then stood around and drooled. Attending were Bessie Bell, Stephine and Fred Kiefaber, Peggy and Al Rau, Gert and Bob Long, Art and Betty Nagle, Betty Taylor, Dick and Millie Hebler, Earl and Ruth Bowers and Vera and Don Peeling.

Elsie and Marvin Smith left for home last Friday after receiving an emergency call that his father was very ill. Hope their trip home was without incident and that the elder Mr. Smith recovers quickly. The Smiths are putting their home in St. Albans, W.Va. up for sale and intend to make their home in Florida. They expect to return early in November. Any of you who have broken up a home, know what a summer of hard work is ahead for them.

The park lost to their northern homes last week Harry and Virginal Smith, Central Lake, Mich., Preston and Jessie Ackerman, Royal Oak, Mich., the Richard Clarks, Ruth and Joe Fitzpatrick, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., and Ted and Al Taylor, Nichols, N.Y. Hope they return early next season.

NEXT BID PLEASE. Kermit Tucker and clown asked for bids on the eight cakes sold at the carnival held by Cub Scout Pack 301 last Tuesday. Tucker sold all eight cakes for a total of $56 with net proceeds of the carnival reaching $76. The kids enjoyed clown Tucker who was the hit of the carnival.

ENGAGED: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Talbert of 111 Cortez, Stuart, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Y., of Osceola Ct., Stuart, to Raymond Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Jones, Stuart. All friends are invited to the wedding on Wednesday, May 24, at the home of First United Methodist Church of Stuart.

Jensen Bank adds to UF

JENSEN BEACH — An other donation to the Jensen Beach Rio United Fund has been announced by Walter Woodrich, president.

A donation of $500 was received last week by the United Fund from the Jensen Beach Bank. The donation brought the total of the fund to near $13,500, just $1,500 short of the ambitious goal of $15,000.

Mirror staff to convention

JENSEN BEACH. Most of the staff of The Jensen Beach Mirror will travel to Orlando this weekend to take part in the annual convention of the Florida Press Association.

The Mirror will compete with all other non-daily newspapers in the state for journalistic honors. In 1971, The Mirror was honored as Florida's Best Weekly Newspaper winning a total of fifteen awards including seven first place plaques. The Mirror also won the honor in 1969.

FPA members will be holding the convention at Disney World.

Blues, trout lead the list

JENSEN BEACH. Blues and trout seemed to be the most popular fish caught this week in addition to some snook, according to the report from the Snook Nook.

Pot luck a success. The May pot luck dinner was quite a success with 60 guests. Did I say 60? Pardon me, I meant 6. So many of the pot luck diners have gone south. We really had a good time though with sand wiches salads vegetables and cake. Blessing was asked by Esther Gentry and we sat sal and ate and talked for two hours. I believe we got better acquainted than we have all winter.

John's Crab recipe

JENSEN BEACH ... [illegible] ... Mrs. Where he gets a good crab dish. He further claims to cook them in various other ways in the neighbor.

JOHN BARBOUR'S CRAB RECIPE

One live crab
1 cup vinegar
1 cup water
2 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 whole onion

Have red pepper and 1 teaspoon allspice if desired. Remove claws from crab. Remove shells and discard. Remove apron face and dead fingers and discard. Clean out stomach material. Put crabs and cleaned crab bodies in large pot. Add all ingredients except salt and bring to a boil. Boil 15 minutes. Drain and refrigerate or eat immediately.

Sewage hearing Tuesday

STUART. A public hearing on the proposed water and sewage plan for Martin County will be Tuesday, May 16, at 8 p.m. in the county commission meeting room at the courthouse.

Other meetings will be planned in the Jensen Beach and Rio areas to further explain the proposed $41 million water sewage plan according to County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha.

I hope people wait until they have the facts before making up their minds, Wacha said. He said that petitions are being circulated against the proposal already.

They are premature, he said. I should know more about it myself but we haven't had the information.

Wacha said the proposal will not go according to what the people want.

Weiss to be elected District Governor

JENSEN BEACH – Bill Weiss, a member of the Jensen Beach Lions Club, will be elected District Governor of District 35-D of the State of Florida at the Lions State Convention at Sarasota May 18-21.

Weiss is unopposed for the high office. He will be the official representative of 48 Lions Clubs from Fort Lauderdale to Titusville and west to Clewiston.

He will bring the name of Jensen Beach before thousands of Lions at the International Convention in Mexico City on June 28-July 1, where 140 countries or geographical areas throughout the world will meet and where all District Governors-elect will be installed for the year 1972-73.

Re-cycling set for May 20th

STUART – Re-cycling is a well established habit with concerned people throughout the United States and Martin County is no exception.

Re-cycling has this month in Sabastian, May 20, from 10 a.m. to noon at the usual pick up points.

To further the program, Pioneer Occupational Center is starting a supplemental procedure – papers may be brought to the center by a group of responsible adults each between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Help in unloading will be provided.

In addition, papers may be left outside the center under the overhang at any time. Papers are not regular pick up days at Sebastian Beach or Hutchinson Island. Persons having questions may call the center at 287-1333 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The center asks the public to observe the following warnings:

Do not stack papers more than 4 feet high.

Do not put papers in plastic bags.

D & M Mobile Home News Notes

By Marguerite Hibbard
287-4412

My husband and I are going on vacation May 17 for three months. Our daughter Catherine Kirber flew down to help her dad do the driving. We are going to Bridgeville Pa. Evans City Pa. New Castle Pa. Erie Pa. Youngstown Ohio and possibly to Dayton Ohio and Carthage Ill. So you won't have any D&M news strip for that time. But enjoy your selves and think of us as we'll surely be thinking of all our friends.

Some of you subscribed for The Mirror to be sent to you up north so the patient and D&M will be back with you about the end of August. Good writing.

Ringo lucks it again. Lois Barr has won the big money two weeks straight with only [illegible] people out. So Celia will never think it is unlucky again. Some of the others caught though Evelyne at the game now. I'm a times except Nonie Crossett and she was the caller.

Attending wedding Arthur and Mona Weedt left for Detroit Mich Friday morning. While there they will attend the wedding of Jo Anne Lyds of North River Shores. JoAnne graduated from Metro College in Detroit on April 29 and is getting married May 20. After the wedding Weedts will vacation [illegible] a while and then go to Idaho. Orlando or Lake Superior to spend the [illegible] cooler days in the U.P.

The color scheme was carried out in pink and blue, and refreshments included sandwiches, punch, coffee and cake.

Mrs. Nancy Stewart, sister of the bride-to-be, hosted a miscellaneous shower at her parents' home. The color scheme was yellow and white, and refreshments included cake, punch and coffee.

Guests at the showers included Miss Jeanne Sprott, Miss Linda Sanders, Mrs. Harold R. Sanders, Mrs. Percy Donley, Mrs. Clarence Martin, Mrs. Richard Stewart, Mrs. P. Donley Jr., Mrs. Edward Clifton, Mrs. Thomas Bourke, Mrs. Walter Eichin, Miss Kathy Bourke.

Also, Mrs. Dee Gerretson, Miss Gail Cepra, Mrs. Paul Cipra, Mrs. Morgan Sprott, Mrs. Clarence Martin, Mrs. Bob Gottron, Miss Linda Gottron, Mrs. Louis Stewart, Miss Karen Donley and Mrs. Earl Cooper.

Miss Clifton will wed Harold J. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Sanders of Jensen Beach, in a garden ceremony on Saturday, June 3 at 1:30 p.m. The wedding will take place at Frances Langford's Outrigger Resort on the point just north of the restaurant.

JBWA plan busy summer

JENSEN BEACH — This summer will be a busy one for members of the Jensen Beach Women's Association. Activities chairman Mrs. Mildred Greenland said Monday that a meeting of the committee for the June 19 salad bar luncheon will be held Wednesday, May 24 at 10 a.m.

A dessert card party is planned for Monday, May 22 at 1 p.m. at the club house. Reservations should be made by calling 287-4308 or 287-9598.

Plans are already under way for a July 15 rummage sale and members are asked to bring rummage to future meetings at the club house.

A board meeting is scheduled for May 31 at 10 a.m.

All members were urged by the president to attend The Mirror Cooking Show on June 22, after reading an invitation from The Mirror. Each member was asked to take a friend.

Fourth four members and two guests attended Monday's meeting at which the door prize was won by Lillian Staples. Hostesses, chaired by Thelma Cadwell, were Hilda Tyler, Lola Speck, Trudy Chibasz and Mary Weeks.

A donation was made to the Fowler family.

CHURCH AID CIRCLE HEARS ABOUT CHAMBER

JENSEN BEACH — An executive board meeting of the Church Aid Circle of Jensen Beach Community Church will be held Wednesday, May 24 at 10 a.m. at the church. This will be followed by the regular monthly meeting with dessert at 1 p.m.

Devotions will be given by Julia Wood.

Helen Richardson, executive secretary of Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, will tell of her experiences at the Chamber. An auction of small treasures will close the program.

Hostesses will be Mary Stiles, Eva Donaldson, Jo Eisenbarth, Dorothy Priest and Mary Higby.

William R. Hohmann is general manager of WMCF

JENSEN BEACH — William R. Hohmann has been appointed to the newly created position of Vice President and General Manager of WMCF-FM, Stuart. It was announced by Lester V. Combs, President of Blue Water Broadcasting Company, Inc., owner of the station.

Bill Hohmann brings over twenty-two years of broadcast experience to the leadership of WMCF at a time when it is going through its greatest period of growth. We are fortunate to have someone with his background, energy and enthusiasm to take on the duties of manager at this time," said Combs.

Hohmann was Assistant General Manager of WWJD-FM, White Plains, N.Y. before coming to WMCF. Previous to that he had spent thirteen years with the CBS Television Network, N.Y., in various executive positions in the areas of advertising sales development and research. He had also spent four years with both the ABC and NBC Television Networks in Chicago.

He was born in Oak Park, Ill., and is a graduate of Beloit College, Beloit, Wisc., with a BA degree in Creative Writing. He is married to the former Sherlee Park of Chicago. The Hohmanns have four children: Susan 17, Sarah 15, Thomas 13, and Jennifer 7. The Hohmann family has resided in Chappaqua, N.Y. for the past twelve years and hopes to settle in this area by early summer.

Combs, a long time resident of Stuart and founder of WMCF, will continue in his position as President of the Blue Water Broadcasting Company, Inc. with overall responsibility for policy and corporate affairs.

W. H. Hohmann

Ocean Breeze Park News

By Catherine Cumpsty

Call a BROAD
287-2589

A note from Catherine

Well folks, no more helper. Yes, Jerry and Edna Beagle have flown home to New York and Ronald and I took them to the airport. We will miss sitting on the Beagle patio.

But remember we are still doing the news. Hope to hear from you when you arrive home, each one of you.

Also there is a box for Mirror News at Clement Hall.

Personals

Nettie Christies flew to her home in Michigan on May 4. This is a time when Grandma comes in handy. You see folks, Nettie's daughter and husband are moving to Ill. due to a transfer in his job and they are leaving to look for a new home. So Nettie will be taking care of the grandchildren while they are out west. This gal is always a blast so I feel those grandchildren and they are just grand.

Mavis and Ray Stiles drove Nettie to West Palm to catch the plane.

Loula Faherty stopped in to tell us she and her hubby, Ted, were planning to take off on May 4 to visit their home in Lakeland, N.Y. Loula said she will be traveling over to Europe this summer later in the season. Hope she has a good time.

George or Reed has taken off May 11 for her home in Delhi, N.Y. This gal is one of the last Sol leaving her car here. Frank, Brad, and Dorothy Gardner drove her to West Palm Airport and her son Ed Sparling met her in Newark, N.J. Ed lives in Newburgh, N.Y. then to Ashfield, N.Y. where George is all those her family all the greatness she made this winter.

BEAGLES GRANDCHILD WILL BE MARRIED

OCEAN BREEZE'S Edna and Jerry Beagle left from West Palm Beach Airport the 4th month and a happy occasion. Their grandson, Ronald Beagle is getting married. Jerry is getting married.

The Beagles will be attending the Bridegroom wedding to Miss Jacqueline Jackie Potter on Friday, May 19 at The ... at 8 p.m. candlelight service will be at the Toledo United Methodist Church, Elm, N.Y. and the Rev. ... officiating.

Both Jackie and Jerry are graduates of Powers ... Business College, Syracuse, N.Y. Many folks that these two when they vacationed here at Christmas with Beagles daughter and son in law Beatrice and Aaron Bittinger. Jerry has been coming south to see his grandparents every year since he was a baby. He even played hide and seek with Paula Jo Hoke when they were very young (boys don't blush, Jerry).

We'll be waiting to hear about this wedding.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Josephine Williams was discharged on May 11. Frank Hawkins spent a few days at Martin Memorial going in on May 4 and out on the 11th. Was talking with him and he had some more face surgery.

Anna Lucas is still at Sal Hayek Convalescence Pavil... on in Jupiter, Fla. 33458. Alt. Hwy. A1A.

Tom Faul was discharged May 10 from the hospital.

LETTERS

Martha Sheets writes an extensive letter from the motel where they stayed the first night out and finished it upon arrival at their new home in Hendersonville, N.C. on May 4.

We had a very nice trip, 500 miles our first day. Mentioned to the manager we were on our way to North Carolina and he said he had another couple going that way. The couple is from Zephyrhills, Fla. Upon hearing that Let's wait the Barretts. He said, You're right. Well after dinner we were invited over to their unit for cocktails.

During the day it got cloudy once and looked like a bad storm, but with a few prayers asking the Lord to let it pass over, he answered and the sun came out and the sky was real blue. Thanks Lord.

Now here we are settled in our new motel area. Its us and 3 more in. The weather is a comfortable 76 today.

Martha drove for the first time in the mountains and was pleased with herself. She and Ed want all their friends to know The Mirror is keeping them informed safely.

FROM HESSIE KEEFE

She had a nice trip to Atlanta via with Mr. and Mrs. Will Bailey. There she met her son and wife. But and Bell's Ranch and the next day the Bailey's went on to their home in Akron and Hessie went to her son's home in Lexington, N.C. After a week or two vacation her daughter and husband will come down to have a short vacation then all three will go to Ohio. The address is 576 Crestwood Av. Akron, Ohio 44302.

Thanks Hessie glad to hear from you.

FROM THE COVELLS

From Harry and Bernice Covell 1800 Springfield Lane Lansing, Mich. 48912

We left Ocean Breeze April 24 and arrived home 1 p.m. April 26. Our daughter, her husband and our grandson, the McLains had our place all ready for us and a nice chicken dinner waiting for us. And We Ate The Whole Thing. Note, you sure had better luck than we did, Bernice. The roads are so fine and the weather grand for traveling. First night Cordella, Ga. and second night Lexington, Ky. That night we had a hard time finding a motel as the Kentucky races were in progress. We drove 1372 miles. We saw three accidents along the way, three campers and autos, over turned. Thank God no one killed.

Well folks, this should let you decide to stay a little longer. The Covells go on to say, it is very cold and Bernice came down with a cold, but is fine now.

Venture Out News Notes

BY HARRY HAUSMAN
283-2988

It was a great shock to everyone at Venture that the sudden death of Grace Slagle from the Mobile Home Group. Our deepest sympathies is extended to the family at this time of need. We would like to know our thoughts and prayers are with all those DIFFERENT HOBBY - Hilda Aiken of Snook Drive in Venture has a different hobby. She is working on a book and typing out her special type writer in Braille. The work is being done for the Library of Congress in Washington D.C. for the blind and physically handicapped. Hilda has been certified and during this work for the past five years.

KEEN ON HIS FAMILY - Bobbie and Bill Hickerson telling their daughter Lisa how they feel about getting back to quick

Bobbie and Bill recently had their daughter and four grandchildren visiting with them over the weekend recently. We are sure they all kept you both busy but we are also sure you enjoyed every minute of it.

Joe Vitarro and Al Jones went out fishing in the Indian River in their boat recently and you won't believe this story. A really big one, not only did we say that it took the time reel and reel along with it but we are supposed to hold onto the line for.

Harry and Ida Hausman went fishing in the surf recently and came home with a good catch of two fair sized blues in which Ida drum and several cat fish.

Hilda and Larry Aiken were returned New York one day last week after spending a total of eight months for the Christmas holidays.

Their daughter and son-in-law Raquel and Steve Schiffer and three grandchildren from Ft. Lauderdale with them for about a week. They also had their niece from Dallas Tex. Elsa and Arthur Holmes visiting with them recently.

The Friday morning bowling session had eight participants and one spectator showing up. Scores for May 19 were:

Hank Higgins 141 152 180 total 473 average 160. Joe Vitarro 128 156 131 total 415 Al Jones 174 173 178 total 525 as 175. Bill Ostertag 155 155 106 total 416 as 139 Larry Aiken 191 - 191 total 495 as 165.

Harry Hausman 136 146 142 total 424 as 141 Ida Hausman 151 134 161 total 446 as 148 Hilda Aiken 94 - 94 as 98

Did you know that the newspaper bus for The Jensen Beach Mirror is none other than our senior citizen Willard Aiken. Good luck Willard and lots of fun in your new venture.

Your reporter and his wife Ida with others and Hank Higgins spent an evening recently at West Palm Beach Auditorium and enjoyed the Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Circus.

At Florida daughter Michelle and her husband Dan Schaefer spent the weekend following their May 13 wedding at Miami Beach. They are moving into an apartment in Hollywood Beach to start married life. Happy honeymoon to both.

Students tour Mirror office

JENSEN BEACH — Fifth and sixth grade students of Jensen Beach Elementary School toured the Jensen Beach Mirror office last week. The tour was conducted by publisher and editor Richard Campbell.

Campbell took the students through each department, explaining the different operations of the newspaper. Demonstrations were given on all the equipment used at the Mirror plant.

The tour covered the business news advertising, photo dark room and layout departments. Equipment demonstrated to the students included the Compugraphic Compuwriter, a computer used to set copy, the Compugraphic Headliner, a computer used to set head lines for news stories and advertising body copy, and the camera located in the print department with a 30 by 24 copy board.

Students taking the tour with instructors Mrs. Bobbie Church and Mrs. Joseph Lincoln were Julie Aleen Timmons, Newton Clark Van Dam, Jhes Gould, Tears Washburn, Barb Pare, Lee Ferguson, Dasha Hales, Jean Bailles, Ruth Asser, Beth Carl, Amy Miller, Lynn Shaw, Linda Baxter, Donna Sweeney, Ellen Altschuh, Valerie Matulas, Joanne Pollard and Ann Mulac.

TOUR Students of the newspaper staff at Jensen Beach Elementary School enjoyed an informative tour of The Jensen Beach Mirror office last week. Above, Mirror publisher and editor Richard Campbell shows the students two displays and while explaining how the newspaper is published.

Holiday out-lines

By BETTY TAYLOR

Art and Betty Nagy, lot 228, informed me of the birth of Allison Ann Nagy on May 8th weighing in at 7 lb. 13 oz. She makes the fifth generation of their family. Grandma Betty and Art Grandpa are doing nicely.

* * * * *

Joe Fleeling is doing fine. He is now at home after being hospitalized now.

* * * * *

Dick and Harriet Dublon, lot 343, are heading for their home in Connecticut May 18th. On their summer schedule will be a Pre-Charter Field Trial Camp Hartford trial at Cunnington, Mass. from July 23-31. In August they will attend the second C.F.T.C. in Maritime Provinces at Truro, Nova Scotia where Dick is treasurer. Both of these conferences will give him an opportunity to pursue his hobby of tape recording and add to his fine collection of inspirational messages of which he is always happy to share with others.

* * * * *

The Frank Streba's lot 478 have gone for a two weeks vacation.

* * * * *

Curt and Muriel Chase lot 110 left for three days to visit on the West Coast and Tampa area.

* * * * *

Bingo winners Selma Gardner, Kay Stephenson, Walter Gardner, Sanford Famuela, Marge Bullock, Kay Dickson, Muriel Chase, Willard McCabe won cover all.

* * * * *

Fran and Howard Wade, lot 405, are enjoying a visit of their daughter and grandson for a few weeks.

* * * * *

We received a letter from Betty Taylor. She has arrived home at last for a well deserved rest. But son and daughter left to open their summer home. They gave mother several hundred petunia plants to oversee the delivery to the customers for his Cub Scout Pack. Also they have to feed horses and dogs and ducks and a cat collect eggs and oh yes answer the phone and mind the yard boys. So Betty we are glad you are resting. Hurry back.

* * * * *

We learn that Marvin Smith's father is home again from the hospital which is good news.

* * * * *

Fred and Stephanie Kerfaber, lot 74, have left for an extended tour and will return the latter part of October.

* * * * *

Our deepest sympathy to Evie Smith who lost her mother on May 13th.

* * * * *

The McCabes attended a rally over the weekend near Titusville.

* * * * *

The Bowers, lot 110, had their niece June Catterlin visiting over the 13th and 14th.

The Memorial Day holiday crowd was not as great as anticipated, but those who spent time here seemed to enjoy themselves.

It is that time of year when the sea turtles come ashore on Hutchinson Island to lay their eggs. A stroll along the beach after dark on a moonlight night gives one the opportunity to see these interesting creatures emerge from the sea. Remember not to scare her or disturb her nest after she has finished.

Your reporter and his wife, Ida, were fortunate to see one last week just completing the operation and heading back into the ocean. We hope some of the weekend visitors were able to see this unique happening first hand.

A wedding shower was held for Gail Ostertag at St. Lucie Hilton Country Club Resort on Monday, May 22 by the mobile home group of Venture Out. After a fine luncheon, the gifts were opened by the bride to be. Those attending were Dottie Gerard, Clara Tomasko, Betty Jones, Kay Smythe, Selma Valaro, Lola Beck, Dixie Mozingo, Sherry Chambers, Debra Woodson, Rita Estabrook, Donna Shaw, Patty DuBois, Bobbie Osterag, Vera Aylesworth, Ida Hausman, Catherine Higgins and Isabelle Hasmer.

Birthday greetings go to Bob Smythe, May 16, Paul Drinkard, 26th, and Charles Hiesch, 28th.

Venture Out News Notes

The regular Monday night pot luck supper was called off for May 22 due to previous arrangements by the women of the mobile home group. Everyone is hoping we can continue with these dinners and get a good turnout.

Alice and Arthur Bauman returned again from their home in New Jersey.

Six bowlers showed up last Friday morning for the bowling competition. Scores were: Hank Higgins 143, 157, 127, Total 427, Average 142. Al Jones 172, 133, 166, Total 471, av. 157. Joe Valaro 130, 138, 116, Total 384, av. 121. Bill Ostertag 139, 150, 147, total 436, av. 145. Harry Hausman 135, 132, 185, total 452, av. 151. Ida Hausman 150, 151, 139, total 440, av. 147.

The Friday night Bingo games have been called off for the rest of the summer as a result of so many folks leaving the park and poor attendance during the past several weeks. The games will start up again next fall on Friday nights, as usual.

Fishing has been improving and some of the reports have been encouraging lately. From the surf, George Chambers has brought in plenty of whiting, pompano, blues and sand perch along with catfish. Joe Valaro has caught whiting and blues. Stanley Tomasko the first time out this year pulled in a good size pompano last week. Your reporter and his wife have been able to land some good size whiting and croakers along with a few pompano, sand perch and blue runners. It looks like Ida Hausman is the best fisherman as she catches the biggest and most fish.

A Happy Hour for Venture Out was held Saturday, May 27, from 4 to 6 p.m. at the recreation hall. Host and hostess were Norman Markham, park manager, and his wife, Lois. A group of about 45 residents and guests enjoyed the event. We thank Venture Out and the management for the hospitality and friendliness.

The Hausmans spent a day in Miami last week visiting Ida's brother and wife, John and Mollie Dean. It was a nice trip, but it was good to get back home again in time for the pot luck supper.

It was not until the last minute we heard about Dottie and Andy Gerard leaving on a short vacation last week.

CYCLING FOR TWO. Dot and Andy Gerard of Wahoo Road heads for a spin and enjoys the sunshine.

The next pot luck supper will be held June 17. We would love to see more people come out to enjoy these delicious meals and make a night of it by staying to play Bingo.

Dayle Marshall is now a Junior Girl Scout leader. Starting in September, meetings will be held in the Park Club house one evening a week from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The days will be announced later. Girls in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades are eligible to join. Dayle needs a volunteer co-leader. Anyone interested may call her at 287-1102. Age is no barrier. Think it over.

Happy birthday to Bob Hunter on June 1, and happy anniversary to Louise and Ronnie Moncrief on June 5.

We were sorry to hear of the illnesses of Arlene Wright, Tina Gunter and Earl Stager. We wish them all a speedy recovery and a restful convalescense.

Elsie Falkenburg will hold a Tupperware Party at the club house on June 6. Everyone is welcome.

It's nice to see Mary and Bill Davis smiling faces back in the Park after their recent trip to Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hamm and son of Rossville, Ind. visited with Edith and Al Bygnads over the weekend.

Glad to see that Phyllis Pearrell survived her overdose of Old Sol without any complications.

Shirley Gerbe and Brenda Bennett spent the weekend with Shirley's parents at Okeechobee. Almost didn't make it as they were enjoying their newly air conditioned home so thoroughly.

Two services at Jensen Beach Community Church include on Sundays June 4 & 11 of June 11 there will be only one service at 10 a.m.

JENSEN BEACH — The promotion of Sgt. Melvin [illegible] to lieutenant in the Martin County Sheriff's department was announced last week by new Sheriff Robert L. Crowder.

Other shifts in duties in the department will be made according to Crowder.

Mrs. Donna Yawn, records clerk has resigned, Crowder said.

How's Your Hearing?

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model, the smallest Beltone hearing aid ever made, will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement.

Try it to see how it is worn in the privacy of your own home without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep, free. It weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are few, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost and certainly no obligation. Write to Dept. [illegible] Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

Trailer parking problems persist for PSL residents

PORT ST. LUCIE: The illegal parking of trailers and other vehicles on homesites in the city of Port St. Lucie continues to plague the PSL city council. Efforts to get an ordinance to correct the problem were again delayed at two city council meetings last Tuesday.

City Attorney Rupert [illegible] was waiting for the views of various [illegible] development corporation's Robert Seelev as to how to fit the city ordinance to the deed restrictions of PSL, one to halt the improper parking of campers and trailers.

Mayor Eugene Kanamaugh objected to the separation of the north and south PSL communities.

"We are going to have to come up with something consistent," Kanamaugh said. We must stop separating the areas and make an ordinance that is the same for all."

PSL general manager Tom Sheridan said that the differing lot sizes between north and south communities make [illegible] difficult to apply.

The lot sizes differ, he said, in that those in the north are 75 feet wide and those in the south are 100 feet wide.

Kanamaugh said that the lot sizes [illegible] the problem.

In another ordinance matter, Kanamaugh indicated he would soon ask for a public hearing on a proposed ordinance that would prohibit the [illegible] of garbage in the city.

Kanamaugh said the ordinance is needed because of the many [illegible] in Martin county in which garbage is dumped [illegible] Kanamaugh said that the action of the legislature in passing a bill to allow police to enforce littering laws [illegible] after it had passed.

Yacht Club holds weiner roast

PORT ST. LUCIE — The Port St. Lucie Yacht Club held a weiner roast at the new CESA building on May 27, instead of having a regular club business meeting. Over 80 members enjoyed the food and festivities.

Welcomed into the club as new members were John McHugh Van and Doris Van Wagner and Harold and Marion Ashe.

Festivities started with a social at 6 p.m. followed by a picnic supper. Salad and dessert Charlie White presented a movie followed by music and dancing.

Fifteen lucky club members were able to make a special 25 cent contribution to the club by virtue of not wearing their name tags.

Bill Lee chaired the event assisted by workers Reba Jones, social hostess Grace Gaskin, secretary and Kay Gratlage.

Door prizes were furnished by the social committee members Ida Keyes, Sally Hogan, June Johnston, Ruth McDonald, V. Metzger and Doris Hinchcliffe.

New committee chairman for 1972 are Wilbert and Doris Hinchcliffe. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parke were guests of Dr. and Myrtle Grizzell, Commodore John Pugh announced a board meeting for June 6 appointed Art and Sally Coulter as chairman of the June party and informed members that the next regular meeting will be June 27.

KITCHEN CAPTAINS: Kitchen captains for the recent Yacht Club weiner roast were Grace Gaskin, Kay Gratlage and Reba Jones.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors, and especially Rev. Donald E. Johnson, for their acts of kindness during my recent bereavement.

Fireworks, food, on Fourth at Causeway

JENSEN BEACH — Fireworks and food as usual are being planned for July 4 by members of the Jensen Beach Fireworks Committee and the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Dept. as end-of-the-day festivities.

Santa Claus is going to have fireworks, officer told The Mirror on Monday. The fireworks will be under the direction of Booth Buoni. A public address system and the fireworks and auxiliary will provide sound and voice broadcasting. The public will include free rides on fire trucks, hamburgers, hot dogs, cold drinks, milk and coffee, officer explained.

There will be games for the youngsters and booths will be manned by civic organizations.

And all this will take place as usual on the Jensen Beach Causeway with food served from 12 noon on, and fireworks starting at dark.

Elliott Museum free for fathers on Sunday

JENSEN BEACH — The Elliott Museum will be open free of charge to fathers and/or children on Sunday, June 18th, Father's Day, according to the Martin County Historical Society.

TALLAHASSEE — Gerald E. Shaw, Jensen Beach, was among 2,540 degree candidates at commencement exercises held at Florida State University on Saturday, June 10.

Shaw received his degree in business accounting.

Clifton-Sanders vows said in garden ceremony

JENSEN BEACH — Miss Cynthia Ann Clifton became the bride of Harold Jason Sanders in a garden wedding held June 11 at Fairview Lutheran Church here.

The Rev. Jason Johnson and Linda Guthrie played the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported organza with ties plaits of organza from neckline to waist framing a "V" at the waist. The bodice and long sleeves, and the high ruffled neckline were of re-embroidered lace. The wide ruffle on the sleeves were sheer plaits to match bodice decor. The A-line skirt was bordered at the bottom with a scalloped hemline of re-embroidered lace and the detachable cathedral train was carried up at the bottom with the same lace design as the gown.

Her three-tiered elbow length veil was of English

RECEIVES DEGREE — Don Hallock, above, received his B.S. degree in mathematics from Florida Technological University, Orlando, at the school's fourth annual graduation exercises held at Tangerine Bowl in Orlando. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hallock, Jensen Beach. He is employed by Systems Engineering Laboratories, Inc., West Palm Beach, and is presently living in Orlando.

GRADUATES — Mrs. Carolyn Hallock, above, graduated recently from Florida Technological University, Orlando, with a B.A. degree in mathematics. She is married to Don Hallock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hallock, Jensen Beach. Mrs. Hallock is employed by Martin County Schools. Mrs. Hallock's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wade Ledgerwood, Jensen Beach, and grandparents are Mrs. Ruth Ledgerwood, Jensen Beach, and Mrs. Hallock, Jensen Beach.

Inside Outdoor Resort

By MARY JO AND MIKE

This past weekend at OUTDOOR RESORTS was quite a success for the participants in the Pinball Wizard contest. Friday morning at 9:00 the contestants were all lined up and ready to go. Each player was given a certain amount of time to play the game for the highest score. When the time was up, the scores were tallied and the top 16 players were announced. Those 16 players then played off in the semi-finals. The top 8 players moved on to the finals. The finals were played on Saturday afternoon. The winner received a trophy and a free game of pinball. Congratulations to all the participants in the contest.

Now $50 you can try tennis and night
That's all you pay for a year's tennis membership at beautiful St. Lucie.
That's less than 14 cents a day.
And if you have a family of four, it's only $75, less than 6 cents per day per person.
We have six lighted clay-layed courts (4 of them are lighted) with windscreens.
You'll find them on the waterfront of our mile-wide river with a breathtaking view of our jungle beyond.
Need some new tennis balls?
We have a pro shop that has them and can get any other equipment you need.
So if you're a tennis buff, call Bob Grossman. He's our full-time pro. He'll show you how to improve your game. Day and night.

Agnes adds to woes

JENSEN BEACH — The high winds and deluge of rain associated with the passage of Hurricane Agnes added to the already heavy unseasonable rains of the area's summer, bringing ground water to its highest level in years.

While little damage was reported from the wind, trees and palm fronds were blown about and garbage was rolled down side streets in many areas.

The wind screened tennis courts at St. Lucie County Recreation were damaged by the winds and the south fence of the courts lifted in many of its bracing wires.

HAPPY HOUR. Enjoying themselves at Outdoor Resorts recently were Diane Depew, Bobby Depew, Della and Gene Baker, Marie and Vogel, Dave Grice and Leila Krueger.

Tables have been ordered and will arrive soon. This means more activities for the owners and guests.

Matthew Vogel was voted best dancer by the recreation staff in his attempt to close the generation gap. His dancing feats secured during Happy Hours on Friday. His partner, Sue Duffy, was impressed by his dancing exhibition. When asked about her partner's dancing ability, she replied, "It was all too beautiful to mention words."

The weekend went as usual except on Friday a new face took spell. The Rock was joined by a new dance. The band played from 8 until 12.

Defender files for senate seat

Walter S. Colbath Jr., Palm Beach County Public Defender since 1966, today announced his candidacy for the District 28 Florida Senate seat. Colbath officially began his campaign today at a press conference in his West Palm Beach office.

District 28 includes the counties of Hendry, Indian River, Martin, St. Lucie, part of Lee County and most of Palm Beach County.

Colbath received his Bachelor of Law Degree in 1965 from the University of Miami and holds a B.S. Degree in Marketing from the class of 1956 Indiana University. Originally from Indianapolis Indiana he has resided in Palm Beach County for 13 years.

Colbath is the president elect of the Florida Public Defender's Association and member of the American, Florida and Palm Beach County Bar Associations, the American Trial Lawyer's Association, the Florida Academy of Trial Lawyers and the National Legal Aid and Defender's Association.

The 37 year old candidate is a member of the Board of Directors of the Comprehensive Community Mental Health Center, Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association of Southeast Florida, and on the Advisory Board of the West Palm Beach Halfway House. He is a former member of the Board of Directors of the North Branch YMCA and the Visiting Nurse's Association.

In 1967 Colbath was named Outstanding Young Man of America and Outstanding Civic Leader of America. He is currently listed in Who's Who in the South and Southease and in the 1972 "2,000 Men of Achievement". He was the most outstanding graduating senior in law school.

Last summer meet for Church Aid Circle

JENSEN BEACH: The last meeting until September for the Church Aid Circle of Jensen Beach Community Church will be held Wednesday, June 28 at 1 p.m.

A Tupperware party will be held and refreshments served. There will be a door prize and special gifts according to Mrs. Ruth Freeman, president of the group. Decorations will be by Mrs. Faye McMaster, group in the hostess meeting. All members are invited and asked to bring friends and neighbors.

Hostesses will be Hilda [illegible], Gloria Braun, Helga [illegible], Celia Vought and Edith Weeks. This group will sew on baby layettes for the Church World Service during the summer. Volunteers are needed to assist.

LOCAL WOMAN ATTENDS MUSIC FESTIVAL

JENSEN BEACH: Mrs. Marjorie Rupp of Palm Circle Park is participating in the eighth annual New College Summer Music Festival, a three-week event devoted to the teaching and performance of chamber and symphonic music.

Mrs. Rupp, a violinist, is studying with a faculty of 12 drawn from the top ranks of this country's musical artists, according to a release from New College, Sarasota.

LAYETTES PLAN CHINESE AUCTION

JENSEN BEACH: A chinese Auction will be featured at the regular monthly meeting of the Stuart Jensen Beach Jay-C'Ettes at their regular monthly meeting Thursday, June 22. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Pat McDonald.

All Jaycee wives and interested persons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Cherianne Wold 287-3722.

Ambulance runs reported

JENSEN BEACH: Recent ambulance calls answered by the Jensen Beach Samaritans included taking Mrs. Gwen Wiegand from her home on N. Indian River Drive to Martin Memorial Hospital on June 2. Driver and attendant were T. Rebeiser and E. McMahon.

Barnard Ashe, W. Commercial St., to hospital June 3. E. and M. Oliver. June 6 Spataro, Banyan Terrace, to hospital, Spataro and Loesen. June 7, J. Wright from Skyline Medical Center, to Hospital, Benbem and Benbem.

June 10, William Harms, Linda Drive S. Chambers, E. and M. Oliver, and Ken Buck, Rio Dr. S. A. & B. Hardern.

June 11, Mr. Borbenovich, Skyline Court, by Olivers. George McComb, from his home to his home on Linda Drive, Olivers and W. Redit and Virginia Everett, N. Indian River Dr., to hospital by Olivers, Redit and McMahon.

June 13, N. Sarkis, Banyan Terrace, to hospital, by Rebeiser and Wright, who also took Albert Dunlap of Arch Street to the hospital.

E. Cotton of Indian Drive, to Rebeiser and Benbem. June 16, and Bertha Hadwick of Skyline Drive, June 16, to hospital by E. & M. Oliver.

Winners, mothers meet with Juniors

STUART: Special guests at the June 12 meeting of the Junior Woman's Club of Stuart were the club's recent scholarship winners and their mothers. The winners are Pam Levi, who will attend the University of South Florida and Debra Cruse, who will attend Indian River Community College.

New members Mrs. Melvin Arnold and Mrs. Michael Rinks were welcomed into the club at this last meeting until September.

Mrs. Wilkens of the Martin County Library explained the summer reading program and other guests included Mesdames Henry Levi, Harold Cruse, Michael Levi, Charles Jon, Dale Anderson, Walter Fitzpatrick, Kenneth Foote and Howard Robertson.

THANK YOU

To all my friends and neighbors and especially to the doctors and staff at Martin Memorial Hospital during my recent stay there, my heartfelt thanks.

The facts about this summer's power situation:

This summer, more than any other period in the 41 years we've been serving Florida, our ability to supply your need for electricity during periods of peak demand is going to be put to the most severe test.

By conserving electricity during these periods of heaviest consumption, you'll benefit by economizing. At the same time, you'll be helping avert the inconvenience of a power shortage.

Why the power squeeze? First of all, people today are using more electricity than ever. Plus, we're serving more people like yourself every week. During the 12 months ending in March, we added over 2,000 customers every week. In fact, FPL is adding more new electric customers than any other utility in the nation.

So why didn't we plan ahead? Fact is, we did. Advance planning is an absolute necessity for an electric utility because it takes so many years to design, finance and build power plants and other facilities to supply electric service. The need for increased electricity today was accurately forecast by us years ago.

In 1966, for example, we announced plans to add nuclear generators at our Turkey Point plant south of Miami. The first of these units was scheduled for operation more than two years ago. But because of uncontrollable circumstances, unpredictable problems and delays, Turkey Point's nuclear generators today still are not in service.

These nuclear units and other power plants under construction are major items in our demanding expansion program... a program which is costing us about a million dollars a day for the next five years.

What's the outlook now? The power supply during this summer's peak periods is going to be extremely tight... even with the new generating units we expect to have in service. But, without the Turkey Point nuclear unit, and with all other generating sources operational, we will have only a razor-thin 5-1/2 percent power reserve capacity during the peak demand periods in August and September. An adequate reserve is generally considered in our industry to be 15-20 percent. And we face these slim reserves at a time when two national political conventions are scheduled for Miami Beach.

How you can help. While we continue building facilities that promise future relief to the tight power situation, we're asking you to please save electricity during the times of peak demand. Between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. That's when just about everybody, at the same time, uses lots of power.

Electricity can't be stored. It must be used the instant it is generated. By conserving power during these decisive hours you can help assure that the demand doesn't exceed the supply. Otherwise, there may not be enough electricity to go around.

And that's something we don't want to have happen any more than you do. Despite the tight power squeeze, we hope there will be no problems this summer. But you have a right to know the facts that could affect your electric service. And to merit your confidence and cooperation, we believe it is our responsibility to alert you to the outlook for the months ahead.

Trianon
The Hickory interpretation of the classic Louis XVI French style that has increased in popularity since its coming of age in the 18th century.
Trianon is furniture of design and quality that will once receive the royalty but will find its way into the home where good taste is appreciated.
A multitude of details makes it quite evident to even the casual observer that this is not ordinary furniture. The fine selected veneers that characterize the cases are accentuated by the cross banding that highlights drawers and doors. The intricately carved beading framing the beauty of the veneer adds that finishing touch that heralds Hickory's craftsmanship and your desire for the finest. The brass plated hardware was especially selected to fully complement the design theme and all the finest [illegible] finish and green.
We are proud of Trianon because it represents a successful design effort that can be a source of pleasure for you for many years to come.

CARNIVAL — Members of the Anchorage Yacht Club participated in the winds of Hurricane Agnes were guests of the Kern Beach Yacht Club this weekend. The only concession to Agnes, according to commodore Bill Britton, was to change what had been planned as a boatparade to a caravade. However, another boatparade to Xerxes is planned for the Anchorage group when the weather is a bit more favorable, according to Britton.

IN BELLE PLAZA
HOURS: 9 to 5:30 MONDAY thru SATURDAY

Hi... Another Cooking Show, and another chance for you to get in on the fantastic Show Specials we offer ONLY DURING THE FAIR. Those of you who were lucky enough to snap up some of our bargains last year know that this is all prime merchandise offered at ONE HALF THE REGULAR PRICE, FOR JUST ONE DAY!

If you don't act on Fair Day, don't expect to get these special prices the next day in the shop. All articles will go back to their regular prices (as you well remember, those of you who said they'd "Get it tomorrow" - and then were very disappointed).

You owe it to yourself to come to the Fair. I love to cook - and Gus loves to eat. And the cooking sessions gave me more hints and information than lessons for which I've paid $10 each.

So look for us on June 22nd at 12 noon in the Convention Hall at the St. Lucie Country Club. The lessons start at 2, so you come early for your Showcase bargains. We'll be looking for you.

Cooking With Flair

Chicken Liver & Mushrooms Gourmet

1 pkg (8-oz.) frozen chicken livers, thawed
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 can (6-oz.) broiled sliced mushrooms, drained
¼ cup chopped green onions
¼ cup dairy sour cream
1½ Tbsp. soy sauce
1½ Tbsp. chili sauce
Dash pepper

Cook chicken livers in butter in covered skillet at setting of 325° until almost tender, about 5 minutes, turning occasionally. Add mushrooms and onions; continue to cook until onions and livers are tender, about 2 minutes longer. Combine remaining ingredients; add to livers. Heat and stir until sauce is hot. Serve on toast points, cooked wild rice, pancakes or with omelet. Makes 2 servings.

Waffle Gingerbread

Blushing Apples

1 cups 4 to 6 apples; firm cooking apples
1 bottle 4 oz. red maraschino cherries cut in half and juice

Peel apples; cut into quarters and remove core. Arrange apples, center side up in 10" skillet. Add cherries with juice over apples. Cook in Versa-Temp unit at 215A Broil for 15 minutes or until tender. Makes 6 servings.

20-Minute Dinner

BROILED LAMB PATTIES WITH PEAR HALVES

1 lb. Ground Lamb
1 tsp. Salt
½ cup Milk
4 Strips Lean Bacon
1 can Potato Balls
1 can Cling Peaches
1 jar Mint Jelly

Combine ground lamb, salt and milk. Form four oval patties. Circle with bacon, fastened with toothpicks. Place lamb patties on one end of rack of broiler pan. Drain canned potatoes and peaches. Make a small tray of aluminum foil. Place on rack and fill with potatoes. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt and paprika. Broil about 3 to 5 inches from the broiler unit for about 10 minutes. Turn patties and potatoes. Add peach halves. Broil 5 to 8 minutes longer until lamb are golden brown. Add mint jelly to peach halves. Garnish dinner with water cress.

Hamburger Stroganoff

½ cup minced onion
¼ cup butter 2 Tbsp. flour
1 lb ground beef
1 chopped clove garlic
1 tsp salt ¼ tsp pepper
1 10-oz can mushroom soup undiluted
1 cup sour cream
¼ cup minced fresh parsley

Preheat oven at 400°. Saute onion in butter until soft. Remove onion. Add ground beef, garlic, salt and pepper. Sprinkle with flour. Brown meat then add mushroom soup and sour cream. Add soup and stir. Cover and bake 30 minutes at 350°. Stir occasionally. Add parsley and serve over hot cooked noodles. Serves 6.

Broiler meat boats

2 12-oz cans luncheon meat
1 Tabl horseradish
1 cup chopped green pepper
one-third cup milk
1 lb. American cheese
1 loaf French bread

Shred luncheon meat in large bowl. Blend with horseradish, green pepper and milk. Cut lb. cheese into thin slices. Grate remaining cheese and blend into meat mixture. Split loaf of bread in half lengthwise. Hollow out bread and place on broiler rack. Broil until bread is toasted. Fill toasted bread with meat mixture. Broil 3 to 5 inches from broiler until meat is hot, about 3 to 5 minutes. Arrange cheese slices on sandwiches and continue broiling until bubbly. Slice and serve at once. Serves 12.

ORANGE CRANBERRY BREAD

1 pkg. Orange Muffin Mix
1 pkg. Cranberry Bread
2 eggs
½ cups water

Add liquids to dry ingredients and stir until moistened. Turn into two 9x5" loaf pans greased and floured. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Cool. Slice and serve when cold.

Trailside Cookies cups unsifted allpurpose flour

cup sugar
cup crunch nut-like cereal nuggets teaspoon double acting baking powder cup crumbled crisp bacon cup butter or margarine egg
tablespoons frozen concentrated orange juice

Combine flour, sugar, cereal and baking powder in mixing bowl; mix well. Add bacon, butter, egg and concentrate. Mix until well blended. Drop dough by rounded teaspoons onto ungreased baking sheets, placing cookies about 2 inches apart. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 to 14 minutes, or until edges of cookies are lightly browned but cookies are still soft. Remove from baking sheets immediately. Makes about 2 dozen cookies.

teasp. salt
teasp. cinnamon teasp. ginger teasp. cloves
egg
cup light molasses cup melted margarine cup hot water

sift flour, salt, soda, spices in large bowl; beat egg, molasses, butter and hot water until mixed. Gradually add flour mixture; beat until smooth. Bake in WAFFLE IRON. Serves 4 to 6.

TOP WITH APPLESAUCE TOPPING: 1½ cups heavy cream, whipped, 1½ cups well-chilled applesauce and 2 tablespoons light brown sugar. Mix sugar and applesauce; fold into whipped cream.

TEMPTERS—Tempting hot hors d'oeuvres were served with cocktails by Andre and Dottie Gerard. Some of the goodies are pictured above including marinated water chestnuts wrapped in bacon and broiled, and tiny scalloped baked tarts filled with sour cream with various toppings. In the background is an electric gravy boat keeping the gravy warm for the Cornish hens course.

Chef Andre, local gourmet

BY RUTH BOWMAN

JENSEN BEACH: A menu of caviar and sour cream in tiny scalloped Pate Sablee, veal mousse garnished with fresh asparagus served with two distinct sauces, boned Cornish hens, green beans Almondine, brown rice simmered in spiced stock, and a fabulous Lindy Strawberry Cheese Cake for dessert sounds like the Four Seasons or a top French restaurant doesn't it?

Who would believe that this delicious dinner, accompanied by the proper wines was served right here in Jensen Beach?

I would, 'cause I was there.

The setting was the double wide mobile home of Andre and Dottie Gerard overlooking the broad Indian River at Venture Out Mobile Home Park on Hutchinson Island. The spacious beautifully furnished home is located directly on the bulkheaded waterway.

We sat in the 24 foot living room enjoying soft music from the stereo, sipping cocktails and trying to decide which of the tempting hot hors d'oeuvres to try next.

A silver tray held an array of water chestnuts marinated in soy sauce wrapped in bacon and broiled, tiny scalloped tarts about the size of a silver dollar, filled with sour cream and garnished with black and red salmon caviar, fillets of anchovies, mushrooms or olives. We tried them all. The tarts were made of Sands Pastry, Andre told us.

Pate Sablee—he said—Sands Pastry is the I admitted.

While Dottie and my husband, Will, talked and sipped our host divided our table, the huge kitchen with a watch him serve the first course. But first he opened numerous cabinet doors disclosing what looked like hundreds of pots, pans, serving dishes, trays and dozens of different shape and size molds packed in plastic bags, all neatly stored out of sight, but handy, for this gourmet chef when he wanted them.

Proudly he opened deep drawers holding meticulously labeled spices of all description explaining that many had belonged to his father who had been a chef for senators and government officials in Washington, D.C.

But getting back to dinner. Andre carefully removed a large copper fish shape mold from the refrigerator, dipped it in warm water in the sink and unmolded a tall Mousse onto a waiting plate. This he garnished on one side with cold tail sprigs of green asparagus and sliced, scored cucumbers and sliced hard boiled eggs on the other.

This beautiful concoction was served with a Sauce Louis for the Crab Mousse made of whipped cream, pureed tomato paste, grated onion and chopped pickles. Another sauce was served with the Salmon Mousse which was Andre's own recipe. Sparkling Burgundy was served with the entree.

The dinner table was set as artfully and carefully as the food. Each place was marked with a fan like arrangement of napkin in the right of the plate, a silver shrimp outfit and the china and crystal were a collector's dream.

Following the entree, our hostess served a delicious Lime Sherbet Dessert Mousse, molded and frozen in individual fluted paper cups. Then we moved into the living room for coffee and liqueurs.

THE CHEF—An authentic Lindy's cheese cake is proudly held by Andre Gerard of Venture Out Hutchinson Island. Last week he served the recipe from the chef at Lindy's and follows it exactly for this luscious treat.

Meal planning a breeze With a food freezer

More Americans are now having home freezers not only for the convenience involved but also to take advantage of seasonal lower prices on meats, vegetables, frozen foods and specialty items.

Aside from combination refrigerator freezers (with the frozen food compartment at the top or bottom or the side by side type) there are two basic freezer models featuring a wide variation in special features.

The upright freezer, for example, opens from the front and frequently offers breakshelf storage on the door and interior. The uprights range in size from six to 25 cubic feet and the smallest versions may be installed under a standard kitchen counter.

In the chest type freezers, which range in size from 10 to 32 cubic feet the storage space is divided by movable sections or baskets. They need more floor space than the uprights but they are more useful for storing irregularly shaped packages.

Experience shows that between 25 and 35 pounds of food can be stored in each cubic foot of storage space—depending on the shape of the packages.

According to the Electric Energy Association those planning a freezer purchase would be wise to look for all or most of the following 10 features before making a decision on which model to buy.

1. A signal light or alarm to warn when the freezer is off or when the temperature is too high.

2. A lock on the door. This is important where children have access to the freezer.

3. Easily removable shelves, bins and baskets to simplify cleaning.

4. Frost free operation. Although slightly more expensive, frost free models never require defrosting.

5. A drain for quick removal of defrost water (if the freezer is not frost free).

6. A counter balanced lid on a chest freezer so that it will stay open when food is being removed or added.

7. Coils directly beneath the shelves. This prevents quick freezing of foods. Almost all freezers except the frost free type provide them.

8. Wheels or rollers to facilitate cleaning and moving of the freezer.

9. An easily reached dial to control temperature.

10. A light in the interior to make foods easier to locate.

And for those who already own freezers, interesting aspects of the following topic for consideration:

Freezing. Use freezer-type containers which freeze best. Get details of each local Agricultural Extension Service and always arrange to provide the type of information.

Freeze only top quality foods. Quality is retained when food is frozen fast in as small amounts.

Prepare fruits and vegetables for the freezer as soon as possible after picking or purchase to preserve loss of vitamins.

Blanch raw fruit and vegetables in steam or boiling water to help prevent loss of flavor.

Use packaging which prevents moisture and vapor passage. Label foods in the freezer.

Keep the freezer running at zero degrees or below.

Consult a booklet for the maximum storage time for various Fire permits clarified

JENSEN BEACH — I could have saved them a lot of time and trouble," said Fire Chief Randolph Spinney of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department.

Spinney was speaking about Thursday's meeting of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce called to settle the "indiscriminate burning" in the area. The matter had passed a resolution lifting at present restrictions over fire permits being issued.

Invited to the meeting were representatives of the Florida Forest Service and the Department of Pollution Control. The local fire department was not represented.

[illegible] despite reports, the Chamber is not against controlled burning. It does not take control until July 1," Gaither told the Mirror. Gaither said the Mirror was the fire department is the recipient of a legal fire permit. He said B. L. Williams, representing the Forestry Service, [illegible]

[illegible] the Pollution Control [illegible] other alliances get in touch with us if there is any burning to be done so I have no idea," Spinney asserted.

Pollution Control was represented at the meeting by Ken Alford and Paul Kruse.

Kruse said the area must be registered with the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce before any permits for burning can be issued. Permits are issued by the Pollution Control Board.

Spinney said he can be reached at 334-3344 through Saturday. Sunday he can be reached at 334-3211.

Spinney also asserted that special permits [illegible] for outdoor cooking [illegible] Spinney said he will be contacted.

According to the Chamber, residents have been complaining about the smudge pots and burning piles of trees from clearing projects with smoke and haze covering the district for several days.

The resolution by the Chamber asked that the law be clarified that the enforcement to prevent smoke and dust pollution be delegated to the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department and that the public be informed of the policies of burning permits.

Copies of the resolution were sent to the Martin County commission, FPL, FEECO, HUD and to Tom O'Malley, fire marshal.

Representing the Chamber at the meeting were John Hedges, president; Dick Newton, past; Dick Gardner, Don Wilkie, Hank Wade and Helen Richardson.

Naming contest

STUART — A contest to name the new puppet stage, a gift of the Martin County Public Library Association, has been announced by the Library. The stage made its debut recently.

Members of the "Take a Giant Step" reading club are invited to cast their ballots at the children's room of the library. A prize will be awarded to the winner and ballots must be in by July 15.

Three names will be selected by three judges and club members will vote for the winner at the club's final party, July 29.

Judges will be Allen W. Rudderow, president of the association; LeRoy Hennings, Jr., director of the library, and Mrs. Harry K. Wilkens, children's librarian.

The vacation reading club is a statewide educational program founded under Title I of the Library Services and Construction Act, and is sponsored by the Florida State Library.

United Fund has state charter

STUART — The United Fund of Martin County received approval of its charter last week and is now a legally chartered non-profit corporation.

The last two weeks of January have been set for the fund drive, according to action taken by the board of directors. The board met Wednesday in the conference room of Martin Memorial Hospital.

Larry Buchanan is general chairman of the drive, assisted by Pat Carroll, executive vice president, and Bill Strunk, secretary. Edd Strunk and Bernard Hall are treasurers, and Mrs. Ralph Pettis and Jack Nolan, Sr. are assistant treasurers. Mrs. Jack Nolan is assistant secretary.

Strunk and Hall are also serving as co-chairmen of the budget committee, which has set the goal for this year's campaign at $150,000. Membership committee chairmen are Mrs. Ralph Pettis, Sr. and Mrs. Ferguson Nadeau, Sr.

Mrs. Nadeau announced that she has set the goal for the women's division at $25,000. She also announced expansion and reorganization has been made to gather additional funds for the drive from all segments of the community.

The new United Fund address is P.O. Box 362, Stuart.

New baseball coach is named to MCHS

STUART — Patrick Wilbur, assistant football coach at Martin County High School, has been named baseball coach at the school, it was announced by Richard Hall, athletic director.

Wilbur succeeds Jack Nolan, who resigned to devote more time to his duties as assistant principal at the school.

Wilbur, who graduated from Stuart High School and played baseball at Indian River Community College, Florida Atlantic University and Florida Southern College, is married and has two children.

He will be in charge of baseball practice when it begins in February, and will coach the Martin County baseball team when the season opens in March.

Wilbur will also be in charge of the physical education program at the high school.

Boating Week will be July 2-8

STUART — Free examinations of all boats will be conducted during a boat safety drive during National Safe Boating Week, July 2 to 8, the Coastguard Auxiliary announced.

The check-up, open to the public, will determine whether the boats have the required equipment and how the boat is being operated, to see if it complies with federal and state laws.

All boats that pass will be awarded a "Z" decal, recognized by all law enforcement officers. Boats not found up to boat safety standards will be brought in for the examination.
